

The Best Guaranty of Merit Is Open Publicity.

Every bottle of Dr. Pierce's world-famous medicine leaving the great laboratory at Buffalo, N. Y., has printed upon its wrapper all the ingredients entering into its composition. This fact alone places Dr. Pierce's Family Medicine in a class all by themselves. They cannot be classed with patent or secret medicines because they are neither. This is why so many unprejudiced physicians prescribe them and recommend them to their patients. They know what they are composed of, and that the ingredients are those endorsed by the most eminent medical authorities.

The further fact that neither Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the great stomach tonic, liver invigorator, heart regulator and blood purifier, nor his "Favorite Prescription" for weak, overworked, broken-down, nervous women contains any alcohol, also entitles them to a place all by themselves.

Many years ago, Dr. Pierce discovered that chemically pure glycerine, of superior strength, is a better solvent and preservative of the medicinal principles residing in our indigenous, or native, medicinal plants than is alcohol; and, furthermore, that it possesses valuable medicinal properties of its own, being emollient, nutritive, antiseptic, and a most efficient antiferment.

Neither of the above medicines contains alcohol, or any harmful, habit-forming drug, as will be seen from a glance at the formula printed on each bottle wrapper. They are safe to use and potent to cure.

Not only do physicians prescribe the above, non-secret medicines largely, but the most intelligent people employ them—people who would not think of using the ordinary patent, or secret medicines. Every ingredient entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's medicines has the strongest kind of an endorsement from leading medical writers of the several schools of practice. No other medicines put up for like purposes has any such professional endorsement.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. One "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two is a cathartic. Druggists sell them, and nothing is "just as good." Easy to take as candy.

Men Arrested in Boarding House Where Bomb Exploded Admit Plot to Wreck Train.

[Publishers' Press] Crown Point, Indiana, Oct. 26.—Carl Packard and Fred Gerseung, the two men in whose room a housemaid accidentally exploded a charge of dynamite at Aetna yesterday, fatally injuring herself, blowing up the boarding house and endangering the neighboring Aetna powder plant, admitted tonight that they were members of a gang which plotted to blow up a Lake Shore train unless the railroad officials gave them $6,000. The men deny, however, that they participated in the attempt which was actually made Wednesday night. The prisoners are being sweated for the names of their accomplices.

THINKS CO-EDUCATION IS RESPONSIBLE.

EUGENE F. SCHMITZ, SAN FRANCISCO'S LABOR MAYOR.

Mayor Schmitz has expressed as believing the discrimination between Japanese and American students, in his city is due to the mixed system of education.

CO-EDUCATION THE CAUSE

Mayor Schmitz of San Francisco Gives His Opinion on Recent Japanese Trouble.

[Publishers' Press] London, Oct. 27.—In an interview Friday evening Mayor Schmitz, of San Francisco, stated that the system of co-education, which is general in California was responsible for the present controversy between the United States and Japan. "It stands to reason," he said, "that in a city like San Francisco, the most cosmopolitan in the world, it is imprudent, not to say immoral, to educate a foreigner side by side with Americans."

BLANCHING CELERY.

Boards Preferred to Soil—A Plan That Works Well.

It is better to blanch celery with boards than to bank with dirt, as dirt may cause it to rust. When hoeing celery be careful not to get any soil between the stems of the plants. When celery is about twelve inches high blanching boards are set up so that the two rows that are twelve inches apart are between the boards, thus boarding the two rows together and saving one-half the boards that are generally used when it is boarded in single rows.

The boards, which are from sixteen to eighteen inches wide, are kept well apart by driving stakes on either side, also by placing notched boards over the top, as shown in Fig. 1, until the plants have grown a few inches above them, when the boards are crowded together, thus making a dark place for the celery to blanch in.

The principle of blanching is growing in the dark. The boards must be kept well apart, for if the wet leaves of celery are not sufficiently exposed to the sun to dry them they will rot and the plant will cease to grow. It will continue to grow while leaves are exposed to sun and air. After boarding up, celery begins to blanch, and when boards are crowded close together at the top (Fig. 2) the blanching is completed in a few days. Celery will not keep long after it is blanched; therefore board up a little at a time. Some of the Golden Self Blanching can be put in the cellar without blanching for fall use.

After the celery is boarded up place a mulch of manure in the eighteen inch space and keep irrigated, if possible, until the celery is ready to use. Mulching not only retains moisture, but keeps the ground from baking, and the water running through the manure dissolves portions of it, which in the water are carried to the roots of the plants in a form that is available for food. Celery sometimes becomes stringy or has hollow stalks because of growing too slowly or lack of potash or phosphoric acid.

Winter celery is not boarded up. Cultivate until plants are six or eight inches high, then mulch between rows, and plants will not need any more care except to be irrigated during dry weather. In time to escape hard frost or freezing, the plants should be taken up with a spade fork, leaving as much dirt as possible on the roots, and packed in the cellar on the cellar bottom. Place the first row next to the wall, pressing the soil firmly over the roots, and water, being careful not to wet the

LABOR UNIONS WIN ANOTHER VICTORY

Sheridan Kirk Contract Company Found Guilty of Violating 8 Hour Law.

THE CASE WAS TEST ONE

PROSECUTION WAS STARTED BY THE UNITED STATES BUREAU OF LABOR AND COMMERCE—COMPANY CAN BE FINED.

[Publishers' Press] Cincinnati, O., Oct. 26.—Guilty on three counts and not guilty on a fourth was the verdict returned this evening by the jury in the U. S. Court in the case of the Sheridan-Kirk Contract Company, indicted for violating the eight hour labor law.

The company is building the Ohio river dam, below this city, a government job, and it was claimed by labor leaders that they worked men longer than eight hours prescribed. The company can be fined as high as $1,000 on each count.

The case was a test one, the first since President Roosevelt gave his recent order for the enforcement of the eight hour day law. The prosecution was started by the United States Bureau of Labor and Commerce, which sent special agents here to gather testimony. The result affects, of course, all government work. Organized labor here considers the verdict a great victory.

Eastern Cattle Pasturing.
The old method of confining fattening steers in stanchions or fastening by the horns, once universally practiced, is practically a thing of the past. Instead cattle are now deborned, turned loose and have free range of feeding pens containing a convenient number, and a long manger at one side serves for feeding ensilage, hay, etc., says an American Cultivator writer. The absence of horns creates a disposition as quiet and docile as that of the same number of sheep.

A Mash For Young Chickens.

If you like to see your young chicks of three weeks or more of age enjoy a meal better than ordinarily, says E. M. A young woman called at a house where a maid was wanted. She asked the mistress of the house if they had any children, to which she replied that they had five. "Then I can't work for you," said the girl. "Oh, do stay," said the woman. "We will kill the children!"
