

The Best Guaranty of Merit Is Open Publicity.

Every bottle of Dr. Pierce's world-famed medicine leaving the great laboratory at Buffalo, N. Y., has printed upon its wrapper all the ingredients entering into its composition. This fact alone places Dr. Pierce's Family Medicine in a class all by themselves. They cannot be classed with patent or secret medicines because they are neither. This is why so many unprejudiced physicians prescribe them and recommend them to their patients. They know what they are composed of, and that the ingredients are those endorsed by the most eminent medical authorities.

The further fact that neither Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the great stomach tonic, liver invigorator, heart regulator and blood purifier, nor his "Favorite Prescription" for weak, overworked, broken-down, nervous women, contains any alcohol, also entitles them to a place all by themselves. Many years ago Dr. Pierce discovered that chemically pure glycerine, of proper strength, is a better solvent and preservative of the medicinal principles residing in our indigenous and foreign medicinal plants than is alcohol; and, furthermore, that it possesses valuable medicinal properties of its own, being demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic, and a most efficient antiferment.

Neither of the above medicines contains alcohol, or any harmful, habit-forming drug, as will be seen from a glance at the formula printed on each bottle's wrapper. They are safe to use and potent to cure.

Not only do physicians prescribe the above, non-secret medicines largely, but the most intelligent people employ them—people who would not think of using the ordinary patent or secret medicines. Every ingredient entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's medicines has the strongest kind of an endorsement from leading medical writers of the several schools of practice. No other medicines put up for like purposes have any such professional endorsement.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. One "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. Druggists take care, and nothing is "just as good." Easy to take as candy.

Hands Over the Records.

St. Louis, Oct. 25.—In the United States circuit court Judge Finkelberg decided that Robert M. Frazer, chairman of the eastbound freight committee, must produce before Special Commissioner Rombauer the records of the committee wanted by the government in its ouster suit proceedings against the Terminal Railway association. In issuing the order on Frazer to turn over his rate book, Judge Finkelberg commented on the fact that the terminal suit is a matter of vital interest throughout the United States. Frazer was recently constructively placed under arrest for refusing to produce his records at the hearing. After the court's decision Frazer handed over his records.

Missing Girl Returns.

Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 25.—Miss Fannie Fennell, who mysteriously disappeared from her home, and who it was believed by the police, was kidnapped, reappeared at her mother's home dressed in men's clothing. She does not remember anything that has taken place. She says she recovered consciousness a short time ago and found herself alone in a strange room from which she fled. She cannot locate the house and does not know how she managed to find her mother's home.

Waters Turned Back.

Imperial, Cal., Oct. 25.—Waters were turned back into the old channel leading to the Gulf of California, the first water of the Colorado river that has flowed there for two years. Six years ago that portion of the Colorado desert known as Imperial valley was colonized and water was brought in from the Colorado river for irrigation. Two years ago the Colorado river broke through its banks and flowed into the Salton sink, compelling the Southern Pacific to remove its tracks several times. The company then undertook to turn the water into its old channel and have at last, after many discouragements, succeeded, at a cost of a million dollars.

Health and Beauty

Beauty is the external proof of health; with failing health comes failing beauty. Woman's delicate organism is frequently over-taxed by arduous household duties and the demands of society. The constant drain upon her vitality weakens her nervous system. The penalty is a tired, worn-out, exhausted condition which destroys her appetite, robs her of rest, and at intervals causes much suffering and distress. When these conditions exist, the weakened nerves must be strengthened. Dr. Miles' Nervine will do this. It stimulates the action of all the organs, brings refreshing sleep, and drives away that look of care.

"I have taken Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine for years. It did my mother before me. When I feel tired, worn-out, or have headache, I always take the Nervine and it strengthens me. I consider it a great remedy for nervousness or debility."

MRS. C. L. FREDERICK, Canton, Ohio.

Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit you. If it fails, he will refund your money.

DIGNAM COMPANY HAS INCORPORATED

New Magazine Has Been Capitalized at $50,000 and is on Firm Basis.

DOING LARGE BUSINESS

CIRCULATION HAS REACHED 250,000 WHICH FAIRLY SWAMPS RICHMOND POSTOFFICE EACH MONTH.

Articles of incorporation were filed yesterday in the County Recorder's office for the Dignam Magazine Publishing Company. The company is capitalized at $50,000 with J. B. Dignam, Robt. W. Stimson and Fred McManis as the incorporators. The capital stock is divided into five hundred shares with a par value of $100 per share.

The filing of incorporation papers by the new company calls to the attention of the Richmond public that there is another thriving concern in the city. Beginning its existence in May 1904 in the Fremont Building at the corner of Eighth and Main streets in a very moderate way, the magazine company has steadily grown until today its monthly mail swamps the local postoffice, and could all the rolled magazines be placed in one pile they would fill more than two railroad cars. The magazine requires a car load of white paper each month for the printing, alone.

When J. B. Dignam dropped into Richmond and the word went out that he was to start a magazine to circulate in Indiana, Ohio and Illinois some wise ones laughed and said it would never go. There were too many publications in the field already, was their argument. Today Dignam's magazine has a circulation of 250,000. It has successfully outgrown printing establishments at Greenfield, Richmond and Dayton and is now being printed at Indianapolis. When the business demands it a plant will be installed here, adapted to magazine work exclusively.

Dignam's Magazine is one that appeals to women, particularly and ninety per cent of its readers are of the gentle sex. It will pay local people to keep the proverbial eye on Dignam's publication from now on for it is carrying the name of the city all over the Middle West and exerting much influence.

Mrs. Florence Vogel of Indianapolis is visiting Mrs. Frank Land of North 12th street for a few days.

Miss Essie Coalter formerly of West Manchester is visiting her sister, Miss Eunice Coalter this week of this place. They are spending today with Mrs. Joseph Moss of Campbelltown. O. Saturday Miss Essie will return to her home in West Manchester where she is occupied in the Tobacco factory. Friday they will visit Mr. and Mrs. Harry Maule.

THE HALL OF FAME.

Signor Caruso, the famous tenor, is a gifted black and white artist.

The Austrian emperor has more titles than any other monarch. He is a king nine times over and a duke eighteen times.

A. E. Eccles of Chorley, England, has distributed 40,000,000 publications relating to temperance, hygiene, politics and religion.

Mr. Carnegie sang in the choir of his church when he was a boy in Scotland. He made it a rule never to be away from the choir practice. Some time ago Mr. Carnegie presented the church with an organ in memory of his boyhood.

John Morley of England is so considerate of everybody and everything that it has been said of him that if he kept a score of horses he would probably refuse to use them because he feels so keenly for the brute creation that he will only consent to be driven on the level.

Louis Micaud of Paris has published a collection of all the caricatures promoted by leading periodicals and newspapers in Europe and America pertaining to King Edward. It is similar to the work compiled by the same author a couple of years ago concerning Emperor William.

R. T. Lowery has the distinction of being the only peripatetic editor. He is the publisher of Lowery's Claim, formerly issued from Nelson, B. C., but as the Canadian postoffice has excluded his paper from the mails he has taken to the road and is issuing his paper from wherever he happens to be.

George Hughes, the only son of Thomas Hughes, famous as the author of "Tom Brown at Oxford," is the owner of a large ranch in Kansas, where he does a large cattle raising business. He is said to greatly resemble his father in features, but not in stature, being comparatively small, whereas his father was very large.

Sigananda, the rebel Zulu chief who has been court martialled and sentenced, is 107 years old. His captive sons are verging on ninety, and many of his grandchildren have passed the allotted span. But the quality of mercy is not strained even when warring with semi-barbarians, and the treasonable old chief will probably live to die a natural death.

Girl Treads on Deadly Mine Which May Belong to Train Wreckers.

SHE IS DYING IN PAIN

OFFICERS PREVENT MOB AT AETNA, INDIANA, FROM KILLING MEN, WHO THEY THINK THREATENED WRECK TRAIN.

[Publishers' Press] Aetna, Ind., Oct. 25.—Explosion of a magazine of secret explosives in a boarding house at Aetna fatally injuring a young woman who unknowingly trod on the deadly mine today, blowing up the building, endangering many lives and jeopardizing the big powder plant here, will probably bring to justice the men who threatened to dynamite the Lake Shore Limited last night unless $6,000 was thrown to them from the train.

Lena Beahlers, a housemaid, who innocently set off the explosive, lies in a hospital, dying. One of her limbs was torn off by the blast; the other was ordered amputated when she was dragged from the ruins.

Two men who occupied the boarding house room which Miss Beahlers was clearing up when she stepped on the explosives, Carl Packard and Fred Gernerung are under arrest at Crown Point. Officers saved them from the fury of a mob that sought to lynch them after the explosion.

The prisoners will now have to explain what they know concerning the plot to wreck the train and why a veritable magazine of high explosives was concealed in their room.

JUDGE SUSTAINS MAYOR WEAVER IN HIS STAND

[Publishers' Press] Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 25.—In a scathing arraignment of Rev. Thos. Dixon's sensational methods Judge Sulzberger this afternoon refused to enjoin Mayor Weaver from interfering with the production of "The Clansman" at the Walnut street theatre. Dixon is the author of the play.

The court was of the opinion that beyond a doubt the book and play had been written while the author was laboring under a sense of smarting wrong and in a heated passion.

ORDERS TO UNDERTAKER AND THEN SUICIDES

Chicago, Oct. 25.—August Moeckel, a wealthy hardware merchant, gave orders for his funeral today, sat down on a couch in the office of the undertaker to whom he had just handed his letter of instructions and shot himself through the head, dying instantly.

A New Heel.

The India rubber heel has taken a further development. The latest novelty in this direction is a thick piece of India rubber between the upper and lower layers of leather on the heel, so that the actual heel does not come in contact with the ground, but makes a cushion between the foot and the leather heel, says Home Chat. This invention is said to do away with the insecurity on slippery ground, which is one of the principal drawbacks to the ordinary rubber heel.

EVERY REASON FOR BEING CHRISTIAN

Dr. Elliott Shows How Rich-Richmond Residents Are Especially Blessed.

SPOKE AT FIRST M. E.

SPIRIT OF PRAYER AND POWER TO GOD ARE ESSENTIAL TO CHRISTIANITY THE SPEAKER POINTED OUT.

Again Evangelist John Elliott was gracefully complimented by a large attendance on his address at the First M. E. church last night and responded with the best of his ability in the address made on the text "Prophecies of Ezekiel, 47-9: And everything shall live whither the river cometh."

In opening he marveled at the wonderful progress made by the church workers of this city, and complimented the earnestness of the pastors of the several churches in the universal work. Remarking on the beauty of the city, its many natural assets of comeliness, its many handsome churches and buildings and the reserved and moral atmosphere of the place he stated that all of these should be inclusive to high ambitions in all paths of life and especially in that of church work.

Taking up his text he observed: "Success in church work does not lie in waiting years to take it up, but to begin it at once. There are two things that are essential to the work—the spirit of prayer and the other is akin to it, in that it is the power of prayer to God. It seems sad somehow that with the power of Heaven at our immediate disposal we allow it to go to waste. Not that it isn't here at hand, for it is ever close to us. The spirit is here and occupies us as large a place in our individual hearts as we will permit. Alas, that oftentimes in our individual life we let that opportunity of having God within us pass unheeded."

Lay hold of this power within the church if possible, but it doesn't make any difference how you get hold of it as long as you do get hold of it. If your power is crude use what you have of it, you need it, we all need it. Richmond, with her beautiful churches is indeed a pleasant place but do not get to thinking that because you were born in Richmond you don't need to be born again."

The singing of Mr. Rykert, who was assisted in the mass singing by the First M. E. choir, was especially pleasing. The meeting this evening will be held at the South Eighth Street Friend's church.

FRUIT AND FLOWERS AS TO CINERARIAS.

How to Grow These Popular Plants For Winter Blooms.

There are very few plants easier of culture than cinerarias and again there are just as few things we know of that become so utterly worthless if their simple requirements are not attended to.

The seed of cinerarias may be sown any time after the first week in August. It should be sown in shallow, well drained pans in soil composed of loam, leaf mold and sand in about equal proportions. The surface should be made perfectly level and even. Then the seed may be sown somewhat thinly, covering it with fine sand and water with a fine hose. After the seed is sown place the seed pans in a frame with the sash sloped to the north.

When the seedlings are large enough to handle they should be potted into the smallest pots with soil composed of rotted turf chopped up and leaf mold.

CINERARIA HYBRIDA.

In equal parts, with the addition of a liberal sprinkling of clear sand. The second shift should be given whenever the roots are well through the soil in their first pots. The soil for the second and still more so for the following shifts should have, in addition to the loam and leaf mold, a reasonable proportion of rotted cow manure and it may help to lessen the quantity of leaf mold when shifting for the last time prior to flowering.

Remove plants into the greenhouse by the middle of October, where the temperature should not exceed 55 degrees.

When the plants begin to show flower they will be greatly benefited if they are given liquid manure regularly. This stimulant is likely to be harmful, however, if it is too strong or if given when the plants are dust dry (a condition that should not exist). Weak cow manure is as good as, if not better than, anything else and immediately after watering with it give the plants some pure water. In handling cinerarias look for good foliage in order to secure good flowers.—Gardening.

For Fine Chrysanthemums.

The thinking of buds should go on from day to day. The value of the crop depends on thinning. One good flower is worth ten poor ones. The plants have now branched out into leaders and laterals. The leaders, of which there may be from three to five, will form what is termed the crown bud, one bud on each stem. The plant will branch again, forming leaders known as terminals, with buds known as terminal buds, or the termination of the plant's growth. As a rule the crown buds form the best flowers, but if they form too early let the terminals grow and take out the crown bud. Nip out all buds except those in the center of the cluster. Keep crown plants staked and tied up to induce shapeliness. Give all plants plenty of water and liquid manure twice a week.—L. A. C.

Care of Pansy Seedlings.

Some of the finest pansies appear in September after the heat of summer has passed. If plants are wanted for bloom in winter or early spring the seeds should be sown outdoors after the summer heat is over. Water them well and shade them by means of boards or slats. As soon as the seedlings appear above ground remove the boards so that the plantlets may have light and air. If these plants are to bloom in spring, pinch out all flower buds that appear in winter and cover them lightly with hay or evergreen boughs. Too heavy coverings smother and choke pansy plants. A fresh lot of plants should be grown every year.—Exchange.

Peach Trees For Planting.

In the matter of setting out peach trees the first essential is the tree. I want the largest tree of its age I can get. In the matter of trimming, our whole theory is to have a low headed tree, headed down rather than in. I do not want close heading, but a free circulation of air and plenty of sunshine. We have never used small trees. It always seemed to me that a good big tree, with a good root system, is capable of growing into a bigger tree.—Joseph Barton, New Jersey.

Handling the Apple Crop.

More farmers and orchardists are now equipped with storage facilities than ever before, yet the greatest care must be exercised in picking, sorting, packing and storing, to say nothing of the necessity of closely studying market conditions. Many in the heavy apple producing sections of New York, Michigan and the southwest are planning to evaporate apples in a large way, marketing in that form, yet care must be here exercised that this is not overdone.—American Agriculturist.

From there they will go to Niagara Falls where they will spend a few weeks, and will then go to Sharon, Pa., where they will make their future home.
