Amusements

Winsome Winnie Tonight.

If you have thought of witnessing the presentation of "Winsome Winnie" tonight, it would be well for you to "make haste rapidly." The Gennett will be filled with a large and fashionable audience to greet the initial appearance of dainty Paula Edwardes and thoroughly enjoy the feast of music and hilarious comedy that prevades the piece associated with Miss Edwardes is a strong cast of artists who are known not only in America but "across the pond" for their ability as public entertainers.

Mr. Sam Shubert personally directs the tour of the large organization and as he and Nixon and Zimmerman control the piece, the public is given a guarantee of the best of music and the cleanest of bright up-to-date comedy.

An Interesting Account of the Wardrobe and its Methods of Transportation with a Huge Musical Production.

It might be interesting to the ladies who will visit the presentation of John C. Fisher's stupendous musical production, "The Silver Slipper," at the Gennett theatre on Wednesday, February 3, 1904, to know how it is possible that the series of magnificent gowns and costumes are kept in such magnificent repair and cleanliness. This idea will, no doubt, strike them when they place their glasses upon the gowns worn by this company. Should any one say there is a wardrobe staff, or in other words, that the company carries no less than five clever seamstresses or dressmakers, and, that in addition, there is also crated and boxed five sewing machines, which are always sent to the theatre on the first load, it would hardly be believed; but so it is. The stage manager of the organization invariably lays out the largest room for this dress-making establishment. It is there, under their watchful eyes, that every gown is inspected before it is handed out to the various wearers of the evening, and the same inspection is carefully noted when the lady in question returns the gown to be placed away in the costume, trunks, trunks that are water proof, trunks that carry six and eight trays, in which each gown is given a special tray. And so it is with the millinery, the hats; they have their respective receptacles in trunks of dimensions for just that purpose.

There are also trunks for boots, slippers and shoes, which are always placed in stocks before being packed. This also applies to parasols and umbrellas. In fact, every idea that can be suggested for the proper care and convenience of a lady's wardrobe is thoroughly and aptly demonstrated in the transportation department of "The Silver Slipper." No New York society lady who visits the Rivera or the baths of Germany, or the sands of Newport, travels with her wardrobe with any more care than is exemplified with Mr. Fisher's attractions. To the uninitiated this article may seem overdrawn, but these are

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure
Saved My Life.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is sure to do what no other medicine can do. If your heart troubles you, you cannot afford delay or mistake in choice of a remedy. For many years this preparation has been curing cases that otherwise would not have been cured. Read what it has done for others. It will do the same for you:

"I write you this letter through gratitude for the benefit I have received by taking your valuable remedies. For three years I was subject to dizzy spells, sometimes several in a day. When I had them I could not raise my head from the pillow. My heart was greatly affected and I frequently had spells of severe palpitation and fluttering, pain, tenderness, choking sensations, could not lie on my left side and was not able to do any work. I called a doctor who helped me some but the dizzy spells grew more frequent and I was so nervous that I did not care to live. One day I asked the Lord to take me from this world or put my eyes on something that would help me. The first paper I took up was a New York paper and in it I saw your advertisement. My husband got me three bottles of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nervine and one box of Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills since which time I have had no more dizzy spells. I can lie on either side and sleep all night. I have been able to do my own work for three years. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure saved my life."—Mrs. R. H. Burch, Burch, S. D.

"An American Hobo."

"Laugh and the world laughs with you" is a true axiom. To be sure you laugh with the world, see "An American Hobo," which Manager U. D. Newell brings to the Gennett theater February 6th, matinee and night. Its scenes are so funny, its comedy so bright, and its specialties so clever that you will regret it if you don't see it.

"Winsome Winnie," the musical comedy that has become famous throughout the country will have its first presentation at the Gennett theatre tonight, and from present indications the S. R. O. sign will be in evidence early in the evening, and it should be, for not a prettier piece or a better comedy opera plot was ever written. "Winsome Winnie" is a novelty in its class and by reason of its "newness," its hilarious comedy features and catchy music is deserving of the appreciation being shown the piece throughout the country.

The advance sale for the "Silver Slipper" will be closely guarded and patrons of the Gennett are assured that they will be given an opportunity to secure seats. No time should be lost, however, by those who intend witnessing this great musical comedy success.

Five cars filled with theatrical people and effects will be one of the sights in Richmond at 12:45 next Wednesday, at which time "The Silver Slipper" company arrives in the city. The special train comes via the C. C. & L. railroad.

Quaker Rowing.

Coach Ward of the University of Pennsylvania proposes to return to old methods of training the rowing crews this spring. This will consist of taking the candidates out on the track and giving them plenty of exercise to strengthen the legs and make them more lasting in wind power.

Another change will be the use of barges for the green men when they first go on the river. The university has ordered three large outrigger barges. The maintenance of Pennsylvania's crew cost $13,000 last spring.

Radical Football Changes.

There will be radical changes in the football coaching systems of several of the big colleges next season. Harvard, Yale, Pennsylvania and Cornell all attribute their mishaps on the gridiron to the fact that their coaches failed to fully grasp the situation created by the new rules. Princeton and Columbia are said to be the only big teams satisfied with the results attained.

A New Golf Club.

A golfer of an inventive turn of mind has devised a club that can be used by either a right or left handed player. The adaptability of this new weapon must be apparent to all close followers of the sport, as there are times when one gets where it is next to impossible to play the ball right handed. The same thing, of course, holds good with left handed players.

Jockey Stern.

Stern, one of three jockeys who made a dead heat for second place on the French turf this year, the other two being O'Connor and George Thompson, is half French and half English, his father having been a well known steeplechase jockey at Chantilly.
