

THE GREAT WALSH LETS SPUDS DOWN WITHOUT A SCORE

"Cotton Top" Rohe, Who Warmed Bench Much of this Season, Again Hero for South Side Team.

DROVE IN THREE SCORES WITH A SMASH TO LEFT

After the First Inning Walsh Pitched the Greatest Game of His Life, the Cubs Being Unable to Get a Hit.

(Publishers' Press) Chicago, Oct. 11.—Wonderful pitching by Ed Walsh and a screeching three base hit smash by Rohe proved the undoing of the Cubs today and gave the White Sox the third game of the series for the world's championship. Score 3 to 0.

Walsh pitched the greatest game of his life and after the first inning held the Cubs hitless. Two hits were gathered off him in the first inning but they did no damage.

Walsh's speed was terrific and his control marvelous. His spit ball never worked better, breaking with a sharpness that kept the Cubs sawing the air. Twelve of the hard hitting National Leaguers tanned at the great drops that Walsh used continuously.

Rohe Again the Hero.

The Sox might never have scored however, so effective was Jack Pfeister, the Cubs Southpaw, had it not been for Rohe's great drive into the left field seats in the sixth inning. The cotton top third baseman, who did bench warming throughout the greater part of the championship season, won the game for the American Leaguers with an exact duplicate of the hit with which he clinched the first game.

Neither side had scored in the first five innings, although the Cubs had made a strong bid in the opening session. Pfeister had held the Sox to three hits, two of them the rankiest kind of scratches and the Sox rooters deplored a score off the Southpaw's delivery.

Pfeister Wild in Sixth.

He became wild at the opening of the sixth, however. Tannehill made one of his semi-occasional hits, a single past third. Pfeister made a rapid balloon ascension, immediately

START THREE SAWMILLS

LOCAL MEN'S ENTERPRISE

Alonzo Davenport and Thomas Ryan Buy Thousand Acres of Timber Land in Southern Arkansas—A Primeval Forest.

Alonzo Davenport and Thos. Ryan have returned from Southern Arkansas where they purchased one thousand acres of timber land. The land in question is close to the railroad and two gentlemen will buy enough machinery while here, to equip three saw mills and will go into the lumber business in Arkansas on a large scale.

The land which they purchased, is almost a primeval forest and there are millions of feet of lumber on the tract. It is not their intention to remain in Arkansas longer than will be necessary to clear the forest. As the land when cleared, can be used for the cultivation of rice or cotton, the move on the part of the two Richmond men will no doubt bring them in double returns.

On their return home they bought two car loads of fine cattle in St. Louis, which they will place on their farm in this county.

MRS. JEFF DAVIS NEAR TO DEATH

First Lady of the Confederacy Very Feeble After Long Illness.

ALL HOPE IS NOW GONE

HEROIC MEASURES, HOWEVER, ARE BEING TAKEN TO SAVE HER LIFE—INDISPOSITION DUE TO A SEVERE COLD.

(Publishers' Press)

New York, Oct. 11.—The life of Mrs. Varina Jefferson Davis, the aged widow of the late president of the Confederacy, hangs by a thread tonight and in her apartments at the Hotel Majestic, two physicians are in constant attendance, aided by trained nurses, while the members of Mrs. Davis' immediate family are nearby waiting for the summons that they all fear must inevitably come.

Mrs. Davis was very ill last winter, but she displayed unusual vitality and finally recovered enough to be about again, although still very feeble. About a fortnight ago, when she contracted a severe cold which compelled her to take to her bed. Her indisposition was not looked upon as serious until the latter part of last week, when the attending physician summoned her daughter, Mrs. L. A. Hayes, of Colorado Springs, to her mother's bedside, as a matter purely of precaution.

Hope Passed Wednesday.

Until yesterday it was hoped that Mrs. Davis would recover, although her great age—she was born May 7, 1826—naturally complicated her condition. The physicians in attendance today, however, announced that there was but slight hope for her recovery and that is still her condition tonight. There has been no change since this morning, and the aged woman who is so well loved in the South is in a semi-conscious condition. Heroic measures are being adopted to keep her alive and while all hope has not yet been given up, what there is is very slight.

THINK BOYS SET FIRE TO STABLE

Were Refused Walnuts and Threatened to Get Even With Mrs. John Lamb.

RACE OF FIRE WAGONS

HOSE WAGON NO. 1 BEATS NO. 2 BECAUSE THE LATTER HAD TO STOP TO TAKE DOWN AN OBSTRUCTION.

The burning barn in the rear of John Lamb's home at 164 Ridge street called two hose wagons and the Hook and Ladder truck to the scene yesterday afternoon. The damage is estimated at about $150. The property is owned by John Lawler.

Mrs. Lamb who was ironing in the kitchen, in looking out of the window noticed a blaze in the barn and ran to the street yelling "Fire". Several men who were near by took up the call and an alarm was sent in from two boxes. Mrs. Lamb thinks that some boys of the neighborhood set the stable afire as they had asked for some walnuts which were refused them. One of them, it is stated, said to Mrs. Lamb: "You'd better look out, you people are getting too big-gish."

An exciting race was had between the chemical wagon of No. 2's and the hose wagon of No. 1's. The two met at the foot of the North Fifth street hill and as they turned into Sheridan a tight run was made for leadership. As the two wagons were turning under the viaduct of the Pan Handle a collision was avoided only by the expert horsemanship of both drivers. No. 1 arrived on the scene first, owing to No. 2 having to stop to take down barrels on a closed street.

FIRST FROSTS AND SNOW

AN INTERESTING RECORD

Walter Vossler, Voluntary Observer at Water Works Station Gives Statistical Information Concerning a Period of Ten Years.

The statement in yesterday's Palladium that the first snow this season preceded the first frost for the first time in many years, was disputed by some Palladium readers and for this reason the official record of Walter Vossler, weather observer at the Water Works pumping station were sought. Mr. Vossler in addition to keeping the records of temperature daily also records every peculiar phase of the weather. When asked whether he could tell the dates of the first frosts and first snows for a period of ten years back, he replied that such would be easy and forthwith he produced the following which will prove of interest to all persons who delight in weather statistics:

Year.	First Frost.	First Snow
1897—Sept. 21	Nov. 11
1898—Oct. 14	Oct. 26
1899—Sept. 26	Nov. 3
1900—Oct. 10	Nov. 8
1901—Sept. 18	Nov. 14

RICHMOND ELKS PLAN BIG FAIR

The Week of November 19th Settled Upon as the Date for Event.

THE COLISEUM ENGAGED

WITHIN ANOTHER WEEK THE LODGE MEMBERS WILL BE HUSTLING—NOVEL ATTRACTIONS ARE BEING ARRANGED.

THE ELKS BIG WEEK.

Place of Fair—The Richmond Coliseum. The Dates—The entire week of November 19. Attractions—So numerous and varied that they cannot be told in limited space.

Richmond Lodge of Elks last night held one of the most important and interesting meetings in its history. John F. Thompson, the lodge's representative to the recent session of the Grand Lodge which was held at Denver, submitted a detailed report of the convention, which was a most comprehensive and interesting recital and it was one which was of utmost importance to the membership. Changes of more or less magnitude have been made both in constitution and in ritual and these were explained at length.

Elks Plan Fair.

Following the meeting, a committee which was named two weeks ago by Exalted Ruler Braffett to consider the matter of an Elks' entertainment the coming winter, held a session and unanimously voted to give an indoor fair, something in the nature of the one conducted three years ago, but as planned to be more elaborate in every detail. The Coliseum has already been engaged and the dates are November 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, and 24—the entire week of November 19. The committee in charge will within the next week outline the plans in a general way, committees will be appointed and at the meeting to be held next Thursday night the lodge will place its shoulders to the wheel and start things moving. The Elks fair three years ago was the talk of the city. It was a great success and as usual the Elks displayed their appreciation in a substantial manner.

A Birth of Interest.

An issue of the Benton Harbor, (Mich.) News-Palladium of recent date has the following item:

"An eight pound boy was born today to Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Baker, Maiden Lane, this city." Both Mr. and Mrs. Baker are well known in the musical circles of this city having assisted in the production of "The First Lieutenant" which was staged last spring by a company composed largely of the town's amateurs.

"BE CHARITABLE, YET ECONOMICAL" --CHARLES POTTER

Wayne Township's Trustee Tells Other Trustees of County of His Experience in Handling the Poor.

"WOULD BE SOCIETY FOLK" TRIED TO WORK TOWNSHIP

Those Who Have in Charge the Care of County's Unfortunates are Urged to Investigate Cases Carefully.

The county's poor, and how to cut down the expense in providing for them was the subject which occupied most of the time, at the meeting of the township trustees yesterday. Charles Potter, trustee of Wayne Township read a paper on "The Management of the Poor." In it Mr. Potter showed that the expense connected with providing for the poor in Wayne county in 1905 had been cut down $1,779.34 over the preceding year. Mr. Potter thought that this indicated good work on the part of the trustees. He said that he felt the worthy poor had been fully as well cared for in 1905 as in 1904. The reduction in expenditures he said had been due to the better investigation of appeals for help. A large number of worthless persons try to gain their means of support from the trustees, but according to Mr. Potter this class is being largely eliminated.

Figures presented by Mr. Potter showed that one out of every thirty one persons in the county had appealed to the county for help of some kind during the year 1905. The speaker said that in his experience as trustee he had been approached for help by persons who owned their own property and were amply able to take care of themselves. These persons, Mr. Potter characterized as "would be society folks." In closing Mr. Potter urged the trustees to investigate all cases and never turn down a worthy applicant, who had met with misfortune.

In addition to this paper, County Superintendent Jordan read his report on the attendance of teachers at the institute held in connection with the Chautauque. All townships were represented at the meeting with the exception of Abington, Dalton and Webster.

A REQUEST OF GOVERNOR

MADE BY INDIANA D. A. R.

Guthrie, of the John Paul chapter, was reelected after one year's service, as state regent. Mrs. W. W. Gaar Vice-Regent of the Richmond chapter attended the sessions.

The day was marked by several resolutions which were passed by the body, the most important of which was the request made of Gov. Hanly to ask the citizens of the state to observe June 14 as flag day. Mrs. Charles W. Fairbanks, honorary president-general U. S. D. A. R. urged all members to be present at every state gathering, and suggested that the week of October 11 be made the permanent date for state meetings. This was put into the form of a motion and passed.

The next meeting will be held at Bloomington, Ind.
