

Pale. Thin Pale cheeks, white lips, and languid step tell the story of thin blood, impure blood. Doctors call it "anemia." They recommend Ayer's Sarsaparilla. They know why it cures.

PRESENT DAY EVANGELISTS.

Every good man and every good woman believe in plain living, high thinking, and righteous action. Plain living comes sometimes of necessity and sometimes by a great effort on our part to forego a certain kind of pleasure that comes from sumptuous living. Righteous action is never attained by any one but there are some who approach it. It requires a conscientious effort on the part of some, and others become so accustomed to good acts that doing good becomes a habit and consequently the rule of life with them.

There are two forces in the world, at least two, that make for righteousness. One is example and the other is precept. The Great Teacher combined both in His life. He said to His followers: "Be good and do good." He lived the gospel that He preached. There was no fault in Him. The Father looked down upon Him and said: "In Him am I well pleased." Humanity looks up to Him and sees in Him the full measure of a man.

We have had and do have evangelists who were and are true servants of God. There was Moody and Coyle; there is Munhall and Chapman that have drawn and always will draw people to them. What is it in such men, that attracts the masses to them? Let those who have heard their eloquent though simple words and touched the hems of their garments answer this question.

Last year we heard Sam Jones and this year George Stuart and "Bill" Sunday. What good did they do? How much good will ever result from the sermon preached by Rev. Sunday on last Sunday evening? Everyone will agree that he is an attraction. For this reason the tent was crowded and the people applauded his witty, vulgar, and sometimes almost obscene utterances. Did he touch a heart or make better a single life? We believe in the evangelist who is sincere and we think that Mr. Sunday is sincere and he is no doubt doing much good in his way but his Sunday night utterances will never bear much fruit. His "ticket to hell," and his "stylish pantaloons," and flippant reference to the sexes are absurd in a minister of the gospel. The rowdy, if he were present, enjoyed the so called sermon. The profane and vulgar loafer on the street corner will mimic him and make sport of his utterances. He may be a splendid fellow among the boys and he is said to be doing a grand work because he can get near the sinner and convince him of the error of his way but he can never succeed in winning souls as a platform orator especially in a community where the people make any pretense to culture and refinement.

NOW AND THEN.

Dr. Aley, editor of the Indiana Educator-Journal, is a practical man. He keeps abreast of the times in matters educational and in all his school work unites common sense with thorough scholarship. These are evidently two essential qualifications of every successful teacher. Where they are lacking, something else must be substituted and this something else is nearly always a fad—that is something that can be substituted for culture and common sense.

In the editorial columns of the Educator-Journal, a long list of Don'ts is given and among the list is the following. Some may regard this prophecy as overdrawn but when one reads the educational literature of the day, he fully expects this prophecy to be more than realized:

Don't get "cranky" on hygiene. Like all good things it may be overdone, as the following prophecy of the 1950 school illustrates: Teacher (to a newly arrived pupil): "Have you your vaccination certificate with you?" "Yes, sir." "Have you been inoculated against croup?" "Yes, sir." "Have you been vaccinated with the cholera bacillus?" "Yes, sir." "Will you promise never to use the sponge and slate pencil of your neighbor?" "Yes, sir." "Have you a written certificate that you have been made immune against whooping cough, measles, and scarlatina?" "Yes, sir." "Are you willing that at least once every week all your books be thoroughly fumigated with sulphur and your clothes be disinfected with mercuric bichloride?" "Yes, sir." "Very well, then, as you possess all the necessary protective measures prescribed by our modern hygienic requirements you may mount over that wire enclosure and take yonder isolated aluminum seat and begin your lessons."

Roosevelt and Fairbanks will be glad to hear from the election in Vermont. There is no doubt now but that Indiana will elect two United States senators next January.

Have you heard from Vermont? Thirty thousand Republican majority in that little State foreshadows success for the Republican ticket.

REPUBLICANS

FROM EUROPE

With the beating of drums and the blowing of horns the young Republicans of the city were called to the Coliseum last night to talk over the affairs pertinent to the organization. About 200 were present and fifteen new members added to the rolls. The organization will meet in a body next Thursday night. The next regular meeting will be held next Tuesday night.

Misses Martha Boyd, Emma Leeson, and Miss Jones, teachers in the Richmond public schools, who have been spending the summer abroad, have returned to this city, much benefitted by their fine trip. The party landed Saturday morning. Miss Emma Huff, also one of the party, is stopping over a few days in New York City. The party toured England and the continent.

ALL READY FOR FAIRIELAND

BIG FETE TO BE OPENED TO NIGHT—SURE SUCCESS

VERY LARGE CROWD

Is Expected to Be Present—Work of Constructing the Booths Began Today.

Tonight "Fairieland" will be opened to the public and, judging from the number of tickets that have been sold, the biggest crowd that ever attended a similar entertainment in Richmond will be on the grounds. This big show will be held on the lawn of the St. Paul's Episcopal parish house on North A street, and all the proceeds will be given to the Home of the Friendless, one of this city's most worthy charities.

This afternoon a large crowd of young men and women interested in the entertainment began work erecting the various booths and shows. Suspended across the lawn overhead are hundreds of Chinese lanterns and the interior of the parish house will be a veritable "Fairieland" of lights and colors. When one steps within the entrance gate he will imagine that he is on the Pike at the St. Louis Exposition. "Barkers" will be on every hand shouting out the virtues of their various shows and pretty girls will be there by the scores. M. C. Henley has kindly offered to give "Fairieland" the use of one of his big touring cars for the evening and he will act as chauffeur and his personally conducted tours about Richmond will be one of the most popular of the evening's entertainment.

SOLDIERS' COTTAGE

At State Home for the Wayne County Soldiers.

It is understood the county council at its meeting yesterday allowed the amount of $4,000 for building a soldiers' cottage at Marion.

W. C. T. U. Notes.

The Mary F. Thomas W. C. T. U. meeting, held yesterday was well attended. After devotional services, and transaction of necessary business adjourned to meet September 13th at Grace M. E. church, where the annual election of officers will be held. Every member possible should be present. Mrs. Mary Carman leaves us soon to spend the winter at Long Beach, California, for the benefit of her health.

Superintendents of our department work, are reminded that reports to county and State superintendents be forwarded promptly for this, the last quarter of State year.

EARLHAM

President Kelly Will Make a Good Report.

President R. L. Kelly will have a flattering report to make to Plainfield and Indiana Yearly Meetings.

The Western Yearly meeting will assemble at Plainfield on September 18 and Indiana in this city on September 27. There has been much of interest transpiring at Earlham college the last year, and the report of President Kelly will show a growth in every department that will be most satisfactory to the Quakers of the middle west.

COUNTY COUNCIL

And County Commissioners Have Joint Session.

The County Council and County Commissioners were in joint session yesterday. The County Commissioners made out their budget of allowances for the coming year and the County Council is going over the allowances asked for.

Parties interested in bridges in Wayne County plead their cases before the Commissioners yesterday.

AN EXPERT OPINION

Former Secretary Whitaker Says Indiana Will Be 30,000 Republican.

Indianapolis, Sept. 7.—W. H. Whitaker, superintendent of the Indiana reformatory at Jeffersonville, who was here today, predicted that the Republicans will carry Indiana this time by a plurality of at least 30,000. He was secretary of the state committee two years ago, and is still in close touch with the situation. The Republicans, he said, have a fine organization and are in much better shape for the campaign than their opponents. "I think the Republicans will be as strong in the rural communities as they were two years ago," he continued. "We may lose 4,000 or 5,000 in the cities, but we will hold our own in the rest of the state." Auditor of State Sherrick and other Republican leaders expressed the opinion today that the state is surely Republican by a large plurality. They said that they have a better organization than the Democrats and that there has not been enough change of sentiment among the Republicans to cause any uneasiness. Chairman Goodrich of the state committee is in the Third district this week holding meetings with the county chairmen and precinct committeemen.

An interesting meeting was held at the statehouse today, when the members of the committee appointed two years ago by the governor to devise some plan for employing the inmates of the state prison and reformatory got together to talk things over. The contract labor system is to be abandoned if possible, but it will be necessary to find something to do for the prisoners. Superintendent Whitaker some time ago suggested the establishment of a print shop at the reformatory for printing the school-books for the state. The proposition met with considerable favor at the time, but now there is a protest from laboring men, who don't want prison labor competition. Whitaker said today that the scheme will probably not be adopted now, as it will require a special enactment of the legislature, but he believes that it will be adopted some day. He has a plan for establishing a training and military school, as he figures that at least 60 per cent of the prisoners can be redeemed if they are properly trained in prison. Most of the prisoners he said commit crimes because they have no advantage of good training in early life. He has hopes that his plan will be adopted.

Polls are not always accurate. For instance the Republicans took a six months' poll this year that indicated the state is Republican by at least 50,000. As Chairman Goodrich and his associates have not been able to figure where there will be such a great change over two years ago, when the plurality was nearly 26,000, they naturally concluded that the poll was incorrect. It is said that in many instances the poll-takers made up their reports without going out into the precincts or by merely copying from the report of two years ago and adding a few to show there had been a change. One member of the committee said that if they could rely on the six months' poll it would not be necessary to go ahead with the work of the organization, but to make sure rigid instructions have been sent to the committeemen to make a house-to-house canvass and inquire closely as to how every man is going to vote. The Democrats have done the same thing, and the Probs are also trying to take a poll, so between them they should be able to determine beforehand how the state is going.

Before his departure for Portland to take part in the Eighth district Democratic congressional convention today John W. Kern, candidate for governor, had a long conference with Chairman O'Brien of the state committee and Michael Ryan, who has charge of the speakers' bureau. His tour of the state was under discussion and Ryan will at once work out his itinerary. Kern expects to be busy every day from now on, and it will be a big task to map out his assignments so that he can cover the entire state. He will speak at Richmond, Sept. 13. His keynote speech will, it is understood, be made within a few days. Kern will bear the brunt of the fight, but he will be ably assisted by Major G. V. Menzies, B. F. Shively, S. M. Ralston and a host of state speakers, and it is announced that the big guns will begin to appear between Sept. 15 and 20, when General Weaver, former candidate for president on the Populist ticket, and ex-Senator Towne will appear.

Here's a Cool One.

Springfield, Mo., Sept. 7.—A small man who was watching a gambling game in a downtown establishment last evening waited until the game was nearly over, and then, drawing a pistol, announced that he would receive all the money. About $1,000 was handed over to him. Then he called for watches and got a number. Mack Brooks, the proprietor, turned in a valuable diamond. The man then disappeared and has not been heard of since.

Factory May Not Be Reopened.

Marion, Ind., Sept. 7.—The 800 workmen employed at the Macbeth-Evans lamp chimney factory are locked out, and it is said the factory will not resume operations for a year. The company refused to recognize the union, and gave the workmen fourteen days to accept terms offered. The union men have not accepted the offer by the company, and the fourteen days have expired.

BARTEL FAMILIES HOLD REUNION

AT THE COUNTRY HOME OF MR. GEO. H. KNOLLENBERG

50TH ANNIVERSARY

Of the Landing of Clamor and John Bartel in the United States—Fifty Years Ago.

Fifty years ago today Mr. Clamor Bartel and Mr. John Bartel, with their families landed on American soil. The home of the family is in Schleiderhauser, Hanover, Germany. The old homestead, which has stood for centuries, was visited by Mr. Adam and Mr. Chris Bartel on their recent tour of the old country. Mr. John Bartel and Mr. Clamor Bartel, the brothers who were the fathers of Adam and Chris Bartel, and Will and Fred Bartel, respectively came to this part of the country fifty years ago. Clamor Bartel settled in Richmond and John Bartel in Cincinnati. After the death of the latter his family removed to this city. Today the descendants of these two men assembled in a family reunion at the country home of Mr. George H. Knollenberg, south of the city.

There are nearly one hundred relatives present today, including relatives from Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. At 12 o'clock a sumptuous dinner was served in honor of the occasion, and around that festive board sat some of the best men and women within the confines of this city.

The day was a most enjoyable one for all and it will long be remembered.

The Young Men's Republican Club will meet at the Coliseum tomorrow night at 7 o'clock to go in a body to the Fifth ward meeting to hear an address by Byram Robbins.

Old Feud Revived at Fairland With Deadly Effect.

Shelbyville, Ind., Sept. 7.—Charles Driscoll and his son John are lying at the verge of death as the result of a feud of long standing between the former and Martin Hill. They engaged in a quarrel at their home in Fairland, where they live on adjoining lots. Driscoll called Hill an ugly name in the presence of the latter's wife and Hill found an ax with which he split Driscoll's head. John Driscoll ran to his father's assistance, but was met by a blow on the head. Neighbors rushed to the scene and prevented Hill from chopping his victims to pieces. The elder Driscoll is unconscious and will die. The son may recover. Hill is in custody.

Nurses Want Registration Law.

Indianapolis, Sept. 7.—A meeting of the legislative committee of the Graduate Nurses' association was held for the purpose of forming a rough draft for a bill for state registration of nurses, to be presented at the next meeting of the legislature. Bills of other states are being studied and their best points adopted for this bill. This draft will be presented at the state convention of graduate nurses, which will meet in this city Sept. 26 and 27 for the approval of the organization. Should this bill be passed it will raise the standard of nursing and after the bill becomes effective no one will be admitted that cannot pass the required examination. The examination will be for general nursing and include experience in surgery, medicine, diseases of children, obstetrics and other forms. Indiana has no law of registration.

Ended a Protracted Spree.

Martinsville, Ind., Sept. 7.—Charles Caviness, a bachelor, fifty-two years old, of Danville, this state, who has been at the Central hotel in this city for a month, shot himself in the right temple. Caviness had been dissipating freely ever since he came to the city. No one in the house heard the shot fired that ended his life, although there were many guests in the hotel. Caviness was deputy auditor of Hendricks county for two terms, and was later elected auditor, serving his time out.

More Cracksmen at Elnora.

Elnora, Ind., Sept. 7.—The safe in the Elnora postoffice was forced by burglars, but the thieves were unwarded for their work, as the postmaster had carried the valuables home with him. The building in which the postoffice is situated is a one-story frame, two doors south of the Elnora bank. The doors of the safe were blown across the building and partly through the wall. There was an unsuccessful attempt in March last to rob the Elnora bank.

MAN OF PROMINENCE

[Use Pe-ru-na for Catarrh.]

Pe-ru-na Cures Catarrh Wherever Located.

F. Y. FITZPATRICK, M. C.

Hon. F. Y. Fitzpatrick, Congressman from Kentucky, writes from the National Hotel, Washington, D. C., as follows: "At the solicitation of a friend I used your Peru-na and can cheerfully recommend your remedy to anyone suffering with catarrh or who needs a good tonic."

—F. Y. Fitzpatrick.
Peruna is the remedy for catarrh. Almost everybody knows that by heresy and thousands know it by experience. What can be cured in the beginning in a week or two by using Peruna, if allowed to become chronic, may require months of faithful treatment. You had better take Peru-na now for by and by you may be obliged to take it for some time in order to get well. Now the warm, dry weather will assist in your cure. You are not liable to catch fresh cold and delay your cure.

Hundreds of men of dignity and prominence from all over the United States endorse Peru-na.

No other remedy receives such convincing testimonials. Send for free book of testimonials.

If you do not receive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peru-na, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of the Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.
