Bluffton, Ind., Sept. 11.—Bluffton defeated Richmond yesterday afternoon by falling on Casey Horn in the first part of the game and batting him all over the yard. Richmond, toward the last, made a rally, but it fell short by three runs of tying the locals' lead.

Maggart, a former Bluffton player, who has just been drafted from the Wheeling Central league team by the Pittsburgh Nationals, is at home now and played in center field yesterday afternoon for Bluffton. He will finish the season with the locals.

Boyd was in the box for Bluffton, and until the eighth inning Richmond was unable to solve his delivery. They then succeeded in making three runs. Carlin, at shortstop, played a spectacular game for Richmond. Fleming may be sent in against Bluffton this afternoon. Score:

KOKOMO BADLY BEATEN.

Decatur Proved to Be Much the Better in the Mud.

Decatur, Ind., Sept. 11.—On a muddy field and playing in a misty rain, Decatur defeated Kokomo here Tuesday by a score of 12 to 3. The diamond was a sea of mud and the game went to the team that showed the hardest hitting.

Lacey started in to work for Kokomo, but was hit to all corners of the lot and quit in the second inning and was succeeded by Stout, who fared but little better. Richardson, on the other hand, was effective and demonstrated that he can pitch a wet and heavy ball with any one in the league.

The locals played the better fielding game and stole bases at will, which added materially in the run getting.

Catcher Orr of the Kokomo team had his right hand split by a tip foul and was succeeded by First Baseman Spicer, who did fairly well. Score:

HAVE YOU NOTICED THE IMPROVED SERVICE TO CHICAGO VIA THE C. & L.?

Through sleeper leaves Richmond at 11:15 P. M. daily, arrives in Chicago at 7:00 A. M. Try it.

It is reported that 1,000 Hindoos have crossed the Canadian border into the state of Washington recently and have become competitors in the labor market of the state. Most of their race, who present a strange and curious type to most Americans, may be seen at work now on the railroads of California. They are made conspicuous even at a distance in their turbans. A gang here and there makes an impression on the travelers without being noticeable because of its size. But there is a population of 294,381,000 in India, an area of 1,769,634 square miles, as against a population that is probably considerably less than 400,000,000 on an area of 1,532,422 square miles in China, and a population of 47,000,000 on an area of 147,635 square miles in Japan.—Chicago Record-Herald.

TRAINING ANIMALS.

Obedience the Word Regardless of the Tone and Manner.

It is true that animals can be taught to obey a tone alone—that is, a mere sound having no place among the lists of words. So may a human being. Therefore that proves nothing. It is likewise true that you may say a thing in a tone that contradicts the word, and the animal may or may not respond to the tone only, but the same effort will produce the same effect on any sensitive child, woman or man. Again, horses and dogs are the most sensitive of all brutes, the most easily offended, encouraged, discouraged. Therefore, need one be surprised if he finds it takes a long lesson to teach a horse or dog to obey the word regardless of the tone and manner? That either can be so taught, however, thousands of people know from their own experience.

I can say to my little Gipsy, "Come here and let me whip you," in the quietest, softest, most smiling style, and she comes cringing, trembling and ashamed, showing unmistakably that she considers the word "whip" humiliating and hateful, yet whips I do not intend to inflict any punishment. Then I can frown my worst and shout out as savagely as I please, "No; you're a good dog," and she frisks about joyfully, although she dislikes harsh tones even in sport.—Forest and Stream.

BASEBALL GOSSIP.

(By Tort.)

The despised Bluffton Dregs, who have a habit of handing us jolts when we're not looking, took advantage of our good nature Tuesday afternoon and severely battered one, Casey Horn, while his back was turned. The result of this foul assault was the placing of our near champs in a tie for first place with our enemy, the Decatur Commodores, who were trouncing the Kokomo Wildcats, while Bluffton was biffing Mr. Horn all over the lot. The Quakers are meeting Bluffton again and a desperate effort is no doubt made to subdue the Dregs. Either Cole or Fleming is working.

The Indianapolis Star persists in printing an inaccurate percentage column of the I. O. league race. In the Star Decatur is credited with twenty-three victories and seventeen defeats, while Richmond is credited with twenty-one victories and eighteen defeats. The correct standing of the two clubs is as appears in the percentage column printed in the Palladium. These teams are now tied for first place. The sporting editor of the Star, who is also president of the I. O. league, is also in error in keeping the record of the American association race, which is a nip and tuck affair in which one game more or less counts a great deal. The Star persists in refusing to credit Columbus with a victory, which gives it a lead of one game over Toledo. The Star places Toledo and Columbus in a tie. The race in the I. O. league is just as close as in the American association and Mr. Kling is requested to awake from his trance and prepare an accurate league standing.

Here is some dope. If Richmond takes Bluffton and Decatur takes Kokomo, which she probably will, the Quakers will return to Richmond in a tie with Decatur. Richmond will then take a whack at Kokomo Thursday and Friday and should win both games. Decatur will play on the same days at Van Wert. Decatur should win one of these games. This would leave Richmond one game ahead of Decatur. The last two games of the season are scheduled for Saturday and Sunday. Portland plays here and Bluffton at Decatur. A double victory for Richmond over Portland is expected. Bluffton should take Decatur one game. In case Decatur wins both games and the dope is the same as mentioned, Richmond would win out by one game. Some race, eh?

MEMORY OF HACKLEMAN MAY SOON BE HONORED

Comrades Start a Movement To Erect Monument.

Indianapolis, Sept. 11.—When the sparks of the campfire of the Sixteenth Indiana regiment veterans were soaring to the ceiling of the circuit court room last night, Gen. Oran Perry started a plan which probably will result in the erection of a monument to the memory of Brig. Gen. Hackleman, colonel of the Sixteenth Indiana Regiment during the first year of the civil war, and later brigadier general, and who was killed while leading his brigade at Corinth.

It is proposed to erect the statue of Hackleman in University park, and a committee to procure an appropriation from the next legislature was appointed. This committee is composed of Gen. Oran Perry, R. W. Phillips, Rush county; Judge Henry Clay Allen, Col. John M. Hartley and Judge Geo. W. Stubbs.

"Gen. Hackleman was one of the greatest soldiers Indiana ever produced," declared many of his surviving comrades, "but he didn't live long enough to become famous, as did some of the other leaders. He was our colonel for one year and then was promoted to brigadier general. In rallying his brigade at Corinth he was shot and killed. He was brought back to Indiana and buried at Rushville."

Garibaldi and Tennyson.

When the popular Italian patriot visited England in 1864 he saw Tennyson at Farringford. "Did you hear Garibaldi repeat any Italian poetry?" wrote Tennyson to the Duke of Argyll in reference to the occasion. "I did for I had heard that he himself made songs and hymns, and I asked him 'Are you a poet?' 'Yes,' he said quite simply, whereupon I spouted to him a bit of Manzoni's great ode, that which Gladstone translated." In the same letter he gives his impression of the patriot: "What a noble human being I expected to see a hero, and I was disappointed." Garibaldi was a great reader; Osselin and Scott were among his favorite writers. "I read few works of fiction," he once said to an English visitor at Caprera, "but I do like Sir Walter Scott; he is a grand romancer and much to be preferred to Dumas."—Westminster Gazette.

TRIED TO SHOW UP GROSE BUT FAILED

Hamilton Man Was Caught in His Own Trap.

JEERED BY THE AUDIENCE.

The Hamilton, O., Sun tells the following story about Grose, handcuff expert, who is at the New Phillips this week:

One man held his handcuffs until the very last and would not go upon the stage. When Grose thought that he was through for the evening and was about to give his farewell bow, this man arose from his seat and informed Grose that he thought he could tie him up if he (Grose) would come down to where he was sitting and allow himself to be handcuffed. Grose willingly consented and went to where the man was sitting. Grose held out his arms and allowed the cuffs to be locked so tightly on his wrists that one of them was bleeding. At this point the man told Grose that he guessed he would return to him for the key and that he was going to show his work to be a fake. Grose merely smiled and walked back to the stage. Here he faced the audience and explained that he liked especially to get handcuffs on his wrists that the owner thought would hold him. He seemed as unconcerned as any man would be when eating a sandwich or drinking a cup of coffee. He stated that when he got such cuffs on it was generally a practice to—(here he turned as quick as a flash and when he faced the audience the cuffs were in his hand both unlocked.) Cheer after cheer went up and the owner sneaked out of the theatre.
