

LOCAL AND GENERAL SPORTS

LUTHERAN SQUAD TO BE HERE SATURDAY

Earlham Team in Hard Training, Hoping to Beat the Wittenberg Bunch.

VAIL IS HARD AT WORK.

DELEGATION WILL GO TO INDIANAPOLIS TO SEE THE WABASH-MICHIGAN GAME—HIGH SCHOOL PLAYS AT NEW CASTLE.

Earlham will play the fast Wittenberg team Saturday afternoon at Reid Field and it is expected there will be another large crowd in attendance. Like Miami, Wittenberg is an ancient rival of the Quakers, but the Springfield college has always been able to keep on even terms with Earlham, victories and defeats in the years these two colleges have met on the gridiron, being about evenly divided. Miami last Saturday won from the Quakers for the first time in several years.

All this week Coach Vail has been putting his eleven through a grueling practice to overcome the glaring defensive effects shown by the Quakers last Saturday. Earlham has been especially weak in tackling, but it is expected that there will be a great improvement in this department of the game shown against Wittenberg.

Coach Vail is developing a pair of ends who will, before the close of the season, rank well with the best ends that have ever played on a Quaker eleven. These ends are Hancock and Gaston. Both are very light, but are quick, active and game defensive players and get down the field under punts in a splendid manner.

Going to Indianapolis. There will be quite a delegation of Richmond foot ball fans witness the game Saturday at Indianapolis between the Michigan and Wabash elevens. Local fans are of the opinion that in Yost's eleven the Little Giants have taken on a team which will be more than their match and if the Wolverines pile up a large score on Wabash there will be no surprise here.

Going to New Castle. Richmond high school plays Saturday at New Castle with the New Castle high school team. Since their overwhelming defeat last Saturday at the hands of the Steele high school team, R. H. S. has been indulging in the hardest kind of practice to bolster up its decidedly weak defense and Capt. Haas is of the opinion that a much better showing will be made this coming Saturday against the Henry county eleven. R. H. S. has a strong defensive play.

Soothes itching skin. Heals cuts or burns without a scar. Cures rashes, eczema, salt rheum, any itching. Doan's Ointment. Your druggist sells it.

DO YOUR BEST.

Put the Right Spirit into Your Work and Keep Your Ideas High.

Put the right spirit into your work. Treat your calling as divine, as a call from principle. If the thing itself is not important, the spirit in which you take hold of it makes all the difference in the world to you. It can make or mar the man. You cannot afford grumbling service or botched work in your life's record. You cannot afford to form a habit of half doing things or of doing them in the spirit of a drudge for this will drag its slimy trail through all your subsequent career, always humiliating you at the most unexpected times. Let other people do the poor jobs, the botched work, if they will. Keep your standards up, your ideals high.

The attitude with which a man approaches his task has everything to do with the quality and efficiency of his work and with its influence upon his character. What a man does is a part of himself. It is the self expression of what he stands for. Our life work is an outpouring of our ambition, our ideals, our real selves. If you see a man's work, you see the man.

No one can respect himself or have that sublime faith in himself which is essential to all high achievements when he puts mean, half hearted, slipshod service into what he does. He cannot get his highest self approval until he does his best.—Success.

BETTING FAVORABLE TO MICHIGAN TEAM

Size of the Score Furnishes Basis for Wagers.

SCARLET BACKERS SUITED.

Indianapolis, Oct. 17.—Practically all of the betting on the Wabash-Michigan game, which takes place at Washington Park next Saturday, will be on the size of the score. Odds already have been posted in downtown poolrooms, the prevailing figure being even money that Michigan does not beat Wabash by more than eighteen points.

There is about an equal division of opinion on the question of whether Wabash will score. In most places 10 to 8 is being offered that the scarlet will not score, the bets being off in case neither team scores. There seems to be plenty of Wabash money and a lot of these bets are being covered. Most of the layers have been waiting for more information about the teams before quoting prices.

Backers of the scarlet are satisfied with the even money proposition that Michigan will not win by more than three touchdowns, but the bets that Wabash will not score are liked better. It is likely that the betting on this proposition will go to even money everywhere before the game starts and possibly the followers of the scarlet will have to give odds.

McFARLAND WINNER
IN THE NINTH ROUND

Indianapolis Sports See a Real Prize Fight.

Indianapolis, Oct. 17.—Packey McFarland, of Chicago, knocked out Joe Galligan, also of that city, in the ninth round of a scheduled ten-round bout here last night. The affair was very tame until the eighth round, when McFarland began fighting in a fierce manner, knocking Galligan down four times in the eighth and ninth rounds. Galligan went to the floor for the final count in the ninth when McFarland drove a stiff right to the jaw.

"Young Sharkey," of Indianapolis, knocked out Joe Dunn, of Rochester, N. Y., in the second round of a fast preliminary.

Her Cheek Said to Be an Index
Her Character.

"If you want to know whether a woman is lovely or not look at her cheek," said a wise woman to a young man who was contemplating matrimony. "Her gown may be pretty, her hair becoming, her neck lovely and neat and her gloves well worn, but if her cheeks are run over by her lips, her firmness in other respects simply denotes that she is not passionately devoted to the man she is married to. She will make an effort to keep things tidy and in order only when she is urged to or because she has some special provocation. But by nature she is slack. The man that marries a girl with perpetually run over cheeks will find her coming to the breakfast table as soon as the honeymoon is over in a tumble kinome and with her hair in curl papers. She never will be a good house keeper."

"On the other hand, I've seen girls who maybe did not have such a trim appearance, whose hair was apt to be a little flying, but whose cheeks rested firmly on the ground, and never did I discover they were in the slovenly class. Maybe they were not careful enough of outward appearances, but they kept their buttocks sewed on, their repaired, spots sponged off and their rooms in immaculate order."—Exchange.

Envy. "I wish I were strong and healthy and magnificent as that man over there," sighed the delicate, thin man, "but, then, it isn't worth while to envy people, to envy anybody, in this old world. I had a friend once who was taller than he and finer and more magnificent, a man of splendid physique. You'd think, to look at him, that he would have lived forever, but he is dead now. Died of some slight trouble of indigestion that a delicate man might have lived through, and this is all I have left to remind me of him, this ring with this handsome intaglio. It is almost priceless to me and, in fact, almost priceless of itself. Intaglio lines are very rare these days. This is exceedingly rare. Some time I will send you a letter and send it with the ring, so you can have the intaglio also to remind you that it isn't worth while to envy anybody in this old world."—New York.

WILL BE AT NOBLESVILLE.
Arrangements have been completed for the presentation of "The Singin' Skule Begiment," at Noblesville, Nov. 1, under the auspices of the Women's Relief Corps. It will be directed by J. Bassett Willard, who recently presented it here.

CENTRAL LEAGUERS
NOW IN SESSION

Annual Meeting Being Held at Toledo.

CHANGES ARE PROBABLE.

South Bend, Ind., Oct. 17.—President P. R. Carson of the Central league left South Bend for Toledo, O., where today the magnates of the Central league meet to award the pennant for 1907 to Springfield, O., talk over trades and also the makeup of the circuit for 1908.

That some change in the arrangement of the circuit of the Central is on certain, but just what the nature of the change will be can not be officially announced until after the owners of the various clubs have had a chance to fully discuss the situation. The announcement that the baseball map is to be changed, so far as Class B leagues in this part of the country is concerned, is vigorously denied by President Carson, who professes to know nothing concerning the dropping of Wheeling, Dayton, Canton and Springfield, Ohio, and the taking on of Rock Island, Peoria and Springfield, Ill.

The only magnate who is not expected to attend the Central league meeting is Phil Troid of Grand Rapids. This team owner has announced that he is ready to give up his franchise if he can find the right kind of a purchaser and the probability is that Jack Hendricks of Chicago will reopen the deal by which he will eventually secure control of the baseball property in that city. Another probability which is receiving the attention of the fans on the circuit is that of securing of Central league protection for Ft. Wayne.

When Elmer was in London in 1843 he was invited to visit the famous brewery of Barclay & Perkins, and his hosts, having heard of his reputation as a beer drinker of great prowess, presented to him an enormous tankard of old ale, in the confident expectation that he would be obliged to admit himself vanquished by it. "I seized the tankard," Bismarck told Sir Charles Dike, who recounted the story, "and I thought of my country and drank to Prussia and tilted it till it was empty. Then I thanked my entertainers—courteously, I hope—and succeeded in making my way as far as London bridge. There I sat down in one of the stone recesses, and for hours the great bridge went round and round me."

The Great American Boos. The average American is blase at most before the English girl is ready to leave her school, says a writer. The English girl never leaves her governess and home before she is eighteen, while at the same time the American girl has seen much of the world. Yet the American girl retains her civility and her interest in everything, and it is that one quality, I think, above all others that wins for her the admiration of the Englishwoman. The American woman never looks to her husband as a master, while the Englishwoman is taught to do so from her birth.—The Bits.

Makes One Feel Worse. It is a fact that one cannot tell how bad he really feels without feeling worse. The way to feel good is to not talk too much about your ills. Think how well you are, how well you have done and feel good about it, and if there is anything the matter with you think it won't last long and that it is not worth thinking about.—Exchange.

JUDGE BARNARD IS NOW IN THE RACE

Has Formally Announced His Candidacy for Congress In the Sixth District.

ONCE LIVED IN WAYNE.

WHILE FOLLOWING THE PROFESSION OF TEACHING WAS PRINCIPAL OF ECONOMY SCHOOL—BORN NEAR LIBERTY.

ANNOUNCEMENT.
To the Republicans of the Sixth Congressional District, Indiana.
I am a candidate for representative in Congress from the Sixth District, Indiana, subject to the Republican nominating convention. WILLIAM O. BARNARD.

New Castle, Ind., Oct. 17.—In the above announcement Judge Barnard puts himself on record as a candidate for the seat in congress accredited to the Sixth district. His ambition is a laudable one, embodying as it does not only a personal desire to represent this district in congress, but to serve the nation and state. There is none other better equipped for that responsible position. Judge Barnard has the qualifications, possesses a pleasing personality, a warm hand-clasp and a cheery word for everyone.

Judge Barnard possesses the loftiest regard for truth, inflexible honesty and unimpeachable integrity, to all of which he owes and attributes his success. He has the uniform regard and esteem of friends and neighbors, the confidence as judge and jurist.

From 1887 to 1895 he served in the capacity of prosecuting attorney and at the expiration of his term of office he was above reproach. For a time he was prosecuting attorney for the 15th judicial circuit composed of Hancock and Henry counties and later of the 23rd circuit, composed of Henry county alone. This office merely proved to be a stepping stone as he was elected judge of the Henry circuit court by a large majority. That he served Henry county well and faithfully is a matter of history.

Judge Barnard was born near Liberty, Union county, Oct. 2, 1852. Two years later the family moved to Dublin, Wayne county. In 1856 the family again moved, this time going to a farm near Connersville, Fayette county. Ten years later Mr. Barnard, senior, purchased a farm in Liberty township and moved thereto. Here it was that Judge Barnard grew to young manhood, securing his early education in the public schools, which were the best the country afforded at that time. Later he entered the Spiceland Academy, from which he graduated with honors, under the tutelage of the late Clarkson Davis, a noted educator. Upon his graduation he began teaching for a livelihood, taught in several district schools in Henry county and later in the New Castle schools. He was at one time principal of the Economy schools.

Judge Barnard has already commenced an active and earnest campaign for the congressional nomination, which will be made next spring. He is his own manager. He has visited every county in the district and has met with no discouragement, on the other hand finding much in the situation to encourage him in his ambition.

A SYRIAN SPEAKS TO EARLHAM STUDENTS

Daniel Oliver Tells of Life in His Country.

PROGRESS IS BEING MADE.

Daniel Oliver, of Syria, gave an interesting address in chapel at Earlham college this morning, holding the attention of the students for some time over the college period. He spoke of the work being done in Syria and of the education of the girls as well as of the boys being carried on in that country. He told of the degradation of women which is diminishing as the christian religion is spreading over the country and of the general abhorrence of the use of water in Syria, a man stating that he had not used water for fifteen years and had not needed it as he was baptised when young. Mr. Oliver's address was one of the most enjoyable held this term. There were many visitors present who are in town attending the Five years meeting.

FURTHER DELAY IS POSSIBLE IT SEEMS

Company May Not Deem It Advisable to "Cutover" Saturday Night.

TESTS NOT SATISFACTORY.

IT IS FOUND THAT IT WILL REQUIRE CONSIDERABLE TIME FOR THE PUBLIC TO GET THE HANG.

There is a probability that the present Home Telephone company's service will not be cut over to the automatic service Saturday night. President Lindemuth states that this week tests with the automatic service had been made but these tests had proven most unsatisfactory so that it is probable there will be further delay in placing the automatic service in use. Mr. Lindemuth stated that the construction of the automatic service was not the cause of the trouble. He said that the inability of the majority of Home Telephone subscribers to master the use of the new service was the cause of all the trouble.

This week two men have been busy calling up patrons of the company and asking them to test the new automatic phones. The mistakes some of these patrons have made are laughable in the extreme. One man was asked to send in a call for 1234. He lifted off his receiver then pulled down 1 once, 2 twice, 3 three times and 4 four times. It took some time to explain to him that each number should only be pulled down once. As a result of the mistakes made by the telephone patrons, the men conducting the tests were nearly demoralized. The company now realizes that to educate the general public to the automatic service time will be required and that this new service cannot be used until the public "gets the hang" of things.

Is The Stomach Dispensable?
An operation for the removal of the stomach in a Chicago hospital recently, promoted discussion among the surgeons whether the stomach could be removed and the patient be no worse for it. Before the discussion had ended, the patient had died. It demonstrated that one could not live without his stomach. To keep a stomach in good condition, and cure constipation, indigestion, etc., use the great Peppermint Compound, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Druggists sell it at 50 cents and $1 a bottle.

In Germany they have an institution called the schlesischen. This is a little inn in the afternoon between the ponderous early dinner and the coffee, which is served at 4 o'clock. Nothing is allowed to interfere with this Teutonic rite. "In a German country house," says an observer, "I have seen with these eyes dashingly cavalry officers in tight tunics and rattling swords disappear about 2:30 o'clock, to emerge in an hour's time looking a trifle sleepy, but armed with every sense for the conquest of the fair. Students and professors, matrons and business men, tinkers and tailor all take their forty winks in the afternoon and get up strenuous and efficient at 5 o'clock."—The Record.

J. A. HIATT PLEASED WITH KILLIAN MINE

Found Property Better Than He Anticipated.

J. A. Hiatt, vice president of the Killian Mining Company, has just returned from a visit to the mine. He brings a good report and says the outlook for a great property is very favorable. The Killian has quite a number of stockholders in this city. The property has, if anything, been underestimated to the stock holders. Mr. Hiatt says, and that it is far better than he anticipated. The Killian has everything in good order at the mine and work is progressing in the shaft and tunnel very satisfactorily.

An Incident of War.
In the midst of a battle General Fuller was trying to check the flight of panic stricken men. One poor fellow came stumbling along, not heeding a word that was said to him. Indignant and impatient, Fuller, as he came near this man, leaned from his horse and, touching him with his sword, said sharply, "Go back, sir!" The man looked up with an expression of anguish and despair on his face that said as plainly as words, "I am looking for a place to die." He opened his blouse and showed a big, gaping wound in his breast. Then he dropped to the ground. The general instantly dismounted, but almost as he raised the man's head to his arm the poor fellow breathed his last.
