THEIR COURSE APPROVED.

Banks at Cambridge City are Safe and Conservative.

Cambridge City, Ind., Nov. 7.—The two national banks of this place are continuing their business on their usual conservative way, and the public knows them to be reliable and safe financial institutions. They have pursued the same course as almost every where, placing the limit of their check at $50. This plan is both a protection to the depositors and the banks and while it may work some hardships on the merchants and other depositors and the general line of trade temporarily the people have confidence that all things will adjust themselves in due time. The merchants are accepting checks in exchange for trade.
