NED HIATT GOES EAST.

Ned Hiatt, consulting engineer for The Nevada Finance and Development Company, located at Meina, Nevada, left Tuesday night for New York and Boston on business for the company.

Shelley lived with ardor among ideas, aspirations and passions. It was these that were something at once irresponsible and abstract. He followed every impulse, without choice or restraint, with the abandonment of a leaf in the wind. "Oh, lift me as a wave, a leaf, a cloud!" was his prayer to the west wind and to every influence. Circumstances meant so little to him that he was unconscious of the cruelty of change to sentiment, and thus of the extent of his cruelty to women. He aimed at moral perfection, but was really of a perfect aesthetic selfishness. He was full of pity and generosity and desired the liberation and uplifting of humanity, but humanity was less real to him than his own witch of Atlas. He only touched human action and passion closely in a single one of his works, and he said of "The Consul": "I don't think much of it. My object was to see how I could succeed in describing passion. I have never felt."—Arthur Symonds in Atlantic.

Portrait and Slipper. A touching anecdote, associated with a picture in the National gallery at Edinburgh, is told by an English lady in her book, "Portraits From a Surrey Garden." She writes: Several pictures stand out with peculiar interest, especially the life-sized Gainsborough of the young Mrs. Gainsborough. She sat for the picture as a bride, but before it came home she was dead and her husband had gone to the wars. When he came back he never had the courage to open the case which contained his young wife's portrait. On his death, many long years after it was painted, it was opened by his heirs, and inside the case was the little white slipper she had left with the painter to help him to finish his picture. The portrait was given to the Edinburgh gallery, and the slipper was kept by the family.

Trouble on the Mantelpiece. "If you'll always give me full swing," observed the pendulum, "you will never have any trouble with your hands." "I don't know," replied the clock. "If it wasn't for your going back and forth in my works, I never would have any strikes."—Chicago Tribune.

CASES ARE SET IN THE CIRCUIT COURT

Judge Fox Has Outlined Business Up to the Eleventh Of November.

NO NEW CHARGE FILED.

PROSECUTOR JESSUP WANTS FAIR TREATMENT FOR BERNARD GREEN, THE SERIOUSLY ACCUSED NEGRO.

In the circuit court Judge Fox set the following cases for trial:

Thursday, October 17—Hollinger against Hollinger.

Saturday, Oct. 26—Hodgin against Hodgin; Dwyer against Dwyer.

Wednesday, Nov. 6—Garner against Larsh; Clapp against Moorman.

Thursday, Nov. 7—City of Richmond against Hill and Cook; Vogelsong against the City of Richmond.

Friday, Nov. 8—Jones & Jones against City of Richmond; Van Baalen against City of Richmond; Werner against City of Richmond.

Saturday, Nov. 9—Muhl against estate of Ballard; Cleveager against Bowman; Miller against Miller.

Monday Nov. 11—Converse against the estate of Hovelmeyer; Nicholson against estate of Hovelmeyer; Boyd against estate of Layman.

No New Charge.

Prosecutor Jessup has not as yet filed any new charge against Bernard Green in the circuit court. Green is at present charged with assault and battery on three-year-old Hazel Harris but it is thought that this charge will be withdrawn and the negro will be charged with criminal assault. Prosecutor Jessup is in Indianapolis, Thursday he probably will take final action in the Green case. Hundreds of indignant citizens have urged the prosecutor to charge Green with criminal assault as advised by Attorney John F. Robbins.

Wants Fair Treatment.

It is known that one reason the prosecutor hesitates in filing this charge, as he would have a perfect right to do under the law, is because he thinks it would be difficult to secure a jury which would not be prejudiced against the negro. "As far as I am concerned, if Green had committed such a crime against a child of mine I would shoot him down, but I am determined that Green shall receive fair treatment now that he is in the custody of the law," Prosecutor Jessup stated.

HOPE FOR AGED RULER

Emperor Joseph Francis May Recover.

Vienna, Oct. 16.—The prime minister this morning received from the grand steward at Sarabona castle the following telegram: "Now we may hope." This is the first official intimation that the illness of Emperor Francis Joseph is dangerous. The aged monarch passed a good night and was refreshed this morning.

LOCAL HOTELS CROWDED

There Are Many Visitors to the City Just Now.

The hotels of Richmond are crowded to their capacity and the genial landlords, notwithstanding their broad smiles, are beginning to wonder where they are going to put their many patrons. A large number of delegates to the Five Years' meeting are stopping at the hotels while the fall influx of traveling men is great. Almost every available room in the larger hotels was monopolized Tuesday night.

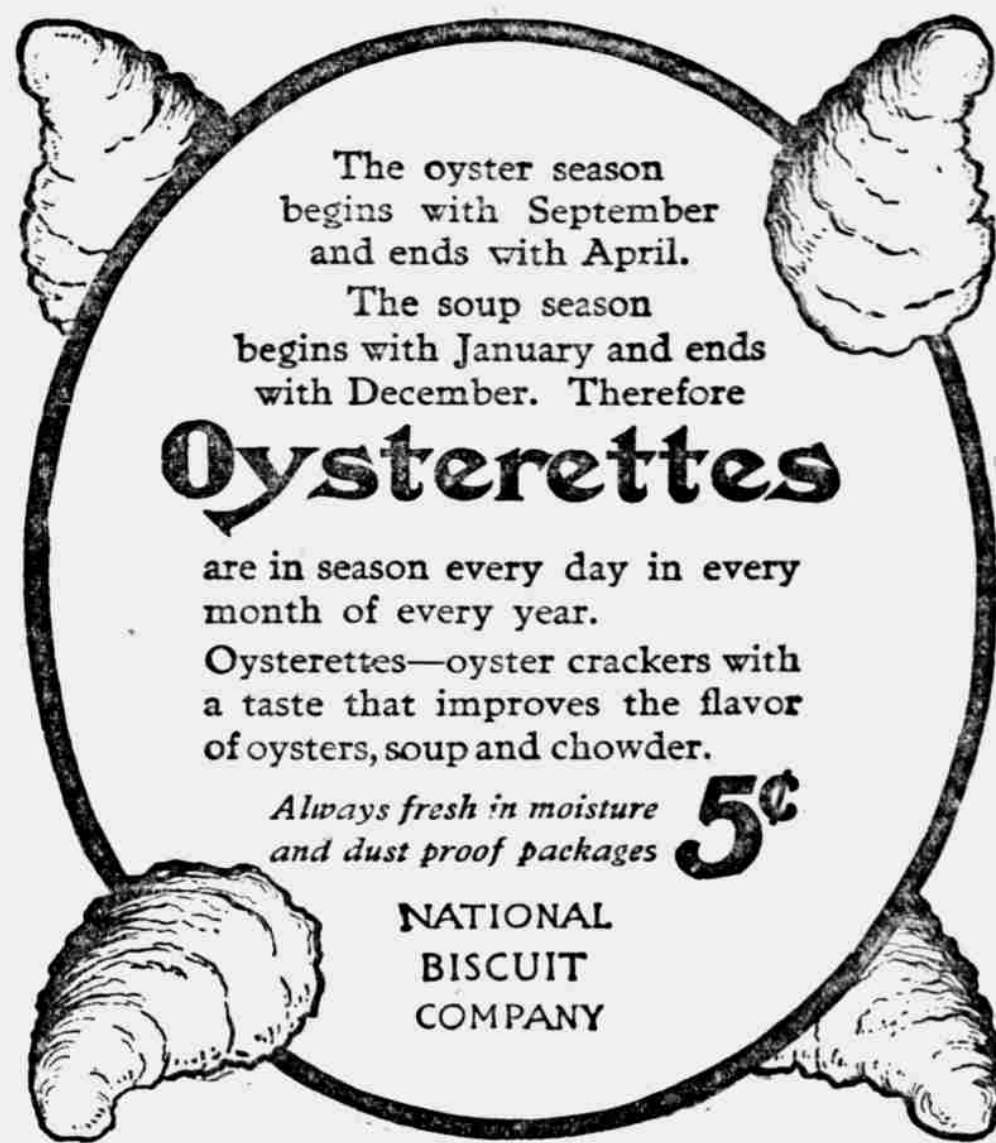

Facious Visitors.

Will making often affords a man an unrivaled opportunity of paying off old scores and speaking his mind with out any fear of unpleasant consequences to himself.

The great Duke of Marlborough evidently could not resist the temptation of a farewell slap at his duchess when he left her "£10,000 wherewith to spoil Blenheim in her own way and £15,000 to keep clean and go to law with."

There is also a distinct note of spitefulness in this extract from the testament of a Mr. Kerr who, after declaring that he would probably have left his widow £10,000 if she had allowed him to read his evening paper in peace, adds: "But you must remember, my dear, that whenever I commenced reading you started playing and singing. You must therefore take the consequences. I leave you £1,000."—Grand.

FIVE YEARS BODY BEGINS ITS WORK AT EAST MAIN ST.

time passes there is a stronger belief among the delegates that soon all prejudice existing in the Philadelphia and Ohio yearly meetings will be overcome and the bodies will identify themselves with the Five Years body. To aid the work of the various reporters "covering" the yearly meeting, Benjamin Trueblood asked that a press committee be appointed and this was done. The meeting is very desirous that nothing be printed of the deliberations unless entirely accurate.

Particular interest was evinced when the communications from the various yearly meetings were read in that some of the great questions now confronting the church were taken up by them in a condensed way and recommendations made to the Five Years meeting.

Better Correspondence.

Baltimore yearly meeting through its letter, was the first to take a stand for a better class of epistolary correspondence among the various yearly meetings. It maintained that but few present day letters were read before the yearly meetings and said that the Five Years meeting should rule in some manner on the question.

Iowa yearly meeting presented the proposition to establish a new yearly meeting to be known as the Nebraska yearly meeting to be composed of the Hiawatha, Platte Valley, Union, Springbrook and Mt. Vernon quarterly meetings, which have a combined membership of 1,310. The whole matter has been thoroughly investigated by the Iowa yearly meeting which feels that owing to the broad field and already large membership a greater work could be accomplished if the yearly meeting was established. The quarterly meetings which are to be a part of the Nebraska yearly meeting have long worked together for the promotion of the Friends' affairs. The proposition was referred to the committee on church extension and evangelization which was to have made a report at this afternoon's sessions.

Officers Are Named.

After some deliberation following the meeting Tuesday night, the chairman of the various delegations nominated the following officers for the Five years' meeting, which nominations were concurred in by the main body at the morning sessions:

James Wood, New York, clerk.

Louis Lindon Hobbs, North Carolina, first assistant.

Mabel H. Douglas, Oregon, second assistant.

Miles White, Baltimore, treasurer.

The chairman of the delegations also made the following selections from the various delegations to serve on the business committee during the present deliberations:

North Carolina—Geo. W. White, Guilford college.

New England—Rufus M. Jones, Wilmington—Samuel Haworth, Friendsville, Tenn.

Kansas—Edmund Stanley, Wichita, Kas.

Indiana—Allen Jay, Richmond, Ind.

Iowa—Ellison R. Purdy, Oskaloosa, Iowa.

New York—Robert E. Pritchard, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Canada—Joseph A. Mills, Toronto.

Oregon—N. Edwin McGrew, Caldwell, Idaho.

California—Addison W. Maylor, Berkeley, Cal.

Baltimore—Allen C. Thomas, New Port, Pa.

Timothy Nicholson, Amos K. Hollowell and Levi Mills were selected to serve on the auditing committee for the coming five years. The report was submitted by A. Rosenberger and J. E. Pugh chairman and secretary respectively of the committee of chairmen.

New Clerk Speaks.

The new clerk of the meeting made a short address in which he stated that all the coming sessions of the Five years body should be carried forward with deliberation and care, while harmony should be the key note to all discussions. Edmund Stanley, the retiring clerk, the first of the Five years' meeting, thanked the meeting for the honor that had been conferred upon him by appointing him the first clerk of such a great religious ruling body.

Peter W. Daidabagh of Western yearly meeting made the motion that the good will of the meeting be shown toward the visiting delegates from the Ohio and Philadelphia yearly meetings, by extending to them an invitation to occupy places on the platform. This was ruled down, however, but the visiting delegates were extended the well wishes of the meeting and given all privileges except participation in business affairs. As officially outline what procedure will have to be used to secure the money belonging to the meeting.

Church Extension.

The report of the committee on church extension and evangelization showed that the work had been greatly hampered by the lack of sufficient funds, and support from those who were in position to grant their personal services. An attempt was made during the past five years to compile a statistical record of the Friends church but this was unsuccessful owing to apparent disinterest in the cause by many of the yearly meetings. But very few gave statistics desired by the secretary of the church extension committee.

The church extension report elicited much comment and it was generally conceded that greater interest in the work should be evinced if the Friends church is to take a place alongside the other religious denominations of the country. It is absolutely essential, it was thought, that more strenuous effort be made to carry forward the work of the church through the church extension board and that all support possible be granted the committee in its work. A compilation of all church extension records for the past five years will be made by Emma Hedges, secretary of the board, and a committee composed of a delegate from each yearly meeting. This will be inserted in the Five Years meeting records.

The board of education through Charles E. Tebbetts of California yearly meeting made a short report showing that rapid advancement was being made in religious education throughout all the Friends' schools. Special lectures by Rufus M. Jones in the various educational institutions during the past five years have done much good, it was asserted.

STATE IN CHARGE OF AFFAIRS; AID TO THE SUFFERING

a large warehouse and 500 homes. In many of these the fronts were blown away, while in others the roofs were hurled into space, the sides blown out, or they were left a confused mass of collapsed wreckage.

The school buildings were destroyed at Fontanet and Coal Bluff, two miles away. All were filled with school children, and everyone of these was more or less injured by the collapse of the buildings.

School Pupils Injured.

A four room school building was torn to pieces and not one of the 200 children escaped unhurt. None was fatally hurt. A two-room school building at Coal Bluff was turned over and collapsed. The teacher and ninety pupils were more or less injured.

The force of the explosions destroyed all telephone communication with outside towns, and it was with great difficulty that aid was summoned. Terre Haute and Brazil sent physicians and nurses with supplies in carriages and automobiles across country, while special trains were made up and run on the Big Four railroad for the care of the injured.

Gov. Hanly at the Scene.

Governor Hanly at Indianapolis ordered the Terre Haute company of the Indiana National guard to patrol the ruined district and protect life and property. The governor himself arrived and brought with him seven hundred coats and one hundred tents for the use of the homeless.

Is the Stomach Dispensable?

An operation for the removal of the stomach, in a Chicago hospital recently, promoted discussion among the surgeons whether the stomach could be removed, and the patient be none the worse for it. Before the discussion had well begun, the patient had died. It demonstrated a could not live without his stomach. To keep the stomach in good condition, and cure constipation, indigestion, etc., use the great herb laxative compound, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Druggists sell it at 50 cents and $1 a bottle.
