GENNETT THEATRE MAKES CHANGE

ivory tints. A special decorative feature is made of the sounding board and proscenium arch, having a beautiful gracefully arranged panel of decorative flowers. As a whole, the interior will be equal to any metropolitan theater throughout this country.

The entrance of the lobby is being treated in dull golden tints in strict harmony with the elaborate decorations of the auditorium, and will not lack in artistic taste displayed in comparison with the decorative work performed in the main auditorium. The decorations are being done by the well known firm "The William Eckhart company, of Chicago," whose specialty is the decorating of such buildings and to have a firm of this kind do this work, will unquestionably assure its artistic success.

The exterior of the theater will also be newly repainted, the prevailing color will be light grey stone trimmed in a pale green.

On account of the extensive changes that are to take place at the theater, it will be impossible for Manager Swisher to have a formal opening before about the first of November, then all of the decorating and painting will have been completed, the new seats will be in place, and everything in first class shape. Manager Swisher will offer for a formal opening, an attraction that will be one of the best attractions playing cities, and he is certainly very fortunate in securing same.

In the mean time, several attractions will be put on the boards while the remodeling of the theater is going on, the first of which will be "On the Suwannee River," on Wednesday evening of next week, the announcement of which will be made in the theatrical columns of this paper.

SCANDAL REVIVED

PRINCESS LOUISE PROVES THAT

OLD FLAME RENEWED

Berlin Court Circles are Reveling in a Bit of Scandal That Excites
All Europe.

(By Associated Press.)

Berlin, Sept. 1.—Princess Louise of Coburg, daughter of the king of the Belgians, whose relations with Keglevich Matasitch, the former lieutenant of the Austrian army, caused a great scandal in European royal circles seven years ago, and who has since been kept under the closest restraint, has vanished from Bad Elster, where she has been taking the cure. It is presumed that the princess is in the company of Matasitch and is seeking to gain an asylum where she will be safe from recapture.

The escape of the princess was accomplished in a mysterious and romantic manner. Ladders and a swift automobile were brought into play to effect her release from the hotel, where she has been immured almost as a prisoner, and to convey her to some refuge, regarding the location of which nothing is known. Not the slightest trace of the whereabouts of the pair has been discovered, and nothing is known beyond the fact that the princess and another guest of the hotel, believed to have been Matasitch, have disappeared and with them the jewels of the princess, and an automobile. The escape of the princess, with an air of mystery, has created almost as great a sensation here and in Dresden and Vienna as did the original scandal. Detailed accounts in the newspapers of her flight overshadow the dispatches from the far East.

have been expended many times. St. Petersburg, September 1.—The order to fall back on the fortifications was probably due to the news that the Japanese had crossed Taitz river, twenty miles northeast of Liao Yang. They marched west toward the railroad. The strength is supposed to be in one division. Two Russian divisions were placed to prevent this movement. General Sakharoff says the force that crossed the Taitz river advanced toward Liao Yang in two bodies, one due west and the other by way of Yontai mines.

St. Petersburg, September 1.—Masozovsky was seriously wounded in the battle of Wednesday.

HELD IN CONTEMPT ABOUT CANNON MEETING

Retail Druggists' Association Fined by Chicago Court.

Chicago, Sept. 1.—Twenty-five hundred retail druggists in the United States were declared guilty of contempt of court by Judge Dunne of the circuit court and the National Association of Retail Druggists of which they are members was fined $2,000, while Thomas V. Wooten, secretary of the organization, was fined $500. The cases against five wholesale druggists of Chicago, also charged with contempt, were continued until the full term of court, when it will be necessary for them to take additional proof into court to purge them of the contempt charges.

The injunction under which the druggists' association was fined was secured by Isaac Platt, a retail druggist of Chicago, in November, 1902, and restrained them from interfering in any manner with the securing of supplies by Platt, who had incurred the association's displeasure. It was charged, because he would not join it.

"Platt has been deprived of the right in this community to sell goods," Judge Dunne said in rendering his decision. "Nothing can be more clear. It is a combination that has prevented him from securing supplies, and this court enjoined the defendants in this case from carrying out their plans to prevent Platt from obtaining goods." Platt charges that he has been black-listed and boycotted by the association, and that through its influence all the wholesale houses in Chicago have refused to sell him supplies. The association made its defense upon the plea that Platt was attempting to sell goods at wholesale, thus cutting the prices. Platt has fought the association for two years in the courts, and it was charged in court that the association several times asked him to give up the fight and join the alleged combination, asserting that they would then cease to molest him.

HARGRAVE FREE

The Charge Against Him Could Not Be Sustained.

Hargrave, the Dayton colored man, who was arrested in Glen Miller last Thursday accused of selling liquor, and whom charges were filed against by District Attorney Keeling, of Indianapolis, had his trial before United States Commissioner Reeves this morning. Byram Robbins defended Hargrave. The case was dismissed because there was no evidence to sustain the charge.

BUILDING PERMITS

The Number Issued During the Month of August.

The building permits issued by City Clerk Taggart during the month of August were not as much in the aggregate as those issued during July. The total amount issued during the last named month amounted to $78,950. This included $58,000 for the government building. During August the permits issued amounted to $18,300. With the $58,000 deducted from July permits it amounted to $20,950, leaving $2,650 increase over August.

Indiana and the State Fair.

(Editorial from Indianapolis Morning Star.)

Preparations for the Indiana State Fair, which will be held this month, are already far advanced and are said to indicate that the display will in all respects be one of the best on record. This is as it should be. Complaint has sometimes been made that agricultural fairs do not improve from year to year, but have a monotonous sameness. This may have been true once. It is no longer so.

The successive exhibits in a general way, of course, are necessarily similar; but improved products, new varieties, new methods of treatment all have had their influence in making the display representative of advanced agriculture. Besides, they hold the interest of intelligent farmers who find in them the best means of comparing progress in their calling.

Indiana is one of the great agricultural states. Its farm products are so varied that its State Fair should be and commonly is an exhibition well worth coming far to see. That the prospect this year is for a fair of unusual excellence is gratifying. The fact that so many persons are expected to be exhibitors proves the existence of a general interest that will also insure a large attendance.

You can't expect to do away with face blemishes in a week's time. Keep on taking Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. You'll have a lovely complexion. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. A. G. Luken & Co.

After the meeting a public reception will be held at the Coliseum for Mr. Cannon, the affair being charge of the vice presidents. The public is invited and all that desire are requested to attend the reception and meet Mr. Cannon. It has been thought more advisable to hold the reception at the Coliseum than at the Westcott.

The last of the minor preliminary arrangements were completed this morning. "With everything in fine order, and with excellent prospects, the meeting should be a great one," said Chairman Converse of the Wayne county central committee this afternoon.

Meeting Notes.

Doors open at seven.
Doors open at 7 o'clock sharp.
Stage reserved exclusively for vice presidents.

A full corps of ushers will be on hand.

Mr. Cannon and Mr. Watson arrived this afternoon.

Come early, with great enthusiasm, and help make the meeting a hummer.

The Small Things of Dress Discussed.

There are men who spend $100 or less per year for their clothes and always look well dressed. There are men who spend ten times as much for their clothes and never look well dressed. The secret of good dressing is attention to the small things. An expensive suit, supplemented with dirty linen and unpolished shoes, looks shabby. A comparatively cheap suit, set off with shining shoes and immaculate collar and cuffs, gives the wearer the appearance of being well groomed. Old trousers carefully pressed and cleaned look better than newer trousers which are dirty and baggy. A spotless last year's hat looks better than a this year's tile which has upon it all this year's dirt. To appear well dressed costs pains rather than money.

Personal neatness has a commercial as well as an aesthetic value. An employer does not like to have about him men who look unkempt and seedy. They make it appear that he either will not or cannot pay good wages or salaries—that he is either close fisted or unprosperous—and thereby his business is injured. Other things equal, the young clerk or bookkeeper or salesman who no matter how small his pay, always keeps himself looking clean and well dressed, is the one who will be selected for promotion. Clothes don't make the man. They have helped in the making of many men.
