DYSPEPSIA RESPONSIBLE

For Nearly All Ailments and Most Failures—Makes Men Selfish, Oppressive and Unreasonable

Paw Paw Cures All Stomach Troubles

Lifts Man Into the High Altitude of Hope, Health and Happiness

Prof. Munyon has started a revival for health. He has set the people thinking and is proving that good health is possible, no matter what the disease may be. He claims that nearly all ailments can be traced to mal-nutrition or lack of nourishment. Prof. Munyon says that people die early, that the average life is shortened because the blood and the nerves are starved. "I believe," says Prof. Munyon, "that disordered stomachs are responsible for nearly all bodily ills. Where a person eats heartily and digests his food properly the blood is vitalized and enriched, which sets the liver and kidneys and all the vital organs into active and healthful operation. Where the stomach is strong the blood is strong; where the blood is strong the nerves are strong; where the nerves are strong the kidneys, heart, lungs and liver are strong. In my opinion most people die from starvation; that is, they starve the blood, they starve the nerves and the general tissues of the whole body. Not that people do not fill their stomachs with nourishing food, but because what they put into the stomach does not properly digest, does not properly assimilate."

"To have good health we must put the stomach in repair. You may fill the stomach with choice beef and other life-giving foods, but if the stomach fails to digest the same, then it does more harm than good. Keep this organ well and the rest of the body will be well; keep this organ well and there is no reason why the average life should not be more than three-score years and ten; keep this organ well and there will be no need of insane asylums and little need of hospitals except for surgical work; keep this organ well and intemperance will largely disappear and the morals and mental health of the people will be radically improved."

"Indigestion shuts out the sunlight of hope and wraps its victim in a shroud of selfishness. Preachers should preach the doctrine of good health, for a healthy community means a moral community. I believe that if dyspepsia and indigestion were blotted out of existence tomorrow that prisons could be turned into workshops and saloons into libraries in a very brief time. Great revivals have been held in all ages for the purpose of leading men out of darkness into light, out of sin into righteousness. Let there be revivals now for good health. Let us resolve that we will be healthy, that we will drive from our system all vestige of disease. Let us throw open the doors of our souls and admit the spirit of hope; let us surround ourselves with healthful influences and pure-minded friends; let us feel that we have a duty to perform not only for ourselves but for all mankind—namely, to possess good health. I believe that if every community will resolve to have good health that good health will be more catching than disease. There is no doubt in my mind that good cheer is contagious and I also believe that good cheer is indispensable to good health. You cannot have good cheer, however, with a dyspeptic stomach and sluggish liver."

Munyon's Paw Paw will prove to be a mighty force in the crusade for health. If you have dyspepsia, try it. If you are nervous, try it. If you are despondent, try it.

If you are weak and run down, try it. Cast away all tonics, all medicines and all stimulants and let Munyon's Paw Paw make you well. It will lift you into the high altitudes of hope and hold you there. It will give exhilaration without intoxication.

THE WEATHER

Report Furnished by the Bureau at Washington.

The following report of the weather bureau for the month of March will be of interest:

Washington, April 4.—March, 1904, was colder than usual in the extreme northern districts from Lake Superior westward to the north Pacific coast, including the western portion of the central Plateau region and the middle Pacific coast districts. The average daily temperature deficiency ranged from 3 degrees to 4 degrees per day from northern California northward to the Puget Sound region, and was much more decided over the northern portions of Montana and northwestern North Dakota, where it ranged from 3 degrees to 14 degrees. The month was slightly cooler than usual on the north Atlantic coast northward of the Delaware Bay, the deficiencies ranging from 1 degree to 2 degrees per day. Elsewhere and over much the greater part of the country the month was milder than usual. Throughout the middle Atlantic states, lake region, Ohio and upper Mississippi valleys, and the northern portion of the east Gulf states the temperature excess was very slight, ranging from 1 degree to 2 degrees per day, but over the southeastern Rocky mountain slope, the west Gulf states, and portions of Virginia, North Carolina, eastern Tennessee, and the upper Ohio valley it was more marked and ranged from 3 degrees to 8 degrees, the greatest departure occurring in Texas, Oklahoma and western Kansas.

Indiana.

Indianapolis: During last decade rainfall excessive; rolling and hill land badly washed; overflowing streams flooded and severely damaged fall sown crops on bottoms, otherwise weather not unfavorable; where not washed or flooded, wheat, although small and in many fields thin or spotted, is healthy and growing; rye and clover are in fair condition and improving; peaches badly winter killed; practically no farm work done.

Ohio.

Columbus: Season backward; little farm work done; ground very wet; some damage by floods; early sown wheat better than late sown, but all very poor, recent rains beneficial except where excessive, some damage by freezing; peaches badly killed; cherries, plums, and berries damaged in places; pears and apples in good condition.

RAILROADS

Something About William B. Leeds' Successor.

The Pennsylvania has authorized the building of four hospitals at division terminals, to be equipped with beds, instruments and supplies for immediate use and ready for service day and night.

The two oldest employees of the Pennsylvania lines west—William Kroeger, foreman of blacksmith shops, and O. E. Bradday, foreman of brass foundry—will be retired this month on a pension. Both have been in service on the Pennsylvania fifty years.

The Pennsylvania company has equipped its Richmond division with new vestibule cars, models of beauty and convenience, which will be appreciated by the patrons of that division, who have felt that they were somewhat slighted in the character of equipment.

The announcement of the important official changes in the Rock Island organization has created a sensation in railroad circles, the more so from the fact that so many Pennsylvania officials have recently accepted important official positions on that road. The position of L. F. Looe, who is president of the Rock Island holding company, is in no way affected by these changes, as he represents the financial interests which control that property, but the selection of B. L. Winchell as president in place of W. B. Leeds, resigned, was rather unexpected, although it is claimed that those acquainted with existing conditions had looked for such a change. The promotion of Mr. Winchell had been rapid.

"I have used Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets with most satisfactory results," says Mrs. F. L. Phelps, Houston, Texas. For indigestion, biliousness and constipation these tablets are most excellent. Sold by A. G. Luken & Co., and W. H. Sudhoff, fifth and Main.

SOME FACTS ON THE TRUST QUESTION.

There is a great difference of opinion among Democratic leaders as to issues, but there seems to be a general agreement among them that the trust question is paramount. In this connection the New York World, one of the great Democratic newspapers of the country, under the caption "Facts" presents some interesting and significant information that might well be pasted in the hat of every man who takes an interest in politics. The World says:

"1. The anti-trust law was framed by a Republican, was passed by a Republican house and a Republican senate, was signed by a Republican president.

"2. The law removed a dead letter on the statute books during the entire second term of Grover Cleveland, a Democratic president. Through those four years of Democratic administration all appeals and all efforts of the World to have the law enforced were met with sneers, jeers and open contempt from the Democratic attorney general, Richard Olney, who pretended that the law was unconstitutional, and who would do nothing toward prosecuting violators of it.

"3. The first effort to enforce the law was made by Theodore Roosevelt, a Republican president. The first attorney general to vigorously prosecute offenders and to test the law was a Republican attorney general, Philander C. Knox.

"4. The decision of the supreme court of the United States, given as a finality from which there is no appeal, upholding the law as perfectly constitutional and absolutely impregnable in every respect, as the World for twelve years constantly insisted, was due to five judges, every one of whom is a Republican.

"5. The dissenting minority of the court included every Democratic judge of that tribunal, to-wit: Chief Justice Fuller of Illinois; Mr. Justice White of Louisiana, and Mr. Justice Peckham of New York. All these distinguished Democrats not only voted against the constitutionality of the law, but denounced it as a danger to the republic.

"6. Under these circumstances it does not seem probable that the Democrats can make great capital in seeking to monopolize the anti-trust issue and charging the Republican party with the crime of being owned body and soul by the trusts.

"It is just as well to record some plain truths, however unpleasant or surprising."

DEMOCRATIC REORGANIZATION

Protests From Democratic Papers Quoted in Mr. Bryan's Commoner.

Benton (Mo.) Record: If the reorganizers capture the national Democratic organization it will be not merely a case of the tail wagging the dog, but of the hair on the end of the dog's tail dominating the whole animal.

Troy (O.) Democrat: Upon what theory are these Democratic traitors, or reorganizers, to be put in command of the party of the people in the year 1904? For eight years they have been acting as spies and traitors to aid the Republican party, so that their friends in Wall street should not be disturbed. And now they have the audacity to demand the leadership in the great battle of 1904. But if the people of the United States guard their interests they will not place them in the hands of the reorganizers, but will put the Democratic cause in charge of true friends of the country.

Wabasha (Minn.) Herald: The word "reorganize" has a delicious sound to the ears of a gold Democrat. He thinks he sees necessity for reorganization on all sides, at all times. Reorganization is his cure for all ills. In fact, he is fully as strong a reorganizer now as he was a disorganizer a few years ago, and as he will be, in all likelihood, a few months hence.

Albion (Mich.) Mirror: The handful of bolters who sought to reorganize the Democratic party and force Grover Cleveland upon nearly seven millions of voters who stood by the guns in 1896 and 1900, have about given up the attempt. The doors of the Democratic party are open and they are welcome to come in, but it is asking too much to expect the party to go to them.

Let Well Enough Alone.

The esteemed Indianapolis Sentinel proclaims in an editorial headline that "Indians should be Democratic." Perhaps. But it isn't, nor is it likely to be. Since the beginning of Governor's Mount's administration in 1897, the business affairs of the state have been managed with consummate skill and without a breath of scandal. The debt-paying policy, which has continued through Governor Durbin's administration, has relieved tax-payers of an enormous burden of interest-paying and that result alone is sufficient to convince the people that "a change" is not desirable. It is always a safe proposition to let well enough alone.—Lafayette Courier.

Concerning one of the two most prominent candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination, the country knows too little; concerning the other it already knows too much.

The Indiana reorganizers seem to be having some difficulty in pulling off their well-advertised tableau of the tail wagging the dog, owing to unexpected but strenuous opposition from the dog.

Miss Rose Hennessy, well known as a poetess and elocutionist, of Lexington, Ky., tells how she was cured of uterine inflammation and ovaritis by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—For years I enjoyed the best of health and thought that I would always do so. I attended parties and receptions thinly clad, and would be suddenly chilled, but I did not think of the results. I caught a bad cold eighteen months ago while menstruating, and this caused inflammation of the womb and congested ovaries. I suffered excruciating pains and kept getting worse. My attention was called to your Vegetable Compound and the wonderful cures it had performed, and I made up my mind to try it for two months and see what it would do for me. Within one month I felt much better, and at the close of the second I was entirely well.

"I have advised a number of my lady friends to use it, and all express themselves as well satisfied with the results as I was."—Miss Rose Nora Hennessy, 410 S. Broadway, Lexington, Ky.—$5000 for if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.
