

HIGH FOOD PRICES NOT DUE TO LAWS

H. E. Barnard, State Food and Drug Commissioner, Makes Claim of This Kind.

FINDS LITTLE CONNECTION.

PURE FOOD MEASURES AND FOOD VALUES DO NOT BEAR MUCH RELATION—SUBSTANCE OF HIS REPORT.

H. E. Barnard, state food and drug commissioner, has just finished the compilation of some information in regard to the prices of food and the manner in which these prices are controlled. Mr. Barnard was led to arrange these facts by the current discussion on the high prices of food and the contention of some that pure food laws and the subsequent trade conditions and unsettled markets caused the rise in prices. Mr. Barnard contends that there is little connection between pure food laws and food values.

Staple foods are little subject to adulteration, Mr. Barnard says. The chief article of diet is bread, and the price of flour he points out, is entirely independent of food legislation. Flour, and for that matter, all cereals, he says are always free from adulteration, and he declares that the failure of the wheat crop in a single county of a wheat growing state would affect the price of bread more than all of the food legislation enacted by all of the states of the union.

The prices of fruits and vegetables and canned goods, Mr. Barnard says, are regulated in the same way. It is true, he says, that the tomato packers feared that the ban placed on red coloring matter in painting defective and off-color goods would work a hardship and it is true also he says that some packers rejected stocks that they would have worked up had it not been for this regulation. But he says also that any idea that the price of canned tomatoes has been appreciably affected is not to be considered for a moment.

The cheapest goods, he says, are no longer obtainable, but standard goods are priced without any consideration of the food laws. Corn packers, he says, used to use saccharine to sweeten the corn, having the idea that the consumer liked corn much sweeter than the natural flavor. These artificial devices, he says, are no longer employed, and the consumption of canned corn, instead of falling off, has been stimulated by the more natural flavor.

GOLF AT INDIANAPOLIS.

Henry Martin Gave a Sensational Exhibit of Play.

Indianapolis, Oct. 7.—Playing sensational golf, Henry Martin defeated Thomas, 4 up and 3 to play, in the semi-final play of the first flight of the fall tournament of the Highland Golf Club. This makes Martin eligible to meet Schmidt, who defeated Wilber, 2 up and 1 to play, in the same afternoon's playing. Both of these men are contesting for the President's Cup, and, incidentally, the championship of the club's first flight.

WON BY HAGERSTOWN.

Dublin Was Defeated by a Score of 8 To 2.

Hagerstown, Ind., Oct. 7.—The baseball game here Sunday afternoon between Dublin and the home boys resulted 8 to 2 in favor of Hagerstown.

A Sorely Surmise.
The professor, who, by the way, was of Irish extraction, was presiding over the class in English literature.

"What are the meaning and derivation of the word 'impediment'?"
"Impediment," from the Latin 'pedes,' meaning 'feet,' is something in the way; literally 'in the way of the feet.'"

"Very well. Some one give me a sentence using the word correctly."
"He had an impediment in his speech."

"That," quickly retorted the professor, with the flash on his face which always heralded his wit, "must have been the man who never opened his mouth without putting his foot in it."

THEATRICAL CALENDAR.

NEW PHILLIPS.

Week of Oct. 7.—Vaudeville.

GENNETT.

Week of Oct. 7.—Reed-Stuart Stock Co. Soon—"The Isle of Spice."

Reed-Stuart Stock Co.

"Man of Mystery" will be the initial offering of the Reed-Stuart Stock company at the Gennett. The Tuesday matinee will be "La Belle Marie" and the Tuesday night bill will be "As a Man Sings." Friday night an amateur contest will be added. Following the Wednesday matinee, "Dora Thorne," Miss Worth, assisted by the entire company, will give a reception to the ladies in the audience.

Vaudeville at the Phillips.

A new bill is on at the New Phillips this week and to all appearances it is well worthy the support of all who care in the least for vaudeville. The program is a varied one and promises to have the one great quality that makes vaudeville go—liveliness. There will be a souvenir matinee on Wednesday. Below is the bill in full. Overture, Miss Grace Miller; the Gladstone children, singers and acrobats, one of the most wonderful child acts in vaudeville; Elizabeth Miller, in old fashioned songs; Clando Ranf, in his astonishing wire exhibition; illustrated song, Cal Lankert, "Love Me and the World is Mine"; Tippet and Kliment, comedy musical artists; the cameragraph, showing "Boy Accuser."

"In the Days of Scott" there are two anecdotes about Sir Walter Scott's children in connection with his poem, "The Lady of the Lake."

One day his daughter was met by James Ballantyne, the publisher, in her father's library and asked what she thought of the poem. She replied that she had not read it and added: "Papa says there is nothing so bad for young people as reading bad poetry."

Scott's son Walter returned from school one day with evidences of having been engaged in a fight. His father asked him what he had been fighting about. He replied that he had been called a "lascie," and had resented it.

A little questioning showed that young Walter's schoolfellows had nicknamed him "The Lady of the Lake," which name the boy did not understand except as a reproach to his manliness.

BOWLERS WILL MEET TO ORGANIZE LEAGUE

It Is Probable That a Half Dozen Club Will Be Included.

THE REDS COME TUESDAY.

YINGLING WILL BE IN THE BOX FOR THE LOCALS—DETROIT TIGERS HAVE SOME LOYAL LOCAL SUPPORTERS.

(By Tort.)

There will be a meeting of local bowlers at the City allers this (Monday) evening and steps will be taken to enlarge the bowling league. The three clubs that are now in the league will remain and there is a prospect of two or three other clubs being admitted. There is intense interest being taken in bowling and every evening the City allers are crowded.

Reds Come Tuesday.

The famous Cincinnati Reds will appear at Athletic park Tuesday afternoon and the banner crowd of the season is looked for. Yingling and Jessup will be the local battery. Campbell and McLean probably will be the Cincinnati battery. A large number of local merchants have agreed to allow their employees to attend the game. Of course none of the employees will be "among those present," that is in the event there is an earthquake or a cloud burst.

Brolley as Manager.

Representative Brolley, who was "father of the Sunday base ball bill" at the last legislature, managed the North Vernon team Sunday from the bench. He spied Representative Walter Ratliff in the crowd and promptly called him over to the bench where he and Mr. Ratliff talked base ball and politics, principally base ball, throughout the game. Mr. Ratliff supported the Sunday base ball bill in the house of representatives and was keenly disappointed when the measure was killed in the senate.

Fans Will Attend.

Fifteen or twenty Richmond base ball fans will attend the world's championship games Tuesday and Wednesday of this week between the Chicago Nationals and the Detroit Americans on the former's grounds. The Detroit Tigers have many warm supporters in this city and they are taking up all the Chicago Cubs money found loose in this city.

No Kisses For Him.

As the customs officials dived elbow deep in the contents of the big trunks, juvenile friendships made during the voyage were terminated with affectionate demonstrations when a recent ship came in. One little girl, clad from head to foot in an orgy of cheek, effusively kissed her farewell until she reached a little mite of a boy of five, the incarnation of Buster Brown, who turned contemptuously away from her with: "Geel! Can't you say goodby without kissing? It gives me the creeps to be manied about by girls."—Exchange.
