SCOTS FLEECE IN SALT LAKE CITY

Sit in Poker Game and Bogus Policemen Make Raid and Take Their Money.

THEY LOST TEN THOUSAND

THIRTY FOREIGNERS REFUSE TO BE DOWNED WITHOUT AN EFFORT AND SECURE LEGAL COUNSEL TO RECOVER MONEY.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Oct. 2.—By means of a bogus police raid on a poker game, Alexander and William McWhirter, two recent arrivals from Scotland, claim to have been robbed of $10,000 in this city. En route to Los Angeles, the brothers stopped here and were inveigled into a card game by affable strangers. A raid was made by two pretended policemen, one of whom took, it is alleged, $8,000 of the $10,000 McWhirter had when he sat in the game. The other "officer" attempted to escape from the McWhirters, but they forced him to take them to the police station. The stranger conferred with the chief of police, George Sheets, and came back with $1,000, which was restored to the Scots. The latter proceeded to Los Angeles, where they secured counsel and returned to Salt Lake to prosecute a search for their money. Chief Sheets says that the man who brought the McWhirters to the station was not an officer, and that he did not look into the case at the time, because he thought that the trouble was merely a difference over some business transaction.

Lighthouses Destroyed.
New Orleans, Oct. 2.—Forty-four lights either swept into the sea and lost, or the structures so badly damaged that no lights can be shown, and four lighthouse keepers drowned during last week's hurricane, is the summary of the report made by United States Lighthouse Inspector Sears of New Orleans. These lights were located on the coast and adjacent islands between the mouth of the Mississippi river and Mobile. Mr. Sears did not investigate the lighthouse losses between Mobile and Pensacola. He has not yet made public an estimate of the money loss involved.

A Cincinnati Excursion.

The C. C. & L. railroad will run the last of their summer excursions to Cincinnati next Sunday and the fare from Richmond will be $1.00 for the round trip. As Robert Edson is playing a Strongheart at the Grand Opera House in that city it is thought that a large crowd will go from this city to see him in the Sunday afternoon matinee. The Cincinnati National League team will play Pittsburgh closing the season on the Cincinnati diamonds.

Horace Bloom Is Dead.

Probably there was no better known man in Preble county than Horace Bloom, who died at New Paris yesterday morning. At the time of his death Mr. Bloom was connected with the bank at New Paris and also owned banks at Eldorado and New Madison, Ohio. He was the man who originated the idea of Home Telephone in Preble county and was a large telephone owner at the time of his death. He is survived by a widow, one sister, Mrs. William Reid, and two brothers, Charles and Homer Bloom. The deceased was the son of the late Guy Bloom.

Prevented an Attack.

Havana, Oct. 2.—The United States cruiser Des Moines arrived at Santiago just in time to prevent insurgents from making a raid on the city. Commander Culver served notice on the rebels that if they tried to attack the city American marines would be landed. At Cienfuegos there is also danger of trouble, as is now admitted. Marines were rushed there overland to prevent an attack. Guantanamo is another danger point. There 400 rebels have been seized and provisions as reported. Efforts will be made to induce them to surrender quietly. If they will not agree to peace a force will be sent against them.

Yellow Fever in Cuba.

Havana, Oct. 2.—The sanitary situation is receiving very serious consideration at the hands of the provisional government. In addition to the five cases of yellow fever here there are several suspected cases at Cienfuegos and elsewhere in Santa Clara province. Transportation, hotel and other interests most affected by the American quarantine against Cuba are preparing to petition Governor Taft that the United States, whether the present American control be temporary or otherwise, retain permanent control of the sanitary affairs of Cuba.

Palma Quits Havana.

Havana, Oct. 2.—Ex-President Palma left the palace at 9 o'clock. He bade farewell in his apartments to many friends, including Generals Montalvo and Rodriguez, and then descended the grand staircase and, accompanied by his family, entered a closed carriage and was driven to the ferry at Regia, where he took a train for Matanzas. His departure was witnessed by a small gathering of loungers in front of the palace, but there was no demonstration.

HIS ACTS LIKE THOSE OF HANLY

Governor Harris, of Ohio, Removes an Untrustworthy State Official.

OTHER HEADS MAY FALL

STATE HOSPITAL AUTHORITIES SHOW FAVORITISM TO CERTAIN GROCERY FIRM AND LOSE JOBS FOR SO DOING.

Columbus, O., Oct. 2.—Governor Harris, who addressed letters last week to John Kaiser of Marietta, and John W. Gregg of Waverly, trustees of the Athens state hospital, asking for their resignations, has just received the resignation of Mr. Kaiser. No appointment was made to fill the vacancy. Nothing was heard from Mr. Gregg. The trustees elect the subordinate officers and Governor Harris will not discuss the question of whether Steward Carpenter and Superintendent Wilson are to retire or not, but it is presumed that they will.

The history of the trouble leading up to this reorganization of the institution is still fresh in the public mind. It was started by C. C. Higgins of a wholesale grocery firm of this city, who filed a statement with the governor several months ago, charging that only one grocery firm, an Athens concern, could sell any goods to Steward Carpenter, and alleging he was paying prices far above market quotations. The governor referred the matter to the trustees. They reported that there was "nothing to it." Mr. Higgins came back with new charges, implicating the trustees, and the governor asked F. C. Rochester, inspector of institutions, to investigate. His report was serious enough in its nature to warrant the governor in referring the situation to the state charity board, and a committee consisting of H. H. Shriver, J. N. Owen and R. C. Burton conducted an investigation at the hospital. It was upon their report that the governor based his drastic action, though it has never been made public. Governor Harris said regarding the published report that it was wholly groundless.

MOB STORMS JAIL TO GET NEGRO

Mobile in State of Frenzy over Trouble Caused by Assault on Girl.

PROMINENT CITIZEN SHOT

HE TRIED TO KEEP MOB FROM STORMING JAIL AND WAS FATALLY WOUNDED BY ONE OF THE BESIEGERS.

[Publishers' Press]

Mobile, Ala., Oct. 2.—A large and frenzied mob stormed the county jail at this place at seven o'clock tonight in search of a negro who had made a fiendish assault upon a little white girl.

A number of prominent men of Mobile took a stand in the jail yard and used all the persuasive powers known to them, in order to get the mob to desist in its efforts. They had begun to make their plea felt when suddenly a shot rang out and Special Officer Hoyle of the Mobile and Ohio railroad was mortally wounded. He had been shot by a gun in the hands of one of the besiegers. Shooting became general and A. S. Lyons, president of the general council of the city was shot in the hand.

Instead of being in mourning for her dead, caused by the recent gulf storm, Mobile is in a frenzy over the assassination. Governor Jelk is ready to call the state militia, in case the trouble continues. The governor also requested the newspapers to not run any extras, fearing that the populace of the city would arise in mass at the news of the assassination. James Robinson 18, has been identified by the girl as the assailant.

COLORED PLAYERS GOOD TO GET NEGRO

A LARGE AUDIENCE THERE

"Rufus Rastus" Put on at the Gennett

Last Night, Was one of the Best Musical Comedies Ever Seen at Local Theater.

Surrounded by mirth and music, the large audience which tested the seating capacity of the Gennett theater last night, pronounced "Rufus Rastus," one of the best musical operas that ever played at the Gennett. Ernest Hogan, the "unbleached American" comedian, held the audience at his mercy with his really mirthful comedy. If he wanted them to laugh, they laughed, if he wanted them to scream, they screamed, and if he wanted them to yell, they yelled.

The play abounds with good scenes, clever songs, and lays claim to nothing more, than being a musical extravaganza. The fun begins from the time the curtain rises till the final drop, while dragging moments and dull situations are strangers to it. The chorus, which is composed entirely of colored people, is a good one, and they more than charmed the people with the many truly clever airs which were sung. One of the best features outside of the comedy role played by Ernest Hogan, is the solo of Abbie Mitchell, who takes the part of Mandy Jones, leading soprano of the Ragtime Opera Company.

ENGLISH ETCHINGS.

The Channel Islands are the oldest appanage of the British crown. They have been British since 1066.

The first woolen cloth made in England was manufactured about 1330, though it was not dyed and dressed by the English until 1667.

Frederick Townsend, charged in a London court with maliciously wounding James Ridley, pleaded in justification that Ridley had called him a "Glasgow Irishman."

In a London police court the other day a woman, testifying to bad language used to her by another woman, stated that her next door neighbor came out to see what the trouble was, and when she heard the language she dropped dead.

Sixty per cent of the London police are on the night service, which they prefer to day service because there is less to do. One of their main duties at night is to see that doors and windows are barred and to notify the occupants of houses when they are not.

Actress' Arm as a Relic.

This is the arm of Mme. Aliceo, the celebrated actress, burned in the great Paris bazaar fire. It was amputated and presented to Dr. Baker of Worthing after the inquiry held in Paris.

So runs the notice that hangs beneath a gruesome relic in the saloon bar of the Black Bull at Whetstone, Middlesex. Charred and mummified, it is nailed to the wall within reach of any one and occupies the place of honor among such monstrosities as a two headed kitten and a double bodied dog. The name, "Mme. Aliceo," is not found in the records of the terrible disaster of May, 1897, and another story has it that the arm was removed from the body of an actress after the fire at the Opera Comique in Paris in May, 1887.—London Mail.

Brains.

All over the civilized world there is a strong demand for brains that are a little above the average in quantity for purposes of dissection. Scientists have for the most part nothing better to dissect than the brains of paupers and lunatics. These, however, leave much to be desired, and it is to the interest of the human family, that the brains of cultured and learned people should be placed at their disposal. A certain number of such brains are forthcoming. In the great majority of cases they are bequeathed by their respective owners.—New York Tribune.

JEWELRY JOTTINGS.

Charming designs in the new extremely low neck chains continue to appear.

Mary's little lamb in the form of a diamond brooch was recently seen with a gold ribbon natty adorning its neck. Many novelties are shown in jet collars, beads, bracelets and barrettes, in which a very rich effect is achieved by some close designs, employing finely cut and somewhat large shapes.

In new neck ornaments a band about half an inch wide is displayed in pink coral oblong shapes, set in gold knife edge and connected by two heavy gold chains to produce a rather close pattern.—Jewelers' Circular-Weekly.

Croquet.

Croquet stands as high in favor today as it did when Leech immortalized the game in the Punches of the sixties and seventies of the last century. Croquet is played in London and the country, at Ranelagh and at Hurlingham. Several men and women in smart society have become experts, and much high betting takes place when a match is in progress.—London M. A. P.

Economy.

"Your wife's recent illness must have been fearfully expensive?"
"Not at all. She missed eight receptions, four balls and the opera season. Think of the saving in clothes!"—New York Life.
