GOOD BILLS FOR COMING WEEK

BOTH MANAGERS WILL HAVE
VAUDEVILLE PROGRAMS
AT THEIR HOUSES.

BUD FARNUM TRIO AGAIN

Patrons Who Like the Light Stuff
Will Get Their Fill Next Week.

After a temporary absence from the field of vaudeville, Manager Swisher, of the Gennett, will inaugurate a first rate bill at that house on Monday afternoon and anticipates a continuance of the liberal patronage that has been accorded him at all times since he went into this field. He has secured a list of performers that comes to him highly recommended and who represent an outlay above the average in a financial way. Those who were pleased with the work of the Bud Farnum Trio, which appeared here several weeks ago as comedy instrumentalists, will be glad to welcome them back. This is one of the best features of the kind that has ever appeared at the Gennett. Three motion pictures have been provided and Ernest Renk will be heard in two new illustrated songs. There will be no break in the vaudeville program next week, as no other attraction has been signed. The full program that will be offered is as follows:

Prof. Gus Fredericks, piano overture.

Peter Family, acrobats and gymnasts.
Marguerite Newton, singing comedienne.

Bud Farnum Trio, comedy instrumentalists.

J. W. Sherry, singing and talking entertainer.

Ernest Renk, illustrated songs: "In the Valley Where the Bluebird Sings," "She Was the Mother of My Child."

Colton and Darrow, comedians and singers.

Motion Pictures: "A Hurried Moving In"; "The Bewildered Traveler" and "The Phantom Guards."

Vaudeville at New Phillips.

Manager Murray has secured what he is confident will prove a pleasing bill for the New Phillips vaudeville next week. There is a wide variation from the bills that have been offered the past few weeks and this fact will lend interest and will insure that the liberal patronage that has marked this and previous weeks will be continued. The bill includes a novelty musical act, funny songs and foolish talk, artistic singing, and dancing and talking, illustrated songs, black face comedy singing and dancing, acrobatic feats, posturing and feet juggling and motion pictures. This is variety so ample that any lover of vaudeville can find something to suit him. Advance reports in reference to the performers indicate that they have been tried in the vaudeville crucible and their work found satisfactory. A week of good business is confidently expected. Below is the program in full.

Miss Grayce Miller, piano overture.

The Musical Harts, a novelty musical act.

George W. Leslie, the jester, who sings funny songs and does some foolish talking.

Howard Powers and Dolly Theobald, the human doll and her beau, in artistic singing, dancing and talking.

Cal Lankert in illustrated songs. Lewis & Horr, black face comedy singing and dancing.

The Wiley Ferris Company, the Irish Japanese, introducing acrobatic feats, posturing and foot juggling. The Philscope, showing the latest motion pictures.

In the Aborn Company's splendid revival of the comic opera classic, "Robin Hood," which is to be seen here soon, these well known managers have secured for each role the most capable artist obtainable, instead of presenting a star surrounded by a mediocre support. Mr. Harold Blake, who sings the tenor role of Robin Hood, the outlaw chief, when he played the part with the Bostonians, was proclaimed the best of those who have essayed the role. Among

PRESIDENT LOUBET'S GIFT TO MRS. LONGWORTH.

A genuine Gobelin tapestry is a rare present, as the manufacture of this priceless art treasure is a monopoly of the French government and cannot be bought on the market. France's present to the White House bride is a replica of a famous tapestry in the Mazarin gallery, entitled "The Manuscript." It was designed by Francois Ehrmann and is one of a set of four.

others who won success with the Bostonians in their respective parts, are Edward Metcalfe, Campbell Donald, Agnes Stone and Meta Carson, and the rest of the present organization is made up of such operative favorites as Ethel Houston, Vivia Brewster, F. Stanton Heck, Karl Stall and Maurice Hageman.

MOTHER DEAD, HE ENDS LIFE.

Meat Packer in Cincinnati Disappears and Is Found Strangled in a Field.

New York, March 2.—Information was received here last night that the body of Edward Grossman, brother of William B. Grossman, of No. 729 Seventh street, Jersey City, had been found in a field in Cincinnati, Ohio. He had committed suicide by strangulation.

Grossman disappeared from his home in Cincinnati ten days ago. After a search had been made for him in that city, his brother in Jersey City was notified as it was believed that he had come East. He was a meat packer and prosperous, but had been despondent for several weeks because of the death of his mother in Germany.

INSANE; SETS HOTEL AFIRE.

Guest Upsets Lighted Lamp in Room of St. Louis Hostelry—Two Leap from Windows.

St. Louis, Mo., March 2.—While temporarily insane, P. T. Hughes, aged 26, from Lincoln, Neb., began throwing furniture around in his room of the third floor of the Comfort hotel today, finally overturning a lighted lamp and starting a fire. Hughes and J. A. Courtney, 55 years old, superintendent of construction at the Mississippi Pacific hospital, who also occupied a third floor room, jumped from windows to escape the flames, and were picked up with fractured skulls and are in a critical condition. There were 125 other guests in the hotel, but none other was injured seriously.

POISONED TWICE BY MISTAKE.

Man Drinks Carbolic Acid and Then Repeats Error, Thinking He's Taking Whiskey.

New York, March 2.—Charles W. Scott, of East Camden, N. J., while shaving yesterday, mistaking a bottle which contained carbolic acid for one which he thought contained tonic drank some of the poison before he discovered his mistake.

Dropping his razor he ran to a closet and seized what looked to him like a whiskey bottle and from this he took a long draught. He was horrified to find that this too, contained carbolic acid.

He then cried for help and a physician was called, who did what he could for the man, but it is feared that the victim will not recover.

THE GRANDFATHER OF ALL MOSQUITOES AND HIS GREAT DESCENDANTS.

There are plenty big mosquitoes in the world, but it is reported that they have greatly degenerated in size and strength since the days when this land was believed by many tribes of Indians.

The grandfather of all mosquitoes lived in the neighborhood of Onondaga, N. Y. When he grew hungry he would sally forth and eat an Indian or two and pick his teeth with their ribs. The Indians had no arms that would prevail against this monster, so they called upon the holder of heavens to come down. Finding that he had met his match in this person, the mosquito flew away. He flew around the great lake, turned eastward, sought help from the witches that inhabited the Gigen lake and had reached Lake Onondaga when his pursuer came up and killed him.

As his blood poured forth on the sand each drop became a smaller mosquito. They gathered about the holder of the heavens and stung him so cruelly that he half repented the service he had rendered to the Indians.

The Tuscumons say that two of the mosquitoes stood on opposite sides of the Seneca river and saw all who passed. Harawatha killed them. A reservation stone marks the place where the holder rested during his chase, and trucks were until lately seen south of Syracuse alternated with the footprints of the mosquito. These footprints were shaped like those of a bird and were twenty inches long. These marks were revered by the Indians for many years. —Brooklyn Eagle.

THE GOLD STANDARD.

England, in 1816, Was the First of the Nations to Adopt It.

The first nation to adopt the gold standard was England. She adopted the gold standard nominally in 1816, but practically not until three years later, for in 1816 England was on the paper basis. Germany, which adopted the single silver standard in 1877, took steps toward the establishment of the gold standard in 1871, but it was not until July, 1873, that she demonetized silver, underpinned to melt down her silver coin, sell it for gold and establish the single gold standard. The Scandinavian nations adopted the single gold standard at the same time. In September, 1873, France restricted the free coinage of silver and three years later entirely suspended such coinage, but has never undertaken to discard the silver coin she has in use or to treat it otherwise than as an equality with gold. The action of France in restricting and then suspending the coinage of silver on private account was followed by the other nations of the Latin union—Belgium, Switzerland, Italy and Greece—and Spain suspended the coinage of silver in 1878. Holland, which had established the single silver standard in place of the bimetallic standard in 1847, suspended the coinage of silver in 1872 and opened her mints to the coinage of gold on private account in 1877.—Watson's Magazine.

Echoes From Horses' Skulls.

Those curious twists and turns superstitions take are to be found in the introduction of horses' skulls in or about the church buildings in England and Scotland, the reason alleged being to help the sound in church. This habit is unquestionably a relic of heathenism where an animal was sacrificed. Some years ago, when an old meeting house in Edinburgh was pulled down, the sounding board space above the pulpit was found to be filled with horses' skulls. In some parts of England there still exists the idea that if a horse's head is buried in a field there will be an echo.

Success In Society.

The secret of success in society is a certain heartiness and sympathy. A man who is not happy in company cannot find any word in his memory that will fit the occasion. All his information is a little impertinent. A man who is happy there finds in every turn of the conversation occasions for the introduction of what he has to say. The favorites of society are able men and of more spirit than wit, who have no uncomfortable egotism, but who exactly fill the hour and company, contented and contenting.—Emerson.

An Artist's Whim.

In the church of Tasov, in the government of Kursk, Russia, the altar piece is a painting of the last judgment, the foreground being a vivid representation of hell. Among the figures of lost souls a prominent position is occupied by Tolstol, whose portrait presents a fairly good likeness. The painter's name is unknown, but that his work is appreciated is shown by the fact that the town authorities paid $125 for the picture.

An Indicator.

"But, doctor," asked the young practitioner, "why do you always order champagne for every new patient that comes to you?" "Because, my boy," replied the wise old medical man, "I can judge by what he says whether or not he can afford it. That helps when I come to make out my bill."—Philadelphia Press.

Driven From Home.

"Did you hear that the daughter of that rich man in the next block had been driven from home?" "No. When did it happen?" "Just after she got into the carriage."—Baltimore American.

A Bad Head.

"They say," murmured Mr. McSosh, "that two heads are better than one, but I doubt it. If I had two like the one I've got this morning I wouldn't commit suicide."—Cleveland Leader.
