OUTPLAY VAN WERT AT EVERY POINT

Quakers Took the First Game Of the Series Before a Large Crowd.

CARLIN SHOWS UP WELL.

JESSUP WAS PUT OUT OF THE GAME AND WAS THEN PUT BACK BECAUSE THERE WAS NO SUBSTITUTE.

Van Wert, O., Aug. 28.—Richmond defeated Van Wert yesterday afternoon before one of the largest crowds of the season by outfielding, out batting and out pitching the locals. Moore, the crack pitcher of the locals, went into the box with the end in view of making the visitors look like a dime at Goldfields. Cap Jessup and his assistants fell upon Mr. Moore and smote him hither and yon about the field, taking the game by the lap sided score of 8 to 2. Fleming, the star twirler of the Quakers, was in the box. He was touched up for nine hits and was wild, but at the same time Fleming did not allow his hits to be bunched on him and he kept the locals well in hand. Van Wert played a sloppy fielding game. The crowd was sorely disappointed at the showing made by Van Wert, as they expected them, after having thrice beaten up on the Jays, to slaughter the Quakers. The exciting feature of the game came in the fourth when the pugnacious Mr. Jessup roared so loudly over a decision of Umpire McDonald at first base, that his umpire earned the boss Quaker from the field. It then developed that the visitors had no one to put in Jessup's place so McDonald allowed Clarence to work again on probation. Jessup is a great drawing card here. On the score cards appear an advertisement as follows: "See the moving picture: Jessup scrapping the umpire, at the Nickelatorium." Every move the little manager makes the crowd hands him the hoot.

Carlin Looks Good.

Both teams got away with a score in the first; then there was a tally famine the ensuing three innings. In the fifth Richmond batted in a run. Two more came in in the sixth, one in the seventh, and to add insult to injury, the Quakers poled three more in in the eighth. Van Wert made an effort to rally in the ninth, but all that our prides could do was to force in one run. Carlin, the Quakers' new shortstop, looks to be a find. He played a perfect fielding game and out of five times at bat got a single and a double. Weaver led the Quakers at the bat, getting three hits out of five times up. The Portland, 7; Kokomo, 3.

Portland, Ind., Aug. 28.—Portland won the first game of the Kokomo series Tuesday by a score of 7 to 3. The feature of the game was the heavy hitting of both teams, Portland securing an even dozen hits off Blitz, while Wagner allowed 7. Thomas, sometime ago with Portland, covered short again today and played a good game, accepting several difficult chances successfully. He figured in a double play and was credited with one of Portland's hits. Zellars was the star of the visitors on second base. He was also strong at the bat, getting three hits out of four times up. Kokomo and Portland are scheduled to play tomorrow at the old settlers' meeting at Ridgeville. Score:

Why the Market Wobbled.

The financial balance is so extremely delicate that the slightest movement affects it and throws it out of gear. Once heard of an important "deal" being spoiled because a prominent financier had his big toe cut by a chiropodist so badly that he was obliged to keep his room—Maurice Mertimer in Grand Magazine.

FRIEL GOES TO BOSTON.

Central League Flinger to Have Chance in Big League.

South Bend, Ind., Aug. 28.—Another Central League pitcher will go to the majors at the close of the season. Secretary Irwin of Wheeling admitted that the Boston Americans have purchased Ray Friel for $2,000. Irwin also admits that Pitcher Robertson and Third Baseman Venable will go to the American Association next season.

RESULTS IN TENNIS PLAY

One Contest Was Discontinued by Darkness.

Hanes and Hill, two contestants in the August tennis tournament being played at the courts at the public school grounds, had to discontinue their match Tuesday evening on account of darkness. Two sets were played, however. Hanes defeated Hill the first set by the score of 6-2. In the second, Hill recovered to such an extent that he gave Hanes a drubbing to the tune of 6-3.

MONEY FOR SWIMMING POOL IS NOT SECURED

Not Likely Anything More Will Be Done This Year.

The work of raising the $1,000 fund for the erection of a swimming pool at the public school play grounds has ceased for the present at least. Only about $150 of the needed amount has been raised. There is a crying need for such a place at the play grounds, and although it is hardly probable anything will be done toward the realization of it this year, the agitation and canvass, it is understood, will be taken up in earnest at the beginning of the open season next year.

MIXED IN THE THUNDER.

A Scene in "Macbeth" That Was Not on the Playbill.

It is related of Cooke, the actor, that when a youth, being without the necessary cash to pay for a seat "in front," he got behind the scenes one night and hid himself in a barrel. He had for companions two large cannon balls, but the youth, not being initiated into the mysteries of the place, did not suspect that cannon balls helped to make thunder in a barrel as well as in a twenty-four pounder.

The play was "Macbeth," and in the first scene the thunder was required to give due effect to the situation of the crouching victim. It was not long ere the Jupiter Tonans of the theater, alias the property men, approached and seized the barrel, and the horror of the concealed boy may be imagined as the man proceeded to cover the open end with a piece of old carpet and tie it carefully to prevent the thunder from being split.

Cooke was profoundly and heroically silent. The machine was lifted by the brawny stage servitor and carried carefully to the side scene lest in rolling the thunder should rumble before its cue.

All was made ready, the witches took their places amid flames of resin, the thunder bell rang, the barrel received its impetus with young Cooke and the cannon balls, the stage stricken and roaring lustily, to the amusement of the thunderer, who neglected to stop the rolling machine, which entered on the stage, and Cooke, bursting off the carpet head of the barrel, appeared before the audience, to the horror of the weird sisters and to the hilarity of the spectators.—London Mail.

REPORT WILD WEST BETTER THAN EVER

ON A TRIUMPHANT RETURN.

IT IS AN EXHIBITION OF HISTORICAL ACCURACY AND SIMPLICITY—REALLY IS A PANTOMIMIC DRAMA.

Seven years have passed since the native American exhibition known as "Buffalo Bill's Wild West" which comes on Friday, has appeared in this city. In the mean time its great success abroad has been exploited, and its cordial greetings in seventeen countries of different languages, indorses the estimation in which, for years it was held at home. Col. Cody still leads in the saddle the little army of horsemen of all races and nations identified with his rough riders of the west.

This exhibition, or we might say pantomimic drama, is famed for its historical accuracy and simplicity.

The dramatist relies on scenery, costume and character to secure success for his drama. The song writer touches the heart by thrilling the cords of human emotion with the magic and pathos of his written words, wedded to tuneful notes. Every description of spectacular entertainment is based and depends naturally for its attraction, upon an illusion or an exaggeration of ideas, combined with wondrous displays of colors and pomp. The drama song and spectacle present their several methods in amusing and instructing people, but the Wild West does more. Realism and accuracy are its cardinal points. The Indians, half naked, and daubed with the ochre dug from his tribal war paint mines; the cowboy, half man, half horse, clad in leather below the waist, while plumed above is his wide brimmed sombrero flapping in the wind, his gun handy to his fingers; the cavalry soldier in rough and ready uniform with sabre and carbine, also the Cossack, Japanese, Mexican, Arab and military squads, all are the real things. Shakespeare's characters have been clad in many kinds of costumes, different to such an extent as to cause discussion as to accuracy, but in the Wild West you see the authentic ensemble with the height of color and picturesqueness, surpassing that of imagery, yet true to life. The Indians, cowboys and cavalymen are dressed and armed just as they were when the great far West was a terribly debated land, every rod of which was won amid the red of fire and blood.

HIGH LICENSE PLANK WILL BE AN ISSUE

Strong Movement to Get It In to Republican Platform.

FIGHT IN THE LEGISLATURE.

That there will be a strong movement for a plank in the republican state platform next year declaring for high license is certain, says an Indianapolis report. Senator Ezra Mattingly, father of the $1,000 license bill in the last legislature, announces that upon the first roll call in the next session he will introduce a high license bill that will be more far reaching in some of its provisions than the measure he advocated last winter. The prohibition leaders are buckling on their armor and will oppose the high license movement more vigorously than ever. Agitation on this subject already has been started at a series of joint debates, in which Senator Mattingly has been speaking in favor of high license and Felix T. McWhirter, former prohibitionist candidate for governor, in opposition to it.
