

DO YOU GET UP
WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, uric acid, catarrh of the bladder and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work and in private practice, and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper, who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this guarantee offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles are sold by all good druggists. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

AT THE THEATERS

PUBLIC OPINION SPEAKS HIGHLY OF "THE PRINCE CHAP" WHICH COMES TO GENNETT.

Donnelly and Hatfield Minstrels appear at the Gennett Theatre. A Comedy Sketch, "Twenty Minutes in Vaudeville," is Especially Good at the New Phillips This Week. "The Lightning Conductor" is Coming.

"The Prince Chap." "The Prince Chap" is the only thing of the season with any genuine feeling in it. This quotation is from an article by Miss Beatrice Sturges, in the Public Opinion, Sept. 30, 1905. And that publication is known to be absolutely judicial. Furthermore, this opinion is in exact accord with the opinions of the combined press of New York City and that greater critic, the playgoer. For twelve years, Edward Peple, the clever young author of "The Prince Chap," wandered from manager to manager, like a demon of unrest, trying to dispose of some plays that he had, but he met with scorn and coldness. A friend told him to see Walter N. Lawrence, who at the present time has the theatrical big-bugs gussing and to submit himself and his works to the manager. Noting how cleverly Mr. Peple could write the manager gave him the situations, ideas and thoughts for "The Prince Chap" and commissioned him to write the play. "The Prince Chap" was accepted at once and began its long run of 150 nights at the Madison Square and Joe Weber theatres. The same approbation given it in New York is sure to be duplicated in Pittsburgh. Cyril Scott and the New York company appear at the Gennett theatre Wednesday, March 14th for one night. It is a sweet and simple story with almost no love-making in it and yet with so tender and true a sentiment that the furtive tear visits the eye of the most hardened play-goer. And he need not be ashamed of it either.

The Minstrels.

Theatrical managers throughout the country are complaining of the scarcity of vaudeville headliners. It is very difficult to secure good attractions in this line of entertainment. The big hippodromes throughout the country have created a demand for this class of amusement, and managers have been forced to draw upon the resources of Europe for their specialties.

Varro, Wentworth & Varro, acrobatic trick performers, have been engaged by this company. They perform all manner of acrobatic gyrations, the act being done in pantomime, without words, swiftly, noiselessly. The performance is an artistic one being elaborately staged, and touched over with sufficient comedy to relieve the more serious situations. Indeed there is considerable comedy in this act, the makeup of each performer being that of a clown.

This organization has secured several strong specialties for its olio. In addition to others, the Tuscano Brothers, Roman axe manipulators, have been signed for the season and will make their first appearance with the Donnelly & Hatfield Magnificent Minstrels at the Gennett theatre Tuesday night, March 13th.

Vaudeville at the New Phillips.

It would appear from the size of the crowd that poured out of the New Phillips yesterday afternoon, that matinee patronage on vaudeville is growing and they are not all women and children who attend often. Many men, and well known and prominent men men, who cannot well attend at night, take opportunity to witness the afternoon performances. The bill that was inaugurated yesterday afternoon and last night is quite pleasing and no lover of vaudeville will regret taking the time and spending the little money that is necessary to see it. One of the especially bright spots is the work of Sanford and Darlington, who have a comedy novelty under the title of "Twenty Minutes in Vaudeville." Sanford is a real fun maker and the two show much versatility in the variety of their turns. Dancing Downs makes good his title as a most clever clog dancer and he is especially good in demonstrating the dance peculiar to certain nationalities. Camille and Fona, dislocators and equilibrists, have been substituted on the bill for the Dedwater trio, novelty club jugglers. They with Augusta Bell, vocalist, the philoscope and illustrated songs, complete the bill. Cal Lankert has two splendid songs this week and the motion pictures are of the best. "A Leadville Holdup" is a film that shows one of the most exciting episodes of western life ever depicted at the New Phillips. Last night's crowd was the usual liberal one for the opening night.

"The Lightning Conductor," which will be presented here shortly is a brilliant and highly amusing comedy of a farcical nature, dealing entirely with an auto tour through France. The principal roles are delineated by Herbert Kelcey, Lord Winston, masquerading as a chauffeur, and Effie Shannon, an American heiress, touring France in a motor car, who so attracts the Englishman by her beauty that in order to enjoy her society and protect her against unscrupulous persons, he presents himself as a professional chauffeur and is engaged in that capacity by the heiress. The love story that develops is full of amusing incidents that lead to lovers' quarrels and misunderstandings galore as amusing to the audience as distressing to the lover lorn pair.

"Whisky Made From Rags." "This whisky," said the chemist, "was made from rags. It was made from a bundle of old shirts and collars. Will you sample it?" "No, thank you." "I made the whisky as an experiment," the chemist explained. "Everybody knows that it is possible to convert linen rags into sugar and alcohol, but I doubt if any one has ever actually done the trick before." "First I immersed the linen in strong sulphuric acid. This dissolved the cellulose, which, assimilating one molecule of water, resolves itself into glucose. I recovered the glucose by neutralizing the excess of acid with salt. Then, by means of the ordinary process of fermentation, alcohol appeared. The final result was this small flask of whisky. I assure you I have tasted worse."—New York Press.

The Dardanelles. Turkey has on the Dardanelles (ancient Hellespont) probably the most formidable fortification in the world, no other works even approximating them in strength except those at Gibraltar. This narrow channel unites the sea of Marmora with the Grecian archipelago. It is about forty miles in length and varies in width from less than one mile to four miles. No matter what else in Turkey may decay, these works always are kept up to date, with guns of the latest pattern and largest caliber. There is frequent talk of "forcing the Dardanelles" to attack Constantinople, but more than one recognized authority has expressed doubt if the combined navies of the world could succeed in getting a single ship through, so formidable are the batteries.

A Monument For Johns Hopkins. Baltimore, which received in the Johns Hopkins university and the Johns Hopkins hospital and in other forms $10,000,000 from its famous philanthropist, is to erect a memorial in his honor. The institutions named are his greatest memorial, but the city, with characteristic southern generosity, feels that it must itself do something to show its appreciation of one whose citizenship and services so greatly benefited. The form the memorial will take has not yet been decided and probably will not be until the entire sum needed for the purpose is raised.

Too Much Like Pleasure. "A friend of mine," said Senator Penrose, "has in his home in Wilkes-Barre a Scotch nurse girl, who has been brought up according to the most austere religious principles. One Sunday the lady of the house induced the girl to attend services in a beautiful church, just completed, and asked her on her return whether the church was not a fine one." "Yes, ma'am," assented the girl; "it is very beautiful." "And the singing," said the lady, "wasn't that lovely?" "Oh, yes," replied the nurse; "it was very lovely, ma'am, but didn't you think it an awful way to spend the Sabbath?"—Bismarck Daily Business Journal.

You Must Sleep.

If you cannot, it is due to an irritated or congested state of the brain, which will soon develop into nervous prostration. Nature demands sleep, and it is as important as food; it is a part of her building and sustaining process. This period of unconsciousness relaxes the mental and physical strain, and allows nature to restore exhausted vitality.

Dr. Miles' Nerve Brings refreshing sleep, because it soothes the irritation and removes the congestion.

It is also a nerve builder; it nourishes and strengthens every nerve in your body, and creates energy in all the organs. Nothing will give strength and vitality so surely and quickly as Dr. Miles' Nerve.

"I was not able to sleep for some time and had terrible pains in my head. After taking a few doses of Nerve the pain was not so severe, and I slept. I am now taking the second bottle, and am very much improved."—MRS. M. E. SMITH, Chesham, N. Y. Dr. Miles' Nerve is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails, he will refund your money. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

MODES OF THE MOMENT.

The plaid or checked skirt surmounted by a coat matching the darker color of the check are still to be worn.

Soutache braid, whether in the wash or other grades, will be more used this spring and summer than any other.

Checked and plaid velvets as well as the lighter weight shepherds' plaids will be much used for informal costumes and also for traveling.

In sleeves the coat variety with a rather full top is the smartest for long coats, and in the Etons the three-quarter and elbow lengths will again lead.

Broader brims seem to be a feature of the very early spring hats, and to women whose features are at all inclined to the severe type this should be a welcome communication.

Woolen lace and embroideries in exquisite colorings are among the prettiest reasonable trappings. Many of the model gowns are embroidered by hand in this material, and the idea is now becoming more general.—New York Times.

BREVITIES

THE HALL OF FAME.

James K. Polk, a great-great-grandson of President Polk, is one of the champion whist team of Washington. Sergeant Frank Warner of Battery A, in the Missouri national guard, is said to be almost an exact double of President Roosevelt.

The new naval aid to the president, Lieutenant Commander Albert L. Key, is more than six feet tall, broad in proportion and straight as an arrow.

Three senior wranglers in mathematics are in the British court of appeal—Fletcher Moulton, just elevated to the bench; Lord Justice Romer and Lord Justice Sterling.

Ralph D. Cole, the new congressman from the Eighth Ohio district, is the youngest member in the delegation. He is the thirteenth child of a family of seventeen children.

General Booth has no money and relies on a small legacy left him a few years ago. He draws no money from the Salvation Army and wears one suit of clothes a whole year.

Professor John H. Gray of Northwestern university has accepted an appointment under the National Civic federation to study conditions in the large cities of this country as respects different quasi-public undertakings.

Congressman Longworth's grandfather was an art connoisseur of international reputation. He founded and endowed the Cincinnati Art gallery, setting aside for its use $500,000 in ground rents. He had the most complete collection of Meissen pictures in the world.

M. Fallieres, the new president of France, is noted for his devotion to a simple country life. Whenever opportunity offers he returns to his birthplace, the home of his ancestors through hundreds of years. He still owns the house at Mezin in which he was born.

James B. McLaughlin is the only member of the District of Columbia bar who practices two professions almost daily. His law practice is highly lucrative, but he is an ordained Methodist Episcopal minister besides, and he regularly preaches to several local congregations.

Congressman Odell of Brooklyn, now serving his last term, mailed 40,000 letters to his constituents asking for suggestions. In a week he had received 1,400 replies, most of them urging him to stand by the president as regards handling measures proposed. He is much pleased with the result of his campaign.

Starving to Death.

Because her stomach was so weakened by useless drugging that she could not eat, Mrs. A. M. H. Walters, of St. Clair St., Columbus, O., was literally starving to death. She writes: "My stomach was so weak from useless drugs that I could not eat, and my nerves so wrecked that I could not sleep; and not before I was given up to die was I induced to try Electric Bitters; with the wonderful result that improvement began at once, and a complete cure followed." Best health tonic on earth. 50c. Guaranteed by A. G. Luken & Co., druggist.

In the spring time you renovate your house. Why not your body? Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea drives out impurities, cleanses and enriches the blood and purifies the entire system. 50 cents. Not sold by A. G. Luken & Co.

The Breath of Life.

It's a significant fact that the strongest animal of its size, the gorilla, also has the largest lungs. Powerful lungs means powerful creatures. How to keep the breathing organs right, should be man's chief study. Like thousands of others, Mrs. Ora A. Stephens, of Port Williams, O., has learned how to do this. She writes: "Three bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery stopped my cough of two years and cured me of what my its grand old friend said long ago." Guaranteed by A. G. Luken & Co., druggist. Price 50c and $1.00. Total bottles free.
