

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.

The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood. If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work. Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Koot, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail. Home of Swamp-Koot, free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer, P. O. Box 53, Binghamton, N. Y.

ANOTHER LETTER ON THE FAIR

SOME OF THE MOST INTERESTING THINGS OBSERVED

BY ELIZABETH L. HORNEY

Graphic Description of the Places

Visited and the Events That Occurred.

In my last letter it was stated that the common school exhibit of Indiana contained 300 volumes when it should have been 700 and these manuscript volumes contain more than 300,000 pages.

To Indiana was assigned 1,700 square feet of space for her educational exhibit. Two booths were erected, the larger for the work of the elementary and secondary schools; the smaller for the work of the higher institutions. In this latter booth is housed the entire display of the Indiana colleges except that of Purdue which has a technical exhibit in this section assigned to the "American Colleges" and it also has a display in the Agricultural Building. The higher institutions have not kept the pace set by the common schools and a few are not represented at all. Indeed the State University has only an album and a history of the institution. The latter, however, is a very valuable book of its kind and it has one sketch that particularly interests the citizens of Richmond—that of our honored fellow citizen, the Hon. Isaac Jenkinson, who for more than thirty years has been a member of the board of trustees and for years president of the board. All these years his interest in this institution has never flagged and to him probably more than to any other man outside the faculty does it owe its present greatness, and he often points with pride to the fact that it was the first State college west of the Alleghenies to admit women on equal terms with men.

Earlham makes a fuller display, still not as full as her friends could have wished. But it all takes money. I understand President Bryan said they did not have the money to carry out their plans, so they would not attempt to make any show.

The parochial and private schools of the State are almost entirely without representation except those of the Lutherans, who have a booth of their own for the "Synod of Missouri and other States."

It is in the booth devoted to the public schools of the State where the greatest interest lies. The sides of this booth are partitioned off into stalls containing cabinets, 80 in all. For instance, one stall is assigned to Richmond, Ft. Wayne and Marion. While the space allotted to the Quaker City is not equal to that of the two others, yet it has its full share of visitors on account of the excellency of her work. The entire west wall of the booth is filled with the manual training display of Richmond, Terre Haute, Ft. Wayne and other cities. Those who had charge of the arrangement of the Hoosier State's educational exhibit discarded all those frills and furbelows which tend to catch the eye of the passerby, but distract the attention from the quality of the work, but somehow students of educational problems seem to find out that it is to Indiana they must look for that unique exhibit which alone shows actual conditions and actual results. To this booth come foreign educators as well as those from other States, to study and inquire, some spending as much as two or three hours. One of the most interesting of these visitors was a young Chinaman, who said he was attending school in Boston. Another interesting foreigner was Madame Lopez, delegate of the National Board of Education, of Argentine Republic. She said she was going to Indianapolis to visit schools and when offered to ask Superintendent Mott to send her samples of work and information concerning the Richmond schools, she said she would be grateful for whatever he should send.

Indiana's great work in the consolidating of her rural schools and her manner of transporting the pupils brought forth many inquiries. One trustee from Virginia was so interested and said he had for some time been talking the matter up and he would go home to renew his efforts. As he suggested, good roads must be had first, so he must urge their building also.

(To be continued.)

Headache Permanently Cured.

For the thousands of men and women who are subject to headaches—due to whatever cause they may be—who know not the meaning of cheerfulness, who take no pleasure in work, and who are always "on an edge," permanent relief is at hand.

Phen-a-mid Tablets give prompt relief. There isn't a bit of doubt but that Phen-a-mid is the greatest headache cure in existence. Known as the physician's remedy, it is used extensively by them. Hundreds of medical men are testifying to their efficacy.

Read what Dr. Thornton Stewart, of New York City writes: "I am using Phen-a-mid in cases of persistent headache due to nervous tension, and report most favorably upon its action."

Phen-a-mid Tablets contain no harmful narcotics. They do not depress the heart nor upset the stomach. No family can afford to be without a bottle of Phen-a-mid, the great pain destroyer, in the house.

For sale by all druggists for 25 cents a bottle, or will be sent by mail from the manufacturers, Osborn-Colwell Co., 46 Cliff street, New York.

RECORD MADE BY RAILROADS

KILLED AND INJURED LIST EXCEEDS LAST YEAR.

ACCIDENTS ARE ON INCREASE

Interstate Commerce Commission is Greatly Concerned—Remedies

	Killed.	Injured.
1895	6,136	33,748
1896	5,845	38,687
1897	6,437	36,731
1898	6,859	40,882
1899	7,123	44,620
1900	7,865	50,320
1901	8,455	53,339
1902	8,588	64,662
1903	9,840	76,553

New York, October 6.—Last year nearly 10,000 persons were killed and more than 76,000 persons injured by accidents of all kinds on railroads in the United States. The number of lives lost exceeded by more than a thousand that of any other year since the Interstate Commerce Commission began to keep the account, says a Washington dispatch to the Herald. The record this year is already appalling, and in the number of great railroad disasters in which a large number of passengers were killed and injured it is likely to exceed last year's frightful record.

The Interstate Commerce Commission is greatly concerned, and, although this body can do no more than see to it that the laws in regard to safety appliances and air brakes are obeyed, its members are giving serious consideration to the present situation. Summed up, the causes of the increasing number of disasters, in the opinion of important members of the commission, are:

Causes and Remedies.

1. Increase of traffic beyond the capacity of the railroad equipment.
  2. The constant and almost criminal effort of railroad managers to render service beyond their facilities.
  3. Indifference and carelessness of railroad employees, due in a majority of cases to compulsory overwork.
  4. Roadbeds of insufficient construction for the constantly increasing weight of rolling stock.
  5. Single tracks.
- Summed up, the best remedies in the opinion of members of the commission are:
1. Extension of the block system of signals.
  2. Reduction of the hours of labor of railroad employees.
  3. Elimination of all inexperienced men and boys in the train dispatching service.
  4. Abolition of the train order system and substitution therefor of the electric staff system.
  5. Double tracks.
