JOT GOAR QUILTS BASEBALL

Once Famous Pitcher Has Retired
From the Game—His Arm is Now Dead.

Hartford City, Ind., July 6. (Spl.)—Jot Goar, the once famous ball pitcher who played with the Indianapolis American Association and the Cincinnati National League teams, has quit the game and will devote all his attention to his business at New Lisbon where he owns a general merchandise store.

Goar signed the first of the season with the Connorsville team to play first-base and alternate with other pitchers on the staff. His arm, however, is dead and he has not been able to pitch a game this season, and for this reason he has been released by the Connorsville management, who did not feel that it could afford to pay him a high salary for officiating at the initial sack.

Of the three justices who passed upon the drama, Justice McAvoy dissents from the opinion of the other justices, and declares that Arnold Daly, the star, and Samuel Gumpert, the manager, who produced the play and were arrested for so doing, should be held.

J. L. KILGORE DIES ABROAD

SOUGHT HEALTH IN EUROPE

Was One of the Best Known Men in Eastern Indiana—Recently Retired
From Active Business at Anderson.

Anderson, Ind., July 6. (Spl.)—A cablegram from ex-Gov. Durbin, at Aulsebrook, Belgium, today announced to J. H. T. Thurne the death of his partner, James L. Kilgore, the well-known capitalist of this city.

Ex-Gov. and Mrs. Durbin and Mr. and Mrs. Kilgore reached Aulsebrook last week. Mr. Kilgore intending to remain abroad for three months in search of health. He suffered a relapse while on the sea and could go no farther. His only daughter, Mrs. Maud Norton, with her husband, Martin C. Norton, were called to his bedside, and they sailed from New York last Friday night. It is thought that Mr. Kilgore died of catarrh of the stomach.

Mr. Kilgore was 59 years old and a native of Kentucky. He came to this city twenty-five years ago, and with J. J. Ralya, of Cleveland, O., built and operated stove factories.

He was part owner of the Grand Opera house and of the Grand Hotel, this city, and was also interested in the Anderson Foundry and Machine works, the Westernfield Motor company of this city. He was regarded as one of the wealthiest men in the city.

BIG SMOKESTACK FELL

Two Men Who Were Working Inside
the Chimney Were Fatally Injured—Rebound in Air.

[Publishers' Press]
Cincinnati, O., July 6.—Joseph Ayers and Oscar Underwood, sheet iron workers, fell 100 feet with and inside of a great somestack at the Front street pumping station and were fatally injured.

Both men sustained fractured skulls and were otherwise horribly mutilated. The accident was terribly dramatic.

The men were on the inside of a four foot stack and slipped down as the stack fell over, being shot out the end of the immense tube as it struck the ground. It struck the ground with such force as to rebound high in the air. The two men died soon after being removed to a hospital.

Turkish Raiders Repulsed.

Constantinople, July 6.—A Turkish attempt to seize territory on the Persian frontier was checkmated by the governor of Pushkar, who repulsed the invading force of 300 Turkish regulars and 700 mounted Arab regulars, with considerable loss to the raiders. The council of ministers here instructed the Turkish commander Zekki pasha to withdraw his troops from their most advanced positions and to avoid further causes for a rupture with Persia.

HER PREDICAMENT

AN UNUSUAL ONE

Mrs. Maude Petty of Muncie
A Woman Without a Residence.

RULINGS OF TWO COURTS

COLORADO JUDGE SAYS SHE BE-LONGS TO INDIANA AND INDI-ANA COURT DECLARES SHE IS RESIDENT OF COLORADO.

Muncie, Indiana, July 6. (Spl.)—"Mrs. Maude Petty is in a bad fix," according to a statement made by W. T. Rogers, the attorney for her husband, Walter E. Petty, in a dispatch received from Denver, where the husband has a divorce suit pending. Attorney Rogers says, "The Colorado court has adjudged her a resident of Indiana and the Indiana court has declared her a resident of Colorado. She can not get recognition as a resident of either state. She has lost her rights in her husband's property in Indiana and the Colorado courts have no jurisdiction over property in other states. She is left penniless and her legal rights are exhausted so that we expect to get a divorce for Mr. Petty when the case comes on for trial in Denver next October."

According to the rulings of the courts, if the statements of the Denver attorney are correct, Mrs. Petty, who is now living with her mother, Mrs. Milner, near New Castle, stands but little show in getting a divorce from her husband and any share of the $10,000 alimony for which she is asking.

The divorce cases of the Pettys have attracted considerable attention, both from the prominence of the parties and from the large amount of alimony that the wife is demanding.

Petty is a former Muncie polo magnate who went to Denver several months ago for the benefit of his health. While there he applied for a divorce but when the case was called for trial, the jury disagreed. Her suit was filed at New Castle but was venued to Greenfield, where a few days ago Judge Felts decided that she was not entitled to a decree. In the meantime Petty had been given a second trial at Denver and awarded a divorce on the grounds that his wife had decided to not contest the case. Her Denver attorney had the decree set aside on the grounds that she would have appeared for trial if she had been notified.

The third trial of Petty's case in the Denver court will be held next Octo-
