

$1.00
Round Trip

TO MUNCIE,
MARION,
PERU.

Sunday, Aug. 28.

Train leaves Richmond 10:45 a. m. Returning, arrives at Richmond 8:15 p. m.

C. A. BLAIR,

P. & T. A.

BLAZE AWAY

Who cares? I'm fortified with an "Eldorado" laundered collar. "The kind hat don't melt down."

The Eldorado Steam Laundry

No. 18 North Ninth St.
Phone 147 Richmond, Indiana

Nasal CATARRH
In all its stages there should be cleanliness.
Ely's Cream Balm cures, soothes and heals the diseased membrane. It cures catarrh and drives away a cold in the head quickly.

Cream Balm is placed into the nostrils, spread over the membrane and is absorbed. After it is in immediate and a cure follows. It is not drying—does not produce sneezing. Large Size, 50 cents at Drug stores or by mail; Trial Size, 10 cents by mail.

ELY BROTHERS, 55 Warren Street, New York

Are You Looking For a Farm?

I have a number of desirable farms for sale. All sizes and all prices—Remember the name and place.

T. R. WOODHURST,
918 Main St., Richmond, Ind.

A FINE CORNER LOT

On Street Car Line

In Boulevard
Addition

AT A BARGAIN

W. H. Bradbury & Son

Westcott Block.

Harness For Show and harness for every day use mean a difference in quality in some makes—here they are identical in strength and durability. More style, of course, in fancy driving harness, but all our harness is made from good stock, and every set maintains our reputation as to workmanship and finish. All sorts of horse equipments at very moderate prices.

The Wiggins Co.

MONEY LOANED

From 5 to 6 per cent.

Thompson's Loan and Real Estate Agency, Main and seventh streets.

INNOVATIONS IN POSTAL AFFAIRS

TO BE RECOMMENDED TO POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT

ASKED TO ADOPT SAME

Hubbard Bill Recommended—One Dollar Bills to be Used For Money Orders.

At the Postmasters' convention at Niagara Falls recently, some very important matters were discussed, and two or three innovations will be recommended to the postoffice department for adoption. One relates to the issuance by the Treasury Department of one-dollar bills to be used in the place of money orders. If a person desires to send one dollar by mail all that will be necessary will be to place on it the name and address of the payee, the same as in a money order, and the receiver can have it cashed by signing his name to it. This bill may be sent through the mails the same as apostle card by affixing a one-cent stamp to it. After the "bill" has once been cashed it goes out of circulation. This will mean a curtailment of expense in the money order departments.

Another matter that was favorably reported on was with reference to the Hubbard Bill. This provides for the issuance of blank postal notes, to be filled out for any desired amount, and to be used in lieu of stamps. If a person desires to send stamps in payment for a purchase a note of the character referred to is filled out for the required amount, and the note can be exchanged for stamps or cash.

Regarding special delivery letters the Postmasters recommended that this class of mail be placed on the same basis as that of Canada. The Canadian Government does not now pay any attention to special delivery stamps of this country and vice versa. The rural letter carriers enlisted the support of the Postmasters to have appointments made by the Postmasters instead of by the department at Washington.

It was concluded to try and have the postoffice department change its present method relative to the probationary period of clerks and carriers. The rule is that the probationary period of six months begin after a substitute has been appointed to a regular, and that during that time a clerk or carrier may be discharged if he is found to be deficient in any respect. The postmasters want that privilege to be exercised before the substitute has been made a regular.

No Substitute Offered
Say what you will about druggists offering something "just as good" because it pays better profit, the fact still stands that ninety-nine out of a hundred druggists recommend Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy when the best remedy for diarrhoea is asked for, and do so because they know it is the one remedy that can always be depended upon, even in the most severe and dangerous cases. Sold by A. G. Luken & Co., and W. H. Sudhoff, Fifth and Personally Conducted Tour, Tent City Main streets.

San Francisco and Return $67.50.

From Richmond, Ind., going one way via Canadian Pacific railway, through the world's famous Canadian Rockies with their 600 miles of stupendous mountain peaks, awe inspiring canons and mighty cataracts.

Tickets good to go August 15th to September 10th. Proportionate rates from all other points. All agents can sell tickets by this route. For further information and illustrated literature write ts-1 A. C. SHAW,

General Agent, Chicago.

San Francisco and Return
From Chicago, Ill., $61.00 going one way via Canadian Pacific Ry, through the world's famous Canadian Rockies with their 600 miles of stupendous Mountain Peaks, Awe Inspiring Canons, and Mighty Cataracts. Tickets good to go Aug. 15th to Sept. 10th. Proportionate rates from all other points. All agents can sell tickets by this route. For further information and illustrated literature write,

To Petoskey and return $5.00 on September 13th, 10 day limit, on G. R. & I. $6.00 to Mackinac Island.

COTTAGE GROVE.

Glenn Heard has returned from the St. Louis Fair.

The resident teachers of this place spent the week attending institute at Liberty.

Mrs. J. H. Martin of Richmond was the guest of Mrs. M. C. Keffer Friday.

Joe Clark, C. C. & L. brakeman, is spending a few weeks at the home of his father.

Miss Roxie Clark and her guest, Miss Jessie Clark, of Moreland, spent Wednesday with Hester Grave.

Mrs. M. C. Keffer spent several days the past week with Mrs. H. W. Gear, of Oxford.

A transfer of real estate was made Friday, J. W. Holland purchasing a farm of George and Emmet Connor, and the Connor Brothers taking possession of Mr. Holland's store, livery stable and other property.

DYSPEPSIA.

Someone has called this complaint "the national calamity." It does seem to be an American product, due in great measure to our rapid civilization. We seem always to be in haste, even in our pleasure, but particularly so in our eating. We "hurry up" the dinner, "hurry" down the food, and not infrequently some one must "hurry" out for the doctor.

Whatever form dyspepsia may take, it is promptly relieved with a dose or two of Phen-a-mid Tablets. Phen-a-mid is a safe remedy that may be used by anyone. It is mild in its action and agrees with the most delicate.

Dr. E. L. Herbert, of Brooklyn, N. Y., writes: "For the relief of headaches, pains in general and nervous indigestion, I must say that I found nothing to equal Phen-a-mid.

Dr. H. B. Akins, Steve, Ark., writes: "Phen-a-mid has been carefully tested by me. I am so well pleased with the results that I enclose $5.00, for which send me another supply."

We have scores of letters to prove that Phen-a-mid, the great pain destroyer, is a positive cure for indigestion and dyspepsia, and for all forms of pain, including headache, neuralgia, rheumatism, sciatica, etc. Phen-a-mid is put up in tablet form, 25 cents a bottle at all druggists, or by mail from the manufacturers, Osborn-Colwell Co., 46 Cliff Street, New York.

You can't expect to do away with face blemishes in a week's time. Keep on taking Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. You'll have a lovely complexion, 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. A. G. Luken & Co.

CLIFF DWELLERS

Miracle Workers at the World's Fair, St. Louis.

The World's Fair at St. Louis is teaching no lesson with greater effect than the one which tells the white man that he does not know everything. It is for our Caucasian ideas of superiority a somewhat harsh lesson and comes home with added force when it happens that some simple son of the desert, some remote dweller in the cliff, some humble worker in the obscured vineyard of humanity of a race differing much from ours, shows himself possessed of special talent which long ago we concluded was entirely our own. It matters little how this special talent manifests itself. It comes upon us always with startling suddenness, all the more, when going about an enormous, wonderful exhibition like the World's Fair in St. Louis we feel that our people, our race, our nationality or whatever binds us primarily together is the force that brought the great Fair into being. Moving about in that great fair, the greatest of all fairs past, present and future, well may we feel a little dashed in spirit when we, for instance, enter such a wonder-domain as that of the Cliff Dwellers and there see an aggregation of marvels and a display of primitive ingenuity the very existence of which not one out of a thousand of us ever had cause to even suspect.

The Cliff Dwellers Concession offers to the visitor the only show at the World's Fair in which the original inhabitants of the present soil of the United States can be found living exactly as they live today in their mountain homes in the Painted Desert of the Colorado in Arizona and New Mexico. Traces of these Cliff Dwellers have just been discovered by Dr. Busch, a truly great scientist in the far interior of Northern Mexico in the wild, almost inaccessible Sierra Madre Mountains. They lived there thousands of years before the white man came and the ancestors of the same Cliff Dwellers now at the World's Fair had their cliff, cavern and cleft habitations in the Colorado Painted Desert thousands of years before Columbus discovered America.

Their hundreds of centuries of cliff life made them a people to whom the manifestations of Nature appeal with force and thus we find today among the descendants of these almost extinct people wonder-workers, necromancers and thaumaturgists such as can be seen in no other department of the World's Fair. Chief among these almost miraculously gifted men is Shungopavi, Moki prestidigitator and medicine man, to whom belongs the credit today of having achieved the most ornate personal triumph among all the many wondrous persons whom the great fair has gathered in the metropolis of the Mississippi Valley. He lives in the Cliff at the Cliff Dwellers in a home he built himself and to it he attached a temple in which he displays his marvelous art. Three hundred of his tribesmen are with him not one of whom has ever before been within the confines of civilization. Altogether the Cliff Dwellers Concession is unique and unapproachable in the particulars of strange and out-of-the way human interest. To have brought Shungopavi and his people from the Painted Desert of the Colorado to the World's Fair for seven months' stay is little short of a managerial triumph.

the same Cliff Dwellers now at the World's Fair had their cliff, cavern and cleft habitations in the Colorado Painted Desert thousands of years before Columbus discovered America.

Their hundreds of centuries of cliff life made them a people to whom the manifestations of Nature appeal with force and thus we find today among the descendants of these almost extinct people wonder-workers, necromancers and thaumaturgists such as can be seen in no other department of the World's Fair. Chief among these almost miraculously gifted men is Shungopavi, Moki prestidigitator and medicine man, to whom belongs the credit today of having achieved the most ornate personal triumph among all the many wondrous persons whom the great fair has gathered in the metropolis of the Mississippi Valley. He lives in the Cliff at the Cliff Dwellers in a home he built himself and to it he attached a temple in which he displays his marvelous art. Three hundred of his tribesmen are with him not one of whom has ever before been within the confines of civilization. Altogether the Cliff Dwellers Concession is unique and unapproachable in the particulars of strange and out-of-the way human interest. To have brought Shungopavi and his people from the Painted Desert of the Colorado to the World's Fair for seven months' stay is little short of a managerial triumph.

the same Cliff Dwellers now at the World's Fair had their cliff, cavern and cleft habitations in the Colorado Painted Desert thousands of years before Columbus discovered America.

Their hundreds of centuries of cliff life made them a people to whom the manifestations of Nature appeal with force and thus we find today among the descendants of these almost extinct people wonder-workers, necromancers and thaumaturgists such as can be seen in no other department of the World's Fair. Chief among these almost miraculously gifted men is Shungopavi, Moki prestidigitator and medicine man, to whom belongs the credit today of having achieved the most ornate personal triumph among all the many wondrous persons whom the great fair has gathered in the metropolis of the Mississippi Valley. He lives in the Cliff at the Cliff Dwellers in a home he built himself and to it he attached a temple in which he displays his marvelous art. Three hundred of his tribesmen are with him not one of whom has ever before been within the confines of civilization. Altogether the Cliff Dwellers Concession is unique and unapproachable in the particulars of strange and out-of-the way human interest. To have brought Shungopavi and his people from the Painted Desert of the Colorado to the World's Fair for seven months' stay is little short of a managerial triumph.

the same Cliff Dwellers now at the World's Fair had their cliff, cavern and cleft habitations in the Colorado Painted Desert thousands of years before Columbus discovered America.

Their hundreds of centuries of cliff life made them a people to whom the manifestations of Nature appeal with force and thus we find today among the descendants of these almost extinct people wonder-workers, necromancers and thaumaturgists such as can be seen in no other department of the World's Fair. Chief among these almost miraculously gifted men is Shungopavi, Moki prestidigitator and medicine man, to whom belongs the credit today of having achieved the most ornate personal triumph among all the many wondrous persons whom the great fair has gathered in the metropolis of the Mississippi Valley. He lives in the Cliff at the Cliff Dwellers in a home he built himself and to it he attached a temple in which he displays his marvelous art. Three hundred of his tribesmen are with him not one of whom has ever before been within the confines of civilization. Altogether the Cliff Dwellers Concession is unique and unapproachable in the particulars of strange and out-of-the way human interest. To have brought Shungopavi and his people from the Painted Desert of the Colorado to the World's Fair for seven months' stay is little short of a managerial triumph.

the same Cliff Dwellers now at the World's Fair had their cliff, cavern and cleft habitations in the Colorado Painted Desert thousands of years before Columbus discovered America.

Their hundreds of centuries of cliff life made them a people to whom the manifestations of Nature appeal with force and thus we find today among the descendants of these almost extinct people wonder-workers, necromancers and thaumaturgists such as can be seen in no other department of the World's Fair. Chief among these almost miraculously gifted men is Shungopavi, Moki prestidigitator and medicine man, to whom belongs the credit today of having achieved the most ornate personal triumph among all the many wondrous persons whom the great fair has gathered in the metropolis of the Mississippi Valley. He lives in the Cliff at the Cliff Dwellers in a home he built himself and to it he attached a temple in which he displays his marvelous art. Three hundred of his tribesmen are with him not one of whom has ever before been within the confines of civilization. Altogether the Cliff Dwellers Concession is unique and unapproachable in the particulars of strange and out-of-the way human interest. To have brought Shungopavi and his people from the Painted Desert of the Colorado to the World's Fair for seven months' stay is little short of a managerial triumph.

the same Cliff Dwellers now at the World's Fair had their cliff, cavern and cleft habitations in the Colorado Painted Desert thousands of years before Columbus discovered America.

Their hundreds of centuries of cliff life made them a people to whom the manifestations of Nature appeal with force and thus we find today among the descendants of these almost extinct people wonder-workers, necromancers and thaumaturgists such as can be seen in no other department of the World's Fair. Chief among these almost miraculously gifted men is Shungopavi, Moki prestidigitator and medicine man, to whom belongs the credit today of having achieved the most ornate personal triumph among all the many wondrous persons whom the great fair has gathered in the metropolis of the Mississippi Valley. He lives in the Cliff at the Cliff Dwellers in a home he built himself and to it he attached a temple in which he displays his marvelous art. Three hundred of his tribesmen are with him not one of whom has ever before been within the confines of civilization. Altogether the Cliff Dwellers Concession is unique and unapproachable in the particulars of strange and out-of-the way human interest. To have brought Shungopavi and his people from the Painted Desert of the Colorado to the World's Fair for seven months' stay is little short of a managerial triumph.

the same Cliff Dwellers now at the World's Fair had their cliff, cavern and cleft habitations in the Colorado Painted Desert thousands of years before Columbus discovered America.

Their hundreds of centuries of cliff life made them a people to whom the manifestations of Nature appeal with force and thus we find today among the descendants of these almost extinct people wonder-workers, necromancers and thaumaturgists such as can be seen in no other department of the World's Fair. Chief among these almost miraculously gifted men is Shungopavi, Moki prestidigitator and medicine man, to whom belongs the credit today of having achieved the most ornate personal triumph among all the many wondrous persons whom the great fair has gathered in the metropolis of the Mississippi Valley. He lives in the Cliff at the Cliff Dwellers in a home he built himself and to it he attached a temple in which he displays his marvelous art. Three hundred of his tribesmen are with him not one of whom has ever before been within the confines of civilization. Altogether the Cliff Dwellers Concession is unique and unapproachable in the particulars of strange and out-of-the way human interest. To have brought Shungopavi and his people from the Painted Desert of the Colorado to the World's Fair for seven months' stay is little short of a managerial triumph.

the same Cliff Dwellers now at the World's Fair had their cliff, cavern and cleft habitations in the Colorado Painted Desert thousands of years before Columbus discovered America.

Their hundreds of centuries of cliff life made them a people to whom the manifestations of Nature appeal with force and thus we find today among the descendants of these almost extinct people wonder-workers, necromancers and thaumaturgists such as can be seen in no other department of the World's Fair. Chief among these almost miraculously gifted men is Shungopavi, Moki prestidigitator and medicine man, to whom belongs the credit today of having achieved the most ornate personal triumph among all the many wondrous persons whom the great fair has gathered in the metropolis of the Mississippi Valley. He lives in the Cliff at the Cliff Dwellers in a home he built himself and to it he attached a temple in which he displays his marvelous art. Three hundred of his tribesmen are with him not one of whom has ever before been within the confines of civilization. Altogether the Cliff Dwellers Concession is unique and unapproachable in the particulars of strange and out-of-the way human interest. To have brought Shungopavi and his people from the Painted Desert of the Colorado to the World's Fair for seven months' stay is little short of a managerial triumph.

the same Cliff Dwellers now at the World's Fair had their cliff, cavern and cleft habitations in the Colorado Painted Desert thousands of years before Columbus discovered America.

Their hundreds of centuries of cliff life made them a people to whom the manifestations of Nature appeal with force and thus we find today among the descendants of these almost extinct people wonder-workers, necromancers and thaumaturgists such as can be seen in no other department of the World's Fair. Chief among these almost miraculously gifted men is Shungopavi, Moki prestidigitator and medicine man, to whom belongs the credit today of having achieved the most ornate personal triumph among all the many wondrous persons whom the great fair has gathered in the metropolis of the Mississippi Valley. He lives in the Cliff at the Cliff Dwellers in a home he built himself and to it he attached a temple in which he displays his marvelous art. Three hundred of his tribesmen are with him not one of whom has ever before been within the confines of civilization. Altogether the Cliff Dwellers Concession is unique and unapproachable in the particulars of strange and out-of-the way human interest. To have brought Shungopavi and his people from the Painted Desert of the Colorado to the World's Fair for seven months' stay is little short of a managerial triumph.

the same Cliff Dwellers now at the World's Fair had their cliff, cavern and cleft habitations in the Colorado Painted Desert thousands of years before Columbus discovered America.

Their hundreds of centuries of cliff life made them a people to whom the manifestations of Nature appeal with force and thus we find today among the descendants of these almost extinct people wonder-workers, necromancers and thaumatur