WEATHER IS NO BAR TO CIRCUS CROWD

Large Crowd Out for Afternoon Performance of Barnum & Bailey.

THE PARADE WAS MISSED.

HOWEVER, THIS FEATURE IS ATONED FOR IN THE QUALITY OF THE PERFORMANCE—"DIP OF DEATH" IS SENSATIONAL.

Despite the fact that the "gentle" spring weather today was suggestive of polar bears and arctic expeditions, there was an immense crowd attending the afternoon performance of the Barnum and Bailey show, "the greatest on earth." Hundreds of people from all over this part of the country were in the city today. The only thing missing was the parade.

That time honored feature of the circus is now obsolete. It has gone down before the march of progress. The old glamor of the crash of rapid fire circus bands, the rumbling of the cage wagons, the antics of the clown in his pony cart, the awkward progress of the elephants with their gaudy trappings and the soul rending shrieks of the calliope—all of these were missing and were missed.

But the show. It is really and truly a circus. There is pink lemonade, loud-mouthed freak show "barkers," peanut vendors and just miles and miles of canvass. There will be another big crowd at the show tonight. Owing to the fact that the paraphernalia used in the "Dip of Death" and the "ski-sailing" acts is quite cumbersome, these two nerve-thrilling, spine-shivering acts will be put on first tonight and to see these two acts it will be necessary for those who attend to be on hand promptly when the show opens.

From the grand parade, the pageant of the nations, at the beginning, until the exciting hippodrome races, which concluded the performance, there was one continuous conglomeration of sights which thoroughly taxed the attention of the hundreds of spectators who filled the great tent at the afternoon performance.

The pageant was the most gorgeous spectacle that has ever been presented by any circus aggregation. The Barnum and Bailey shows enjoy one advantage in this effect of splendor, they give no street parade and therefore, the costumes, performers, paraphernalia and other equipment does not suffer from the unnecessary display. Everything and everybody looks clean and fresh and the performance starts with a vigor which is greatly appreciated by the spectators.

It would be next to an impossibility to particularize in a review of the performance. There was just enough of everything to be satisfying and give one the feeling that the money's worth had been received.

The feature of the show, of course, is Miss Isabelle Butler, in her daring act entitled "The Dip of Death." Truly has it been named. The "loop-the-loop" and kindred acts were considered an invitation to death, but Miss Butler made the hundreds of spectators shudder and shut their eyes hoping for the best.

"Are you ready?" shouted the announcer.

"All ready," called Miss Butler, seated in an auto at the top of the tent.

An attendant cut a rope, and whizz—bang—bang! and it was all over Miss Butler had stared death in the face and landed safely again in the land of the living. She traversed a half circle in an auto, which was attached to a track, then the machine plunged into space, made a turn and landed on another half moon arrangement and sped its occupant to safety. As the daring performer was lifted from the car the cheers of the hundreds applauded her wonderful act. It was truly marvelous.

Another sensational feature is the act of Capt. Carl Howelsen, which is called "Ski-Sailing."

Kidney complaint kills more people than any other disease. This is due to the disease being so insidious that it gets a good hold on the system before it is recognized. Foley's Kidney Cure will prevent the development of fatal disease if taken in time.

A. G. Luker & Co.

The Arctic Has Attractions. "I cannot imagine," said the woman with the short sleeves, "why in the world Eskimos live in their country after they have learned what is to be had and seen in civilized places. Just think! They have no theaters, no hotels, no trains, no street cars, no shops, no schools, no churches, no clubs, no yachts, no scandals—they positively have nothing that we have."

"Possibly that is the reason they stay where they are," ventured the man with the dinner jacket.—Judge.

A Contrast. That was a vivid and popular bit of description in which the vaudeville performer on the stage referred to the official at the front entrance of the theater as the "eight-dollar-a-week man at the door who wears a thousand dollars' worth of gold buttons."

Cause For Celebration. Mrs. De Style—I met Mrs. Schopper at a bargain sale today; said she was celebrating her silver anniversary. Mrs. Gunbusta—Is she married twenty-five years? De Style—No, but her husband gave her $25.—New York Press.

THE EXPECTED SUPPORT IS NOT FORTHCOMING

Separation of the Marianas Is Now Certain.

TOM JOHNSON'S DAUGHTER.

New York, May 11.—Separation between Mrs. Bessie Johnson Mariana, daughter of Mayor Tom Johnson, of Cleveland and Frederick Mariana, is now certain. There is little chance of reconciliation. While she had no illusions of wealth of Mariana, she expected him to support her modestly and nothing more. On the other hand, he expected her to support him lavishly. Her ideas are based on the sound American plan that it is a man's duty to support his family and not vice versa.

FRISCO CAR STRIKE IS FIGHT TO FINISH

Neither Side Willing to Accept Arbitration and No Settlement in Sight.

POLICE TRY EXPERIMENT.

WHEN THE MOUNTED ESCORT WAS WITHDRAWN, MISSILES WERE HURLED FROM THE BUILDINGS.

San Francisco, Cal., May 11.—The street railway strike has developed into a fight to a finish. Neither side is willing to accept arbitration, and the citizens' committee appointed to secure industrial peace has been unable to find any basis of settlement. It has been demonstrated that the present police force is inadequate and that stronger measures will be necessary to insure a general resumption of service if the struggle is conducted on present lines.

The wish of the United Railroads officials was to run a string of cars from the barns at Oak and Broderick, through the burned district and north on Market street to the ferry building, but the consent of the police department could not be obtained. As a compromise two cars were twice run as far into the burned district as Larkin street.

On the first trip mounted police acted as outriders and more than a score of patrolmen rode in automobiles, but no violence was offered by the crowds. On the second trip the mounted officers were withdrawn as an experiment to determine the temper of the crowd. Missiles were hurled from buildings and several persons were injured.

Assistant President Mulally said he had several hundred strike breakers, motormen and conductors, quartered in the company's barns and that they are competent to operate practically the entire street car system. Mayor Schmitz said the police department is willing to cope with the situation.

Chief of Police Dinan said his men will preserve order.

Meantime the population of San Francisco is deprived of street car service, subjected to the alternative of walking or paying five prices for an execrable wagon service.

LEARNING TO SHOOT.

A Simple Rifle Target and the Way to Practice.

The first moving target that I would recommend is one that is simplicity itself and yet, with the assistance of a gentle sloping hill and a friend to take turns with you, will be of great value and benefit. One of the most successful deer hunters I know trained this way, and you will readily see the good points of this practice on trial of it. Secure half a dozen barrel heads for your partner. Have him take a position at the top of the hill and roll these heads down the slope diagonally. At first it will be best to select a fairly smooth slope and have the targets roll down at a medium rate. At fifty to seventy-five yards take your position, according to your gun and ammunition. If it is a 22, a somewhat smaller target might be used at a little shorter distance. At your signal one of these targets is started on its journey. As it starts bring the gun to the shoulder, taking aim and swinging with the moving object. Always aim to hit the center of the object. You will find that the eye naturally seeks the center, just as it is nature for one to see the front sight through the center of the peep. Do not attempt to hold your gun at a point the target will pass and try to pull the trigger while it passes, but pull when the aim has been secured, just as when firing at a stationary object.—Outer's Book.

Where the "Brave" Excelled. Bloodthirsty, vindictive, treacherous, crafty, scornful of suffering, brave unto death when at bay, more cunning than the fox and of infinite patience on the trail, the Indian has proved more than a match for the whites in the jungle. It is certain that more whites than savages have perished in forest fighting. But in a set battle the red man is without steadfastness and perseverance. The least reverse disheartens him. After the first mad rush his purpose wanes, and the slightest check is apt to dispirit his capricious mind.—Lynn Tew Sprague in Outing Magazine.

VAPOR FLOAT HORN WILL BE IN BOX

Popular Local Pitcher Is to Start the Trouble With White Sox on Sunday.

COLD IS A DRAWBACK.

NEW BLUE COATS RECEIVED BY THE QUAKERS, CUT LIKE SMOKING JACKETS, PRESENT A VERY SASSY FRONT.

The graceful grass blades at Athletic park, feeble from a long struggle with the ice-laden zephyrs of gentle spring, will get another set back Sunday afternoon when crushed under the pedal coverings of hundreds of restless base ball bugs, called "fanatics" by some authorities and "fans" by others. Our demon athletes will be sickened on the Panhandle White Sox of Columbus, O. As the Quakers are near champions and the White Sox are real for sure champs much doings may be looked for.

The locals are in mid-season form with the exception that the cracked ice atmosphere has not yet permitted them to have their hair cropped off at the roots. Manager Jessup will receive bids from local hair artists for this contract as soon as the weather permits. If old man Winter is not given a decent and final burial soon it will be necessary to supply our demons with football head coverings and ear muffs.

Horn Will Start It.

Mr. B. Horn, inventor of the vapor float and other minor shams, will be placed on the firing line to open the festivities in which the White Sox will assist. He is expected to be the human puzzle. If the Sox guess the answer, Mr. Rodenbach, L. L. D., who is a Purdue university graduate and civic expert, will be substituted. Manager Jessup will probably be seen behind the bat. Jessup has about recovered from the effects of the accident he received to his left prop at Portland and the fans will be ready with the glad hand and big noise if the crack little athlete gets into the game.

Our athletes received further acquisitions to their wardrobes today. Said acquisitions are becoming blue coats, cut like smoking jackets but unfortunately not made like an overcoat. These coats are trimmed with grey and when resting on the manly forms of our demons, present a very sassy front.

"DRAWING THE LONG BOW."

Some Remarkable Exploits Credited to Shooters of Arrows.

The expression "drawing a long bow" does not of necessity mean the telling of a falsehood. It sometimes refers to a wonderful story which may be true enough, but which is so marvelous as to require a firm trust in the veracity of the narrator to enable the hearer to believe it. Some of the longest bows of this sort have been drawn about bows and arrows.

These stories began long ago. Virgil in the "Aeneid" tells of four archers who were shooting for a prize, the mark being a pigeon tied by a cord to the mast of a ship. The first man hit the mast, the second cut the cord, and the third shot the pigeon as it flew away. The fourth archer, having nothing left to shoot, drew his bow and sent his arrow flying toward the sky with such speed that the friction of the air set the feathers on fire, and it swept on like a meteor to disappear in the clouds.

The stories told of Robin Hood's archery, illustrated by his wonderful performance as Locksley in Scott's "Ivanhoe" are also a decided strain upon modern credulity. The famous story of William Tell, doubted by many persons, is believed by others to have a foundation of fact. There was a Dane named Foke of whom the same story is told, and William of Clondesley, an Englishman, is said to have shot an apple from his son's head merely to show his expertness.

Most stories of bows and arrows relate to the accurate aim of the archer, but a Frenchman, Blaise de Vigenere, one of the shows the tremendous force with which an arrow may be propelled if the bow be strong and long enough. According to his own account of the matter, he saw Barbarossa, a Turk, admiral of a ship called the Grand Solymen, send an arrow from his bow right through a cannon ball.

Whether the cannon ball had a hole through it or not he neglects to inform us, probably not considering so trifling a matter worth mention.

Perhaps the most astounding of all stories about arrow shooting is that of the Indians that used to inhabit Florida. It is said that a group of them would form a circle, then one would throw an ear of Indian corn into the air. The rest would shoot at it and shell it of every grain before it fell to the ground. Sometimes the arrows would strike it so hard and fast that it would remain suspended in the air for several minutes, and the cob never fell until the last grain had been shot away.

It is such stories as this which fully justify the use to which the expression "drawing the long bow" is sometimes put.—Chicago News.

WILL INVESTIGATE THE EFFECT OF CIGARETTES

Boys at the High School Want To Be "Shown."

HIT BY JUDGE BROWN.

A number of students at high school have taken exception to the opinion expressed by Judge Brown of Salt Lake City, to the effect that boys smoking cigarettes do not make as good grades as those who do not use tobacco and they have appointed a committee to investigate the situation. The committee will make a thorough examination of the record of grades kept by Principal Ellabarger and will then figure the average of those smoking cigarettes and see how it compares with those who do not indulge. The committee which will do the work are all sophomores, as follows: Fred Crowe, Karl Allison and Phares Hiatt. Two use cigarettes and the other does not. The report of the committee is awaited with much interest by the student body and teachers.

Judge Brown spoke at the high school during the past week and he did not handle many of the modern high school lads kindly. He criticized their large trousers, cigarette smoking and several other practices which to the average layman seem freakish. Judge Brown is a juvenile jurist of note, and for this reason his remarks had more than ordinary weight.

The late Professor Jowett had a curious way of commenting on the work that was brought to him by students. On one occasion he was shown a set of Greek verses. After looking them over carefully he glanced up rather blankly and said to the author, "Have you any taste for mathematics?"

MAKES A THIRD TRIP; WIFE NOT ON HAND

Tom Wiggs Says He Will Not Come Again.

IS GOING TO MOVE TO OHIO.

Tom Wiggs of Fountain City made his third and last visit to the court house today for the purpose of being divorced. Mrs. Wiggs, who brought the suit, for the third time failed to put in an appearance. Mr. Wiggs is disgusted and discouraged. In the future if Mrs. Wiggs desires to secure a divorce she must do so without the co-operation of her husband.

Mrs. Wiggs now resides in Rush county. She has a divorce suit pending as the three times it has been called for hearing she has neglected to use cigarettes and the other does not. The report of the committee is awaited with much interest by the student body and teachers.

"It looks that way, but I want one," replied Mr. Wiggs grimly.

"This is my third and last trip to Richmond for the purpose of getting a divorce," he continued. "I am going to move to Greensboro, O., so it won't do any good for the sheriff to summon me here again to appear in the divorce case. I will be a resident of Ohio and I will not have to answer his summons." The "cabbage patch" case, as it is familiarly known to local attorneys, probably will be dismissed.

F. L. Wayman of New Castle spent Friday in Richmond.

The daily morning bath was by no means popular with our ancestors in the good old days, for soap is really quite a new factor in the world's life. Most of our ancestors were very dirty and dissembled the fact by the use of stinging perfumes. Washing one's hands, which was only done by the very best people, meant dipping the fingers in rosewater and drying them on a napkin. Even the Romans of the time of the "decline," who were probably the cleanest as a community, simply bathed in water and rubbed themselves with oil. It sounds nasty to us, but, then, so does, for example, Chinese music, which millions of orientals think delightful.—London Answers.
