EDITORIAL

The Wayne county Democratic convention was held yesterday at their headquarters in the Colonial building. The convention was not largely attended. A full ticket was named. The Democrats have no hope of electing the ticket named, but they want to get in line to strengthen the vote on the national ticket.

The bold robbery on Main street at an early hour last evening when a large number of persons were upon the streets, only serves to prove the daring of persons who are bent on thieving. Lane certainly could not hope to escape, and why he put himself in the talons of the law is a matter of conjecture. One thing was proven—that our police are proficient and always on the lookout for thieves and crooks. Officer McNally made a good catch last night, and wasted no time in doing it.

The man who assails William J. Bryan in this campaign assails the Democratic party. Mr. Bryan is doing more for the success of the Democratic ticket—several thousand times more—than those who are so unwise as to attack him.—Indianapolis Sentinel.

It is well for the Sentinel to protect William J. Bryan, for he certainly needs it, not near so much now though as he did when he was a candidate. The Orator of the Platte is not in harmony with the ticket, but he was lined up for "political purposes."

MET HIS FATE

terribly burned came here about two years ago from Terre Haute, Ind., and located with his mother and 10 year old son on South Seventh Street. The dye house, where the explosion occurred, was opened about four months ago and was doing a fine business. Mr. Bratz was a fine business manager and under his charge the business increased rapidly. Mrs. Bratz, the mother of the injured man

ES always had fears for the safety of her son because of the large quantities of benzine and gasoline which he handled and each morning when he left home she cautioned him and frequently asked, "Isn't your work dangerous?" Mr. Bratz seemed to have no fear of any accident and always said that there was no danger. He is a prominent Elk and K. of P. His condition this morning was about the same as last night and hopes for his recovery were held out. He spent a restless night as could be hoped. Charles Bratz told his partner Mr. Seefloth, this morning that he was sure the fire started from the oil still. This was a new machine and had not been installed more than a day or two. There was no fire of any kind in the building other than what was in the still. Mr. Seefloth said this morning: "Our loss will be anywhere between $2500 and $3000."

The bandages were removed from Mr. Bratz this morning and his wounds, with the exception of those on his hands were found to be not so serious as at first expected. The burns on his hands are very deep and yesterday gave him intense pain but today he had very little pain and rested easy.

His physician says that is chances for recovery are very good and nothing is to be feared now but blood poisoning. Mr. Bratz's face will not be disfigured.

STRANGLED TO DEATH

SAD FATE OF A YOUNG GIRL
AT PALATINE, ILL.

THE DEAD BODY FOUND

In Her Father's Barn—Some One Made the Attack and Also an Escape.

Chicago, Ill., October 7.—Three children playing in the barn of their father, Fred Harmening, near Palatine, Illinois, yesterday afternoon found the body of their eighteen-year old sister, Minnie. Fifteen minutes before the girl had left the house. In the interim some one had attacked her and after a desperate struggle strangled her to death. Last night posses of farmers searched the district for some trace of the murderer, but without success. The hunt will be renewed early this morning.

The girl was exceptionally attractive in appearance. That she fought bravely for her life was shown by the disordered condition of the barn, but no one heard the struggle and no man was seen going to or leaving the structure. The crime is attributed to some tramp or farm hand. An arrest is expected today. If the man is found he will be closely guarded to prevent violence.

Although the girl's clothing was torn the women, who were first to arrive, believed the girl had died from heart disease. The physician's discoveries, however, quickly dispelled this theory and sent posses hunting in every direction for the murderer.

The Harmening dwelling is near the road, but no person living in the neighborhood had seen any suspicious person passing, and the Harmening children had seen no one in the barn yard.

Mr. Harmening, who is wealthy, said last night that today a thorough search for his daughter's murderer will be made. The inquest over the girl's body will be held this morning.

Four Great Grandmothers Alive.

Columbus, O., October 7.—The baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McDaniel Landon is probably one in a million children, for she is surrounded by four great grandmothers and three grandparents. The great-grandmothers are Mrs. Angelina Schaff, of West Eighth avenue; Mrs. Catherine Myers, of Nelsonville; Mrs. Landon, of Marion and Mrs. McDaniels, of Pataskala.

DAILY NEWSPAPER

Is a Necessity in Wayne County.
(Cambridge City Tribune.)

The Richmond Palladium was issued Saturday as a morning paper, by its new manager. There is a good healthy change in its typographical appearance and generally there is much improvement in its condition. We trust that it will continue to improve, for there is need of such a daily newspaper in Wayne county.

John Fitzgibbons, who has been connected with the Richmond Palladium for years, has bought the paper and will put it in the morning field. A morning paper ought to go in Richmond, and the new publisher knows how.—Milton News.

(New Paris Mirror.)

The Richmond Palladium came out last Saturday as a morning paper, under the new management of John S. Fitzgibbons. The paper is generally improved and its change to the morning issue will no doubt give it a prestige and an advantage which it has never hitherto enjoyed and we look to see it enjoy greatly increased prosperity.

The American Boy for October.

The October "American Boy," with its football cover and ninety illustrations, ought to make a boy's heart jump with pleasure. This number is especially attractive. Its stories are: Part one of "Jimmy-boy's Commission"—a war story; chapter eight of the editor's "Three Yankee Boys in Ireland"—a travel story; "A Bay Canvasser"—a business story; "The K. O. D.'s and the P. A. C.'s"—a football story; "The Recollections of a Boy and a Rod"—a fishing story; "Why the Flinn-
