

Trust to Nature.

great many Americans, both men and women, are thin, pale and puny, with poor circulation, because they have ill-treated their stomachs by hasty eating of too much eating, by consuming alcoholic beverages, or by the close confinement to home, office or factory, and in consequence the stomach must be treated in a natural way before they can rectify their earlier mistakes. The muscles in many such people, in fact, in many cases, are so tired and fatigued that they work with great difficulty. As a result fatigue comes early, is extreme and lasts long. The demand for aid is ahead of the supply. The human perfect with every cell, bone, nerve and muscle should take from the blood certain materials and return to it certain others. It is necessary to prepare the stomach to work, to turn up from time to time, astringent and stimulating effect upon the stomach, liver and blood. We must go to Nature for the remedy. There were certain roots known to the Indians of this country before the advent of the whites which were used by the Indians and the settlers and which are now growing rapidly in professional favor for the cure of obstinate stomach and liver troubles. These are found to be safe and yet certain that they are stimulating and stimulating effect upon the stomach, liver and blood. These are: Golden Seal root, Queen's root, Stone root, Bloodroot, Mandrake root. Then there is Black Cherry bark, which is astringent and stimulates the native roots when extracted with glycerine as a solvent make the most reliable and efficient stomach tonic and liver invigorator, when combined in just the right proportion, as in Dr. M. D. Medical Discovery. Where there is a bankrupt vitality—such as nervous exhaustion, bad nutrition—and thin blood, the body acquires vigor and the natural result is the removal of the favorable effect of this poison remedy.

Although some physicians have been aware of the high medicinal value of the above mentioned plants, yet few have used pure glycerine as a solvent and usually the doctors' prescriptions called for the ingredients in varying amounts, with alcohol.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is a scientific preparation compounded of the glycerine extracts of the above mentioned vegetable ingredients and contains no alcohol or harmful habit-forming drugs.

CAN'T UNDERSTAND THE GREAT DELAY

Pan Handle Company is Holding West Second Street Viaduct Contracts.

CITIZENS HOLD MEETING

WEST SIDERS DECIDE TO FIND OUT WHY THE COMPANY IS POSTPONING ACTION—LOOKS LIKE AN EFFORT TO DODGE.

The members of the Fairview Civic League and the West Side Improvement Association are at loss to understand why the Pennsylvania railroad is holding the signed contracts for the construction of the West Second street viaduct which have been in their possession for the past four months.

At a meeting of the committee from these two bodies in the office of Attorney A. M. Gardner last night it was decided that the two associations should bend every energy in bringing about an early settlement of the matter. According to the members of the association and Mr. Gardner, the contracts for the work of the construction of the viaduct were signed by the old board of public works, and were then turned over to Attorney Rupe, acting for the railroad. The papers were sent to the General Superintendent of the road for his signature. The members of the two improvement leagues are of the opinion that the railroad wishes to dodge the question, and are not very anxious to have the work begun immediately.

The committee last night decided to go to the railroad's representative in this city and also to the Board of Public Works, and find out the exact cause of the delay and try and urge haste in the matter.

The men composing the committees from the two improvement leagues were West Side—Dr. Grosvenor, J. W. Mount, and A. M. Gardner.

Fairview—U. L. Spink, Wm. H. Brower, John P. Evans and Clark Walls.

Rules governing the series and the importance of preserving decorum on the field were among the matters thoroughly discussed. The advance sale of seats makes it a foregone conclusion that a record-breaking crowd will be present when play is begun in the National league park. Anticipating that thousands must be turned away from the gates, two local newspapers have leased several of the largest halls in the city where those disappointed at the park may receive by wire prompt reports of every play made. The two teams are in remarkably good condition.

UNIQUE SCHOOL IN THE SOUTH

Youngsters of Georgia to Be Educated in Factory Work at Columbus.

THOROUGH TRAINING GIVEN

CHILD LABOR LAW HAS BEEN THE CAUSE OF ESTABLISHING SCHOOL WHICH HAS OPENED RECENTLY.

Columbus, Ga., Oct. 8. (Spl)—Embarking a unique effort to provide an industrial education for some of the tens of thousands of children, who under the new anti-child labor legislation of Georgia must leave the factories on January 1, 1907, and go to school the Columbus Secondary Industrial school has just opened its doors here.

Child labor legislation and the great demand for skilled labor in the south are responsible for the founding of the Secondary Industrial school here—in the heart of one of the most important centers of cotton manufacture in the south. Children under 14 years of age will not, after Jan. 1, 1907, be permitted to work in any factory in Georgia. There will be thousands of boys and girls between ten and 14 years of age forced out of the factories and into schools. The grammar schools of the state are already overcrowded and many of the factory children will not find places. In large cotton mill centers this will work a great hardship and the real purpose of the child labor bill, passed by the Georgia legislature in June, will in nearly all the large cities of the state, be defeated for a time at least, by the lack of public school facilities.

Realizing that child labor legislation was inevitable, the manufacturers of Columbus, led by G. Gunby Jordan, president of the Eagle and Phoenix cotton mills, founded the Secondary Industrial school, a distinct departure in the field of education. Its purposes are two-fold, to offer the children of the 3,000 cotton mill operatives of Columbus an education in trades in which they have already had practical training, and to furnish the mills and factories of this city and vicinity with skilled labor.

NATURAL GAS AGAIN FOR INDIANAPOLIS

MRS. PLATT'S DOG PUTTING ON AIRS

Eastern Illinois Field Has Plenty for That City, D. C. Griffith Says.

WILL LAST YEARS TO COME

HE SAYS THAT WITH USE OF CONSUMERS' GAS MAINS IT COULD BE PUT IN USE IN NINETY DAYS.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 8. (Spl)—D. C. Griffiths of this city, is strongly of the opinion that Indianapolis, in seeking to get cheap gas, could not do better than pipe natural gas here from the new oil fields of eastern Illinois. Mr. Griffiths says there is enough gas just across the Indiana State line to supply Indianapolis for domestic consumption for years to come. He has just returned from the Illinois oil fields, where he has large holdings.

Gas is plentiful round about the towns of Robinson and Casey," he said, "and it seems to me that it would be just the thing to pipe the gas to Indianapolis, inasmuch as the mains of the Consumers' Gas Trust Company, which supplied natural gas to all Indianapolis, have not been disturbed. The gas could be brought to the edge of the city and then distributed by means of these mains.

Could Have it in 60 or 90 Days.

"The distance from Indianapolis to the fields in which oil and gas are being found so abundantly is not so great but that the piping could be done without any great delay or great expense. Indianapolis could be burning natural gas in sixty or ninety days if arrangements could be made for the gas to be distributed through the mains of the old Consumers' Company."

Mr. Griffith is positive that the gas being found in Illinois will last. The largest wells, he says, are in Crawford county, other large ones are in Clarke county. These are in the eastern tier of Illinois counties and their towns are from 110 to 120 miles from Indianapolis.

GOVERNOR SPEAKS TO LYNN FARMERS

Discusses State Affairs and the Enforcement of the Law Before Big Crowd.

MEETING HELD IN GROVE

HANLY SAYS THAT THE CONDUCT OF AFFAIRS DEPENDS ON KIND OF MEN CHOSEN AS LEGISLATORS.

Lynn, Ind., October 8. (Spl)—Governor Hanly spoke this afternoon in Albertson's grove, half a mile west of the town. Many farmers were present and there were delegations from Winchester and other towns.

Great preparations had been made for the meeting. Business houses and homes were decorated, and the former were closed. Governor Hanly was driven here from Winchester and arrived at 12:50 o'clock, when he was entertained at the city hotel by the reception committee. J. S. Blair, Daniel Hecker and W. R. Halliday.

The city schools were dismissed for the afternoon. A procession, headed by the Lynn city band, with Governor Hanly and the reception committee in a carriage, followed by the school children and others in carriages, marched to the grove, where a large crowd had gathered.

The Governor's address was in line with his utterances at Tipton, Huntington, Washington and other places. He emphasized, however, the continuance of the reforms urged by him, both in general law enforcement and in conduct of State affairs, depended on the election of a legislature that would pass laws needed to reinforce present statutes. The Governor was listened to attentively and was applauded repeatedly.

It has been learned that the acquaintance of Mrs. Platt and J. K. Hedges, is not such recent date. He was formerly employed as a driver for a local express and transfer company, and is said to have paid many a visit to the New Jersey avenue house.

The doctor's bill for attendance on the dog when ill was $1.20.

Coachman Hedges Gone.

J. Q. Hedges, the coachman, who has figured in the domestic troubles of Thomas Collier Platt, has disappeared from the country home of the senator. Whether he left Tioga Lodge at the request of Mrs. Platt or at the command of the senator is a question. Mrs. Platt is entrenched in Tioga Lodge. All about the house are dogs and men servants guard the entrances.

No one is allowed to enter. Mrs. Platt says that her marital relations do not concern the public. She refers interviewers to her counsel. It is said that the lawyers representing the senator and his wife are now trying to arrange a settlement of their difficulties.
