

M'CORMACK'S LECTURE IS OF VALUE

Comes to Richmond Under Auspices of Wayne County Medical Society.

CAMPAIGN OF EDUCATION.

IT IS HOPED TO BRING THE LAITY AND THE MEDICAL MEN INTO CLOSER TOUCH WITH EACH OTHER.

The Wayne county Medical society has announced that a public meeting will be held at the First Presbyterian church on October 11, to which all persons in the city are invited. This meeting will be addressed by Dr. J. N. McCormack, secretary of the state board of health of Kentucky and chairman of the committee on organization of the American Medical association. As an evidence of the value of this address and of the way in which it has been regarded elsewhere, is quoted the following editorial from the Birmingham, Ala., News:

It is to be regretted that the high school auditorium was not filled to overflowing last night, because the lecture which Dr. J. N. McCormack, chairman of the organization committee of the American Medical association, delivered was a highly instructive discourse of this character. Every intelligent layman in this city should have heard it.

Dr. McCormack plead for closer cooperation between the great body of the public and the medical profession to the end that the public health may be more securely safeguarded. He invited and urged the terms of every profession, avocation and class in aiding the medical men to secure better laws, to execute more fully the laws we have, and to unite in preventing the spread of diseases which are clearly preventable. He touched upon a variety of subjects akin to the central idea of better health. Among them were the enforcement of pure food laws, the cutting of red tape in the army so that our soldiers will be better protected, recognition of the importance of granting larger power to our medical authorities, and like topics.

If Dr. McCormack's lecture does nothing beyond bringing the laity and the medical men into closer touch with each other and creating a clearer understanding between them, it will have

THE CIRCUS CLOCK.

Ten the Band Plays During the Performance Tells the Time.

"Did you ever see a member of a circus look at his watch during the performance?" asked a man who is familiar with the circus business of several men in a group of talkers. None of them recalled ever having noted this action and marveled at the statement that a watch was never needed.

"The tune of the band tells the tale," went on the speaker. "From the time the first whistle is sounded, which is five minutes before the performance begins, until the last race is run on the hippodrome track the circus folk do not need a timepiece.

"The first whistle is followed by the second one five minutes later, and after that time any one connected with the show can tell just what acts are on, even if outside of the tent. The band is the timepiece with a circus. Any employee can tell what is going on by the tune the band is playing. The band leader knows just what is required when he arranges the music, and it is unusual for any changes whatsoever to be made. The grand introductory pageant requires a certain kind of music. The high school horses require a cakewalk. Acrobats want a certain kind of music. Aerial performers use another kind. This definite routine of music day by day enables the show people to time their actions without watch or clock."—Indianapolis News.

CHAMPS ELYSEES.

Paris Has the Most Light Hearted Street in the World.

From the Avenue des Champs Elysees to the Boulevard des Capucines in Paris is but a step, but there the tune is even merrier. It is a place of noises, blare, glare, the perfume of women, the raucous honk-honk of automobile horns, by day the street of costly shops, by night the promenade in chief of his most Satanic majesty. It is at its best—or worst—in February, during Mi Caramé, when the air is thick with confetti and the denizens of the boulevards are beside themselves. No use then to sit at one of the little tables on the sidewalk, thinking to slip your book while you enjoy the swiftly changing panorama of the festival. In a moment you would find the book a porridge of confetti; your hat jammed over your ears; the chair jerked from under you and your erstwhile happy self flat on your back. It is marvelous the penetrating quality of confetti! I have shaken it out of my innermost pockets; out of my shoes. I have even found it in my socks and bobnobbing with the franks in my purse. It fits everywhere, and when Mi Caramé is over the streets are thick with it, a multicolored snow. You buy it at so many sous the package from vendor on the boulevards, until the desire for more of it becomes an obsession.—Aubrey Lanston in Bohemian.

A BRAVE BRITON.

When the attack was made on Sidon during the war with Syria, it became necessary for the British troops to advance across a long, unprotected bridge in the face of a battery of 50 guns, which completely commanded the approach. The men were unwilling to expose themselves to certain death when Arthur Cumming, carefully dressed in full uniform, stepped forward to the middle of the bridge. It was immediately swept by the fire of the battery. When the smoke had rolled away, there stood Cumming intact, carefully brushing the dust from his boots, after which he stood erect, fixed a single glass in his eye and looked back at the men. This was too much and they captured that bridge and battey with a

Uncle Tom's Cabin."

Stetson's company will present its popular and unrivaled version of the ever welcome Uncle Tom's Cabin, appearing at the Gennett Thursday, matinee and night. That the entertainment is giving satisfaction is fully evidenced from the number of laudatory notices complimenting it.

"Singin' Skule."

As inquiries have come in large numbers asking for the full scale of prices for "The Singin' Skule Begainment," which the ladies of the Christian church will present at the Gennett Friday night, it has been thought best to publish them: Orchestra, 75c, dress and balcony circles 50c, balcony 25c, hay now 25c. The plat will open at the Westcott pharmacy tomorrow morning where seats may be purchased or tickets which have been purchased of the members exchanged for reserved seats. The fifty members of the cast which will be made up of some of the best known singers and amateur actors of the city, is being rehearsed every afternoon and night and a very jolly night is in store for the large audience which appears to be in prospect.

"Sis in New York."

"Hurray" for Posey County, Indiana. That's where "Sis" hails from, and she is coming with her company of dancers, joke tellers and fiddlers to let light on a recent trip the bunch made to New York. They say that it's the funniest ever. It is called "Sis in New York" and will be at the Gennett to-night.

Vaudeville at the Phillips.

Manley and Sterling who are at the New Phillips this week in vaudeville, presenting a playlette entitled "Kid Hickey," and which is a story in slang, have been given a welcome each night that certainly must be most satisfactory to them. Hickey in the role of a prize fighter of the square and honest sort, with his slang phrases peculiar to that style of life, is refreshing and he sings well. His modest heroism, which ends in his capture of a handsome and wealthy bride, and a courtship in slang, is unique. There will be a special matinee for children Saturday.

"The Banker's Child."

Charming costumes are those worn by little Hazel Shannon in "The Banker's Child," which comes to the Gennett Saturday, matinee and night.

These many beautiful costumes besides the many worn by the other ladies in the company will prove a liberal education in the art of dress, and will be a treat to the many ladies as well as the wise men attending the performance of "The Banker's Child," who appreciate the beautiful.
