The evening Euchre club was happily entertained last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Zwissler, on South Tenth street. Progressive point euchre played at four tables was a pleasant feature of the evening, followed by music and a social time. At the close of the card games a three-course luncheon was served. The club will meet again in two weeks.

The Tourist club was entertained Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Downing on South Twelfth street. The meeting was largely attended and an exceptionally fine paper on the subject, "Education in Russia," was read by the president, R. L. Kelly, of Earlham college. An interesting conversation in which the several members participated, was led by Mrs. T. G. Graham and Mrs. C. S. Bond. Two beautiful vocal solos were pleasingly given by Miss Patton, who was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Downing. An instrumental solo was artistically rendered by Mr. Webster Ward. At the conclusion of the program an hour was spent socially, during which refreshments were served. The next meeting will be held two weeks hence at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lemon, on East Main street.

A party composed of Messrs. John Kelly, Ed. Hunt, Timothy O'Brien, Harry Benning and Albert Crivel claim to have been the first sleighing party of the season. They say they were out as soon as the snow began to fall.

A CLEVER PRODUCTION

"MAID AND MUMMY" WAS HIGHLY ENTERTAINING.

May Foley The Leading Lady Left Company For Her Home In East.

Without the semblance of a plot but with good music, well sung, clever words and situations handled by clever people "The Maid and the Mummy," delighted a large audience at the Gennett, Saturday matinee and night. The part of Bolivar, the Mummy, was in the hands of as good a comedian as has been seen in the city for some time. He resembled Frank Daniels both in looks and manner of acting and he made a decided hit.

Miss May Boley, the leading lady, who took the part of the Actress, simply fascinated her audience. Her take off on the shop girl was one of the best things in the entire production. Miss Boley has been troubled with a severe cold, which was noticeable in her singing and she left the company here to go to her home in the East where she will be the rest of the season.

SMALLPOX PATIENT OUT

MRS. CHARLES HEINBAUGH HAS FULLY RECOVERED.

The Case Was Not Serious—Dr. Davis Says There is No Further Danger.

Mrs. Charles Heinbaugh of Sheridan street; who was reported to the city health officer as having a slight case of small pox has completely recovered and small pox was not the nature of the disease as was reported. Dr. Davis the city health officer in speaking of the case says: "It was thought up to a few days ago that the case was one of small pox so every precaution was taken, a strict quarantine was established and the members of the family were vaccinated. There is no danger now of further small pox scare." Mr. Heinbaugh, who is employed as a freight conductor, will return to work today.

DUDLEY FOULKE

RETURNED HOME

Dined With President Roosevelt—Says Visit Was Without Political Significance.

William Dudley Foulke of this city returned home Saturday after a week's absence spent in Washington and Philadelphia. Mr. Foulke stated last night that his trip was of no political significance, being purely a business mission. While in Washington Mr. Foulke visited the White House and paid his respects to President Roosevelt, whom he holds in high esteem. At the special invitation of the President Mr. Foulke took dinner at the White House.

SMALL FIRE SATURDAY

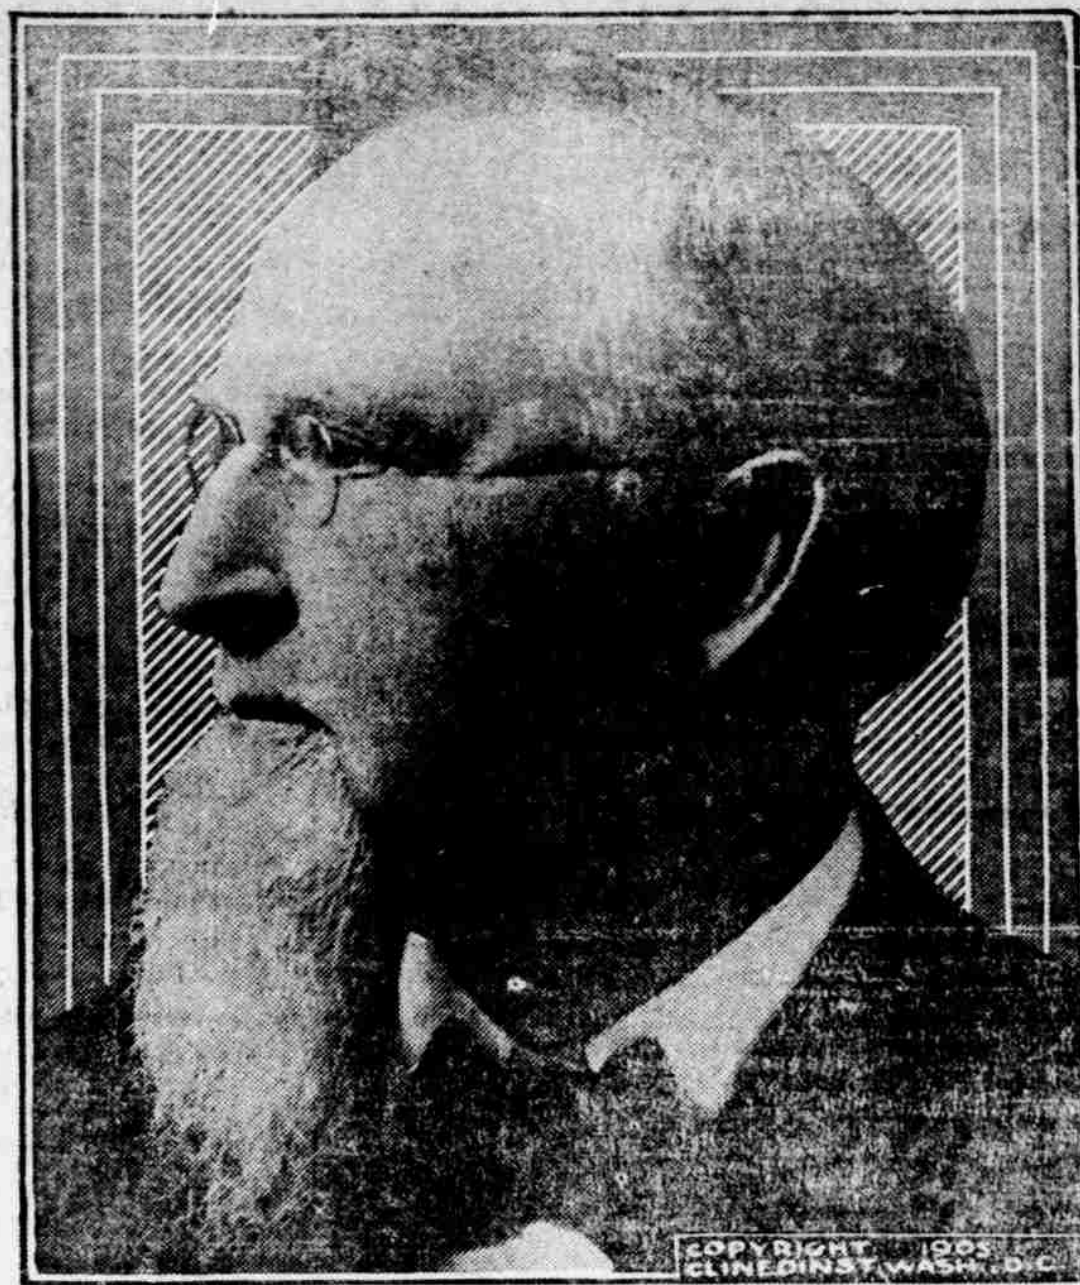

Mrs. Briggs Home Took Fire From Sparks of Panhandle Train.

An alarm of fire turned in from box 66, Saturday night called the fire department to the home of Mrs. John Briggs, 530 North Sixteenth street. The roof of the house was found to be in flames but was extinguished without much difficulty and with but a small loss. As the building is near the railroad it is supposed that the fire was caused by sparks from a passing train.

CIGARETTE USED ON THE STAGE

AT THE GENNETT FRIDAY AND SATURDAY IN TWO SHOWS.

NO ARRESTS WERE MADE

To Make Plays Effective the Police Intend to Tolerate It.

The Indiana statute which prohibits the use of cigarettes was fully and directly violated three times last week, once in the comedy, "Checkers," which appeared here Friday night, and again in both performances of "The Maid and the Mummy," on Saturday. While these companies are touring Indiana they seem to have no regard for the law against the little coffin nails, which they use with impunity on the stage.

In the audience on all three occasions there were officers and others authorized to make arrests, but no notice was taken of this open law violation. Prosecutor Jessup said last night: "Smoking cigarettes on the stage is as much a violation of the law as smoking on the street, and an arrest would have been made had an affidavit been sworn out against the guilty persons." The police, when questioned about the matter, state that under the circumstances, the smoking of cigarettes was necessary to the play, which would have been weakened had they not been used. The principle of smoking on the stage are entirely different, and looked upon in this light, there would have been no justification in an arrest, the police say.
