THE DAY WE CELEBRATE

THE GLORIOUS FORTH HAS COME AND GONE

GENERALLY OBSERVED

By Fire Works and Picnics, Accidents

Races, Etc.—Old Glory

Waved.

The glorious Fourth was ushered in real early yesterday morning by the firing of cannon and the exploding of bombs of various kinds. Here and there on Sunday could be heard a stray shot from the pistol of some one whose pent-up enthusiasm could not be held in any longer. But yesterday morning after the hands of the clock passed twelve the shooting began and did not cease until twenty-four hours had been spent, together with a good many dollars for pyrotechnics.

There was no special demonstration only private picnics and a general out pouring into adjacent woods and groves and cool retreats. Flags were displayed everywhere.

The races at the Driving Park, an account of which appears elsewhere, drew a large number of people and in a way added to the celebration.

Of course there were accidents, which follows naturally in the wake of fireworks. An account of these will also be found in another place.

The weather was ideal, had waned up a little for the occasion and behaved exceptionally good for the Fourth.

Frauline Mafalda von Korb, who is a niece of President Ernest von Koerber, of the Austrian cabinet, and a member of one of the best families of Vienna, came to this country two weeks ago to learn something about America, and incidentally to write a book about the country. To get her impressions this young society woman adopted one of the most novel plans. She joined Barnum and Bailey's circus, not as an employee, for Miss von Korb is rich, but as an artiste without a contract.

Every day since the opening of the circus Frauline von Korb has been seen in the ring riding a beautiful white horse which she handles with wonderful skill.

Cesar Guilletti, who is the manager of a notable company of high-school riders with the Barnum & Bailey circus, induced Frauline von Korb to come to this country as the guest of his wife, Anne Guilletti, one of the famous Huettnermann Sisters. She is twenty-two years old and of the true Austrian type of beauty. She is of medium height and is a typical blonde. Her costumes are of the latest Vienna and Paris make and her riding habits are masterpieces. She has taken up the study of the English language and expects to be quite at home in the tongue before she leaves this country for her native home. She speaks German and French and is not only an accomplished rider, but an expert musician and vocalist.

"Explain why you wanted to come to America," said Guilletti one day, when a New York reporter interviewed the Frauline.

"What can I say?" she responded. "At home we have many horses. Ever since childhood I have been fond of them. I love horses and I love dogs. I brought some of my riding horses with me to America, for I could not think of being separated from them."

"In Europe," she continued, "I used to ride in private entertainments for charity, not for money. I rode for charity whenever I was asked to do so. Finally somebody suggested that I travel and thence impress me favorably."

"Of course, my people were shocked when I told them that I wanted to come over here. My riding instructor at Vienna told me that if I wanted to come to America he would give me a letter of introduction to Mr. Guilletti who would see to it that I had a good time here, and both Mr. Guilletti and his wife have been very kind to me. When I got here Mr. Guilletti told me he would like to see me ride. He admitted my horses, and then suggested that I ride in the circus. I have no contract and I care little for money. But I do love the work. It is all so new to me. And what a fine subject it will make for the book I intend to write."

"Of course my time has been taken up with the circus since I came here, but I have had opportunity to see something of your beautiful country. I have not seen much of American society as yet. In the first place I had not decided to let any one know who I am and where I came from, because I feared that my people at home might be shocked. And then I have been so busy sightseeing. Later on I might get into society. I am going to stay with the circus for some time, just how long I cannot tell. I can leave any time since I am not under contract. But I think I will stick it out for the entire season."

"Did I feel afraid when I first rode out into the ring in Madison Square Garden? I did not. I may have been embarrassed a little at first, but I simply thought of nothing else but of my mount. I felt that the eyes of the people were not upon me, but upon my horse. And then when Herr Guilletti asked me if I would ride in some of the races, I said 'yes,' of course. And why shouldn't I show how my horses can win races."

"Yes," said Herr Guilletti, "say that I am the happiest man in the America because Frauline von Korb has consented to ride for us. I thank Frauline very much."

Among the other high-school riders who will be seen when the big show exhibits in this city are the Brothers Herzog, Miss Minnie Johnson, Miss Josephine Koubek and many others. They will be seen in Richmond next Friday, July 8.

JOHN HISER DIED IN ST. LOUIS

ARRIVED HOME TODAY

Funeral Will Occur From Late Home

at Hiser's Station, West of the City.

Mr. John H. Hiser whose illness we have noted from time to time, from the effects of a shot by some thugs in St. Louis several weeks ago, terminated fatally at 8 o'clock Sunday night in the Baptist Sanitarium, St. Louis. His brothers who were present at the time of his death left with the remains last night and arrived this morning and were taken to the home of his father at Hiser's station west of the city, where the funeral will occur.

The death of Mr. Hiser casts a gloom over the entire family, each member of which has been very faithful and devoted to him since the unfortunate affair occurred. They have the sympathy of the entire community in their bereavement.

WILL OFFER REWARD

Wabash Railway Company After Man Who Turned the Switch.

St. Louis, Mo., July 5.—"Someone turned that switch at Litchfield," said President J. Ramsey, jr., of the Wabash, in speaking of the derailment of the Wabash train at Litchfield, Ill., with the resultant death of nineteen and injury of near fifty passengers.

"Whether it was one who had a spite against the railroad company or one who was merely crazy, I do not know. Certainly it seems that no human spite against the road could be so bitter as to be willing to sacrifice the lives that were lost or to cause the suffering that has resulted. We are awaiting the result of the coroner's action. We will offer a reward, of course. Yet it seems like hunting a needle in a haystack. The one who was responsible for the disaster had plenty of time to get away and hide his tracks."

CRISIS GROWS ACUTE

The Situation in Morocco Is One to Cause Apprehension.

Tangier, July 5.—French officials here admit that the crisis was never more critical. Fighting occurs daily in this vicinity. Raisuli is only two hours from Tangier and is collecting men. Yesterday he attacked three villages and looted their cattle. The town guards are helpless. When the outbreak comes there will be an appalling sacrifice of European life to the fanaticism of the Moors. The sultan has cut down the soldiers' pay by one-half, and the disaffected soldiers are deserting and joining the free-booting bands.

Women who work, whether in the house, store, office or factory, very rarely have the ability to stand the strain. The case of Miss Frankie Orser, of Boston, Mass., is interesting to all women, and adds further proof that woman's great friend in need is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I suffered misery for several years. My back ached and I had bearing down pains, and frequent headaches. I would often wake from a restless sleep in such pain and misery that it would be hours before I could close my eyes again. I dreaded the long nights and weary days. I could do no work. I consulted different physicians hoping to get relief, but, finding that their medicines did not cure me, I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it was highly recommended to me. I am glad that I did so, for I soon found that it was the medicine for my case. Very soon I was rid of every ache and pain and restored to perfect health. I feel splendid, have a fine appetite, and have gained in weight a lot."—Miss FRANKIE ORSER, 14 Warrenton St., Boston, Mass.

Surely you cannot wish to remain weak, sick and discouraged, and exhausted with each day's work. Some derangement of the feminine organs is responsible for this exhaustion, following any kind of work or effort. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you just as it has thousands of other women.

The case of Mrs. Lennox, which follows, proves this.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Last winter I broke down suddenly and had to seek the advice of a doctor. I felt sore all over, with a pounding in my head, and a dizziness which I had never experienced before. I had a miserable appetite, nothing tasted good, and gradually my health broke down completely. The doctor said I had female weakness, but, although I took his medicine faithfully, I found no relief."

"After two months I decided to try what a change would do for me, and as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was strongly recommended to me I decided to try it. Within three days I felt better, my appetite returned, and I could sleep. In another week I was able to sit up part of the day, and in ten days more I was well. My strength had returned. I gained fourteen pounds, and felt better and stronger than I had for years. I gratefully acknowledge its merits. Very sincerely yours, Mrs. BERT E. LENNOX, 120 East 4th St., Dixon, Ill."

$5000 FORFEIT if we cannot forthwith produce the original letters and signatures of above testimonials, which will prove their absolute genuineness. Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co., Lynn, Mass.
