

OPEN PUBLICITY THE BEST GUARANTY OF MERIT.

When the maker of a medicine, sends through druggists for family use, takes his patients fully into his confidence by frankly and fearlessly publishing broadcast as well as on its bottle wrapper, a full list of all its ingredients in plain English, this action on his part is the best possible evidence that he is not afraid to have the search light of investigation turned full upon his triple formula and that it will bear the fullest scrutiny and the most thorough investigation. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for the cure of the weaknesses, nervous pain and functional derangements of the organs distinctively feminine, is the only medicine put up for sale through druggists for woman's special use, the maker of which is not afraid to take his patients into his full confidence by such open and honest publicity.

A glance at the published ingredients on each bottle wrapper, will show that it is made wholly from nature, American medicinal roots, that it contains no poisonous or habit-forming drugs, no narcotics and no other harmful ingredients, but glycerine, of proper strength being used instead of the commonly employed alcohol, both for extracting and preserving the active medicinal properties found in the roots of the American forest plant employed. It is the only medicine for women's peculiar disorders, which is perfectly harmless, and serves a valuable purpose by possessing intrinsic value all its own, and besides, it is the only medicine the effect of the other ingredients entering into the "Favorite Prescription."

Some of the most medical writers and teachers endorse these views and praise all the several ingredients of which "Favorite Prescription" is composed—recommending them for the cure of the very same diseases for which this world-famous medicine is advised. No other medicine for women has any such professional endorsement—more than any number of ordinary testimonials. If interested, send name and address to Dr. R. V. Pierce, New York, for his little book of extracts from the works of eminent medical writers and teachers, endorsing the several ingredients, and telling just what Dr. Pierce's medicine is made of. It's free for the asking.

A TWO FACED POLICY

Russian Government Tells Jews to Ask Their Rights of Douma and Stolypin Says Douma Must Mind the Government.

[Publishers' Press.] St. Petersburg, Nov. 30.—On the ground that it does not wish to trespass on the powers of the douma, the Russian government has frowned down a proposed law granting certain insignificant rights to the Jews.

How much the Jews have to expect from the assembly is shown in a remark by Premier Stolypin today. "If the assembly shows itself opposed to the government," he said, "it will be dissolved immediately."

The premier's expression is accepted as conclusive evidence that the douma will be unable to do anything either for the Jews or for any one else.

Assaulted by Negroes. [Publishers' Press.]

Assaulted by Negroes. Columbus, O., Nov. 30.—N. R. Vosburg, train caller at the Union station, was assaulted and badly beaten while returning to his home. Three colored men were in front of him and three behind. As he passed the front trio he jostled one of them, and after a few words all six jumped upon him, beating him badly. They used a whiskey bottle in the attack, cutting his face and head badly.

Rabbit Hunter Maimed. Toledo, O., Nov. 30.—While hunting rabbits with four other boys, Frank Louison, 14, was so badly wounded his left leg was amputated at the knee. The boy was on his knees trying to secure a rabbit from a pile of brush, when his own gun in the hands of Charles Bylow exploded.

A Working Day In Russia. St. Petersburg, Nov. 30.—The emperor approved the resolution adopted by the council of ministers fixing 12 hours as a working day, including two hours for meals, in all industrial establishments. This law will become operative six weeks after its promulgation.

THE DEAD AND HOW THEY WERE KILLED.

Brown, Leo C., at Houghton, Mich.—Nov. 4.—He was 21 years old. As a member of the Houghton High school team he received fatal injuries in a game played Oct. 31. He was kicked over the heart and on the head and never fully recovered consciousness. The game was played under the new rules.

Chisler, Lewis A., at Delaware, O.—Nov. 16.—He was 22 years old and lived at Paulding, O. He dropped dead on the field after a long run while playing as a member of the Ohio Wesleyan University team. The game was played under the new rules.

Curtis, James, at Fort Shaw, Mont.—Nov. 1.—He was 21 years old and lived at Great Falls, Mont. He received fatal injuries in a scrimmage while playing as a member of the Great Falls team, and died soon after removal from the field.

Ellis, W. Glenn, at Toronto, Ont.—Oct. 12.—He was 20 years old. As a candidate for the University of Toronto team he was tackled heavily and rendered unconscious in a practice game Oct. 19. He died without recovering consciousness. His death was the second football fatality at Toronto University.

Fishbein, Henry, at Bellefontaine, O.—Oct. 28.—He was 17 years old. As a member of West Liberty (O.) high school team he received injuries in the game; blood poisoning resulted.

WORK WEAKENS THE KIDNEYS.

Doan's Kidney Pills Have Done Great Service for People Who Work.

Most people work every day in some strained, unnatural position—bending constantly over a desk—riding or jolting wagons or cars—doing laborious housework; lifting, reaching or pulling, or trying the back in a hundred and one other ways. All these strains tend to wear, weaken and injure the kidneys until they fall behind in their work of filtering the poisons from the blood. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys, put new strength in bad backs.

Charles Hodson, of 317 Courtland avenue, South Kokomo, Ind., says: "My back ached severely; was weak across the loins; sharp twinges caught me in the small of my back when stopping or lifting; there were times when I was unable to work on account of it, and I was finally forced to give up my position at the Plate Glass Works, for my back could not stand the strain of the work I was doing. I used a number of recommended remedies and also tried doctor's prescriptions, but it was no good. I had as severe spells of back-ache as ever. I read an account of Doan's Kidney Pills, which stated that they would cure such complaints, so I got a box, and they gave me relief before I had used half a box. In a short time longer I was cured."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no other.

Hunters' Ghastly Find.

[Publishers' Press.] Painesville, O., Nov. 30.—Hunters in the woods near here found the badly decomposed body of a man lying on its back, an overcoat thrown over the head. The right hand held a revolver to the temple and a bullet wound told of the tragic end. The flesh was eaten from the bones and the skeleton fell to pieces when moved. A printed pamphlet and a pencil from the Cleveland public library were found in one pocket.

Engine Ran Away. Winnipeg, Man., Nov. 30.—A runaway switch engine crashed into and derailed a passenger train in the Canadian Northern yards. Two persons were slightly injured. The switch engine, which was then reversed by the engineer, rushed back to the station, crashing into a train of empty freight cars. Two men loading one of the cars were killed and two injured.

Philippine Railway Syndicate. London, Nov. 30.—The syndicate planned by Speyer & Co. of New York, Speyer Brothers of this city and the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank of London for the reconstruction of the Manila railway and an extension of its lines is completed. The capital, $25,000,000, was oversubscribed.

Indictments Stick. Columbus, O., Nov. 30.—Judge Bigler held the indictments against the ice trust, so-called, and the ice men as individuals, to be good, and the cases will now go to trial.

Card of Thanks. Centerville, Ind., Nov. 30. (Sp.)—The Centerville Woman's Cemetery Association hereby extend sincere thanks for timely aid. ## WABASH WANT TO ENTERTAIN MEET

Presbyterians Have Never Yet Played Host to Track Athletes of I. C. A. L.

TO BE DECIDED DEC. 8

AT THAT TIME REPRESENTATIVES OF SECONDARY COLLEGES MAY VOTE TO RECOGNIZE BASKET BALL.

The conference of the representatives of the colleges in the I. C. A. L., which will be held at the Dennison House in Indianapolis, Dec. 8th, will be one of the most important meetings that the college representatives have held in several years. The place of holding the league field meet next spring will be decided upon and it is probable that Wabash will be given the preference over the other schools in the league, because that college has not as yet entertained any meet of the kind since the league was organized. So far as known no other bids for the meet have been entered.

Coach Cayou of Wabash will look upon this move with joy as he confidentially expects to place Wabash at the head of the league's track athletes next spring. Cayou also expects Wabash to land a high place in state track athletics next spring, although the college has never made any great showing along this particular line.

Grover Grimes, Earlham's representative to the conference, stated last night, that among the other important things which would occupy the attention of the meeting would be a proposed amendment to the constitution of the league, which would make basket ball one of the recognized league sports. Up until this time basket ball has been played among all the colleges of the league, but the league as a body, has never recognized the sport. In case this amendment is adopted, games will be played by all the members of the I. C. A. L., and the championship will be determined and a banner awarded to the winner.

BANQUET FOR QUAKERS

CAPTAIN TO BE CHOSEN

Prof. Trueblood Will Entertain Earlham Gridiron Warriors at His Home Next Friday—Those Mentioned to Lead '07 Team.

On Friday night, December 7th, Prof. E. F. Trueblood of Earlham will entertain the members of the Earlham football team at his home with a banquet and it is understood that the Captain of next year's football team will be elected on that night.

The matter has been uppermost in the minds of the players for some time but as yet it cannot be decided who is the proper man. Will Elliott of Greenfield who has played on the Earlham second team for two years and played three varsity games this year is looked on with favor. He is a heady man and popular with the students and football players of the school. He is fast and nervy and as the time for election draws nigh, his name is being mentioned more than any other, for the coveted place. Thistlethwaite who has been a varsity man for the past two years is also looked on with favor, while Allee who played center on this year's team has a corner in a few of the players' hearts.

Capt. Wann who so successfully captained this year's team will be in school again next year, but is understood that he will not accept the captaincy because he feels that it should rest upon the shoulders of another man.

Spain's New Cabinet. [Publishers' Press.] Madrid, Nov. 30.—Senor Moret y Prendergast has formed a new cabinet, and his appointments have been accepted by King Alfonso. It is composed as follows: Premier, Senor Moret y Prendergast; minister of foreign affairs, Perez Caballero; interior, Senor Barrozo; finance, Fleuterio Delgado; public works, Senor Gasset; war, Lieutenant General De Lague; marine, the Duke of Alba; justice, Count Romanones. But Romanones refused to remain in the reorganized cabinet and Senor Barrozo will succeed him. Senor Quiroga de Balles taking the portfolio of the interior.

Sherwood's Election Contested. Toledo, O., Nov. 30.—General I. R. Sherwood, Independent-Democratic candidate for congress from the Ninth Ohio congressional district, was notified by the secretary of state that his election is contested by McClelland, the Republican candidate, and that the state election board will give a hearing Monday. McClelland's protest is based on the claim that all votes cast for Sherwood on the independent ticket are void, and only those votes cast for him under the Democratic emblem can be counted. If the decision sustains this claim McClelland will be elected.

ODDITIES IN SERMONS

ANNUAL DISCOURSES THAT ARE PAID FOR BY LEGACIES.

The Lucky London Clergyman Who Preaches the "Golden Sermon" Receives a Fee of £150—The Text Problem of the "Museum Sermon."

Every year on Oct. 16 is preached at St. Catherine Cree church in Leadenhall street the "lion sermon." It commemorates the escape, over two centuries back, of a then lord mayor, Sir John Gayer, who while traveling in the east encountered a lion, which, on his repeating the prayer of Daniel, allowed him to pursue his way unmolested. In gratitude for his miraculous escape the worthy citizen left directions in his will that a commemorative sermon should be preached annually, together with sufficient money to carry this bequest into effect.

Every Jan. 30 for 225 years has the "Assheton sermon" been delivered in the parish church of Downham, Lancashire. Over two centuries since Sir Richard Assheton of Downham Hall left a legacy of £4 a year, £2 thereof to be distributed among the poor and the remainder to be paid to a clergyman for an annual exposition, on the date of the testator's death, of Job xix, 25, 26, and Colossians iii, 3, 4.

The "Spital sermon," which is delivered every Easter before the lord mayor and corporation of London at Christ church, Newgate street, originated in an old custom by which the bishop of London appointed some learned cleric to deliver a sermon at St. Paul's Cross on Good Friday as a prelude to three sermons on "The Resurrection" to be given at the pulpit cross in the Spital on the following Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday by a bishop, a dean and a doctor of divinity respectively.

The following Sunday at St. Paul's Cross another divine passed judgment on these discourses, and on this occasion the mayor and corporation, who had on the preceding Monday and Tuesday been garbed in scarlet, attended, as on Good Friday and Easter Wednesday, robed in violet gowns. Ere their migration to Horseham the boys of the Bluecoat school were always present at the "Spital sermon."

"Flower sermons" are still to be heard in more than one church. On Whitson Tuesday at St. James' church, Mitre court, Aldgate, one of these is preached, while at St. Leonard's church, Shoreditch, a botanical discourse is, in accordance with the will of Thomas Fairchild, who died in 1729, annually delivered. At Stepney church the "horticultural sermon" calls to mind the long past days when instead of being surrounded by thousands of houses the church overtopped a country village with its quaint cottages and well tended gardens.

Annually on April 6 the inhabitants of Twynning, Tewkesbury, attend the church to hear a sermon upon marriage preached in accordance with the bequest of a lord of the manor, who in 1715 left a sum of money for this specific purpose. The preacher himself receives £1, the parish clerk 5 shillings, while £3 10s. is divided among the congregation, who last year numbered seventy-one.

The handsome fee of 16 guineas is paid to the preacher of the "accession sermon" which each year on the anniversary of the reigning monarch's accession may be heard in Durham cathedral. One unusual and, as some may consider, commendable condition attaching to this discourse is that its duration must not exceed fifteen minutes.

This fee, large though it seems, is insignificant beside the £150 paid to the preacher of the "golden sermon," which may be given in any church within a six mile radius of Haberdashers' hall. This sermon has its origin in the bequest of one William Jones, who many years since left an annual sum of £400 to be given to the preacher of the most eloquent sermon within the above limit. Of this sum £150 now goes to the chosen cleric, while the remaining £250 is divided among poor clergymen of the east end.

Perhaps, however, the most original discourse delivered from an English pulpit is the "museum sermon," which is annually preached in a little chapel near the village of Buckland Newton, Dorsetshire. It derives its name from the fact that the clergyman, generally a stranger, finds on mounting the pulpit that its desk has been covered with various articles, of the nature of which he has been kept in ignorance, all of which are mentioned in the Bible. On these he is required to deliver an extempore sermon, fitting them all with apt text and Biblical illustration.—London Standard.

The Liberty Bell. The famous Liberty bell, which has been much exhibited and written about, was originally cast in London, for the English government restricted the industries in the American colonies to such an extent that there was no place on this side of the Atlantic where such a bell could be made. The bell's weight was 2,080 pounds. It arrived in Philadelphia in 1752. When hung up and being tried for sound, "it was cracked by a stroke of the clapper without any other violence." It was recast in Philadelphia and this prophetic motto inscribed:

"Proclaim liberty throughout the land and to all the inhabitants thereof."

When the British threatened the city this bell, together with those belonging to Christ church and St. Peter's, eleven in all, were taken to Allentown, Pa., to prevent their falling into the hands of the enemies. When the war ended the bell was hung again in the place whence it had rung out the news of the Declaration of Independence.

People who use religion are responsible for other people having no use for it.

"Because a criminal is of social standing is no reason why he should escape," said Recorder John W. Goff, who was chosen to the supreme court in New York at the recent election. A physician, Dr. John H. Billings, had been brought before him for sentence. He had pleaded guilty to stealing from a prominent Fifth avenue silversmith. Many letters asking for clemency were presented to the court in his favor, but after making the remark above quoted Judge Goff continued:

"Well," said the tiresome fellow, "there's no doubt about the truth of that old saying, 'The more we get, the more we want.'"

"Yes," replied Sharp, "but it also works the other way. The more we want, the less we get."—Philadelphia Press.
