It should not be forgotten by the Democratic voter, who believes the trusts are dangerous to the interests of the people and should be destroyed, that the only effort ever made to control the trusts was made by Republicans. The anti-trust law was prepared by a Republican, passed by a Republican Senate, a House of Representatives and signed by a Republican President. Of this law the New York World said: "The law remained a dead letter on the statute books during the entire second term of Grover Cleveland, a Democratic President, and the first effort to enforce the law was made by Theodore Roosevelt, a Republican President." Richard Olney, the Democratic Attorney General under Cleveland, treated the law with contempt; sneered at it and declared it unconstitutional. He refused to have anything to do with its enforcement. Roosevelt and his Attorney General, Philander C. Knox were the first to prosecute offenders against this law, and their prosecution was sustained by the Supreme Court. And yet Democrats are insisting that they as a party are opposed to the trusts. All the evidence upon this matter is against them. The same law that Roosevelt has enforced against trusts existed under the last Democratic administration, when the trusts were coming into being, and no effort was made to suppress them. The Democracy has been tried and found wanting in opposition to the trusts.

General James B. Weaver is to address the Democrats at the New Phillips tomorrow night. The Sun-Telegram in making the announcement of his speech had the following statement in large type across seven columns of the paper:

Veteran Orator, James B. Weaver, of Iowa, at the New Phillips theater, next Friday night, September 30 at 7:30 p.m. Parker's advocate and Bryan's friend.

That sounds very well for persons who are not acquainted with Mr. Weaver. At the St. Louis convention when the Parker telegram was read, Mr. Weaver was about the first man in the convention hall to jump to his feet. At that very time and place he gave Parker one of the worst seatings imaginable, and denounced him for his chicanery. But it is all over now and tomorrow night at the New Phillips he will tell you why he is "Parker's advocate and Bryan's friend."

YEARLY MEETING

Mills was read. The communication was written by Mr. Mills in Berlin and gave an account of the work he has been doing during the year which he has spent in Europe. He has made eighty-four visits to different Friends' schools in England and Ireland. It is his plan to be in Toronto, Canada, on the 15th of October when he engages in religious work in that city.

The Yearly Meeting sent a letter of sympathy to Dr. Richard H. Thomas, of the American Friends' Peace Association who is very ill at his home in New York.

At the roll call of delegates and alternates credentials were received from W. H. Coffin and wife, of Pasadena, Cal.; E. W. Hughes and wife, of Wilmington, Ohio; Charlotte E. Vickers, of Chicago; Emily Ellis, of Kokomo, and J. J. Humphreys, president of the Anti-Saloon League of Indianapolis. Forty-four delegates and alternates failed to answer to their names when the roll call was made.

Messages from the New England Yearly Meeting, the New York Yearly Meeting and the Baltimore Yearly Meeting were read. The 9 o'clock devotional meetings this morning were led by Flora Williams and Dora Barr.

Reports of the work done by the Home Missionary Society, the Anti-Saloon League and the Temperance League were made this afternoon.

The twenty-five thousand Friends of the Indiana Yearly Meeting of Friends through the agency of the annual meeting now in session here, joined yesterday in a petition to President Roosevelt asking that he use his influence toward putting an end to the Russian-Japanese war. The petition was presented to the meeting at noon, just prior to the adjournment. It was drafted by the Rev. Francis Thomas, of Dunreith, Ind. The petition follows:

To the Honorable Theodore Roosevelt, President of the United States

"Being met in our annual gathering a deep concern has come over this meeting that the awful carnage war going on between the Russian and Japanese governments might be speedily terminated. We would respectfully ask that thy good influence might be used in urging those powers to submit the whole question to the Hague Court for adjustment and we will ever pray as humble citizens for thy welfare."

The petition was signed by Timothy Nicholson, temporary clerk of the Indiana Yearly Meeting and was sent to President Roosevelt today. In connection the Indiana Yearly Meeting on the recommendation of Timothy Nicholson will also join in the resolution adopted by various religious bodies of America asking President Roosevelt to issue an order which will prevent the sale of opium in the Philippines and suggesting a law similar to that enacted by the nation of Japan. A resolution will be drafted which will in effect say that America should not trail behind a "heathen nation" in this matter.

With Timothy Nicholson as the temporary presiding officer or clerk pro tem of the Indiana Yearly Meeting of Friends, the first session of the body was opened at 10 o'clock yesterday forenoon in the East Main street Friends' church. The attendance was large, there being more delegates and visiting members present than usual on the opening day.

When Anna M. Roberts, of Richmond, the recording clerk read the opening minute of the morning's session, she announced that the clerkship of the meeting was vacant. Robert W. Douglas made the suggestion that Timothy Nicholson, of Richmond be made clerk of the meeting and that he serve throughout the session or until such time as his successor shall be selected. With one accord the members of the meeting voted in this action and Mr. Nicholson went to the clerk's table. He said that the action was a surprise to him, as he labored under the impression that the doctrine provided for the assistant clerks to preside in the event of the absence of the duly qualified clerk, or when the office was vacant through any cause. "I want to be submissive to the Friends, however," said Mr. Nicholson, "and will therefore take up the duties by asking that the roll call of delegates and alternates from the Quarterly Meetings be called."
