Sunday, December thirty-first being the seventieth anniversary of the birth of Mr. Conrad Zwissler, Sr., his children decided to celebrate the event in a manner to be long remembered as one of the most pleasant of the Yuletide season of 1905. The celebration took place Sunday evening at the home of Mr. Zwissler's daughter, Mrs. Frank M. Meyer, on South Ninth street. Progressive euchre was played during the early hours of the evening, first prizes being awarded to Mr. John Zwissler, Jr., while the consolations were claimed by Mr. George Zwissler and Mrs. Schaefer. At the close of the card games a sumptuous dinner in several courses was elegantly served and as the merry makers were seated about the festive board many original, humorous and witty stories were related to the delight of all by the genial narrator of the evening, Mr. John Zwissler in his usual entertaining and pleasing manner. Just previous to the ushering in of the New Year a beautiful rocker was presented Mr. Conrad Zwissler, Sr., by the various guests as a token of esteem, which he gratefully accepted, responding feelingly to the kindness that prompted such a generous remembrance. A coincidence of the celebration was the fact that when the midnight bell had been tolled bringing to a close the celebration of the birth of Mr. Zwissler, it ushered in the celebration of the anniversary of the birthday of Miss May Zwissler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Zwissler. Among those present at the celebration were: Messrs. and Mesdames John Zwissler, Conrad Zwissler, Jr., Frank Zwissler, Anthony Zwissler, Frank Meyer, Peter Geier, John Huber, Henry Schaefer, Mr. and Mrs. Vogelsong, Mr. Michael Zwissler of Cincinnati, Mr. Adam Zwissler of Indianapolis, Miss May Zwissler; Masters Howard Geier, George Zwissler and Raymond Zwissler.

One of the most pleasant social events of the new year was the masquerade party given by Miss Alice Lanning at her home, on North Seventh Street, last evening in honor of Miss Alma Garwin, of Cambridge City. Various characters were represented by the merry group of young lady guests. Music, dancing, and games were pleasing features of the evening's entertainment and at an appointed hour an elegant luncheon in two courses was served. A large bouquet of American Beauty Roses formed a centerpiece for the dining table. In the parlors and reception hall pink and white carnations were properly distributed. Those comprising the company were: Misses Alma Garwin, of Cambridge City, Ind., Florence Bond, Sarah Nixon, Lucile Polglaise, Ruth Peltz, Deborah Shute, Mary Likins, Catherine Thompson, Mary Graves, Ruth Kinsey and Ruth Mott.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Weber happily entertained a company of friends Sunday evening at their home on South Fifth Street in honor of Mrs. Thomas Case of Anderson, Ind. Progressive point euchre, played at four tables was a pleasant feature, prizes being won by Mrs. John Donlin and Mr. Philip Birek. At an appointed hour an elegant four course luncheon was served. Music and games were enjoyed during the hour of the waning year and the entrance of the New Year. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Conway, of Kansas City, Mo., Mrs. Thomas Case, of Anderson, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. Philip Birek, Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Rody, Mr. and Mrs. John Donlin, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kamp, Mr. and Mrs. James Houts, Mrs. J. H. Shofer, Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Williams and Mrs. Heskett.

Miss Ruby Reid was the charming hostess for a watch party given at her home on South Seventh Street, Sunday evening in honor of her guests. Headache Cured.

Mrs. Ryan, wife of Lee Ryan, liveryman on South Tenth street, says: "For years I had suffered with severe headaches almost constantly. I was told by several specialists that my eyes were the cause of it, so that I finally consented to the wearing of glasses which would help me for only a short period, when the headaches would return again. I was told that nothing more could be done for me unless I submitted to having drops put in my eyes to suspend the accommodation. I was fearful of the effect, as I knew of others whose eyes had been permanently weakened from the effects of a mydriatic. I consulted Mr. and Mrs. Lingerfield and Miss Sweitzer, as I noticed in their advertisement that they corrected all latent troubles without the use of a mydriatic. I am very much pleased with the results, as it is now nearly one year since they fitted me with glasses and my head has not ached since I have worn them. I am grateful, too, to have found some one who was able to correct my trouble without the use of drops."

Mydriatics.

We do not use Belladonna, Atropine or other mydriatics, injurious drugs all of them, and belonging to a past stage in the science of optics as applied to eyesight testing. Total dilation with a powerful mydriatic will set your eyes at rest. It will set them at rest so well that in a great many cases it will take the eyes a year or more to get back to their normal conditions, and very often rest them so well that the eyes are never comfortable again. By means of modern methods we obtain more accurate and satisfactory results without the use of drops, also avoiding much of the discomfort and often serious danger to the patient.

Mrs. Commons, wife of E. L. Commons, proprietor of the Willow Grove Dairy, says: "My eyes were more thoroughly tested by Mr. and Mrs. Lingerfield and Miss Sweitzer than by any other optician I had previously consulted. The glasses they furnished me are giving entire satisfaction, and I wear them with perfect comfort, which I had not been able to do heretofore."
