ASKS FOR RELEASE

Writ of Habeas Corpus Filed In the Case of James Gillespie.

IN JEOPARDY TWICE

Defendants in Rising Sun Murder Trial Base Their Action on Re-opening of the Jury.

Should Circuit Court Go Against Them They Will Appeal to Supreme Court.

Lawrenceburg, Ind., June 4.—Proceedings looking to the release of Jas. Gillespie from jail and Myron Barber, his wife Carrie and Mrs. Belle Seward from bond, are under way here before Judge Downey. Captain Coles filed before Judge Downey, who is holding court here, a writ of habeas corpus, asking for the release of the four defendants. The allegations are that the defendants were placed in jeopardy once, when the jury was re-opened, and again when the new jury was sworn, and all placed on trial. This revives the question of jeopardy that was raised by the defense during the trial. Should Judge Downey rule against them the case will be taken to the supreme court at Indianapolis.

AMICABLE AGREEMENT

Was Arrived at in "Shoestring" District Controversy.

Indianapolis, June 4.—The result of the second conference between the county chairmen of the "shoestring" district regarding the plan for holding their convention will probably settle similar controversies before the state committee is called on. Three of the chairmen last week voted to return to the old method of making the nominations. Madison county protested, but the date for the convention was fixed for June 16 at Lebanon. The protest of Madison county stuck, however, when the matter was brought before Chairman Goodrich. The convention will not be held until after the national convention, and the precedent has been established that where one county protests against the "excess rule" the protest is good. Chairman Goodrich repeated today that counties that are affected by the "excess rule" where each has a separate representative may nominate by any plan they see fit, providing that all the chairmen agree, as it is not the province or desire of the state committee to "but in." The important point settled, however, is that a majority can't rule in the matter, but that a unanimous vote is necessary to get away from the plans laid out by the state committee. The result of the conference brought out one other important thing—that is that the state committee will not stand for the naming of delegates by county chairmen or candidates, so the new rules, as hard as they seem to some politicians, may work a reform after all.

The busiest politicians in Indianapolis at this time are the local Prohibitionists, who are preparing for their national convention, which will begin here June 29. Charles E. Newlin, chairman of the state committee, has charge of the arrangements. He is confident that the convention will attract a crowd of several thousand people. Indiana, which is one of the principal Prohibition states, is alone expected to contribute four or five thousand visitors. Although the Prohibitionists haven't the ghost of a chance of victory they are very enthusiastic and the convention promises to be well worth attending. Some of the most distinguished members of the party will be here. The convention will be held in Tomlinson hall, but arrangements are being made for several other places of meeting, as Tomlinson hall will not be half large enough. This will be the only national convention of the year here. Six months ago the Commercial Club extended invitations to the two old parties, but the matter was never urged, as the project to build a large coliseum was dropped, so that Indianapolis is without a hall large enough.

One indication that the country at large is pretty certain that Senator Charles W. Fairbanks will be the nominee of the Republicans for vice president is the great demand for his biography. Not a day passes now without several requests being received at his office here for the desired information. Big newspapers and magazines are devoting a lot of space to "writing up" his career, to his family, and especially to his home and social life. Newspaper correspondents here are receiving frequent orders for stories regarding Senator Fairbanks and his life in Indiana, which is regarded by them as conclusive that the editors of the leading papers and magazines have made up their minds that Senator Fairbanks is to be nominated.

Louis Benua of Salem, a Second district delegate to the Democratic national convention, will probably be a candidate for nomination for treasurer of state. Reliable information to that effect was obtained here today. Mr. Benua is one of the party leaders of the Third district—which by the way is the banner Democratic district of the state. He has never been a candidate for a state office, and his name has not been mentioned before in connection with the position mentioned here. His friends have been urging him to become a candidate, believing that he is deserving because of his party service and also that his section of the state is entitled to recognition.

HOOSIERS IN EVIDENCE

Indiana Building at World's Fair Fit-tingly Dedicated.

St. Louis, June 4.—The Indiana state building at the World's Fair was formally dedicated Friday. Hoosiers were in evidence everywhere during the day. Speeches also were made by Governor Durbin, Lieutenant Governor Gilbert and Henry W. Marshall, speaker of the last Indiana house of representatives.

The Culver cadets acted as guard of honor for Governor Durbin, who formally accepted the Indiana building. Five thousand American Beauty roses were used in the decorations. The ceremonies were preceded by a parade which lasted an hour. Lieutenant Governor Newton W. Gilbert presided at the dedication ceremonies.

Seeking a Settlement. Hanging Rock, Ohio, June 4.—This village today is exceptionally quiet and no further trouble is anticipated. Negotiations between the striking furnace workers and the representatives of the Hanging Rock Iron company for a settlement of the strike continue, but it is believed that no settlement will be reached until after the troops have departed.
