

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be toward the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thoughts and testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Greensfork Lads Triumph Over Local Team in Basket Ball—Kauffman Was a Star.

Greensfork, Jan. 21. (Spl.)—The Greensfork basket ball team defeated the Richmond business college team Saturday by a score of 33 to 20. The contest was rough from start to finish, both teams making many fouls. The Greensfork players showed improved team work and the visitors were "played off their feet." Ellis and Nicholson played great ball for the home team, throwing some difficult goals. Kauffman for the visitors played a star game. The Greensfork guards were the principal factors in winning the game for their team by preventing the Richmond forwards throwing goals.

As yet no word has been received from Charles E. Cully of West Pearl street, who so mysteriously disappeared from his home last Tuesday, leaving his wife and two small children. The relatives of the man are still hunting for him but as yet their efforts have been unsuccessful. They maintain that the home life of Cully was the best and cannot understand what strange spell induced him to leave a happy home and loving wife.

SAW HIGH WATER AND GOT DUCKING

William Engelbert Rescued from Cold Water at Cincinnati by Two Police.

A LAUGHABLE INCIDENT

LOCAL MAN HAD LOST HIS HAT AND WAS TRYING TO GET ANOTHER ONE WHEN HE LOST HIS BALANCE.

William Engelbert, popularly known as "Ginger Bill", went to Cincinnati Sunday to see the great Ohio river, with its murky black waters spreading about the Queen city and surrounding country.

"Ginger Bill" saw what he wanted to see, and received something that was entirely unexpected, and something that makes him swear by the "all in all" that he will never go near the city on the Ohio again—and that was nothing more or less than a good ducking.

It all came about in this way: "Ginger" with a party of friends went to Cincinnati over the Panhandle. When the train reached the city and was slowly making its way over the lowlands which were filled with water, they stood on the back platform to see the sights. A strong wind was blowing and "Ginger" lost his hat. Not far ahead "Ginger" saw the helmet of a policeman floating in the water and standing on the lowered step he reached out to get it, and—

"Ush-Ush, helup-helup-wow-goshfrey moses take me out, the waters cold"—all this greeted the astonished friends of "Ginger" as they looked down at the bobbing head of their friend, just discernable above the rippling of the little waves. Ginger had his helmet, but two policemen close to the scene saw the helmet, and thinking that he was one of their brothers in dire distress, went to his assistance. Ginger closely hugging his cast off helmet was dragged to the railroad tracks, a saved man, "Wshew" and with it out came a goodly portion of the muddy waters, all from "Ginger", but still he was confronted with a difficulty, that of making his peace with the patrolmen. After much arguing with them, and assisted by his friends who had hurriedly left the train, "Ginger" was rescued from the blue coat's possession although they said they strongly tempted to give him a patrol ride for all their trouble.

"THE BLACK CROOK" FINE

Necessary Combinations for Good Show Were on Hand as Was Also a Large House.

A plot, a moral, good scenery, fairly good people and a large and very appreciative audience, served to make the appearance of "The Black Crook" at the Gennett last night, a pleasant one. The spectacular effects were especially good.

TRAMP WRITER IS DEAD

WAS BUT 38 YEARS OLD

"Josiah Flynt" Author of Stories of the "Underworld" Succumbs to Attack of Pneumonia at Kaiserhof Hotel in Chicago.

[Publishers' Press.]

Chicago, Jan. 21.—Josiah Flynt Willard, who as "Josiah Flynt" won a world-wide reputation as an author of stories of the "underworld" is dead of pneumonia at the Kaiserhof hotel.

The independence of convention so characteristic of his life manifested itself to his last day. Though his suffering brought him to his bed the middle of last week, he refused to see a physician or accept extra care until his case became hopeless.

Mr. Willard had been staying at the Kaiserhof for several months, while making a study of gambling in Chicago, for a series of articles he expected soon to publish.

Though only 38 years old at the time of his death, he had tramped in every civilized country on the globe, wearing the costume of the common laborers of whatever country he happened to be studying.

When not on the road he wrote of his adventures as a tramp. His works include: "Tramping with Tramps", "Powers that Prey", "The World of Graft", "The Little Brother" and "Notes of an Itinerant Policeman."

INSANITY WILL BE DEFENSE OF THAW

Murderer's Attorneys Will Depend Greatly on Testimony of Medical Experts.

TRIAL TO BEGIN TOMORROW

BECAUSE OF DELAY IN CONCLUDING ANOTHER CASE, THE HEARING OF WHITE'S SLAYER IS POSTPONED.

[Publishers' Press.]

New York, Jan. 21.—Because of the delay in concluding another case, the trial of Harry Kendall Thaw, charged with the murder of Stanford White, was this morning postponed until Wednesday. Thaw was brought across the "Bridge of Sighs," but remained in an ante-room while the court proceedings were arranged and the time of trial set.

It was intimated today for the first time, that the defense will be along the lines of emotional insanity. This was the inference from the remark of Lawyer Harbridge, counsel for Thaw, that the defense would call medical experts.

It is also learned that the district attorney believes that Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, wife of the defendant, will, on cross examination turn out to be the chief witness for the prosecution.

TILLMAN AGAIN IN A WAR OF WORDS

"Pitchfork" Senator is Stopped and the Senate Galerries Cleared

A TILT WITH CARMACK

TENNESSEE STATESMAN GAVE TILLMAN WORST TONGUE LASHING EVER HEARD IN NATIONAL CAPITAL.

[Publishers' Press.]

Washington, Jan. 21.—Apologies in open session of the senate late this afternoon by Mr. Tillman, (South Carolina) and Mr. Carmack, (Tennessee) prevented the probable arraignment of these two senators for violating the rules of congress.

The trouble was caused by Mr. Tillman's references to the Tennessee senator in a humorous characterization of a number of senators for the attitude they have taken on the Brownsville case.

At the conclusion of Mr. Tillman's remarks, which, in the main had been a violent definition of his attitude on the race question, and the vitriolic reply to a speech delivered several days ago by Mr. Spooner, the Tennessee senator entered the chamber. He stood in his place, immediately back of Mr. Tillman, who had resumed his seat. Speaking in a low and very audible voice, Mr. Carmack gave the South Carolinian the worst tongue lashing the chamber has ever heard.

Among other things, he said:

"The senator from South Carolina saw fit to allude to the fact that I had been defeated for re-election. It was a report so obvious, so easily within the most groveling controversial faculty, that I am not surprised that it should have been suggested to the intelligence of the senator from South Carolina.

"The senator from South Carolina did not need to lift his belly from the dust to attain from the height of that great rector.

"I believe it to be true, and I say with pride, that the fact of my service terminates is a matter of regret to nearly every senator upon this side of the chamber, and I believe to most of the senators upon the other side of the chamber. I doubt very much whether that could be truthfully said with respect to either side of the senator from South Carolina, were in my position.

"The Senator from South Carolina says that my spear is broken and that I have taken a garland of flowers upon that broken spear to the white house. Broken or unbroken, that spear has never been dipped in the filth of the gutter."

Mr. Tillman tried to secure recognition, but Mr. Teller, on whose time the Tennesseean had been talking, declined to permit it, when he saw that trouble might follow. Upon his motion the galleries were cleared and the hundreds of spectators who had crowded them all afternoon, were removed and the doors were closed.

It is also learned that the district attorney believes that Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, wife of the defendant, will, on cross examination turn out to be the chief witness for the prosecution.
