PARKER NOMINATED.

The nomination of Alton B. Parker of New York for President by the Democrats was not unexpected as the tide kept turning his way ever since the opening of the St. Louis convention. The contrast between the nominee of the Democrats this year and in 1896 and 1900 is very marked. Mr. Parker is taciturn and Mr. Bryan, loquacious. Mr. Parker was the most prominent Democrat outside the convention and Mr. Bryan was the most conspicuous figure in the convention. Verily, the Democratic pendulum has swung to the other extremity of the political arc. It is not only apparent in the character of the men selected then and now, but the principles of the party have undergone some radical changes, notably those relating to finance. Four years ago the Chicago platform of '96 was reaffirmed at Kansas City and the free and unlimited coinage of silver was almost as prominent as it was in 1896. Mr. Bryan was the hero of the hour and Mr. David Bennett Hill was just an ordinary delegate. But now things have changed. David B. Hill was a conspicuous figure in this convention and wielded more power than any other delegate. He had things his own way and secured the nomination of his candidate.

There is another contrast that is more surprising than any of those mentioned. Bryan was backed and supported by men in the west. Wall street was to be shunned as the greatest enemy the poor can have. During the campaign of four years ago, it was said that the Republican candidates were wholly under the influence of the speculators and trusts in and about New York City. What is the situation today? Who are behind the Democratic candidate for the presidency? Here they are: David Bennett Hill, August and Perry Belmont, John D. Rockefeller, Grover Cleveland. Some of these men are quite wealthy and are in very close touch with Wall street. These men are so closely identified with the trusts and wealth of the East that the Democrats will have to be silent on that question during the coming campaign.

Indianapolis has lost a nother great preacher. J. Cummings Smith of the Tabernacle Presbyterian church is dead. He was a profound scholar, a clear thinker and a logical speaker. He was more than a preacher and pastor, he was an active and enterprising citizen. He enlisted in every cause that tended to elevate his fellow man. He had a happy manner as expressed so well in the Indianapolis Morning Star:

"This happy manner was doubtless due in part to temperament, in part to a sense of duty to others, in part to religion. No human creature however lighthearted by nature, can continue so through the vicissitudes of life without effort or without himself seeking cheer from outside source. It is not an easy thing to do even then, but it can be done, and when it is done there is a distinct addition to the sum of the world's happiness. One who has achieved the great accomplishment radiates gladness, all unconsciously to himself in most cases, and brings brightness into lives that touch his own even in the most casual way. It is always worth while for the sunny soul to have lived."

It is said that Rev. Swallow, prohibition candidate for President, sent Mr. Bryan a telegram asking him to read Numbers, 10th chapter and 29th verse which reads as follows:

"We are journeying unto the place of which the Lord said, I will give it you: Come thou with us, and we will do thee good."

This gives Mr. Bryan a hint of what the Prohibitionists want with him. Will he be their lamb?

THOUSANDS OF FAIR WOMEN HERALD PRAISES FOR PE-RU-NA.

[Catarrhal Dyspepsia and Nervous Prostration Makes Invalids of More Women Than all Other Diseases Combined.]

Mrs. Leone Dolehan.

Miss Anna Prescott, in a letter from 216 South Seventh street, Minneapolis, Minn., writes:

"I was completely used up last fall, my appetite had failed and I felt weak and tired all the time. I took Peruna for five weeks, and am glad to say that I am completely restored to health."

Mrs. Leone Dolehan, in a letter from the Commercial Hotel, Minneapolis, Minn., writes:

"For two months my physician experimented with me trying to cure a hard cold which settled in my stomach, causing inflammation and catarrh. I have now been well for six months, and I give all the credit to Peruna." — Mrs. Leone Dolehan.

Peruna will be found to effect an immediate and lasting cure in all cases of systemic catarrh. It acts quickly and beneficially on the diseased mucous membranes, and with healthy mucous membranes the catarrh can no longer exist.

Miss Louise Matt, 1259 Van Buren St., Chicago, Ill., writes:

"Peruna is a most wonderful medicine for catarrhal and stomach troubles. I suffered so long with indigestion and dyspepsia, and tried many things to cure me, without relief. I finally bought a bottle of Peruna and in just six weeks I was entirely rid of my stomach trouble." — Louise Matt.

Miss Louise Matt.

A Letter From Mrs. Senator Warren.

The following letter is from the wife of late Governor and now U. S. Senator, F. E. Warren of Wyoming:

"I am constantly troubled with colds, cough, etc., but thanks to your good medicine, Peruna, I always find a prompt cure." — Mrs. F. E. Warren.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

FRANCES MORGAN

Her Death a Great Loss to All Who Knew Her.

Morgan—The funeral of Mrs. Nathan Morgan was from the home, 24 North Fifth street Friday afternoon and was largely attended. The pallbearers, James Parson, James O'Hara, William Roney, William Hersman, Charles Clawson, Albert Osgorn, Rev. Hughes officiated.

In Memory of Mother Morgan.

When the angel of the Lord bore away on His snowy wings the beautiful soul of one who was the wife, mother, friend and companion, there was mourning and sadness in many homes. In her own home where she had spent 56 years in happiness with the dear husband who is left to spend his declining years without her, the grief of her mate was not to be measured. In the families of her children to whom she has been mother in the dearest sense of the word, her loss is irreparable. In the lives of the grandchildren who love her so dearly there is no one to take her place. In the homes of a large circle of friends who were children when her own children were young and who have called her "Mother Morgan" all their lives, she will ever be a precious memory that will never be effaced. She has been a joy, a friend, and a gentle presence to her neighbors always, and now that she has been taken to that world of light where the peace of the Lord reigns evermore we can not fathom the mystery but only that as life is to the living, so death is to those whom the Lord calls to immortality.

THE FUNERAL

Of Rev. J. Cummings Smith Will Occur Tomorrow.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 9.—The committee which has charge of the funeral of the Rev. J. Cummings Smith met last night at the Tabernacle Presbyterian church and perfected arrangements for Sunday's services.

It was first thought that the services could be held at 3 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, but on account of the time which Miss Blanche Tisdale, a sister of Mrs. Smith, will arrive from the East they will have to be held at 4 o'clock.

The Rev. Dr. M. L. Haines, the oldest Presbyterian minister in the city, will have general charge of the ceremony and will be assisted by local and out-of-town pastors. The church is to be appropriately decorated for the services.

Mr. Smith's aged mother arrived last evening from Galt, Ont. The father was too feeble to come. The brother of the deceased is also here from New York city. Mrs. Smith is expected home a week from Sunday. When the body of Dr. Smith lies in state at the Tabernacle church today and Sunday all his friends are invited to go and view it.
