

DEMAND REVERSAL OF ACTION TAKEN

Negroes of New York Hold Indignation Meeting Over Brownsville Affair.

FLAMING SPEECHES MADE

EVIDENCE INTRODUCED CLAIMING TO SHOW THAT WHITE MEN AND NOT NEGROES DID THE SHOOTING.

(Publishers' Press.)

New York, Dec. 6.—No matter what attention congress shall take in the dismissal of the battalion of the Twenty Fifth Infantry by order of President Roosevelt for "shooting up" Brownsville, Tex., the New York negroes intend to try and force the President to reconsider his action. At a meeting held tonight in St. Mark's M. E. church resolutions were adopted demanding that the action of the war department be reversed. Despite the fact that a hard rain was falling during the meeting the edifice was crowded to the doors and an overflow meeting had to be held on the street corner. Speeches were made by all of the negro preachers in New York and by G. L. Stewart, president of the Constitutional League who was sent to Brownsville to conduct an investigation of the matter.

Stewart made a report of what he had learned in Brownsville, claiming that he had affidavits to prove that the men who did the shooting in Brownsville were white men and not negroes, and he declared that the officers who found exploded cartridge shells which they claimed had been picked up by citizens in the street erred in their characterization. He claimed that only four men of the battalion were out of their quarters the night of the shooting, and also claims to be able to prove by reputable citizens of Brownsville that the officers who reported on the case were prejudiced against the negro soldiers.

Epidemic Decreasing.

The measles epidemic is on the decrease according to the statement of Dr. Charles S. Bond, the city health officer, to the Palladium last night. Twenty five cards were taken from the infected homes yesterday while only four new cases were reported at the health office, they being:

Helen Shigley, age three, 50 Laurel street.

Mary Shigley, age five, 50 Laurel street.

Leo Shigley, age nine months, 50 Laurel street.

Mrs. Mollie Jackson, age forty, 27 North 11th street.

Election Postponed.

The election of officers for the First Christian church which was to have taken place last night at the church was postponed, owing to the small number present. The election will be held next week, and the officers elected at that time will serve during the coming year.

MINCE PIE NEGRO, HOME BELONGINGS ASKED FOR

Colored Man Who Escaped from Officer McNally After Showing Signs of Insanity, Reached His Home in Massachusetts Safely.

Albert Moore the colored man who made his appearance at the police headquarters sometime ago, and made the rash statement that after eating a piece of mince pie, he lost his mind, has been heard from again. A dispatch from the marshal of Bedford, Mass., to Supt. of Police Bailey, received the early part of the week, stating that Moore arrived at his home last week, and had requested that his trunk and other belongings, left here when he escaped from Officer McNally, at the interurban station, be forwarded to him. Supt. Bailey stated last night that the trunk contained about fifty dollars' worth of material while the man left $20 at police headquarters, along with his watch and another trinket in the form of a dainty little "thirty-eight."

Moore claimed while here that his father who was "worshipful master" of the Masons at Bedford, was trying to kill him, and had ordered all the Masons to end his son's life. Moore, however, was only too glad to get back to the parental domicile after his experience in Richmond.

WITNESSES FEAR FOR THEIR LIVES

Those Who Testified Against Shea Afraid of Being Roughly Treated.

SHEA HEARS FROM WIFE

TELLS HIM THAT SHE WOULD RATHER HAVE BEEN GUILTY THAN BE AN INFORMER LIKE YOUNG HAS BECOME.

(Publishers' Press.)

Chicago, Dec. 6.—Fearful that they will be slain by followers of the men against whom they are testifying, witnesses at the trial of the teamsters on trial for conspiracy to ruin firms involved in the drivers strike of 1905, told the court today that no two are permitted to spend the night in the same place and that none of them sleeps twice under the same roof. They are heavily guarded by detectives whenever they take a step outside the court room.

President Shea of the Teamsters' Union and his thirteen followers smiled as these precautions were related. The men who entered pleas of guilty and became witnesses for the state, assert, however, that they feel by no means sure that they will get through the trial alive and that they will have to flee for their lives if they secure their liberty and are cast upon the streets.

Perjury is Charged. Joe Schultz, confessed chief "slugger" during the strike and one of the star witnesses for the prosecution, admitted that Bill Turner, one of his detective guards, has bought him an overcoat and furnished him with small sums of money since the trial began. He denied that his testimony was based in this way and declared that some assistance was necessary to enable him to live until the hearing is completed.

His admission brought forth an instant demand from the defense lawyers for his arrest on a charge of perjury—a request refused by the court on the ground that nothing he had said proved him to have testified falsely.

Mrs. Cornelius P. Shea became a factor in the case today by offering encouragement to her husband in a long letter in which she referred to Albert Young, the states chief witness as a "squealer."

"If it comes to the worst," the letter concludes, "I would rather we'd stand it than have you an informer like Young."

CONFESSION STORY IS NOT AFFIRMED

Those in Position to Know Won't Say Whether or Not Gillette Confessed.

IS IN HEALTHY SPIRITS

GENERAL BELIEF AMONG MEMBERS OF LEGAL PROFESSION AT HERKIMER THAT NEW TRIAL IS LIKELY.

Herkimer, N. Y., Dec. 6.—Although the reports that Chester Gillette, in jail here awaiting sentence of death for the murder of his former sweetheart, Grace Brown, confessed to his attorneys that he had murdered the girl, continue to be circulated broadcast, none of those in a position to know, will discuss them. When former Senator Mills, senior counsel for the defense, was asked point blank to night if Gillette had told him that he struck the girl with his tennis racket while she was struggling in the water he declined to reply. District Attorney Ward also refused to discuss the report that the sheriff and turnkey in the jail heard Gillette make such a statement to his counsel.

Gillette was brought into court today and the formal postponement of the position of sentence until Monday was made by Judge Devondorf. The young fellow is in as healthy spirits as at any time since he was first incarcerated here, and he does not seem to be worried over his ultimate fate.

The general belief among the members of the legal profession here is that when the case is appealed to the court of appeals, that body will reverse and send the case back for a new trial, not on the evidence, as that will not be taken into consideration, but because of errors made by the trial judge in permitting certain so-called "hearsay" evidence to be introduced.

When Gillette is sentenced on Monday, he will be taken at once to Auburn prison, where he will remain in the death house pending the decision of the higher court as to the legality of his conviction.

The average number of picture post cards delivered in Paris daily is very high—700,000.

A scheme has been put forward by the French authorities in Tunis for the execution of great public works in the regency at a cost of $24,000,000, of which $10,000,000 is to be obtained from the ordinary budget in a period of eight years and the balance by a loan.

There is a Paris newspaper which is an organ for beggars. One of the advertisements of business opportunities offers "good situation in a very popular winter resort for a one armed man or preferably a man with no arms. References given and required. Cash deposit also required."

ANCESTORS.

It's fine to have an ancestor. A king or pirate only. Who went forth with a fierce mustache And made the high seas lonely. Or even just a robber chief. Who led his force to battle And killed the ones he didn't like And rounded up their cattle.

We decorate our humble walls With pictures of their features. As though they had been pure as snow And very lovely creatures. But, looking at it in the light Of all the circumstances, We'd hate to meet them late at night Alone and take our chances.

And had they not been dead and gone For many and many a season, We'd swear they'd have to mend their ways.

Or we would know the reason. It's all right for an ancestor Perhaps to cut such capers. But in this day I fear they would Be roasted by the papers.

And yet in spite of every fault And every shady story We like to hang them up that we May get reflected glory. But still in spite of all our praise, Our proud, puffed up haranguing They needed, if the truth were told, The other kind of hanging.

A Labored Effort.

"You call that a work of art?" "I certainly do." "I see the work all right, but where is the art?"

Ready Made Thoughts.

A society that proposes to place canned thought on the market is being organized in the west.

What we need to develop the race and make it great and powerful is not a thought factory into which a man might step on his way home and, laying down a quarter, take home a package of tinted thought to the loved ones. No, no, no.

We should rather encourage men to take thought culture exercises so that they might do a neat line of thinking for themselves. Ready made thought might do in social functions, but for the actualities of life it would hardly be a small boy trying to look over a ten foot board fence.

Instead of depending on a trust for our thoughts, let the full grown citizen spend half an hour thinking each morning, being careful not to think loud enough to wake the neighbors.

Reckless Extravagance.

"I have just ordered two tons of coal."

"Two tons! What in the world do you want that much for?"

"To burn, of course."

"You don't mean to tell me you burn coal. I priced some the other day, and I presumed from its cost that people didn't use it any more except to make jewelry."

Easy For Her.

"Miss Slim rather shocks conservative people, doesn't she?"

"Yes, but she can't help it."

"How is that?"

"She is so thin that she slips through the cracks in the veneer of conventionality."

Enterprising Promoter.

"What are you doing now?"

"Promoting the Married Woman's Protective association."

"How does it work?"

"Guarantees a hundred dollars per alimony in case of misadventures."

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

A bum job is often worth more than a good lecture.

Your own interests make your entire change of front quite obvious and matter of course, and it looks so silly and envious of your acquaintances to talk about consistency.

We cannot understand why people bent on suicide do not hire some one to tickle them to death.

Most men ask their wives' advice and then take the opposite course.

Letting people draw their own conclusions is sometimes the worst punishment you can inflict.

Most of us would really be good if we could endure solitude.

Many people when they feel that they can't be sincere put up as good an imitation as they can.

Always try to be big in little things if you want to be among those present when a big thing is pulled off.

The man who is looked upon as making a specialty of failures and keeping at it industriously occasionally springs a surprise.

Girlickin.

Who wouldn't want a little girl With lips a-smile and hair a-curl. With rosy cheeks and feet a-dance. And one that keeps her mouth awtist. Who wouldn't want a girlickin To fill the house with jocular din?

Who wouldn't want a little lass With hair a golden gleaming mass. A wad of gum in either fist. And one that keeps her mouth awtist. While with her finger and her thumb She makes a rope of chewing gum? Who wouldn't want a girl like this Has with his soul-munch, much amiss.

DEATH COMES TO JOSEPH H. STUBBS

State Statistician Passed Away at His Home in Indianapolis Yesterday.

HE FORMERLY LIVED HERE

HAD BEEN ILL FOR WEEKS BUT WAS THOUGHT TO BE IMPROVING AND DEATH WAS NOT EXPECTED.

Joseph H. Stubbs, chief of the Indiana Bureau of Statistics and formerly a resident of Richmond died at his home in Indianapolis at about 5:30 o'clock yesterday morning.

Though he had been sick for more than two months and confined to his bed for almost a month, his death was a surprise, even to the nurse and a shock to the family and friends. He was forty-one years old.

Besides the widow, three children his father, four brothers and one sister survive him. The three children all live in Indianapolis, the two youngest, Mary and Helen living at home, and the oldest, Mrs. Ethel Day, wife of Dr. C. E. Day, living at 2316 North Illinois street, Indianapolis. The father, Charles L. Stubbs; the sister, Mrs. Henry Painter and one of the brothers, James W. Stubbs, all live at Spiceland. O. A. Stubbs, another brother lives at Lewisville; a third, Charles L., Jr., lives at Plainfield; and the fourth, S. E. Stubbs, lives at Wilkinson, Ind.

Funeral Saturday Afternoon.

The funeral services will be held at the house Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the Rev. M. C. Pearson, of the First Friends' Church, Indianapolis, officiating, and the Rev. Albert J. Brown, formerly pastor of the same church, now of Wilmington, O., assisting. Funeral will not be private. Friends may view the remains at the house from 9 to 12 Saturday morning.

Mr. Stubbs had been in bad health for several years, and more than once he had been compelled to stop his work at the office because of illness. The disease that resulted in his death developed about two months ago. It seemed to be a liver trouble, and for the past four weeks he was alternately better and worse.

Was a Commercial Traveler. Mr. Stubbs was a commercial traveler for twenty-three years. He was a member of the Commercial Travelers of America; the United Commercial Travelers; the Travelers Protective Association; the Commercial Club, and the Marion Club. He served as vice-president of the T. P. A. and was one of the directors for years.

He moved his family to Indianapolis twenty-four years ago. Born on a farm near Spiceland, he was married there about thirty years ago. He lived in Knightstown and Richmond before going to Indianapolis. He was first financially identified with the wholesale house of New & Co., and later went on the road for a shoe firm. From that time on until he was elected as State Statistician, he sold shoes, his specialty being baby shoes.

He was born of Quaker stock and was a birth member in the Quaker church. He was a member of the First Friends' church of this city.
