

ers and a shirt into a rope which he wound round his neck.

Mrs. Thaw caught a glimpse of the lifeless form and hurried upstairs with whiteened lips and frightened eyes. Her paleness brought forth a query from Thaw as to what had happened, and when he heard of the occurrence his smile faded and he looked sad for a few minutes. He brightened up considerably, however, when Mrs. Thaw agreed with him that it would not be long before the jury was complete.

Eleventh Juror Finally Secured.

The monotonous routine of examining the tamen continued during the afternoon session and one after another was excused for various causes or because of challenges by the attorneys. Finally, when it began to look as though the court would have to be satisfied with but one juror as the result of the day's work, the eleventh juror was secured.

The man chosen was Henry I. Kleinberger, 48, married, a silk merchant, at 473 Broadway, living at 1873 Seventh avenue. His hair is slightly gray, with a wisp, contrary to its color, standing up on top. He had a brown mustache and clear complexion. The clean shaven lower jaw is small and well shaped. He wears glasses and has a habit of chewing at the ends of his mustache.

Thaw Makes an Admission.

All doubt that Thaw's defense to the charge of murdering White will be justification under the so-called "unwritten law" was removed today by the prisoner himself.

The plea of "temporary insanity" will be only the cold, legal formality required by the statute that does not recognize any justification of murder until the slayer has his "back to the wall," until he is himself in imminent danger of death.

The insanity plea will be merely the peg on which to hang an appeal to the sympathies of the jury, and the effort to obtain Thaw's release will be made solely on the ground that he believed that Stanford White's action toward his wife were such as to justify the shooting in the minds of men of honor. It was just after the noon recess that Thaw made his significant admission.

"If we get another man like Dennee on the jury," he said, "I will be absolutely vindicated. Men from the South know a thing or two about a man's duty to his wife."

Artists Ordered from Court.

Just when a bombshell into the camp of newspaper artists in the court room by announcing through the court officers that no more sketches be made during the trial. This was a complete surprise. Artists from most of the principal cities of the east have been in court from day to day from the beginning of the trial and were not restricted in any way whatever.

There was a wild story going the rounds of the court building to the effect that there was a fund of $100,000 for use in corrupting a juror. District Attorney Jerome began investigation of the rumor that several talesmen were "approached."

Talesmen on the new panel sworn for examination were asked if they were approached by any person since they were drawn on this case. Two talesmen said one or two persons known to them spoke about the case in the corridors of the building.

Every effort is being made to prevent jurors or talesmen from being placed in any position where they may be subjected to influences that would affect their verdict.

Talesmen are being shadowed by detectives and jurors already selected are closely guarded. Any move to tamper with a juror would undoubtedly be frustrated, for not one moment from the time of the juror's selection until the finding of the verdict will he be allowed out of the sight of watchmen.

INGLES AND JESTS.

Her Fate.

There was a young lady named Kate, Who always was very late. When asked why she did it She said 'twas to rid it (Her mind) of forgetting her dates. She took up a memory grind, Shakespeare and the rhythmic mind. She studied Queen Catherine and Lady Macbeth and sweet Juliet's death. And when she got through—oh, happy, sweet Kate, Had forgot to forget forgetting her dates! —Chicago News.

Condition Lacking.

Lawyer—Madam, I think that when your husband takes his sober second thought he will— Fair Client—Mr. Sharpe, he has never had his second sober thought yet!—Sketch.

Skiddoo.

She said her age was twenty-three. And though we all did disagree And said she looked like thirty-three. Still we replied as she said, "Twenty-three—yes, sir!"—Detroit Tribune.

Quite a Difference.

"Did Howard's rich uncle's death make much difference in his style of living?" "Decidedly yes. He changed from hardpan to Panhard."—Judge.

Poor Fool.

The masher's day is a very strange hope With girls to have his fling. Though he may think he knows the ropes, They'll get him on a string. —Philadelphia Press.

Belief.

"He believes thoroughly in himself," said the admiring friend. "Yes," answered Miss Cayenne. "Some people are so credulous."—Washington Star.

Some People.

I stung you a very strange song. And the fact is just as I cite— Some people will stop at no wrong Just to make other people do right!

Earlham vs. Kibbeys.

The Earlham basketball team will meet the Kibbeys in a practice game in the Earlham gymnasium this evening.

Use artificial gas for light and heat.

BALL PLAYER MARRIES WIFE FOR CLAUDE BERRY

Well Known Muncie Catcher Came Here Yesterday and Was Wedded to Miss Kitting, of Lynn, at the Christian Church Parsonage.

Claude E. Berry, the Muncie, Ind., baseball player, who but recently signed with the Philadelphia Americans for the coming season, yesterday signed another document, and as the direct result, there is now a Mrs. Berry. Berry and Pearl May Ketting of Lynn, journeyed to Richmond yesterday afternoon and were married last night at the home of Rev. S. W. Trautman on South Thirteenth street. They left immediately for Muncie.

Berry is a catcher and has made good on several minor league teams, and this year he received a flattering offer from Connie Mack, manager of the Philadelphia Americans, and soon Berry's signature was affixed to the document which made him a Quaker.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Berry are very attractive people and are both widely known in their individual communities.

Mrs. Berry vowed last night that she would love, honor, cherish, obey and in case necessity demanded, root for her husband with all her might and main on the side lines, while he helped win championships.

"But, Franz, the ring you gave me won't fit on any of my fingers." "Well, isn't that too bad! I suppose I'll have to get a new girl."—Meggen dorfer Blatter.

Onward and Upward.

"Is Mike Clancy here?" asked the visitor to the quarry just after the premature explosion. "No, sir," replied Costigan. "He's gone." "For good?" "Well, sor, he went in that direction."—Tit-Bits.

High Time.

Mother (to daughter whose father goes around the corner every time she opens the piano)—Emily, you must stop practicing. Your father's nose already shows signs of it.—Translated For Transatlantic Tales From Filegende Blatter.

The Paradoxical Poet.

Whenever I'm feeling uplifted and gay, Clear brained and witty and well and strong, When I greet with a smile the beginnings of day, It's then I can write a pathetic song: It's then I can do something fearful and sad. A poem that schoolgirls will cut out and keep. So when I feel good I am doubly glad, For then I am sure I can make folks weep.

Whenever I'm feeling downhearted and blue, Nervous and peevish and tired and wrong, When I wish I could die ere the day wears through, It's then I can write a humorous song. For the rhymes are forced, and the thoughts are mad, And I thrash my brain and get only chaff. So when I feel bad I am almost glad, For then I am sure I can make folks laugh.

But whether I'm feeling happy or ill, Nervous or merry or healthy or blue, Tired or rested or gay, I can still Write sonnets and songs of my love for you! Rondeau or triolet, lay or ballade, My heart sings always, in every style. So bad, sad or mad, I am always glad, For I always know I can win your smile. —Cleveland Leader.

Playing seems a much more righteous act when you are the flayer than it does when you are called on to take a turn as the flayer.

Powder Mill Explosion.

Fontana. The press mill of the Lafin & Rand Powder company, near here, was destroyed by an explosion. Jake Garner, 25, and Max Brandt, 27, the only employees in the mill at the time, were blown to atoms. The cause of the explosion is not known.

Reward for Ralsuli's Head.

Tangier, Jan. 30.—A brother of Zella, the insurgent chief, in whose fortress Ralsuli sought refuge, and several of Ralsuli's chiefs tendered their submission to the government. It is reported that the sultan has offered a large reward for the head.

Artificial gas, the 20th Century fuel.

Address by Charles.

The City Engineer, Fred Charles, will address the Mathematical society of Earlham tonight. His subject will be "Municipal Engineering."

CASTORIA. The Kind You Have Always Bought Bears Signature of P. H. H. H.

SMOOT PLEADS FOR AN EARLY HEARING

Utah Senator Urges Senate to Vote on His Case as Soon as Possible.

REQUEST WAS GRANTED

MANY SENATORS WHO HAD CONTEMPLATED SPEAKING WILL NOT DO SO—IT IS THOUGHT SMOOT WILL WIN OUT

[Publishers' Press.]

Washington, Jan. 30.—Senators were today treated to the novel spectacle of Reed Smoot of Utah pleading with them not to place any obstacles in the way of an early vote on the question whether he is entitled to his seat or should be removed.

A request for an agreement to vote at four o'clock February 20, made by Chairman Burrows, met with no objection aside from the demand of Mr. Allison that it should not interfere with the consideration of appropriation bills. A demurrer brought an objection to the agreement, which was removed upon the delivery of a brief plea by the senator who has been conspicuously before the country for several years, and the agreement made.

It had been expected that a number of speeches would be delivered before a vote could be secured. Senators Foraker, Knox, Beveridge, Bailey and other members of the committee on privileges and elections, contemplated at the opening of the session presenting their views. It is considered doubtful now whether there will be any further discussion of the case other than a running fire of debate on the 20th in the four hours preceding the taking of the vote.

The resolution now before the senate sets forth that Smoot is not entitled to his seat and that he should be excluded. This would require merely a majority vote to carry. Many senators contend that the proper action to take would be that of expulsion. This would require a two-thirds vote to carry.

As between the two, Senator Smoot's friends favor the latter method. It is the impression that the Utah senator will win out by a handsome vote. It is said that an amendment calling for expulsion will be adopted and then the whole resolution defeated.

PRETTY HOME WEDDING

TOOK PLACE LAST NIGHT

Mr. Carl O. Mayer and Miss Ada C. Turner Were Married at the Home of the Bride—The Rev. J. Beck Officiated.

One of the prettiest home weddings of the winter was that last night at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Turner, 235 South Ninth street, when their daughter, Miss Ada C. Mayer, was married to Mr. Carl O. Mayer. The Rev. J. Beck performed the impressive ceremony of the Trinity Lutheran church. The bride was very pretty in white silk crepe de chene. The decorations in the parlor, where the wedding took place, were of white and green, and this scheme was also carried out in the dining room, where the supper was served. The immediate friends and relatives of the bride and groom were present. The wedding march was played by Miss Edna Deuker.

Seated at the bride's table besides Mr. and Mrs. Mayer were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Mayer, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Beck, Mrs. Lucretia Turner, Mrs. C. Snyder, Miss Mary Mayer, Miss Alma Turner, Mr. Frank Remmer and Mr. Clem Wolfe. The out of town guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Will Snyder of Indianapolis and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mayer of Dayton.

The groom is a plumber being associated with Mr. Meerhoff. The bride is a member of the Trinity Lutheran choir and a very estimable young woman. They have the best wishes of a legion of friends.

SAMUEL CRAWFORD DEAD

Well Known Colored Resident of Milton Passed Away at the Age of 73 Years.

Milton, Ind., Jan. 30. (Spl.)—Samuel Crawford, a well known colored resident, died this morning at the age of 73 years. He was a veteran of the Civil war, having served with the 23rd Regiment, United States Volunteers. He leaves a wife, a son and a daughter. The funeral will be held Friday morning at the home.

Oliver's Backer.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 30.—Superintendent Stevens of the department of public works says he agreed to finance the operations of W. J. Oliver, whose bid for digging the Panama canal was the lowest. "I am the financial backer of Mr. Oliver," said Stevens. "That's about all there is to it. I have agreed to finance him, and am perfectly confident that he will carry out all his obligations."—nt.

The Palladium gives a dollar each week for the best piece of news "tipped off" to it.

PEOPLE OF THE DAY

The Colored Soldiers' Champion. Senator Joseph Benson Foraker of Ohio, sometimes called "Fire Alarm," who has taken up the cudgels in defense of the discharged colored soldiers, has himself seen service as a private in the army of Uncle Sam. He is now serving his second term as a senator and has twice been governor of Ohio. Referring to the action of the president in sending to Texas to secure further evidence against the colored men, a congressional friend of the senator said the other day:

JOSEPH B. FORAKER.

"It reminds me of an incident that happened when Senator Foraker was governor of Ohio.

"The Charleston earthquake happened then. Governor Foraker read of it in the papers and instantly wired to the mayor of Charleston, 'Do you need tents?' The mayor replied emphatically that he did. Thereupon Foraker called up the adjutant general of the Ohio national guard and ordered him to ship to Charleston all the tents he could lay his hands on.

"But, governor," said the adjutant general, "hadn't we better look up the law first and find out if it is legal to send the national guard tents out of the state?"

"Sure," replied Foraker. "Look up the law by all means, but don't do it until after you have sent the tents." "The view which the president takes of the evidence seems to be a good deal like the view which Foraker then took of the law."

Without Regret.

Private John Allen blew into the lobby of the house of representatives and met Speaker Cannon.

"Howdy, Joe?" he said. "Howdy, John?"

"You are not as young as you used to be, Joe, but you are well preserved." "Not as well preserved as you are, John, but I'm not complaining."

"I should think not," said the private, looking the speaker over. "Even a man in your affluent circumstances has no right to complain when he has just had his salary raised $4,000 a year."

"John," replied the speaker impressively as he placed his hand on the private's shoulder—"John, the true Christian soldier takes what is coming to him without murmur or regret."

The Speaker's Eye.

Congressman Frank O. Lowden, who succeeds Robert H. Hays, he is getting along nicely in Washington. "I can find my way now," he says, "from my hotel to the capitol without the aid of a guide, and I can also make my way around the building very well. I have been told that about the hardest thing to locate in Washington is the speaker's eye. They tell me that if I can once get a line on that my future will be assured."

Nebogetoff's Sentence. Admiral Nicolai Nebogetoff, the Russian admiral who was sentenced to death for surrendering his ships in the battle of the Sea of Japan, was not convicted because of cowardice.

Nebogetoff's surrender, according to the evidence of impartial witnesses, was an act of humanity. He could have gone down with flags flying and hands playing and sacrificed the lives of a thousand men for sentiment, but he preferred to take the practical view and accept the inevitable.

ADMIRAL NEBOGETOFF.

When he did so, however, he knew, as every Russian officer knows, the rule of his service that an officer who surrenders a Russian fortress or a Russian ship forfeits his life by the act. Extenuating facts or circumstances have nothing to do with the case and are not pleadable at the court martial. The act of surrender is a forfeiture of the officer's life.

The enforcement of this rule in most cases is not observed. It is merely made an occasion for the czar to display his clemency by returning to the officer the life he has forfeited to his country. It will presumably be so with Nebogetoff.

Mrs. H. W. Carman entertained the members of the Priscilla club at her home on Ridge street yesterday afternoon. The usual program of work and pleasure was carried out, deviated by the enjoyment of a dainty luncheon.

'Phone or write a card to the Palladium of the little piece of news your neighbor told you and get your name in the news "tip" contest for this week.

Artificial gas, the 20th Century fuel.

PENINSULAR.

Pride of the Home.

Every One Sold and Set Up on a Guarantee.

JONES HARDWARE CO.

Classified Ads.

WANTED.

WANTED—Work by an elderly lady. Mrs. Sarah M. Mills, 817 North 14th street. 31-2t

WANTED—Office boy at the Palladium. Start to work February 11. 29-3t

WANTED—A woman to do general housework. 223 North Fourteenth. 29-3t

WANTED—A place to do housework in a small family. Address box 107 Centerville, Ind. 30-2t

WANTED—Girl for office. Apply to Chenoweth & Dykeman, dentists, Masonic building. 29-3t

WANTED—A girl for general housework that can go home at night. Call at 217 North Thirteenth street or phone 1528. 31-3t

WANTED—Your carpets and rugs to clean after Feb. 1. Richmond House Cleaning Co. Phones: Home 1278; Bell 496-W. 17-114

WANTED—200 wood choppers for chopping 4 ft. hard wood at $1.15 per cord. Steady work during the year. Board $3.50 per week. Good men make $2.50 per day. Take Grand Rapids & Indiana Railway to Simons or Westwood, Michigan. Antrim Iron Co., Mancelona, Mich. 14-1t

FOR SALE.

Richmond property a specialty. Porterfield, Kelly Block. Phone 379. 31-1t

FOR SALE—Six dining room chairs and glass door cupboard. Phone 1118. 31-1t

FOR SALE—25 head of sheep, call or address Z. H. Myers, Centerville, Ind., R. R. 11, box 103. 31-3t

FOR SALE—A house and lot at Abington. 11 rooms, store room. Will sell at a bargain. Apply to J. D. Osborn, Centerville, R. R. 11. 31-2t

FOR SALE—Base Burner. 332 Randolph street. 30-2t

FOR SALE—Flour mill in Greenwood, Mo., or exchange for income property. N. B. Miller, New Paris, O., R. R. No. 2. 27-6t

FOR SALE—Complete butcher outfit. Call 1132 Main street. 19-1t

FOR SALE—1200 shares of Tina H. Gold Mining Co., stock. Mines located in Curry County, Oregon. Address J. O. Weinstrom, Millers, Nevada. 12-20t.

FOR SALE—The counter and large wall show cases from Hirst's jewelry store, for sale at C. B. Hunt's storage room, over grocery, 603 Main street. 23-1t

Everybody buys property from Woodhurst. 913 Main St. Telephone 491. 19-1t

FOR RENT.

FOR RENT—Furnished rooms, electric light, steam heat, for gentlemen only, at the Grand. 14-1t

FOR RENT—5 room house furnished complete for house keeping in Glen View. Address B. P. this office. 31-1t

FOR RENT—Two furnished rooms for light house keeping. Phone 1498. 31-2t

LOST.

LOST—Small gold signet pin between Garfield school and 416 South Ninth street. Finder please return to 416 South Ninth street and receive reward. 31-3t

LOST—On Main street, between Seventh and Tenth streets a five dollar bill. Finder please leave with the J. W. Coe Printing Co., and receive reward. 30-3t

LOST—A ten dollar bill, either in the lobby or the wardrobe of the Westcott hotel. Return to the desk and receive reward.

Money Loaned.

Low Rates, easy terms. Thompson's Loan and Real Estate Agency. Wide Stairs, 710 Main street. 13-thu&Fri-t

FOR SALE.

A good house with bath, also a double house and 9 acres of land, both in Fountain City, Ind. See AL. H. HUNT, 7 N. 9th St., Richmond, Ind.

For Merchants delivery or light hauling of all kinds call on DON H. DRAPER, at Draper's store 610 Main street or phone 1498. Prompt Work Guaranteed.

SIRES AND SONS.

Prince Ferdinand of Bulgaria has, it is said, decided to visit New York this winter.

The governor of Hongkong, Sir Matthew Nathan, is the only member of the House of Commons in important office in Great Britain's colonies.

Hoke Smith, the new governor of Georgia, had the finest saddle horse in Washington when he was secretary of the interior, and he still rides every day.

William E. Sanderson, the new Republican mayor of Springfield, Mass., is a "boss" in the yards of the Wason company, car manufacturers, and has worked for day wages all his life.

Representative Warren Keifer, who was speaker of the house twenty-five years ago, offends the sensibilities of his fellow members of congress by wearing a dress suit morning, noon and night.

For the roll call the names of Massachusetts' junior senator is now printed Winthrop M. Crane instead of W. Murray Crane, as formerly. Philander Chase Knox uses his full name, but most of the senators follow the old custom of abbreviation.

Samuel G. Ward, formerly a Boston banker and Ralph Waldo Emerson's most intimate friend, is still living in Washington. He is one of two survivors of the Harvard class of 1836 and is one of three survivors of the Boston Latin school class of 1827.

John Cripps Wickliff Beckham of Kentucky at the age of thirty-seven is the youngest senator elect in the United States.

At the country, thought at the same time he is the oldest governor in the point of service, having served Kentucky in that capacity for seven years.

Congressman J. Adam Bede of Minnesota was chatting with a friend and incidentally mentioned that last summer he had visited Ithaca and some other towns in Michigan. "What were you doing there?" asked his friend. "Keeping the people from moving away. They said if I'd come up and entertain 'em they'd stay. They gave me my price, and I understand the town is still there."

THE WRITERS.

Alphonse Daudet is said to have received for "Sapho," published in 1884, the record price of over $200,000.

Joaquin Miller, the "poet of the Sierras," called on the president and tried to interest him in a plan for a great world's fair for Washington in 1914.

Louis N. Parker, the dramatist, was born in France. His father was an American, his mother an Englishwoman. His first language was Italian, and he was educated in Germany.

George Bernard Shaw, who is now a married man, once described himself in this way: "I am a bachelor, an Irishman, a vegetarian, an atheist, a teetotaler, a fanatic, a humorist, a fluent liar, a social democrat, a lecturer and debater, a lover of music, a fierce opponent of the present status of women and an insister on the seriousness of art."

THEY ALL TAKE OFF THEIR HAT When they see it is Peninsular

FOR SALE.

Very desirable West Side residence at northwest corner of Main and West Seventh street. W. H. Bradbury & Son. 1-8 1/2 Scott Block.

WM. WAKING Plumber and Gas Fitter Bicycles and Sundries Phone 1482. 406 Main St.

CABINET MAKER AND REPAIRER Make your old broken furniture like new and make new if you want it. S. A. LOTT. 9 South 6th. Phone 1219

GIB H. SCOTT INVESTMENTS REAL ESTATE RENTALS LOANS and General Brokerage 707 Main St. RICHMOND, IND.

Moore & Ogborn Write Fire and Tornado Insurance. We will bond you. Loans from $100 to $2,500. Phone Home 1589, Bell 53 R. ROOM 161, O. O. F. BUILDING.

H. R. DOWNING & SON UNDERTAKERS 16 N. 8th St., Richmond, Ind. Both Phones 75

Richmond Monument Co. 33 North Eighth St. Phone 1487 Richmond, Ind.

At