AMERICAN WOMEN FIND RELIEF

The Case of Miss Irene Crosby Is One of Thousands of Cures made by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

How many women realize that it is not the pain of nature that women should suffer so severely.

Thousands of American women, however, have found relief from all monthly suffering by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it is the most thorough female regulator known to medical science. It cures the condition which causes so much discomfort and robs these periods of their terrors.

Miss Irene Crosby, of 313 Charlton Street, East Savannah, Ga., writes:

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a true friend to woman. It has been of great benefit to me, curing me of irregular and painful periods when everything else had failed, and I gladly recommend it to other suffering women."

Women who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, backache, bloating (or flatulence), displacement of organs, inflammation or ulceration, that "bearing-down" feeling, dizziness, faintness, indigestion, nervous prostration or the blues, should take immediate action to ward off the serious consequences, and be restored to perfect health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and then write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for further free advice. She is daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years has been advising women free of charge. Thousands have been cured by so doing.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it. It is heart disease. It is heart failure or apoplexy or the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell. Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, high sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

THE MONKEY HOUSE WOMAN IS FOUND

Mysterious Mrs. "Hannah Graham" Proves to Be Wife of a Ball Player.

THE ACCUSER OF CARUSO

MRS. STANHOPE IS CORRECT NAME OF THE WOMAN, AND CHILD SHE HAD WAS THAT OF LEONARD BRONNER, A LAWYER

[Publishers' Press.] New York, Nov. 28.—While Signor Caruso was getting ready to face the large audience this evening, the several days search for Mrs. "Hannah Graham", his accuser of the monkey house was being concluded successfully. At least, a woman who declares that she was the person whom Caruso is alleged to have insulted and who accompanied the singer and the Policeman, Cain to the police station and there made complaint against him.

The woman is Mrs. Hanna Stanhope, the wife of a ball player and claims to be the sister-in-law of Mrs. Mary Ann Graham of the address in Belgrave Avenue, the Bronx, which was given by Caruso's accuser. Mrs. Stanhope asserts that she was told by the police captain at the arsenal police station that she need not give her true name as she would not need to appear in police court as Policeman Cain's case seemed to be complete against Caruso and for this reason gave the name of Hanna Graham.

She had refrained from going to the police court because her husband's friends advised against it, and she had difficulty in restraining her husband from hunting up the singer and "punching him." This was particularly the case Mrs. Stanhope said, when Caruso testified that the woman who complained against him had flirted with him. One reason why she did not go to court was the fact that a close relative is a school teacher and she did not wish to embrace her with the publicity.

Mrs. Stanhope said that the child who was with her at the time was that of Leonard Bronner's lawyer residing in West Seventieth street in whose family Mrs. Stanhope was once a governess. Mr. Bronner said today that the woman's husband had informed him that Mrs. Stanhope was the woman in the Caruso case and the lawyer stated that it was not his child who was with her when Caruso was arrested.

Deputy Police Commissioner Mathot is seriously ill, his physicians fear that he may have pneumonia. There seems to be a decided breach between him and Commissioner Bingham which it is said may result in his resignation from the department. Mr. Mathot's willingness to discuss other offense similar to Caruso committed in Central Park in the cause of the difference.

Both Waiters Fined.

In the city police court yesterday, Thomas Jones and Fred Griffin, both colored, and both dining room waiters at the hotel Westcott, were fined $1 and costs for assault and battery, as a result of an encounter that occurred between the two on Tuesday. Griffin's fine was paid. Jones went to jail, but declared he would be able to liquidate before Sheriff Smith served turkey to the prisoners at noon today.

LOCALSWIN AT HAMILTON

PARRY MADE ONLY GOAL

Contest Was Very Exciting and All Taking Part in It Were Richmond Products—Hamilton Fans Were Delighted.

A polo team composed of Richmond players, journeyed to Hamilton, O., Tuesday night and trounced the Buckeye team, by the close score of 1 to 0. The game was remarkable in more than one respect, the main feature, however, being the fact that all the men of both teams were Richmond boys and had either played with or against each other many times before. The game was fast from the first toot of the whistle, and the polo fans of the Ohio town were delighted with that fast article of polo which the Richmond team put up and many of the fans wanted to enter into an agreement which would bring the Richmond team to their rink several times during the present season.

No score was made in the game until near the end of the second period, when Captain and Center Rush Parry tabbed a goal just before the gong sounded.

The lineup of the two teams follows: Richmond—Knollen and Horn, rushers; Parry, center; Oesting, half, Voller, goal. Hamilton—Elmore and Snyder, rushers; Crab, center; Williams, half; Reeg, goal.

When Capt. Parry, of the Richmond team, made one of his hard drives in the third period, rusher Snyder of Hamilton, happened to step in front of the missile which was speeding toward the goal and he is now suffering with an extremely black optic.

Mrs. Ira Kinnamen and daughter, Agnes, of Noblesville, Ind., and Miss Jennie Collins of Fortville, Ind., are the guests of their sister, Mrs. T. H. Kuhn of South 12th street. They will remain until the latter part of the week.

CONFESSES HER CRIME

IMPLICATES HER HUSBAND

Mrs. Laura Scott Tate Admits That She Stole Money From Home of G. E. Hill and Says She Gave Part of It to Husband.

Mrs. Laura Scott-Tate and Rose Ettinger, the women who were so nearly asphyxiated in the city jail on Tuesday morning as a result of the former's effort to end her own life by permitting gas to escape from a burner, have both recovered to a degree that no serious consequence are now expected. The Ettinger woman is still at Reid Memorial Hospital, but Mrs. Tate was brought into the city yesterday and was once more placed in the women's department of the city jail. She was still too ill, when questioned, to talk about the charge of larceny against her or to tell of her attempt at self-destruction, but she readily admitted when questioned by Supt. Bailey that she had stolen $21 from the home of G. E. Hill, South A street, where she was employed as a domestic. She also told the police that $4 of this stolen money she had given to her husband, Alonzo Tate and he was promptly arrested pending an investigation to determine whether he had knowledge that the money was stolen. If this is established he will be charged with receiving stolen goods. He denies any knowledge of the theft of his wife. She is certain of being sentenced to the Women's Reformatory at Indianapolis.

FREEMAN WAS ACQUITTED

The jury spent several hours in deliberating before reaching a decision. Freeman received the verdict with evident satisfaction and he personally thanked the jurors for their kindness in liberating him. Attorney Byram C. Robbins defended Freeman.

A DRAW AFTER 20 TERRIFIC ROUNDS

Jack O'Brien and Tommy Burns Battle for Heavy Weight Championship.

JIM JEFFRIES REFEREED

CLAIMED THAT O'BRIEN WAS CHEATED OUT OF DECISION BECAUSE JEFFRIES FEARED BEING ACCUSED OF PARTIALITY.

[Publishers' Press.] Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 28.—"A draw," shouted Champion Jim Jeffries, after Philadelphia Jack O'Brien and Tommy Burns, had ground out twenty of the fastest and most gruelling rounds ever witnessed by a Los Angeles audience, tonight at the Pacific Athletic club.

The fight was furious from the start owing to the fact that each of the fighters have had long standing grudges against the other and the battle was for blood. Although both of the men received a cordial response from the audience as they took their places in the ring, O'Brien seemed to be the popular favorite and was greeted with great cheers.

Many of the sporting fraternity of the city and lower state are inclined to start bubbling stories in regard to the fight, and the supporters of each man say that the decision of Jeffries was given because he had unwittingly stated before the battle that the chances favored O'Brien, and he wanted to square himself with the Burns contingent, and also make the public believe that he acted from partiality. These stories are not credited by the majority of the people, however.

Long before the hour set for the Jack O'Brien-Tommy Burns fight tonight, an immense crowd was streaming toward the pavilion where the bout took place and the doors were jammed by an immense throng struggling for admission. The crowd was good natured and orderly and much enthusiasm for both fighters was manifested. The gallery seats were nearly all occupied by 8 o'clock and a steady stream of people was rapidly filling the boxes. As the hour for the fight approached the odds on O'Brien steadily increased and many wagers of 2 to 1 and 5 to 2 on the Philadelphia man were recorded.

SKATING CRAZE ON AGAIN

THE OPENING LAST NIGHT

Great Crush of People at the Coliseum to Begin Another Winter of Amusement on Rollers—Monday Evening Skating Class.

If the polo fans of the city had any reason to believe that they would be able once more to gain the use of the Coliseum for polo during the coming winter, because of the death of the roller skating craze, they were disappointed last night when they journeyed to the Coliseum and there saw more than four hundred skaters whirling around the floor.

It was the opening of the season and the spectators to the scene could not help but be amused at the broad grins that were worn by the Coliseum managers during the entire evening. One of them stated last night that if the turnout represented the feelings of the people of the city toward the sport, the Richmond public would be simply crazy over the fact before the winter had elapsed.

It is very probable that the Monday evening club will again be organized this year.

$905 RAISED YESTERDAY

Y. M. C. A. Fund Is Now Within Less Than $100 of the Twelve Thousand Dollar Mark.

The sum of $905 was reported to Secretary Brown of the local Y. M. C. A. movement yesterday bringing the total fund for the building up to $11,995. On account of Thanksgiving it is thought the fund raised this week will not be quite as large as the first week. However, up to the present time the solicitors have averaged more than $1,000 to the day which is considered remarkably good when it is considered that but small contributors are being seen.

LOW RATES BRING TRADE SO SAYS AGENT ELMER

Since Two and One-Half Cent Per Mile Fare Went into Effect Traffic at Local Station Has Almost Tripled.

Ticket Agent C. W. Elmer, of the Pennsylvania railroad, in this city stated last night that the local traffic on the Pennsylvania had increased over three times what it was before November 1st, the date when the new 2 1/2-cent rate went into effect. He stated that the majority of the traffic was that which had been held by the Interurban companies running out of Richmond, before the rate was reduced.

It is very probable that the Interurban companies entering Richmond, and which have done the greater part of the local passenger traffic business in the past, will issue a new rate on their lines, which will be correspondingly lower than the old rates on the railroads.

The matter was considered at the meeting of the Interurban officials in Dayton last week, but no definite action was taken.

DUSUNS OF BORNEO.

A LITTLE KNOWN TRIBE AND ITS STRANGE SUPERSTITIONS.

The Worship of the "Gusi"—Revenge Between Tribes—The Orang Bajaus and Their Pearl Diving Customs—A Dusun House.

Not far from the island of Sulu, the southernmost limit of Uncle Sam's oriental possessions, lies the island of Borneo, and in the far interior of this island is a race called the Dusuns, which is quite distinct from the Mohammedan tribes of other parts of the island and which has many customs of exceptional interest. Hitherto very little has been known about this curious race, but it is now attracting the study of ethnologists, and there is much speculation as to its history and origin.

Opinions vary as to whether the Dusuns are the aboriginals of North Borneo or are descended from Chinese who settled on the coast at a period far remote from the present era. The race is split up into different tribes, but all have a common language. There are certain differences between the language as spoken by the various tribes, making several dialects, as it were, of the Dusun tongue. The coast natives know little of these people and their habits and customs, a fact accounted for in part by the circumstance that they look down upon them. The coast tribes are Mohammedans, and the Dusuns have virtually no religion; hence the lack of harmony between these residents of Borneo, for religious toleration is not a leading characteristic of the Mohammedan faith.

The nearest thing the Dusuns appear to have to a religion is their veneration for certain jars in the possession of the tribe called "gusi," which are objects of something akin to fetish worship. The Dusuns believe that long years ago a man was walking along a river bank when he saw rows and rows of jars. Taking up stones, he threw them and hit about twenty of the vessels. Those which were hit remained; the rest melted away before his sight. These were the beginning of the "gusi," which the Dusuns believe to have such virtues that they send for them on the occasion of marriages or funerals or when sickness or trouble of any kind visits a village. The arrival of a tallman bringing a "gusi" to a village where there is sickness is a joyful occasion.

The Dusuns live in long houses of bamboo. They occupy these houses somewhat as did the Iroquois of the United States in days gone by—several families to a house, but each with its own section or apartment. An English writer, Cyril C. Pike, describes a visit to one of these bamboo homes, which was eighty feet long. Down the length of one side was a passage from the rooms for the different families opened, and there were about a dozen of the apartments. On the opposite side of the passage was a raised platform running the entire length of the house, on which sat the people living in the structure, engaged in such occupations as spinning, weaving and making round conical hats. The Dusuns are very revengeful, and feuds between tribes are kept up for generations. Each tries to get the "last word," or head. The matter may run along for some years, and then a man belonging to a tribe which has a feud with another will get lost in the jungle while hunting or a woman will go to the river for water, never to return.

Another interesting Borneo tribe is that of the Orang Bajaus, living on the coast at the head of Labuk bay. They are pirates and pearl hunters and live partly in houses erected over the water, forming a Bornean Venice. In obtaining the pearls the Bajaus strip and dive into the sea, each carrying a basket of rattan cane. They remain under a long time and when they come up generally have their baskets filled with mud and oyster shells. The latter are piled in the boats, and the pearls are taken from them after they are carried home.

When the pearl divers reach home the shells are opened and the contents thrown into a large iron pan of water. The pearl is put on the fire and slowly heated. The contents are then placed in a tub and allowed to remain till thoroughly putrefied. Next the rotten mass is taken up, a small quantity at a time, rubbed between the palms of the hand and allowed to drop into clean water, where the small pearls drop to the bottom of the pan, and the dirty water is thrown out.

They'd Be Grateful. "I have never taken the trouble to trace my ancestry."

"Well, if your ancestors could speak they would probably thank you for that."—Brooklyn Life.
