Everything Else Reduced.

All other garments of whatever character, in cloth and furs, will also be offered at special reductions. The many offerings in this department cannot be listed, but suffice it to say that everything is included in the sweeping reductions.

The above garments are all from the high class stock which always characterizes the Cloak and Suit department of the Knollenberg Store. This sale gives to ladies an opportunity to provide themselves with any of the offerings named at prices that are unusually low. The offerings are limited in number and such bargains cannot last long.

MONDAY NIGHT SKATERS

Club to Resume Its Meetings at the Coliseum After a Rest During Holiday Season.

A meeting of the Monday Night Skating Club will be held this evening after a lapse of three weeks. During the holidays it was thought advisable to hold no meetings because of the interest being created in other directions, but from now on until spring the meetings will be held regularly. It will be necessary for a full attendance every meeting to make the club a success as the expenses are so great that the Coliseum can only be secured by the payment of an amount, that calls for the attendance of at least a hundred.

MAGAZINES.

The Current Forum.

The January-March Forum, a typical number of this high-class American quarterly review, is just out. In its regular departments are to be noted the comprehensive articles on "American Politics," by Henry Litchfield West; "Foreign Affairs," by A. Maurice Low; "Finance," by Alexander D. Noyes; "The Educational Outlook," by Ossian H. Lang; and "Applied Science," by Henry Harrison Suplee. Two literary papers of authority and excellence are "A Few Books on Shakespeare," by Prof. W. P. Trent, and "Some Recent Guides to Culture," by Prof. William T. Brewster. Henry Tyrrell contributes a minute and careful review of the season's drama. "Inexpensive Reciprocity," by Prof. John Bates Clark, is a highly suggestive discussion of the tariff question by a well-known and able specialist. Another special article of striking interest is "The Rehabilitation of China and the American Interest in the Orient," by Mohammad Barakatullah.

Good coffee, a bit of sausage and a plate of Mrs. Austin's Buckwheat cakes make a perfect breakfast.

NOVEL READER ARRESTED

TRIED TO WRECK A TRAIN

Greencastle Lad Had Been Reading of the Daring Deeds of Desperate Men in "Yellow Backs," and Tried to Emulate Them.

[Publishers' Press.]

Greencastle, Ind., Jan. 6.—Cleaver Runyan, 18 years old, is accused of attempting to wreck a Vandalia passenger train at Filmore, and he has been committed to jail in this city. Runyan, it is said, has been a reader of cheap detective stories, and has gone about heavily armed. It is alleged that he wanted to emulate the deeds of a train robber, and so he dragged a pair of heavy skids off the station platform and adjusted them on the rails with the intention of throwing a freight train off the track, but an unexpected passenger train was first in sight. The operator in the block tower saw the youth working about the rails, and he investigated, with the result that he was barely able to remove the obstruction in time for the train to pass.

A BIG SALE OF SEEDS

TO BE EARLY PLANTING

Gardeners and Hot House Growers Are Already Making Preparations For Their Spring Business—Seed Corn Will be Scarce.

Richmond gardeners and hothouse growers are already making preparations for their spring business as and are buying seeds in great quantities, it being their idea the winter this year will be an open one, as it was last, thereby giving them the opportunity of planting earlier than usual.

A prominent dealer in seeds said yesterday, that he expected an increase in the sale of seeds this year, by at least one-half over last year's business. He also said that the prices would remain about as usual.

Of all the seeds that would be scarce during the coming season, corn will lead. This is caused by the unsuccessful maturing last year, making it of inferior quality.

CONFESSES; IS LYNCHED

Alabama Negro Who Entered the Room of a White Girl, Severely Dealt With by Mob.

[Publishers' Press.]

Eugala, Ala., Jan. 6.—A negro was lynched at Midway, Ala., by citizens who hanged him up to a tree and riddled the body with bullets. The negro had only recently returned from the penitentiary. Wednesday night he entered the room of Miss Morrell King, daughter of a banker at Midway, and grasped her hand before she awoke. Her screams attracted the other inmates of the house and the negro ran away. Citizens immediately set out after the negro and captured him Thursday. When brought to Midway he confessed and the lynching followed.

NEED OF A WORKHOUSE

SCHEME FAILED TO WORK

X. Y. Z EXPRESSES VIEWS

A BIG IDEA FELL FLAT

Says the Large Number of Worthless Fellows Who Face Judge Converse Would Go Elsewhere if Made to Work a Little.

The need of a work house in Richmond is being felt more every day. Hardly a morning comes along that some worthless scamp is not brought before City Judge Converse on trial charges. They gladly go to jail and an expense is thus brought on the county keeping up such characters who would rather die than do an honest day's work.

Every week there are several who are thus brought before the judge charged with beggary, loitering, drunkenness and other charges. If he sends every one to jail the cry soon goes up that he is filling the jail with prisoners who delight in having a place to stay where they are free from thoughts of having to earn their living. If they are turned loose it is likely to be brought before him again in a few days.

If a workhouse were established in this city it would be free from such worthless characters in a short time. Make one of such lazy tramps work for a few weeks and he will bid good-bye to the city forever.

TERRIBLE STORY IS TOLD

Card Tacked to Car in Wabash Railroad at Logansport, Tells Gruesome News.

Logansport, Ind., Jan. 6. (Spl.)—A small weatherbeaten card about two by four inches, firmly tacked to the side of Atkinson, Topeka & Santa Fe car No. 8892, in the Wabash yards today, attracted many a curious person, who, in passing by, noticed the curious drapery by which it was surrounded. On the face of the card, written in a large, nervous hand, easily read, was the inscription: "This car killed Robert Bledsoe and James Gallahan, switchmen in the Southern Pacific yards, October 13, 1906." Draped around the sides were two trousers legs of different materials and an arm from a working jacket and shirt, which all bore blood stains and were ragged and torn.

Harry Diffenderfer returned home Sunday evening after a two weeks' visit with relatives in Columbus, Ind., and Indianapolis.

Manager of Children's Industrial School in Michigan Tried to Move It to Seattle in an Automobile Wards Now in White's Institute.

Wabash, Ind., Jan. 6.—(Spl.)—George F. Strong, manager of a children's industrial school at Houghton, Mich., conceived the idea of removing his school to Seattle, Wash., and re-establishing there a big institution. He spent all he had, $3,000, to build a big automobile like a houseboat. In this he loaded his wards, all musical adepts, organized as a band.

Zigzagging across the country, they sought to raise enough money to defray expenses by giving concerts, and he hoped to raise a big endowment by contributions. It has failed and the children, now wards of Howard county, where they went broke were placed in White's institution there.

That place now has a band. The hopes of a big industrial school have been shattered and Strong can not sell his big automobile house, for it can be used for nothing else but a traveling home.
