THE JOURNAL-STAR COMBINE.

THE INDIANAPOLIS DAILY JOURNAL HAS BEEN ACQUIRED BY THE INDIANAPOLIS STAR COMPANY, AND BEGINNING WITH THURSDAY MORNING, JUNE 9, WILL BE MERGED WITH THE INDIANAPOLIS MORNING STAR. THE COMBINED PUBLICATIONS WILL APPEAR AS "THE STAR AND JOURNAL."

READERS OF THE JOURNAL WILL HEREAFTER BE SERVED WITH "THE STAR AND JOURNAL." IT IS THE HOPE OF THE MANAGEMENT TO CONTINUE THE HIGH STANDARD OF EXCELLENCE MAINTAINED FOR SO MANY YEARS BY THE JOURNAL, AND THEREBY MERIT CONTINUED APPROVAL AND PATRONAGE.

THE INDIANAPOLIS STAR COMPANY.

The above announcement came as a surprise to everybody this morning and many old patrons of the Journal will regret that it has been absorbed by another paper.

The Indianapolis Journal was one of the best papers in this country and was patronized by the best and most refined people in the state of Indiana. For a publication to enjoy such a conspicuous place among its contemporaries, it must have merit. The Journal enjoyed the confidence of its patrons because it was always conservative and truthful. Members of all parties read it because they believed that what appeared in its columns was the truth. It was a clean paper—one that could be brought into any home and read by every member of the family. There are papers that the business man will take and read at his place of business but on account of their sensationalism, he will not take them into his home. The Journal always eliminated that which tended to debase.

The Indianapolis Star is not quite a year old, but it has had a phenomenal growth and merits the recognition it has received from the people of this great commonwealth. Long live the "Star and Journal," is the earnest wish of the Palladium.

The Louisville Herald has a real sensible editorial on the subject of divorce. It says: "The divorce evil is the result, in one word, of the marriage of the unfit. It is well enough to tell the people to be good, but here are two axioms as to married life, that all contemplating matrimony should not only paste in their hats, but have deeply inscribed on their hearts" inmost tablets. First—if the unfit marry the unfit, the product will be unfitness and trouble. Second—if the fit marry the unfit, the result will be unfitness and misery." The gist of the whole matter is that the unfit or disqualifed should not marry, but, if they do, they should never be divorced but permitted to separate.

The legislature can not afford aid to the divorce evil, but the church and home can, and should not neglect either the opportunity or the duty.

The Palladium regrets that a substitute carrier boy failed to deliver the papers last evening on account of some misunderstanding and hope that the patrons on this route will excuse us this time and we will see to it that it does not occur again.

QUEEN OF ACTRESSES PRAISES PE-RU-NA.

MISS JULIA MARLOWE.

In a recent letter to The Peruna Medicine Co., Miss Julia Marlowe of New York City, has the following to say of Peruna:

"I am glad to write my endorsement of the great remedy, Peruna, as a nerve tonic. I do so most heartily."—Julia Marlowe.

Nervousness is very common among women. This condition is due to anemic nerve centers. The nerve centers are the reservoirs of nervous vitality. These centers become bloodless for want of proper nutrition. This is especially true in the spring season. Every spring a host of invalids are produced as the direct result of weak nerves.

This could be easily obviated by the use of Peruna. Peruna strikes at the root of the difficulty by correcting the digestion. Digestion furnishes nutri-
