Local Conductors and Motorman Have Noticed "Mysterious Stranger" at Eighth and Main Streets for Several Days.

"Who is the man?" "What is he doing standing there all day?" and "I wonder what he is up to?" are the questions that are being propounded by the street car men of the city, over the appearance of a certain man who has been standing at the corner of Eighth and Main streets, for the past two or three days. The man, according to the stories of the car men, is on the spot every time the cars meet at that point, and yesterday, many of the employees of the city lines, began to think that "the mysterious stranger" had been placed there for a purpose, by the street car company. Why, he had been sent to that point to spy on them they do not know, but the belief that such is his mission is gradually fastening its hold on the minds of the motormen and conductors. They say that they can see no other reason, why a man should stand on the same spot all day long for three days in succession.

WILL BRING SUIT IN ST. LOUIS COURT

Attorney General Moody To Begin Action Against Standard Oil There.

GIGANTIC LEGAL BATTLE

IT IS UNDERSTOOD THAT NO CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS WILL BE INSTITUTED AGAINST OFFICERS OF TRUST.

(Publishers' Press)

Washington, Nov. 13.—Attorney General Moody has solved a problem that has sorely perplexed him for many months. He has reached a decision to begin suit in a few days in the United States Circuit Court at St. Louis, against the Standard Oil Company.

The action will be to dissolve the trust, and will follow the lines laid down in the famous Northern Securities case.

F. B. Kellogg, of St. Paul and C. B. Morrison of Chicago, special counsel, left this afternoon for the West.

It is understood that their intention is to file the papers in a suit that may be destined to be the most gigantic legal battle ever fought in this country.

Attorney General Moody today declined to discuss the case, other than to announce that the department of justice had reached a decision in the Standard Oil case and that a statement of the government's position would be issued shortly.

It is understood further that the attorney general has decided adversely to the proposition of bringing criminal proceedings against the officers of the trust.

CUBAN INSURGENTS

AS HORSE THIEVES

Rightful Owners of Animals Lose and Generals Wink at Crime of War.

STOLEN HORSES ARE KEPT

PLAN TO RESTORE THEIR MOUNTS TO OWNERS FRUSTRATED BY TROOPS OF ONE PROVINCE.

(Publishers' Press)

Washington, Nov. 13.—Some of the Cuban generals who have been assisting the United States officials in the effort to disarm and send to their homes the insurgents in the late revolutionary movement, appear to have dignified and legalized the crime of horse stealing in a most ingenious manner, according to reports that reach the war department.

When the rebel soldiers surrendered their arms, they were told they might keep their horses until they could reach their homes. These horses were stolen mostly and the individual soldier was told that he must return the horse to its owner if the latter could show that the animal was registered according to the Cuban law. Each soldier was given a certificate describing the horse and the conditions under which it might be returned to the real owner.

Two facts made this reclamation well nigh impossible in most cases. In the first place, only a small proportion of the horses in Cuba were registered, so that no matter how thoroughly a farmer could identify his own horse in the possession of one of these rebels he could not obtain possession of the animal for lack of the registration certificate. In the second place the disbanded rebels, before returning to their homes, took care to exchange horses, so that an animal stolen in Santiago would not be returned to that province, but would go to Pinar Del Rio.

This state of affairs was made worse, according to the report, by the action of some Cuban generals actually issuing certificates in blank to disbanded soldiers, so that it was possible for them to continue indefinitely to steal horses, all that was necessary for them to do being to pick out a likely horse, make sure it was not registered, fill in the blank certificate with the description of the animal and defy the owner to reclaim it.

It is only fair to state that insurgent generals deny indignantly that they gave away any of these blank certificates, but the fact is stated in the report that such certificates actually have been found in the hands of disbanded soldiers.

Killings at Bluefield.

Bluefield, W. Va., Nov. 13.—Tom Miller, a workman at the Mason and Munday camp, shot two companions during a dispute over a game of cards at Oakvale. After the shooting he escaped. The men who were killed are Abraham Arters and William Beals, both employed at the camp. Constable Burosult, at the United States Coal and Coke company, shot and killed three of the company's negroes. The officer to protect himself was compelled to shoot them. The shooting was the result of a drunken brawl which the officer tried to stop. Burosult will not be arrested.

Afraid to Testify.

Columbus, O., Nov. 13.—The police are greatly hampered in their efforts to break up the Columbus Mafia, owing to the fact that hard-working Italians imprisoned, beaten and robbed by Black Hand society members recently, have left the city under threat of being killed if they remained and testified against those members in custody. Dominico Jordan and his wife, said to be leaders of the local branch of the society, were released from prison and ordered to leave the city, which, it is said, they did at once.

Train Robbery in Nevada.

Reno Nev., Nov. 13.—Armed bandits held up the Overland Limited, west-bound, at Carlin and escaped with the suit cases of passengers and the money sack of Conductor Conn. The railroad men at Sparks state that the robbers secured about $1,000 in all. A posse was formed and a pitched battle took place at the edge of the town, 100 shots being fired. No one is known to have been injured. Southern Pacific detectives and deputy sheriffs are on the trail of the robbers.

Cause of Collapse.

Long Beach, Cal., Nov. 13.—The coroner's jury investigating the cause of the collapse of the Hotel Bixby, which resulted in the death of 10 men and the injury of a score of others, returned a verdict finding that the accident was caused by the premature removal of supports of the fifth floor and proceeding with the construction of the roof before the supporting cement had time to harden sufficiently. The jury decided that no individual was criminally responsible.

California's Prunes.

San Francisco, Nov. 13.—The prune growers of California will receive $2,550,000 more for their crop of 1906 than they obtained for the crop of 1905. This is the estimate of the leading dealers in the local market. The total estimated amount due to the prune growers for this year's crop is $4,050,000, representing 130,000,000 pounds of prunes. In 1905 the total prune production of California was 60,000,000 pounds.

SEC'Y. SHAW DETERMINED

Declares that Government Will Not Go to Aid of New York Money Market, Which Is in No Better Condition Than Saturday.

(Publishers' Press)

New York, Nov. 13.—Secretary Shaw of the treasury department was at the sub-treasury Tuesday. It was understood in Wall street that the purpose of his visit to the financial district was to consider the money situation with a view of determining whether government aid may be necessary.

Secretary Shaw said he discovered no material change in the financial situation since Saturday when he said he would not take measures for relief for the money market under conditions then prevailing. He said he still adheres to that determination. His chief business in New York, he said, had to do with matters concerning the custom house.

WITTE'S RETURN QUIET

A Lone Baron and Several Reporters Were All that Formed Reception Party.

(Publishers' Press)

St. Petersburg, Nov. 13.—The return of Count Witte created scarcely a ripple on the surface of Russian politics. In contrast with his reception after his return from Portsmouth, when a throng gathered at the railroad station to greet him, and the street in front of his house was blocked by the carriages of high personages coming to pay their respects to the man of the hour, the count was met at the depot by only Baron Alde and a few reporters, and he received very few callers. The arrivals were closely scrutinized by agents of the secret police on account of the reported threats of assassination. Count Witte denied himself to reporters.

New Chief of Strategy Board.

Washington, Nov. 13.—Rear Admiral Willard H. Brownson, who has just taken command of the United States naval forces in the East, will be recalled to take what is regarded as the most important post in the navy, chief of the bureau of navigation, to succeed Rear Admiral Converse when the latter retires from that office, which will occur about the time Secretary Bonaparte becomes attorney general.

J. R. Zimmerman Pleads Guilty to Wrecking Bank at Wooster, O.

HE WAS GIVEN TWO YEARS.

(Publishers' Press)

Cleveland, O., Nov. 13.—J. R. Zimmerman pleaded guilty to the charge of conspiring to wreck a national bank and was sentenced to serve two years in the penitentiary and to pay a fine of $10,000.

Zimmerman was the chairman of the board of directors of the Wooster (O.) National bank, which failed about two years ago.

When the Wooster bank collapsed its two principal officials, J. R. Zimmerman and L. P. Ohliger disappeared. They were apprehended in British Columbia.

Ohliger pleaded guilty and was sentenced to seven years in the Ohio penitentiary. He was brought here to testify against Zimmerman when the latter's trial opened in federal court. Zimmerman, however, changed his mind at the last moment, and entered the plea of guilty. Zimmerman will be taken at once to the penitentiary to begin his sentence.

Ohliger was formerly a member of congress, representing the Seventeenth Ohio district, and formerly postmaster at Wooster. He was president of the bank.

Cure For The Blues

ONE MEDICINE THAT HAS NEVER FAILED Health Fully Restored and the Joy of Life Regained.

When a cheerful, brave, light-hearted woman is suddenly plunged into that perfection of misery, the BLUES, it is a sad picture. It is usually this way: She has been feeling "out of sorts."

For some time; head has ached and back also; has slept poorly, been quite nervous, and nearly fainted once or twice; head dizzy, and heart beats very fast; then that bearing-down feeling, and during her periods she is exceedingly despondent. Nothing pleases her. Her doctor says: "Cheer up; you have dyspepsia; you will be all right soon."

But she doesn't get "all right," and hope vanishes; then come the brooding, morbid, melancholy, everlasting BLUES. Don't wait until your sufferings have driven you to despair, with your nerves all shattered and your courage gone, but take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. See what it did for Mrs. Rosa Adams, of 819 12th Street, Louisville, Ky., niece of the late General Roger Hanson, C.S.A. She writes: "I cannot tell you with pen and ink what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I suffered with female troubles, extreme lassitude, 'the blues,' nervousness and that all-gone feeling. I was advised to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it not only cured my female derangement, but it has restored me to perfect health and strength. The buoyancy of my younger days has returned, and I do not suffer any longer with despondency, as I did before. I consider Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a boon to sick and suffering women."

If you have some derangement of the female organism write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice.
