BIG FRAUD IS ALLEGED

Woman Complains in LaPorte Circuit Court That She Has Been Swindled.

It is Alleged That Worthless Securities on Western Land Were Given.

LaPorte, Ind., Feb. 27.—Mary DeWolfe, of Aurora, Ill., has brought suit in the LaPorte circuit court to set aside the conveyance of a $12,000 farm in this county and for $1,000 damages. Halliwell and Mary Marshall, of Lincoln, Ill.; Charles L. Will, of Chicago, and C. H. Lovewell and Ival Stephens, of Illinois, are defendants. The plaintiff alleges that she accepted an offer to sell the LaPorte county farm, accepting a $7,000 mortgage on a ranch in Christian county, Mo., and a $5,000 mortgage on the farm included in the conveyance. She further alleges that the mortgage on the Missouri land is worthless and that the notes given to secure payment of mortgage on the farm are not properly signed and therefore void.

SALOON KEEPERS NOT HELD

Supreme Court Decision in Case of Fatality From Intoxication.

Indianapolis, Feb. 27.—The supreme court has affirmed a judgment for the defendants in the suit by Harry S. Couchman as administrator of his father's estate against some Throntown saloon keepers for making the father so drunk that he fell out of his buggy and broke his neck. The charge was that the defendants knew the elder Couchman had an uncontrollable appetite for liquor, and, after selling him enough to make him drunk, they continued to sell him liquor until he was in a half-conscious condition.

The supreme court holds that the sales, having been made at the request and with the consent of Couchman, were not such a wrong as to give his administrator cause for action. It says that the liquor law gives an action in such a case to the wife, or minor children, or other person "who shall sustain any injury or damage to his person or property or means of support" on account of the saloon keeper's act. But the administrator is held not to be within this class.

The court says that the widow or whoever else is entitled to damages must sue in person to recover them. Couchman left a widow and five children, all of whom were grown.

Will Take It to Supreme Court.

Huntington, Ind., Feb. 27.—A circuit court jury has found James M. Barrett, superintendent of the Chicago & Erie railway, with headquarters in this city, guilty of the charge of permitting and requiring an employee to remain on duty longer than sixteen hours without eight hour's rest, and he was fined $20 and costs. Edward Heeter, a fireman, recently discharged by the company, was the prosecuting witness. Progress in the case has been watched with interest, as the point of law involved has never been passed upon by the supreme court. An appeal will likely be taken by the company, which is supporting the defendant, while Heeter is backed by his former fellow-employees.

Trustees Closed Church Meetings. Liberty, Ind., Feb. 27.—Mrs. A. Hodge, near Quakertown, has been adjudged insane, the result of religious excitement. For some time a revival meeting has been conducted in the M. E. church at Quakertown, and there has been intense interest shown, many of the more susceptible to excitement claiming sanctification and swooning away. So intense was the feeling that the trustees of the church ordered the meetings discontinued, fearing that others besides Mrs. Hodge might be similarly overcome.

Child's Shocking Death.

Lafayette, Ind., Feb. 27.—Louise McKay, the fourteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McKay, one of the most prominent families in Washington township, was burned to death. The little girl was preparing supper when her clothes caught fire from the red hot stove in the kitchen. Her father smothered the flames with his overcoat, but not until she had been horribly disfigured. After a night of intense suffering the little girl died.

Broncho "Busting" Dangerous.

Scath Bend, Ind., Feb. 27.—Kameli DeRoose and several companions were having fun "busting" a broncho when the animal fell over backward, landing squarely on DeRoose, where the animal lay despite the efforts of the other men. When at last help was secured, the broncho was lifted, it was found that DeRoose's chest had been crushed. Fatal results are feared.

Serious Mine Accident.

Linton, Ind., Feb. 27.—George Bedwell, fifty-five years old, in the Victoria mine, was hurt by falling slate. He sustained two broken ribs in the back and his left arm was broken at the elbow.
