CHICAGO 3; DETROIT 1.

Chicago, Oct. 10.—Detroit made an excellent start in the second game for the world's championship series. Jones led off in the first inning with a single to left. Schaefer followed with a safe one to right that was far out of the reach of either Chance or Evers. Crawford fanned and Cobb, the sensational batter of the American league, hit into a double play, retiring the side.

The Cubs did not do as much hitting in their half of the first, although they came nearer scoring. Slagle was first up and walked, Mullin throwing four wide ones to him. He stole second and Payne threw to center field, letting him onto third. Sheekard flied to schaefer, but with Chance up it looked like Jimmy would surely score. Played Old Game.

There came up a dispute about a play during which Coughlin hid the ball under his arm, and when Slagle stepped off the bag he retired him. Chance singled and Steinfeldt fanned. Rossman opened the second with an effort that proved to be a three-bagger.

The ball took a bad bound and went past Tinker, who should have been able to field it easily. Coughlin fanned, but Payne lifted a short fly into left that was just out of Sheekard's reach, and Rossman trotted home. O'Leary fouled to Steinfeldt and Mullin lifted a high one to Slagle.

Kling beat out a slow bouncer toward short in the Cubs' half, and Evers got away with one in the same direction. Schulte hit a vicious drive at Mullin, who knocked the ball down, but could not throw out the runner. This filled the bases. Then Mullin walked Tinker, forcing in Kling. Pfeister struck out and so did Slagle. Sheekard hit an easy one to Schaefer retiring the side.

The Tigers went out in order in the third. Jones was safe on Tinker's fumble and was forced by Schaefer, who was later caught stealing. Crawford fouled to Kling.

Chance walked as an opener in the Cubs' half and Steinfeldt was hit. Kling stung a hard one to center and Chance, figuring that it was a safe one, started for the plate. Crawford made a great catch of the drive and doubled Chance at second. Evers singled to center and stole second, but Schulte fanned.

Cobb singled as an opener in the fourth and Rossman hit a short fly safely into right. Cobb, however, waited to see whether the ball would go safe, and was forced at second by a splendid throw by Schulte. Coughlin and Payne each singled to center.

Inning in Which Cubs Won. This was the inning in which the Cubs won the game. Tinker opened with a safe one past second and went to second when Pfeister laid down a perfect sacrifice. Tinker stole third and scorched when Slagle hit to O'Leary, who fumbled the ball. Slagle stole second and Sheekard hit a safe one down the right field foul line into the crowd, getting two bases. Slagle scored on the hit. Sheekard was out trying to steal third, and Chance fled to Rossman.

There was little of interest to the remainder of the struggle except the sensational fielding of O'Leary, and the steadiness of Pfeister. The big south-paw improved as the game progressed. He gave only one pass and that resulted from the erratic work of Sheridan in calling balls and strikes. He hit one man, but that came at a time when there was little chance for it to count.

O'Leary, after he had recovered from his stage fright, was a wonder. He could run in close or go back for them and never failed to get runners at first. His sensational plays cut off several prospective hits, and enabled

Detroit to make the batting honors of the day. Jennings's men got ten hits while the Cubs got only eight.

PLAYERS ARE SETTLED DOWN. Contest From This Time On Will Be A Very Steady One.

Chicago, Oct. 10.—Today's game is likely to find the players of both the Chicago and Detroit teams settled down and ready to play their usual game. It is probable that the fielding will be steadier and the hitting harder, unless the pitchers happen to be in unusually good form. Detroit's catchers will hardly work as poorly as they did Wednesday and Tuesday, although they are far from being as good as Kling, who is doing all of the back-stopping for the Cubs.

Chance planned to send Reulbach into the box today. If he is not in good condition Lundgren probably will be used. Selver will be the selection of Jennings, unless he decides to send Donovan to the mound in the hope of evening it up.

Modical Brown's arm is mending slowly, and there seems to be little chance that he will be used in this series. If the remainder of Chance's pitchers can do as well as Pfeister did Wednesday Brown will not be needed. The crowd was the best handled of any large one in the history of baseball. There was no more confusion than if there had been a handful present. It took only about fifteen minutes to get them out of the park.

The Detroit club has sent word that it has erected 10,000 additional seats and expects to be able to take care of 20,000 people.

There will be a couple of special trains carrying the rooters from Chicago to Detroit. The coaches of the Tigers will be attached to this train. The Cubs, however, will attach their sleepers to a regular train. They want to get as far away from the noise as possible.

EARLHAM PREPARES FOR MIAMI CLASH

Some Hard Practicing Is on For the Games to Be Played Saturday.

MAIL NOT DISCOURAGED.

HE PLANS TO INTRODUCE ASSOCIATION FOOTBALL AND TWO ORGANIZE TWO TEAMS AT THE QUAKER INSTITUTION.

The Earlham team is practicing hard for the Miami game, which takes place Saturday at Reid field. Coach Vail believes that Miami has a strong team this season. He is introducing a new style of play at the Quaker institution and he is sending his squad through hard smashing practice every afternoon so that the men can master it. Mr. Vail is not the least discouraged by the score Wabash piled up against the Quakers. "Wabash has one of the strongest teams in the west and had the advantage of four weeks practice," he says.

Coach Vail announced Wednesday while his squad was at practice that at the close of the football season he would introduce at Earlham the great English football game—association football. "I was the first person to introduce association football in the east," remarked Mr. Vail. "I organized a team at a preparatory school in Pennsylvania and the game became quite popular among the boys. Several eastern colleges and universities now have association football teams."

Plans Two Teams. Mr. Vail stated that it is his plan to organize two teams at Earlham and after the players had learned the rudiments of the game a series of games for the college championship would be arranged.

"Will you arrange any inter-collegiate association football matches?" Mr. Vail was asked. "As far as I know the University of Chicago has the only association football team among all the colleges and universities in this part of the country. If I can induce the management of the Chicago university association team to schedule the Earlham team at Chicago I will take a team there to play them."

Coach Vail thinks association football is a great game. He believes the game will take better with the general public than American football, the English game being materially different. "Association football is basket ball played with the feet," explained Mr. Vail.

SEASON DECLARED CLOSED

There Will Be No More Games At Cambridge City.

Cambridge City, Ind., Oct. 10.—The managers of Capitol Hill ball park have decided to close the season with last Sunday's game, the season having been a success in every way. The grays have played twenty-three games this season, winning twelve. The park will be opened next year with a stronger team than this year's was.

After having been ten years in the making there has just been deposited in the government standard weights and measures strong room a new standard yard measure. It is made of ninety parts of platinum and ten of iridium, which when combined are not upset by either heat or cold. After the elaborate marking it was submitted to a number of tests, coming through all with high honors. Every year of the next ten years it will be examined, and if it varies by the millionth part of an inch it will be condemned to the rubbish heap, otherwise it will become a standard.—London News.

Pere Hyacinthe (Charles Loyson), who, in his eighty-first year is still zealous for ecclesiastical and theological reform, has an article in the Paris Siecle on the recent papal encyclical on modernism. He says: "Plus IX gave us the doctrine of ultramontanism; Plus X practices it. The latter passes judgment upon the former. We are the witnesses of a great object lesson."

He then goes on to say that he himself had foreseen what was coming when in 1869 he renounced his position as preacher at Notre Dame, where he no longer felt himself free to be honest.

GENERAL WATTS WON KENTUCKY FUTURITY

It Was an Easy Matter for Him to Do So.

BOWERMAN IS HONORED.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 10.—Gen. Watts, 2:09 3/4, Wednesday easily won the rich Kentucky Futurity in three straight heats. At no time was the colt even extended, winning as he pleased, with his driver and veteran trainer, Mike Bowerman, holding the lines in one hand. Kentucky Todd, the much-touted speed wonder, quit to nothing when it came to a driving finish between him and the great son of Axworthy.

In fact no Futurity was ever contested in which the winning horse so far outclassed his field. The only struggle was between Bisea, Baron McKinney and Bonnie Way for second money. After driving Gen. Watts to victory Bowerman was carried around the track in a floral horseshoe.

Wegner has taken fifteen years to construct this strange piece of mechanism. It keeps perfect time, a Berlin report says.
