

assistants are able to show to the satisfaction of the jury that White actually renewed his attentions to Mrs. Thaw after the marriage ceremony had been performed, it may bring out some sympathy, but whether or not it would be sufficient to cause the jury to acquit, is extremely doubtful. In fact, the general belief tonight is that emotional insanity will be the plea of the defense, when it actually opens its side of the case and that any evidence regarding Mrs. Thaw's relations with White, will be presented simply to show that Thaw was not mentally responsible as the result of stories that had reached his ears when he fired the bullet that brought death into the body of the well known architect and man of the world.

Great Gulf Between Them.

The great gulf between Mrs. William Thaw and her two daughters, Mrs. Carnegie and the Countess of Yarmouth, was well demonstrated throughout the day. The young tress wife of the accused sat by the side of her mother-in-law, but she did not betray any evidences that she realized what it all meant. The Countess and Mrs. Carnegie followed the questioning of prospective jurors and their answers with an almost breathless attention, but Mrs. Harry K. Thaw spent a great deal of her time whispering to her friend, the other actress, Miss McKenzie, and criticizing the appearance of the female portion of the spectators.

BIDDING IS VERY SLOW

There is Little Demand for the Notes in the Settlement of the Hagerstown Bank Case.

The bidding on the notes that remain uncollected in the hands of J. A. Speckhier, in the settlement of the Hagerstown bank failure, has been by no means lively, and the few bids that have been presented are very small. It is not likely that the court will accept them and in this case there will be nothing to do but brand them "no good." Many of the notes are of years' standing.

J., to play for the title and a side bet of $1,000. Seven games are proposed, three to be played here, three at Paterson and one on neutral ground. Spalding rules are to govern the contests and a neutral referee must officiate. The Company G team won its twenty-first consecutive game here last night. The Crescents were defeated easily in a double header here Christmas day by the Gloversville team. The Company G team left today for a two weeks' trip through Northern New York and New England.

WAS A "BAGGAGE CAR"

Mrs. Hadley and Mr. and Mrs. Muey Did Not Ride in a Cattle Car as Was Stated.

The item appearing in the Palladium yesterday to the effect that Mrs. Hadley and Mr. and Mrs. Muey had come home from Cincinnati in a cattle car was not correct in every respect. It should have been "a baggage car" instead of "a cattle car." The item was handed into the Palladium by a person who was thought to be responsible.

AT LAST FINDS A HOME

Raymond Covey, of Cambridge City, Has Been Sent to Live with His Grandmother.

It is believed that little Raymond Covey, of Cambridge City, after being moved about from place to place, because of the disinclination of most everybody to have a consumptive patient on their hands, has at last secured a permanent home. Attorney Feemster of Cambridge City, who has been working hard to get the lad placed, forced the little fellow's father to take him to the home of his (the elder Covey's mother.) The township trustee will assist in caring for the unfortunate child.

LOSS OF LIFE OVER 2,000

SAYS VICE-CONSUL ORRET

United States' Representative at Jamaica, Sends Message Telling of the Earthquake—Puts Property Loss at Five Millions.

[Publishers' Press]

Washington, Jan. 23.—The state department this afternoon received a cable from Vice-Consul Orret at Jamaica, estimating the loss of life from the earthquake, at over 2,000, ad the fire loss at over $5,000,000. He says the loss by earthquake is impossible to estimate, because no building in the city of Kingston or surrounding district escaped.

The message is dated the 21st, at which time he said the shocks were still continuing.

BIG EVENT FOR BETHEL

'Possum Supper to be Given There Saturday Night—Special Rates on all Railroads.

The congregation of St. Andrew's church has under consideration the erection of a new school building on the site of the present structure at the corner of Fifth and South C streets. It is also probable that a number of improvements will be made in the church and parish house. The report of Father Roell for the past year shows that the church is in a very prosperous condition.

ST. ANDREW'S MAY ERECT NEW SCHOOL BUILDING

Although suffering a bitter defeat in the basket ball game last Friday night with Rose Poly the Quakers are making the best of it, and are hard at practice this week. The weakness in throwing goals as evidenced in Friday night's game will be remedied before the varsity again plays any Indiana school, as three nights each week will be given entirely to goal throwing.

Some question has arisen in the minds of a few rooters and as well as players, whether the system of switching the men into strange positions works to the best advantage.

Last Friday night, Hotchkiss, under ordinary conditions, a crack forward, held down a guard position, and although he played the position to a good advantage, his work was not what it could have been, had he been placed in a position with which he was acquainted.

The system has tended to make the players feel like "men without a country" and may be abandoned.

RICHMOND A BUSY CENTER

Of the Trains which Pass Fourteenth Street, Where They are Registered, Ninety are Freight and Thirty are Passengers.

Few people in Richmond appreciate the fact that this city is one of the busiest railroad centers in the state. Although but few different railroads enter the city, the number of trains constantly going in and out gives evidence of the fact that some one is working and that, all the time. The average number of Pennsylvania trains passing Fourteenth street, the point at which all are registered, is 150 daily. Of this number 90 are freight trains, thirty passengers, while the remaining twenty-two are light engines traveling between the east end yards and the shops. In addition to these the G. R. & I. runs three passengers and three freight trains each day.

TICKETS AND MISCELLANEOUS

The habit of pampering books is characteristic vice of the age, and we are glad to find Sir Lauder Brunton, in the Lancet, writing in a way that shows him to harbor no weakness of that kind. Sir Lauder has discovered that dust is often responsible for so-called cold in the head. Whenever he turned over the books in his library he found that a cold followed. His remedy is to sponge the top of a book with a solution of carbolic acid before opening it.—London News.

An Automobile House.

What is asserted to be the only automobile house in the country is now in Chicago. It has a parlor, bedroom and kitchen, a no water heating system and a gasoline range, along with all the other comforts of home. It is propelled by a three cylinder gasoline motor, set in motion by levers, so that all the owner has to do when he is tired of one set of scenery, climate or neighborhood is to place himself in an easy chair in his parlor, turn on a lever and start for pastures new.
