

Nusbaum's Pattern Dept.

has done a phenomenal business this, our first season. Sales more than three times what we expected.

Not a single complaint. Peerless Patterns are the best in the world. The Price only 5c, 10c, and 15c.

Have you a kilt skirt? If you have not, it should be your aim to possess at least one of these smart garments that are so deservedly popular this season. Their adaptability to almost all fabrics is one of their chief attractions and the long slender lines are another favorable item. A stylish example is shown on page 2 and also at the figure on same page of the Peerless Fashion Sheet for August. Combined with an up-to-date skirt waist a stylish suit for traveling or general wear may be realized and since they need no decoration the cost is trifling. The old-time surplice waist is again in favor, but, of course, all the latest features are embodied in it. The new flounce skirts are also shown in this issue which is full of hints for midsummer and the wise woman will get one of these sheets, which are given free at the Peerless Pattern Department of

THE MULDOONS HERE SUNDAY

SHORTY JESSUP'S TEAM GAVE THEM SOME POINTERS.

ABOUT REAL BASEBALL

Richmond Players Put up a Good Game, While There Was Nothing Sensational.

A large crowd was at the Driving Park to witness what proved to be the defeat of the Cincinnati Muldoons by the Richmond nine. "Shorty" Jessup, who is now in control of the team, has rounded up his men in great shape and has a team that any city would be proud of.

There were not any sensational plays, save those that were made by the Richmond players. From start to finish the Richmondites demonstrated their complete superiority over their opponents in a way that, after the first few innings, left no doubt as to what the final result would be. However the first half of the game was well contested by both sides, the Muldoons playing with desperate energy, and the Richmond team, well knowing that they had a cinch on the game putting forth but little effort. In the fifth and sixth the Muldoons began to slout and crept up a little. That was the straw that broke the camel's back and when the locals came up to bat in the seventh the outfielders moved away out and stayed there. They were kept busy and the inning was a fatal one for the Cincinnati as the runs came in fast and thick until a total of five had been piled up. The final score of twelve to four, in Richmond's favor tells it all.

4 AND 30 YEARS

speaks the language of some heart and this language found a most loving and pathetic response in the hearts of a large congregation:

A third of a century
Spent working for souls;
At the call of the Master,
Found guarding the folds.

Keeping watch o'er God's children,
And guiding their thought,
In the way of Christ's teaching
And the wonders he wrought.

Through the years fall of sunshine
Proclaiming God's day,
Through the seasons of darkness,
Still showing the way.

In the way of Christ's teaching
Upholding the weak,
Pointing out a clear pathway
To all who would seek.

In the days of rejoicing
Sharing our gladness;
In the seasons of sorrow
Soothing our sadness.

Striving e'er for uplifting
Hearts burdened with sin,
Helping always each weak one
New life to begin.

Spending thus a full lifetime
God's children to save;
Serving freely all ages,
From cradle to grave.

You have earned a reward,
God only can give,
Which He holds in store always,
For those who thus live.
