

LOUCK AND HILL GIVEN CONTRACT

Local Firm is to Construct Eight Buildings for the Hoosier Drill.

THEIR BID WAS $108,000.

WORK IS TO BEGIN AT ONCE AND
TO BE COMPLETED BY JULY 1—
LATEST CONSTRUCTION TO BE USED.

Lo Luck & Hill have been awarded the contract of the addition to the American Seeding Machine Company's present plant, having entered a bid of $108,000. The work is to be completed by July 1, 1907. One million five hundred thousand bricks and over two hundred and fifty thousand feet of lumber will be used in the construction of the eight buildings, which will form the annex of the plant.

Two of the buildings which are to be three stories high with concrete foundations will cost $40,000 and will have the distinction of being the only ones of that kind in this section of the country. These structures which will be the machine and paint shop, and the assembling and storage shop, will be as near fire proof as modern architects know how to make them. The roofs will be of steel structural work, topped by slate and the floors will be built from 2x6 planks spaced on edge, and spiked together, on top of which will be laid an asbestos fire-proof paper which will be covered by a flooring of white maple making a thickness in all of seven inches. This floor is designated as "Mill Construction." Work on the construction will begin at once as no time can be lost if the plant is to be completed by the first of July. Some apprehension was felt recently that owing to the great demand for steel structural work in the rebuilding of San Francisco, some difficulty would be had in getting that material but the contractors have been assured that shipments of his material will be on hand by the 15th of January.

The American Seeding Company is very well satisfied that a Richmond firm was awarded the contract, and it is stated that it was their wish that such should be the case. It makes a good showing for the industries of this city in that bids were entered by the largest contracting firms in Columbus, Cincinnati, Dayton and Cleveland who figured close as the job is a large one.

LOCAL PLAYERS GOING TO OHIO

Polo League in Buckeye State to Use Youngsters From This City.

LITTLE PROSPECTS HERE

FRED ELMORE WILL CAPTAIN
HAMILTON TEAM AND WIL-LIAMS WILL PLAY WITH HIM
THERE—NILES GETS TWO.

The next few days will witness an exit of local polo players who are migrating to Ohio to join teams which will form what will probably be known as the "Inter-state Polo League" and will likely be composed of the following cities: Hamilton, Cincinnati, Akron, Niles and Columbus. Fred Elmore has gone to Hamilton where he will captain the team of that place. Earl Crabb will go to Cincinnati, "Sox" Quigley and Thompson will go to Niles and "Link" Williams will join the Hamilton team under Elmore. Several of the old time polo stars who made the game speedy in this section are being sought for and propositions being made them. Houghton, Cunningham, Jean, Higgins and Hart seem to be the favorites with the Ohio managers and have received offers which are under consideration.

The local outlook for polo is not good and the chances are that the game will not be revived in this city unless by amateurs. There has been some talk of a city league which will probably be backed by local merchants. The Coliseum will open for the regular patronage of skaters Thanksgiving eve and will observe the same nights as last season.

COMPLICATED SITUATION

DEMOCRAT LEADER IN BROOK-LYN URGES FOLLOWING TO CUT HEARST-HUGHES CALLS
OPPONENT, LOVER OF TRUSTS.

[Publishers' Press]
New York, Oct. 16.—With their candidate for governor, W. R. Hearst absent on a speaking tour up state, and incidentally with most of their leaders glad that he was not there, Tammany Hall tonight ratified the action of the Democratic state convention in its usual way with red fire, bands of music and much speech-making. The candidate for lieutenant governor, Louis Stuyvesant Chanler, was the chief speaker and was fairly well received but it was for its own particular and much loved son, Representative "Bully" Sulzer, who was turned down by order of "Boss" Murphy at the Buffalo convention, that Tammany did itself proud. It cheered him for minutes at a time and when he tried to speak the crowd cheered again and again. The Tammany ratification meeting blocked traffic on 14th street in the vicinity of Tammany Hall for several hours and speeches lauding Democracy and paying faint tribute to Hearst and his fellow candidates were made by Bourke Cockran, Thomas F. Grady, Congressman Goldstein, Goldfogel, Sulzer and Harrison and others.

McCarren Hard After Hearst.
At about the same time Patrick Henry McCarren, recently referred to by Hearst as a discredited political boss, was compelling his Kings county democratic committee to adopt resolutions ratifying the action of the Buffalo convention, but at the same time impressing on every member there that he expected them to "do their duty" election day and cut Hearst in every way.

Meanwhile Hughes, the republican and Hearst the democratic candidate for governor continue their speech-making tours of the state. Hughes made a half dozen speeches in New York City tonight in all of which he referred to Hearst as a "lover of corporations" citing as proof his Star Publishing Company which controls all of his newspapers.

BODIES FOUND UNDER SEVERAL WAGON LOADS OF SAND—OLD-EST OF CHILDREN BUT SEVEN YEARS.

[Publishers' Press]
Canton, O., Oct. 16.—Three children were buried alive by the caving-in of a sand bank here this afternoon. After being buried approximately three hours under several wagon loads of sand the bodies were found. The victims were Casper Ertel, aged 7 years and Ethel Sylvia Ertel, aged two years, children of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Ertel of Prospect avenue, and Dorothy Rice aged three and one half years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall E. Rice of Prospect avenue. The three children were playing together in the Ertel yard at about 3 o'clock in the afternoon when last seen. It is supposed that they wandered away and started to play in the sand at a bank probably two blocks away. Within a half hour Mrs. Ertel called them but received no answer. Their failure to appear within fifteen minutes, made the parents anxious and a search was instituted by the anxious parents and sympathizing neighbors. It was not noticed that a 15 foot sandbank had caved in and not finding any trace of the missing children in the vicinity it was supposed that they had been caught in the falling sand. After digging through four feet of sand, the three badly bruised bodies were found.

EXPECTED RATE WAR HAS BEGUN

Ohio Central and Hocking Valley Railway Has Reduced
Fare to 2 Cents.

BLOW AT THE PANHANDLE

OTHER SMALL ROADS ARE EX-PECTED TO FALL IN LINE—
CENTRAL PASSENGER ASSOCI-ATION MEETS AT CHICAGO.

The expected rate war between the small roads and the big systems represented in the Central Passenger Association is on. It was precipitated Monday by the announcement that effective November 1, the Ohio Central and Hocking Valley railways will reduce their rates between Columbus and Chicago to a basis of 2 cents a mile. The C. H. & D. and the Pere Marquette are expected to fall in line and make similar announcements.

The action of the small roads is due to the decision of the Pennsylvania and New York Central to issue mileage books good for holder at the flat rate of $20. When this decision was first reached, the smaller roads in the association threatened to establish a flat 2-cent rate, inasmuch as, they declared, the little fellows would not have a chance of competing with the larger roads if the individual mileage book were adopted.

The threat of the small roads did not worry the large ones at the time it was made, but that the big systems are now alive to the rate war situation is demonstrated by the fact that a meeting of the Central Passenger Association was called for today in Chicago, immediately after the announcement of the Ohio Central and Hocking Valley was made. At this meeting an attempt will be made to induce the belligerent roads to retract their announcements. Should this attempt fail, it would no be surprising if a general 2-cent rate were ordered.

Convention Postponed.
The County convention of the W. C. T. U. which was to have been held this week has been postponed until November. The meeting will be held at Economy.
