

LEAGUE ADOPTS TEN NEW RULES

Managers of the City League
Baseball Teams Take Important Action.

TROUBLES ARE ADJUSTED

GAMES WITH EAST HAVEN HAVE BEEN TAKEN OUT OF SCHED-ULE—PLAYERS OUTSIDE OF CITY NOW BARRED.

At a meeting of the managers of the City League baseball teams at the Palladium office last night the troubles in the league were all adjusted and the league is now on a firmer basis than it has been at any time since its organization. New rules were adopted governing the league, the game last Saturday between the Pan Handles and the Palladiums was forfeited by the Palladium manager, and all the games which have been played at East Haven were thrown out of the league standing.

Now that the East Haven games have been taken out of the standing, the clubs are as follows:

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Starr Pianos	8	2	.800
Pan Handles	6	4	.600
Pogue-Millers	5	5	.500
Kibbys	4	6	.400
Palladiums	2	7	.222

The rules adopted go in effect at once and are as follows:

1. Each team must furnish the president before the next game played a list of 15 players, to be known as claim lists, and no team will be allowed to play men not on its list. In case this rule is violated the president is given authority to award game to opposing team, upon protest being filed.
2. Claim lists may be changed three days before any game on sending written notice to the president, who will inform other managers of such change. In no case will claims for any player be recognized when such player is claimed by any other team in the league, unless a written release is secured. In such case a player so released cannot again be claimed by team releasing him during present season.
3. No club will be permitted to have on its claim list any player who has made baseball playing a business, who has played on any regular salaried team or who has ever made a living at playing the game.
4. No club will be permitted to play men who are not bona fide residents of the city of Richmond.
5. No regularly scheduled game can be postponed without the consent of the opposing team, and in case any team fails to appear for a regularly scheduled game such game shall be forfeited to the team which is on hand.
6. All games must be umpired by an official employed by the league and no game so umpired can be protested because of the umpire's decision, unless it can be shown that said umpire had some interest in favoring one certain club.
7. All games must be played on the public play grounds, unless agreed to otherwise by all managers directly interested.
8. No club shall directly or indirectly pay its players.
9. The president of the league shall interpret and apply all rules.
10. No manager shall be permitted to import a player and secure him employment in the city with the object in view of using said player on his team.

Minor Was Intoxicated.

The police are investigating the case of Harry Partridge, 17 years old, who was found intoxicated on North 12th street Tuesday night. Partridge received the lowest fine, $1 and costs yesterday when arraigned in the city court and now the officers are endeavoring to fix the responsibility for the young man's condition.

NAVAL DISCIPLINE.
Punishments That Are Meted Out to British Sailors.
For infraction of regulations some curious punishments are meted out in the English navy. It is an everyday occurrence, says London Tit-Bits, to see half a dozen sailors lined up deck facing the paint work, holding their hammocks on their shoulders. At first the hammock isn't heavy, but after an hour or so it drags on one's shoulders like lead. Besides, it is not at all entertaining to stare fixedly at a square foot of painted woodwork for an hour or more at a time.

Another punishment that Jack despises is balling with a spoon. He is placed upon the deck, with two large wooden buckets, one filled with water and the other empty. With a spoon he must dip all the water from one bucket and transfer it to the other, being, meanwhile, the butt of his comrades' jests and jeers.

Sometimes a delinquent is made to walk slowly backward and forward along the deck, nursing in his arms a six inch projectile, weighing a little over 100 pounds. Once a sailor, who laughed at the stammering speech of his commander, was made to stand upon the forebridge, in full view of the ship's crew, and laugh for an hour and a half.

Spitting upon the deck of a man-of-war is strictly prohibited. Cuspidors are placed at intervals along the deck, and these must be used. Upon some ships, when a sailor is caught spitting upon the deck, a small tub is strapped to his chest, and he is made to wear it. Any one who chooses may use this walking receptacle. The offender thus punished rarely repeats his offense.

PERT PARAGRAPHS.
Although the scientists have not found the mosquito that gives spring fever, the ordinary loafer has been more successful.
There are three classes of people, financially speaking—those who earn money, those who burn money, and a third class which lies between and touches the two preceding.
Everybody loves a winner except the loser.
We often do things just to show how much better than others we can do them.
Persistent use of the hammer is not recommended for developing the biceps.
Some people never deteriorate; they can't.
Every coquette tries to do her best—young man.
Sympathy that has relation to the stomach is very comforting.
No Reason For Keeping It.
"I have a nice block of mining stock for sale."
"Of course it is for sale. It wouldn't be mining stock if it wasn't."

SMILE UP.
The sun is shining out of doors. The winds blow bush and tree. The singer in the other soars. The busy little bee is winging home without a fear Of being counted late. The roses nod with smiles of cheer Nor dread their coming fate. So take your cue from nature now; She gives it over and over And tries to tell you why and how—Don't worry any more.

Speedy Cure.
"I understand he has appendicitis."
"That is what the doctor thought yesterday, but he has changed his mind."
"Made a more careful diagnosis?"
"No; discovered he didn't have money enough to pay for an operation."

Name Queered Him.
"What does he call his horse?"
"Ready Money."
"No wonder he isn't in sight when the winners came under the wire."

Journey Ahead.
"He must be going to Canada."
"Huh! mentioned it to me."
"I heard him say he would see a man in Halifax."

Chance For Trouble.
We hope that the members of the douma who are trying to legislate happiness and a few strips of breakfast bacon to a people who have long yearned for joy and three square meals will be as moderate as they can under the circumstances toward each other when a disagreement arises, for the complications possible are terrible to contemplate.

Suppose, for instance, one member were to arise in the heat of debate, open his whiskers and say something that he could not prove, it would be up to the leader on the other side to make him eat his words, and a meal of Russian words is about as unpalatable a thing as could well be imagined.

The human ostrich in the sidshow may eat glass square bowls, nails and even a choice cut from a buzz saw, but the stoutest stomach might well revolt if given a few ordinary Russian words selected at random from the dictionary and told to eat them.

A Practical Man.
"Will I need my umbrella?"
"Sure, it is raining cats and dogs outside."
"Wouldn't it be better to take a sausage machine?"

The Backbone of a Mighty Nation

is good food—food for brain, food for brawn, food that is strengthening, that gives energy and courage. Without a proper appreciation of this great fundamental truth no nation can rise to greatness.

As an article of food, soda crackers are being used more and more every day, as is attested by the sale of nearly 400,000,000 packages of Uneeda Biscuit, which have come to be recognized as the most perfect soda cracker the world has ever known.

And so Uneeda Biscuit will soon be on every table at every meal, giving life, health and strength to the American people, thus in very truth becoming the backbone of the nation.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

TWO NEGROES WERE SHOT

It Is Claimed that They Were Assaulted for Being Strike Breakers—Riddled with Bullets.

[Publishers' Press]
Sturgis, Aug. 1.—Two negro coal miners, en route here from Providence, were held up on the road near Rock Springs and riddled with bullets by two men with Winchester. One of the miners was able to make his way to town though dangerously wounded. The other was brought here in a dying condition.

Harvey Springer and Bob Hall, active members of the miners' union, were arrested by a United States marshal shortly after the deed was committed, and taken to the Morganfield jail.

A farmer, who was an eye-witness, says the two men were in a buggy, that they had guns and stopped the negroes on the road, inquiring if they were going to Sturgis to work for the West Kentucky Coal company. The negroes gave an evasive reply, whereupon both men shot at them. One negro fell instantly, the other ran and was disabled at the third shot. Considerable excitement prevails.

Mining Stocks Assessable.
Butte, Mont., Aug. 1.—Resident stockholders of mining stocks are subject to taxation on that stock is the opinion of Attorney General Albert J. Galen, in response to a query from W. D. Clark, chairman of the board of county commissioners of Silver Bow county. According to the commissioners about $10,000,000 worth of Amalgamated, United Copper and other mining stocks held by residents of Butte are escaping taxation, and it was the desire of the commissioners to ascertain whether or not, under the Montana statutes, stock of a foreign corporation whose property is located in the state can be assessed. The decision is of great importance.

The Climber.
"With you to share my lot," he vowed, "I'll climb to dizzy heights." Alack! His climbing has not made her proud, For he is but a steeplejack.

Conflicting Influences.
Green—Has Jaggsby's wife any influence over him?
Brown—She has when he isn't under the influence of liquor.—Detroit Tribune.

That Peck of Trouble.
All men must have their "peck of woe;" No single man's above it. But lots of married men we know Must have their hepeck of it.

Thankful.
"Let us go thankfully on our way," says a Billville brother, "and if we can't be thankful let's say nothing and saw wood."—Atlanta Constitution.

The Fortune Hunter.
"Miss Goldside, for you," he cried, "I'd give my life." But clearly He merely meant 'twas his intent To sell it very dearly.

A Natural Inquiry.
Mike—Well, Hooligan's stopped worrying about his life insurance policy.
Pat—Phat did he do ar?—Judge.

Drawbacks.
I know a quiet wayside path Down through a shady wood. To see it where it winds away It certainly looks good. Romance is woven in the leaves And hovers in the air like fire. But I'd advise you not to go. For horrid snakes are there.

I know a pleasant rural dell With blossoms in its sward; A brooklet runs along the way And murmurs o'er a ford; Through leafy branches overhead The sun can hardly pierce, But the mosquitoes that abound Are really something here.

I know a stream that runs away Through meadows low and sweet. To sit upon its bank and fish Would seem to be a treat. I tried it once upon a time, And I can tell you straight I got three minnows and a carp For all my pains and bait.

But that's the way it is in life. 'Tis pity, but 'tis true That the enchantment distance lends Dissolves on closer view, For hardly anything is right Or strictly on the square— We reach our hand to grasp a prize, And lo, it isn't there!
