

STOP, WOMAN!

AND CONSIDER THE ALL-
IMPORTANT FACT

That in addressing Mrs. Pinkham you are confiding your private life to a woman—a woman whose experience with women's diseases covers a great many years.

You can talk freely to a woman when it is revolting to relate your private troubles to a man—besides a man does not understand—simply because he is a man.

Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing full well that they ought to have immediate assistance, but a natural modesty impels them to shrink from exposing themselves to the questions and probably examinations of even their family physician. It is unnecessary. Without money or price you can consult a woman whose knowledge from actual experience is great.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation. Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only. A woman can freely talk of her private life to a woman; thus has been established the eternal confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken. Out of the vast volume of experience which she has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge that will help your case. She asks nothing in return except your good-will, and her advice has relieved thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.

If you are ill, don't hesitate to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, and write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for special advice. When a medicine has been successful in restoring to health so many women, you cannot well say, without trying it, "I do not believe it will help me."

AT THE THEATERS

"The Gingerbread Man." It is possible to have a rattling good entertainment spoiled by ineffective interpreters, but happily nothing of the sort has endangered "The Gingerbread Man," the fanciful fairylike tale of the Gennett on May 5th. Almyra Forrest, Helen Bertram, Harriet Burt, Nellie Lynch, Lillian Leon, Homer Lind Gus Weinburg, Ross Snow, Eddie Redway, W. H. Mack and Scott Welsh are seen in the principal characters, and a hearty chorus of 70 fill in the many stage pictures. "The Gingerbread Man" was one of the biggest hits in New York this season.

It is a real treat to hear the work of the Musical Simpsions on comedy and legitimate instruments at the Gennett this week. One of the features of their work is the imitation of an out-going train, using drums. The representation could hardly be more perfect. Mr. Simpson does not confine his efforts to rag time, but is able to play standard selections in such a way as to show that he appreciates their musical worth. Many of those who have seen the bill say without solicitation that the one act given by the DeAcos, acrobatic marksmen and posturing artists, is alone well worth the price of admission. Miss Laura Buckley, impersonator, is making a host of admirers. In many ways her work is preferable to many who have preceded her. All told, the bill is well worth seeing and should be seen by all lovers of vaudeville.

Mixed in with a great deal of pure nonsense, but really the kind of thing that a majority of vaudeville patrons like, the Buckeye Trio have some very clever stunts. They introduce acrobatic, grotesque and contortion work. Harry Arnold and Kitty Willard have received as cordial a welcome, perhaps, as any team ever appearing here in a role of the kind. Arnold is especially clever in depicting the negro character and the audience is kept in a constant roar over his antics as a seller of bug powder and when he is later so badly scared by a ghost, Eddie Horan has some dances that have never been seen at the New Phillips before, and besides he sings and talks well. There is plenty more on the bill to make it one of the most attractive nature.

REUNION OF THE ELKS

DENVER'S GREAT MEETING

Many of Richmond Members of the Fraternity will Attend—Some of the Striking Features that will be Arranged for the Visitors.

Prof. J. H. Thompson, of the Richmond high school, will be the delegate from Richmond Lodge of Elks who will attend the National gathering of the order at Denver in July.

At least a dozen other members of the fraternity here also will make the trip and an effort has been underway to get a party of twenty-five or more.

A traveling man from the East who was at the Westcott hotel yesterday in speaking of the Denver meeting said:

"Colorado Elks intend to have the most unique entertainment at the great Elks' reunion to be held in Denver next July that has ever been given on the American continent. I have just come from Denver, and preparations are being made to give a monster parade which will have many unique features. There will be a delegation of Elks from Honolulu, the most distant lodge in the world from the scene of the reunion. There will be several tribes of Indians marching in the parade, and it has been arranged to bring down from the mountains along the new Moffat Road several carloads of snow which will be hauled in floats in the line of march under the July sun. The snow is found sixty miles from Denver, at an altitude of 11,600 feet, beside the railway track. The Elks of Colorado have raised the sum of $100,000 to spend in the entertainment of the visiting Elks, and the city will be magnificently decorated and open-handed hospitality will prevail. The city council has agreed to revoke the license of anyone overcharging an Elk while he is in the city, and the residents of Colorado seem to be desirous that every Elk in the country come there and have a good time. The meeting begins July 15th, and will probably be the most memorable fraternal gathering ever held on this continent."

TWO COLORED COMPOSERS

Oscar R. Wilkins and Edwin C. Smith Have Launched Into the Song Writing Business.

"A Spider's Sweetheart" is the title of a march-time song and chorus that has just been published and which is the product of two young colored men of Richmond. Oscar R. Wilkins, porter at Ben Bulla's barber shop wrote the words and Edwin C. Smith a brakeman on the G. B. & I. composed the music. The song is tuneful and the young composers are hopeful that it will prove popular.

GIRLS HAVE NOVEL WAY OF BOOMING ATHLETICS

[Palladium Special.] South Bend, Ind., May 1.—The young women of the South Bend high school are taking unusual interest in the athletic team this year, and are so desirous of seeing the local team victor in the various contests in which it will participate, that they have banded themselves together to boycott any youth who does not conform to training rules. After due deliberation they have decided that, in order to preserve freshness and vitality that will conduce to physical superiority, it is essential that the young gallants retire at earlier hours. Nine o'clock has been set as the limit for callers and any youth who prolongs his stay beyond that hour in meeting his social obligations will be placed on the blacklist. This, with the disruption in the upper classes over the dancing question at commencement, has created an extraordinary interest in high school circles.
