OCTOGENARIAN GETS MARRIED

SAID HE WAS COURTED BY THREE OTHER WOMEN.

YOUNG AT EIGHTY-ONE

Weds a Detroit Widow Who is Much
Younger—The Courtship.

Indianapolis, Ind., September 5.—W. H. Turner, the octogenarian who married Mrs. Nettie L. Butler, of Detroit, last week, declares that he told her that a man is only as old as he looks, while a woman is as old as she says she is. It was intimated that his marriage was not pleasing to the members of his family here. He is a well-known business man and the inventor of a heating and ventilating system.

He said today: "My wife will probably arrive in Indianapolis within a few days. I just received a telegram from her stating that she would start immediately on receipt of transportation, and I am now going to telegraph the money."

"It is true that my children were not altogether pleased, but there is going to be no schism in the family. They were not lying awake nights thinking of schemes to get me married but I believe they will accept it gracefully."

Mr. Turner told the story of his courtship, which was carried on mostly by mail until last week when he visited his fiancée at Windsor, Canada. "She had asked me regarding my age," he said, "and I answered that I believe that a man is as old as he looks and that a woman is as old as she says she is. After we had been together for several hours for a trip on the lake I told her the truth. 'Would it have made any difference if you had known before that I am 81 years old?' I asked."

"It might have made a difference then, but it does not now," she replied. Then she added, "I am ready for the ceremony."

"As far as the subject of my age is concerned," he continued, "I believe I lack considerable of being in my dotage. Anyhow, three other women have seen fit to propose to me in the last year."
