TERRORIST PLOT

Was Himself in a Conspiracy Against the Life of Emperor Nicholas.

NOW BEGS PROTECTION

HAS CONFESSED THAT HE AC-CEPTED A LARGE MONEY BRIBE TO ASSIST IN THE ASSASSINA-TION.

St. Petersburg, May 16.—A terrorist conspiracy directed against the life of Emperor Nicholas, the existence of which has been suspected for some time past, has been revealed by the arrival at Tsarkoe-Seto of a soldier of the guard regiment, who confessed to the acceptance of a large money bribe to assist in the murder of his majesty. According to the details of this plot the existence of which has been confirmed by one of the highest officials of the court, suspicion was directed to the soldier by the fact that he was seen to have in his possession considerable sums of money. The man was at once placed under observation. When he noticed that he was being shadowed he became panic-stricken and sought the authorities. He then broke down and voluntarily made his confession, after which he begged for protection. All the threads of this conspiracy, which is radically different from former attempts of this nature, are not yet in the hands of the secret service men. A few underlings have been apprehended, but the real instigators of the crime and the men who furnished the blood money have not yet been identified.

WILL TEST VALIDITY OF PURE FOOD LAW

Action Decided Upon by Miller's Association.

CLAIM CLASS LEGISLATION.

A resolution to test the constitution-ality of the state pure food law was passed by the Indiana Miller's State association Wednesday at the close of the fourth annual meeting, held in Indianapolis. Other important business transacted was the election of officers for the ensuing year and the reading of a number of papers having to do with questions of interest to millers.

The discussion which led to the adoption of the resolution to test the constitutionality of the new pure food law was opened by a full explanation of the new law with its requirements and penalties by W. J. Jones Jr., of the Agricultural Experiment station.
The opinion of the millers as it developed in the meeting was that the law as it operated against them amounted to class legislation. They were compelled to pay a tax for making pure food flour out of wheat, they said.
The protest was not against the law in general, but against this particular feature of it. The tax against manufacturers of food goes to the support of Purdue university experimental station. The millers figure that by the operation of the law they pay Purdue $1,600 a day.

D. D. D. Cures Eczema

Here is the picture of a girl who has learned the value of at least one proprietary remedy.

Honest doctors who KNOW agree with her that D. D. D. prescription is now THE specific for eczema, as other skin diseases, and many physicians recommend it, although they could increase their fees by writing out their own prescriptions.

OTHERS DARE NOT attack this remedy, for they know that thousands who—cured of horrible skin diseases by D. D. D. prescription—would rise to prove the lie to maligners.

D. D. D. prescription is not a "patent medicine" in the ordinary sense of the word, but the prescription of the eminent skin specialist, Dr. D. D. Dennis. IT WILL CURE.

The first trial will prove to every skin sufferer that D. D. D. prescription gives instant relief—the moment D. D. D. is applied to the xchy skin that tantalizing itch is gone!

PROF. WALTER DAVIS TO LEAVE RICHMOND

Is Offered a Position in University of Puget Sound at Tacoma, Washington.

PLACE IS A GOOD ONE.

PROF. DAVIS IS WELL EQUIPPED FOR A PROFESSORSHIP IN A COLLEGE—CENTENNIAL HIS-TORY TO BE COMPLETED.

Prof. Walter S. Davis, teacher of history in the Richmond high school, has been tendered the chair of history in the University of Puget Sound at Tacoma, Washington. Prof. Davis has notified the president of the institution that he will accept the place if the work which he is to do is satisfactory to him. In case that he accepts, which is quite likely, Prof. Davis will leave here in August. The subjects which he is to teach are American and ancient history and economics. Prof. Davis was chosen to fill the place made vacant by the death of Dr. Edward Johnson, who had been head of the department of history.

Puget Sound university is the Methodist school in Washington state and since its foundation in 1899 has had a healthy growth. Although Prof.
Davis regrets very much leaving Richmond he believes that he will like the place from the reports that he has heard of the city. Tacoma now has a population of 90,000 and according to ex-state librarian, William E. Henry who has been urging Prof. Davis to go there it is the best city on the Pacific coast and its people care about other things that make a home besides money. Mr. Henry is now head of the library in Washington State University.

Prof. Davis is well equipped for a professorship in a college. He was a graduate at De Pauw in 1890 and has done post graduate work at Chicago, Cornell and Leipzig, Germany in history and political science. He has traveled extensively, visiting most of the famous battle grounds of history.
Prof. Davis is immensely popular at the high school and his friends over the county, who are legion, will regret to see him leave.

The work of getting out the Centennial history, of which Prof. Davis has charge, will go ahead as planned.
Prof. Davis will remain in Richmond until the copy is in the hands of the printers.

MAY CLEAR ABOUT $125

John Knox Entertainment Was Successful.

The second performance of "John Knox vs Mary Queen of Scots," as given under the auspices of the Ministerial Association at the Gennett Wednesday night, was fully as successful as the first. The theatre was well filled.

About $450 gross receipts were realized off the venture and after all expenses have been paid and bills allowed, it is thought about $125 will have been realized for the benefit of the Associated Charities.

WON GOVERNOR'S DAUGHTER.

The Romance of Fola La Follette and Her Father's Clerk.

During the first two terms that Senator La Follette of Wisconsin served as governor of the Badger State he had for confidential clerk a young man of considerable political strategy named A. H. Rogers. The governor's daughter, Miss Fola La Follette, who has won no little praise for her talents as an actress, showed great interest in her father's campaigns and was thus brought into relation with the governor's assistant. After he left the governor's service Mr. Rogers continued to be his political lieutenant and trusted adviser, and this occasioned many meetings between him and members of the La Follette family. The sequel to the story is the announcement recently made of the engagement of the senator's daughter to Mr. Rogers.

She is a handsome girl and a graduate of the University of Wisconsin.

A REIGN OF TERROR.

The Kind of Life They Lead in Baku,
In Southern Russia.

Henry M. Nevins, a British newspaper correspondent, writes as follows of present day events in Baku, southern Russia: "You parasite! When you open a letter at breakfast and find that written at the top instead of 'Dear sir' or 'My darling love' your attention is immediately drawn to the contents. But here in Baku, you happen to be the hardworking manager of a rich field with lots of wells yielding some 200,000 pounds of oil apiece every twenty-four hours, you will not be so much surprised. You will know at once what is coming, and your first thought will be a visit to your banker's. 'Our agents,' the letter goes on, 'will call on you tomorrow afternoon at 5 o'clock and you will give them the sum of $750. Should you refuse you will be killed tomorrow or next day. Should you betray our agents or give the smallest hint to the police the whole of your family will share your fate. Signed and sealed on behalf of the committee.' The seal is a rubber stamp in red, sometimes bearing the words, 'Social Democratic Federation,' sometimes 'Anarchist Commune.' The sum demanded varies considerably. I think it is seldom over $1,000, for one must be reasonable in these matters, and usually it is less. I have known a popular and capable English manager to get off with $25, which is a ludicrous exchange for life.
But when the agents ring at the door and ask the servant if you are at home and disengaged, the only thing to do is to pay.

"For there is no pretense about the threats. Refusal or betrayal means death without pause, probably within the day. It has been proved over and over again. It has been proved last week in the case of a well known and powerful manager who was murdered with revolvers. It was proved the day before yesterday when a Russian manager was dismembered with knives and lived a horrible time. Anyhow, if you think it worth while to live a little longer here below, you must pay and try to reclaim from the company.
Whether the company will ever get anything by reclaiming from the Russian government heaven knows. The government is too busy with the troublesome and expensive task of shooting its political opponents or sending them to Siberia to undertake the protection of commonplace citizens who have no perilous notions about freedom.

"Most conspicuous men employ armed retainers to protect them or avenge their death. Some publish from time to time in the local papers a list of the men who will be at once assassinated if anything happens to themselves.
This is thought very efficacious and certainly helps to preserve the peace.
I know one manager who boasts he has 200 men in his pay, each pledged to kill some one if the manager is murdered. Pride may have exaggerated the number, but there is no doubt about the system."

EDITORS AT NEWCASTLE

They will Meet with Republican Politicians.

The republican editors of the Sixth congressional district have been invited to meet at New Castle Friday evening. They will assemble at the Bundy hotel at 6 o'clock for supper.
Representative J. E. Watson, Owen Carr, district chairman J. P. Goodrich, state chairman, and Geo. B. reau, are expected to be present. The acceptances of invitations indicate a full attendance.

TEN DAYS

From Coffee to

has done much for MANY.

It may do much for YOU.

"THERE'S A REASON."

HUMOR OF THE HOUR

Bringing Perkins Round.

The managing editor of a New York paper tells of an ingenious measure he once employed while running a paper in Omaha to convince a refractory merchant that it paid to advertise.
"I had been trying for a long time," says he, "to get my friend, a fairly prosperous business man, to insert an ad, or two, but he would invariably reply: 'I don't believe it's any use. I never read newspaper ads. myself, and I'm not sure that anybody else does.'
"If I can convince you that people read the advertising pages of my sheet, will you advertise?" suggested I.
"Of course—if you can show me that it will do any good."

"The very next day I ran the following line in the lightest faced agate in the office and stuck it in the most obscure corner of the paper between a couple of patent medicine ads:
"What is Perkins going to do about it?"

"The following day the man who was averse to advertising hurried into my office and advised me that people were worrying the life out of him asking for an explanation of the line. So he begged me to explain the matter in the next issue. This I promised to do if he would let me write the explanation and would stand for it. He agreed, and I wrote:
"Perkins is going to advertise, of course."
"And he's been advertising ever since!"—Lippincott's Magazine.

A Massacre.

"Pay attention now," said the schoolmaster, addressing his class during the geography lesson. "The population of China is so great that two Chinamen die every time we take a breath." This information made a deep impression on the juvenile scholars, and the master was particularly struck with the uncomfortable appearance of one small boy at the foot of the class.
His face flushed, and he was puffing furiously. "What is the matter?" inquired the schoolmaster, with alarm.
"What on earth are you doing, Tommy?"

"Killing Chinamen, please, sir," was the answer. "I don't like them for eigners, so I'm getting rid of just as many as I can!"—Sphere.

A Sensible Suggestion.

Mrs. de Fadd—The latest fashion is to have the piano built into the wall.
Mr. de Fadd (wearily)—Well, that's sensible! Let's wall up ours.—Illustrated Bits.

No Longer Worried.
"I thought," said the visitor, "I'd drop in and tell you what your hair restorer did for a friend of mine.
When he started using your elixir, there were only a few hairs on his head, but now it's completely covered."
"Indeed?" exclaimed the patent medicine man.

"Yes, by six feet of earth."—Catholic Standard and Times.

Stupid Fellow.
"Whew!" exclaimed the bridegroom.
"This miserable little loaf of bread is as heavy as lead. I'll bet you forgot to put yeast in it to make it rise."
"Well, stupid," replied the bride, "it had risen it might be twice as big."

"Well, if it was twice as big it would be twice as heavy, wouldn't it?"—Bohemian Magazine.

LEAFLET IS PUT OUT

Nicest Thing of the Kind Yet Issued.

MONTICELLO IS TOUTED.

Earlham college has just issued a very neat leaflet containing the names of the Indiana State high school Athletic association and the program containing the list of entries and towns represented by each. It is very anticipated and by far exceeds those used heretofore.
High school track teams throughout the state are busily engaged in preparation for the big state meet to be held Saturday at Reid Field.

Shorthridge, Indianapolis, athletes think Monticello has an excellent chance to win the meet. Monticello defeated Shorthridge at that place Saturday, 72 to 27.

Manual, Indianapolis, is generally conceded an excellent chance to capture the meet, and this declaration of the possible triumph of Monticello over Manual simply means that the contest on next Saturday will be even more spirited than predicted.

A large number of rooters will accompany the Indianapolis team.
