TO PENSION PROFESSOR SHERMAN BILL IS GIVEN A HEARING

A FUND BY ROCKEFELLER

Chicago University Will Have $3,000,000 With Which to Reward Services of Superannuated Professors—The Sliding Scale.

[Publishers' Press]

Chicago, Jan. 8.—An announcement was made by the University of Chicago trustees that J. D. Rockefeller will endow the university with $3,000,000 for the purpose of maintaining a fund for pensioning superannuated professors of the institution. The pension, it was stated, according to present plans, would be awarded by a sliding scale system founded on salaries of professors. The exclusion of the university of Chicago, because it is a denominational school, from sharing in the $10,000,000 Carnegie pension fund is said to be responsible for Rockefeller's decision to create a pension fund of his own.

[Publishers' Press]

Washington, Jan. 8.—The Sherman bill for universal interchangeable railway mileage books at the rate of two cents a mile, was the subject of a hearing before the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce, H. L. Bond, second vice president of the Baltimore and Ohio railway; T. B. Harrison, representing the Louisville and Nashville, and a score of other railway men, attended the hearing. George T. Nicholson, third vice president of the Atchafalaya, Topeka and Santa Fe, said the bill is so broad that it practically amounts to fixing of 2 cents a mile rate as the maximum for all railroads in the United States on all passenger business, and urged that it would work great hardships on many railways to make such a reduction.

Representative May of Virginia introduced a resolution in the house seeking information concerning the death of Robert Vance Freeman, a former member of Dr. Harvey W. Wiley's "poison squad." The resolution asks that Secretary Wilson be requested to advise congress under what authority the department of agriculture conducted experiments with borax and to state what was the effect of tests with preservatives on Freeman.

Chairman Hull of the house committee on military reported the military appropriation bill. In round numbers the bill carries $73,000,000, which is a reduction of about $6,000,000 in the estimate submitted by the war department. The bill carries about $2,000,000 more than the appropriation made at the last session of congress.

The house passed a bill for judicial review of orders excluding persons from the use of United States mail facilities. In presenting reasons why the bill should be passed Mr. Crampton said the power given the postmaster general under the statutes to issue fraud orders was not at all an administrative discretion. It rather partook of the nature of a police power for the regulation of the morals of the people of the country.

The senate committee on finance has under consideration the nomination of George B. Cortelyou to be secretary of the treasury. The nomination of James R. Garfield to be secretary of the interior also was considered. Several Democratic senators will make speeches on the subject of Cortelyou's activity in collecting funds for the last presidential campaign when the nomination was called up in executive session.

At the request of Senators Teller and Daniel the senate committee on finance postponed one week action on the nomination of Postmaster General Cortelyou to be secretary of treasury. They did not announce whether they would continue their opposition to his confirmation, since he resigned the chairmanship of the Republican national committee.

In presenting his objections to the senate to the pending bills for the regulation of child labor, Senator Overman of North Carolina went into an elaborate discussion of the decline of state's rights. The child labor bills of Senators Lodge and Beveridge were read by Mr. Overman, with the comment that the effect of the enactment of either would not only stretch to the breaking point the commerce clause of the constitution, but would be a usurpation of rights of the states. The sentiment for consolidated or centralized government, Mr. Overman declares, "has grown with the inordinate desire for the dollar, has increased with the growth of commercialism, the building up of mighty fortunes, the centralization of great wealth in the hands of the few, produced by the great trusts and monopolies, many of which were organized for the purpose of crushing out competition, and which have been robbing the people of untold millions."

Senator Carter introduced a joint resolution providing for a joint committee of four senators and five members of the house to investigate and report to congress before January 1, its findings as to the cause of collisions on railroads and the best means of obviating them. The committee is to sit during the recess of congress.

Republican leaders of the senate were in conference at various times Tuesday with a view to reaching an agreement on the terms of a resolution relating to the president's discharge of negro troops that will harmonize the difference between Senators Foraker and Lodge. Indications are that a provision will be agreed to directing an inquiry by the committee on military affairs into the occurrences at Brownsville, without specifying whether it shall deal only with the facts or shall include the legal problems as well. In consequence of this prospect, Senator Foraker postponed further presentation in the senate of his views on the subject. It was announced that Tillman, Daniel and other senators desire to be heard before the close of the debate. Tillman could not proceed Tuesday on account of illness.

Petition for a writ of prohibition was also filed before the higher court to prevent Judge Dunne from continuing with the trial of Schmitz. The supreme court granted the issuance of the writ, which was made returnable Thursday, when the matter will be argued. Pending the return of the writ, Schmitz was admitted to cash bail in the sum of $5000, the amount required on one of the first indictments. The petition for a writ of prohibition has not been considered by the court.
