A RECORD BREAKER

Such Will Be the Crowd That Will Mark the Convention This Week.

SEATS AT A PREMIUM

The Size of the Hall Will Not Be Commensurate With the Number of People Who Will Attend.

Prominent Party Leaders Meet This Afternoon to Discuss the Campaign Platform.

Indianapolis, April 25.—The indications are today that the crowd that will be here tomorrow and Wednesday for the Republican state convention will be a record breaker in size. The trouble, as Chairman Goodrich and Secretary Sims of the state committee view it, is that Tomlinson hall will not be commensurate with the number of people who will want to witness the proceedings. The demand for seats has been terrific, but it is not believed that a third of the visitors can be accommodated. The tickets are going to be a scarce article.

The scene at the Hotel English today was very animated. There was a large crowd of rooters for each candidate, the gubernatorial aspirants of course occupying the center of the stage. Hanly, Penfield, Taylor and Sayre and their followers are working with all their might and all are seemingly very confident. Most people think the race is now between Taylor and Hanly, with the latter in the lead, but there are many who predict that if Hanly can't land Penfield will.

The other offices for which there are contests are lieutenant governor, reporter of the supreme and appellate courts, and statistician.

Among the distinguished arrivals today were Senators Fairbanks and Beveridge, Congressman Crumpacker, Congressmen Fred and Charles B. Landis, and Congressman James E. Watson, who will deliver the keynote speech. Members of the delegation from Washington and a number of the prominent party leaders met this afternoon to discuss the platform.

The convention will be called to order tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock by State Chairman Goodrich. The feature of the session will be the keynote speech by Congressman Watson. All of the standing committees except the committee on resolutions will report during the afternoon. Harry Strohm of Kentland will be permanent secretary.

The district delegations will meet tomorrow morning to name their members of the standing committees and officers of the convention. The ticket will be nominated Wednesday.

STRIKERS ENJOINED

Federal Court Takes a Hand in Affairs at Terre Haute.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 25.—Judge Anderson has issued an injunction against the strikers at the Standard Wheel Works at Terre Haute to prevent them from threatening the non-union employees who have taken their places, or attempting to keep them from their work. This injunction will be in effect until the hearing of the case, which will come before Judge Anderson May 2.

This injunction was issued by Judge Anderson on an application in which the Standard Wheel Works management alleges that some time ago Edward O'Neal and others employed in the automobile department struck, and when their places were taken by non-union men, they threatened them bodily injury and attempted in every manner to keep them from their work. It was alleged the strikers collect in large crowds about the plant at the morning, noon and evening hour, swearing at the men and intimidating them so that there is danger of their stopping work unless the strikers are checked by the court.

Soon after the injunction was applied for Judge Anderson issued an order forbidding the defendants or anyone else from congregating about the factory and in any way threatening the employees or placing pickets about the plant.

Crackmen Making the Rounds.

Indianapolis, April 25.—A safe in the grocery store of Kirk & Sullivan at Broad Ripple was blown open by two men and $7 in cash secured. From the businesslike manner in which the robbery was performed the police are confident that the work was done by professional crackmen. The Broad Ripple robbery coming within forty-eight hours of a similar occurrence at Plainfield, lends color to the theory that a gang of safeblowers is holding out in the vicinity of this city and is operating in the surrounding territory.

Incendiarism Is Suspected.

Noblesville, Ind., April 25.—The large frame barn of James Carson, southwest of this city, was destroyed by fire. The flames are supposed to have been of incendiary origin. Six head of horses, 300 bushels of corn, about fifty tons of hay and many farming implements were also burned. The loss will reach $3,500. There was no insurance on either building or the contents.

POLITICAL GOSSIP

Pre-Convention Talk Fills the Air at the Capital City.

Indianapolis, April 25.—There is very great interest in the race for the nomination for lieutenant governor. The candidates are L. P. Newby of Knightstown, Walter Ball of Muncie, and Hugh Th. Miller of Columbus. For a long time Newby had a clear field. Then Miller entered and started to make a vigorous campaign. A month ago Ball entered and the race has been so complicated since then that it is very difficult to pick the winner. In fact no one seems to know just who is in the lead. Newby probably has the inside track, but the other fellows are going after him at a terrific gait. George F. McCulloch, the well-known interurban magnate and politician, is the power behind the throne for Ball, and everyone in state politics knows what an organizer and all-round hustler he is when he is for any candidate. Charles F. Remy and a host of well-known men are working for Miller, while Newby has the friendship of that very adroit politician, Governor Durbin, so the outcome may well be regarded as in doubt.

There has probably never been a contest for reporter of the supreme and appellate courts in which there was more interest than in the one about to be settled. The four candidates are George W. Self of Corydon, Frank Smith of Brookville, L. B. Nash of Tipton, and B. F. Corwin of Greencastle. Nash is the only man who was a candidate four years ago. He has probably been in the race longer than either of his opponents, but he is no more confident than they, although he is of the opinion that it is all over but the shouting for him. Self is the only old soldier candidate and is probably the best-known of the bunch. He was on the state committee many years and many of the old-timers are now driving home the spikes for him. He is generally regarded as the leading candidate. Smith is a deputy revenue man and is making his finish in the race surrounded by a large number of very strong and active young men. Corwin is the least known of the candidates, but he is a hustler and is now working as hard as the rest.

An effort is being made to nominate Senator C. C. Lyons of Fairmont for state statistician at the convention Wednesday, and it will probably be successful unless he puts his veto to it. It was started Sunday by a number of his very loyal friends, and he has loyal friends, it seems, in many sections of the state. He was chairman of the speaker's bureau two years ago and has been reappointed for the same position. The candidates for statistician are B. F. Johnson, who is asking a third term nomination, something unusual, Joe Stubbs of Indianapolis, who is said to be the traveling men's candidate, and J. W. Egnew of Wabash, formerly a deputy in the office. There has been a lot of dissatisfaction over the field of candidates, and Lyons' name has taken at a great rate—so great that it was freely predicted that he will win if he allows his name to be placed in nomination.

Oscar Montgomery of Seymour was one of the arrivals today. He can take things very easy now, as he will have no opposition for the nomination for judge of the supreme bench for the Second Judicial district Judge Alexander Dowling of New Albany, the present incumbent, having announced a few days ago that he would not be a candidate. He waited so long, however, before speaking that Montgomery thought he had a hard fight ahead and he had made his canvass. He is now here to take things easy and to go to the convention to witness his own nomination by acclamation. He was warmly congratulated today on his success. Judge J. V. Hadley of Danville is the only member of the supreme bench who is a candidate this time, and he will have no opposition.

Serious Flood at Fort Scott.

Fort Scott, Kan., April 25.—Fort Scott is experiencing the most serious flood in its history. Marmaton river and Mill creek, which runs into the former stream here, have risen ten feet in the past twenty-four hours the result of heavy rains. Several hundred persons have been rescued in boats. As far as known no lives have been lost. The estimated loss to livestock drowned and property damaged is $100,000.

Fell Nine Stories.

Chicago, April 25.—Dr. Edward Henry Lee, a leading surgeon of Chicago and well-known clubman, plunged nine stories to almost instant death Sunday in the clubhouse of the Chicago Athletic association, where he made his home. The open shaft surrounding the winding stairway was the space through which he fell.

Loubet Visits Italy's King.

Rome, April 25.—President Loubet, accompanied by Foreign Minister Delcasse and a distinguished party of French officials, arrived in Rome Sunday to repay the visit of King Victor Emmanuel to Paris in October last. They were met at the station by the king.

He Had Been Drinking.

Newport, Ind., April 25.—William Burkins, town marshal of Dana, committed suicide by shooting himself. He had been drinking for several days.

Bank Robber Suspect.

Brazil, Ind., April 25.—James Owen and George Ellis, arrested at Clay City for alleged complicity in Wednesday's bank robbery, are in jail here.
