AMUSEMENTS.

ATTRACTIONS AT THE PLAY-HOUSES.

"Chinese Honeymoon."

Far and away the most popular musical comedy of several years is a Chinese Honeymoon" which will be heard at the Gennett Theatre Saturday, September 24. One of the most attractive features of the performance is the stunning group of girls who appear as the eight bridesmaids.
They are said to represent the acme of feminine grace and modern dash.

GEORGIA BRYTON.

"A Chinese Honeymoon"—on and off the Stage.

All told the organization numbers seventy-five people and is considered the most expensive of all the Shubert attractions.

"My Sweetheart."

A small but well pleased audience greeted the Brandon Evans Stock company at the New Phillips last night. The play "My Sweetheart," is one of the prettiest ever staged and in the hands of the interpreting company was well presented. "The Shadow of the Law" will be the attraction tonight together with an entire change of specialties, with the exception of the triple bar act, which is worked straight at every per-furnished by the wonderful Tree of Truth. "The Runaways" will be presented at the Gennett theater soon.

Under Southern Skies.

The Buffalo Commercial says: "Lot tie Blair Parker's "Under Southern Skies," a charming story of southern life thirty years ago, was well presented on the Star Theatre stage last evening. Last night's audience was large and waxed enthusiastic of the strong points with which the play is plentifully supported. The company presenting the play this year is well balanced and gives a faithful picture of the loves and hates which are blended in the story of the plot." "Un-

He goes directly at his subject, makes no attempt at "fine writing," gives us everyday sentiments in everyday language, photographs the minutest detail of the "home of the people," with Zola-like exactness, makes the passions speak with the uncompromising plainness of impolite truth, defies all graces of action or the qualifying subterfuges of theatrical rhetoric coming at once to the heart of the contention by so straightforward a path that there is no possibility of his missing the way, or of his intentions or arguments being misunderstood.
Therefore it may be repeated that Mr.
Summerfield is a dramatist of crude talent, but his potency is none the less attractive, and with a refined touch here and there, a stroke or two of the pen of a master, a little twisting and readapting at the hands of an expert craftsman, "Why Girls Leave Home," under some gentler title, might find a ready acceptance and gain a gratifying meed of intelligent encouragement, if not a gracious welcome, in theaters where pretensions are greater, if art, indeed, is not always better served. At Robinson's yesterday, Mr. Summerfield's play was splendidly staged by Messrs.
Vance & Sullivan, and applauded to the echo by two of the largest audiences gathered at that house this season. It was well acted, too, the Vance & Sullivan company proving its good quality by performances that were thoroughly commendable, the players in several instances giving exhibitions of talent that commanded instant and hearty approval."

The play in all its metropolitan details will be presented at the New Phillips next Monday evening.

Big Minstrels.

The big minstrels of Christy Bros. which Manager Murray of the New Phillips has secured for one night, September 28, the Denver News says of it:

"With one of the most elaborate minstrel bills ever presented, it is not to be wondered at the tremendous business done yesterday by the Christy Brothers' big minstrel company.
Those who witnessed the performance yesterday went away feeling more than satisfied. The program is complete with new ballads, witticisms and acts."
