QUAKERS ARE READY FOR DEPAUW GAME

Odds Favor the Methodists But the Quakers Are in Hopeful Mood.

RESULT IS OF IMPORTANCE.

VAIL HAS A GOOD IDEA OF THE DEPAUW ATTACK AND IS PLANNING TO STOP IT—THISTLETHWAITE IS SATISFIED.

(By Tort.)

Coach Vail states that his Quaker squad is ready for its hardest battle of the season—the game with DePauw at Greencastle next Saturday. The odds favor DePauw in this contest but since the crushing defeat of Butler last Saturday, Quaker stock has jumped up several points and it is now conceded that the Quakers will play the Methodists a close game and that Earlham has a chance of winning out. The secondary championship of Indiana and Illinois hinges on this battle. Earlham and DePauw have defeated all aspiring secondary teams in this state and the Methodists last Saturday defeated James Milliken, the secondary championship team of Illinois.

Coach Vail is not driving his men hard this week. None of them showed any ill effects of the Butler game and he wants his men to go into the DePauw game in as good condition as they entered the Butler contest. Vail will take no chances of having his men injured in practice this week. "I never saw a body of men in better physical condition than the Earlham team is now in," said Vail Wednesday. "I would rather have a player in fine physical condition and with a small knowledge of the fine points of the game than a player regarded as a clever man but in poor physical condition."

Vail has a good idea of the DePauw attack and this week he has been instructing his squad how to stop this attack. He is also working his kicking department over time. Wilson, Harrell and Swain practiced hard Wednesday at place kicking while Wilson and Beebe against a strong wind gave some good exhibitions of drop kicking. Wann is steadily improving in his punting. There is no doubt but that the Quakers will attempt to score against the Methodists by a drop or place kick.

Thistlethwaite Satisfied.

Captain Thistlethwaite pronounced himself as being very well satisfied with the Tuesday afternoon practice of the Quaker football squad. Exceptional strength was shown by the reserves. They gained consistently on the varsity scoring a touch down. Vail had had cotton put in the varsity men's ears so that they could not hear the scrub signals. The effect was that the scrubs were given confidence and the varsity was taught to depend entirely upon their ability to size up a play. Hotchkiss played a good game at end on the scrubs, advancing the ball for good gains frequently.

"E" NOT YET AWARDED.

The Earlham Varsity football team will have its picture taken. Seventeen men, including Coach Vail and Prof. E. P. Trueblood, will be in it. Since the number who will win the honorary "E" has not been determined there will necessarily be another sitting at the conclusion of the season.

All the czars of Russia have been crowned in the Kremlin in Moscow, the treasure of which contains the most historic jewels and the choicest plate now owned by the crown of Russia. There is $500,000,000 worth of gold and silver and precious stones in that treasury. Among the more notable items are basins of gold as big as a small bathtub and two card tables built entirely of solid silver.—Chicago Journal.

PROMOTERS BUSY ON A NEW BALL LEAGUE

Richmond Will Be Included in A Much Stronger Organization.

INDIANA AND OHIO CITIES.

ORGANIZATION WILL NOT BE AN OUTLAW, BUT WILL MAKE APPLICATION FOR MEMBERSHIP IN NATIONAL ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the promoters of the new Indiana-Ohio league will be held shortly, according to Manager Jessup, and at this meeting all arrangements will be made for launching the new league. Manager Jessup of the local team, Manager Ferd Drumm of the Zanesville O. P. team, and A. R. Kling of Indianapolis, president of the I.-O. league last season are the leaders in the movement for organizing the new league and they are all more than satisfied with the success with which their efforts have met.

Mr. Kling has been busy lining up the Indiana cities to be included in the proposed circuit while Manager Jessup is lining up the Ohio cities. Manager Drumm of the Zanesville team states that he will take a franchise in Lima, O. The management of the Van Wert team will take a franchise in the league and parties with good financial backing in Piquette, O., are considering a proposition of locating a team in that city. If good backing can be secured in Hamilton, O., a team will be located there. These four Ohio cities are all good ball towns.

Team in Richmond.

The Richmond Amusement company will place a team in this city with Jessup as manager. Kling states that responsible parties in Kokomo, Logansport, Marion, Muncie and Anderson have applied for franchises. Muncie is sure of a berth in the new league and it is thought that a team in Kokomo would prove a paying investment. The selection of the two other Indiana cities will be made from Anderson, Marion and Logansport. Promoters of the new league were anxious to include Ft. Wayne in the circuit but this plan was upset by the action of the Central league in transferring the Springfield, Ill. franchise to that city. This new league will not be an outlaw league like the I. O. league was last season. As soon as it is launched application will be made for membership in the national association of minor leagues.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the Richmond Amusement company this week it was decided to give a dance next Monday evening, November 18, at the coliseum. For a person, not a member of the Amusement company, who sells the most tickets for this dance, a season pass to the grounds and grandstand will be given. For the person selling the second most tickets a season pass to the grounds will be given.

NEW CASTLE CANCELS: GREENVILLE MAY COLE

High School Team Hopeful of Getting a Game.

On account of the disbanding of the New Castle high school football team there will be no game Saturday between that team and Richmond, as was scheduled. The date is still open, but Manager Clements is hopeful of securing a game by telephone with the Greenville high school team, in which case the lovers of the strenuous sport will not be entirely disappointed. The result of the game, however, all rests with the regularity with which the members of the local team come out to practice, and they will certainly stand much chance if they continue to show the lack of interest which they have displayed of late. If the high school boys wish to keep up the sport they cannot expect to get off without a little practice, and it is certain that they need considerable as was demonstrated by last Saturday's game with Rushville.

Sporting Notes.

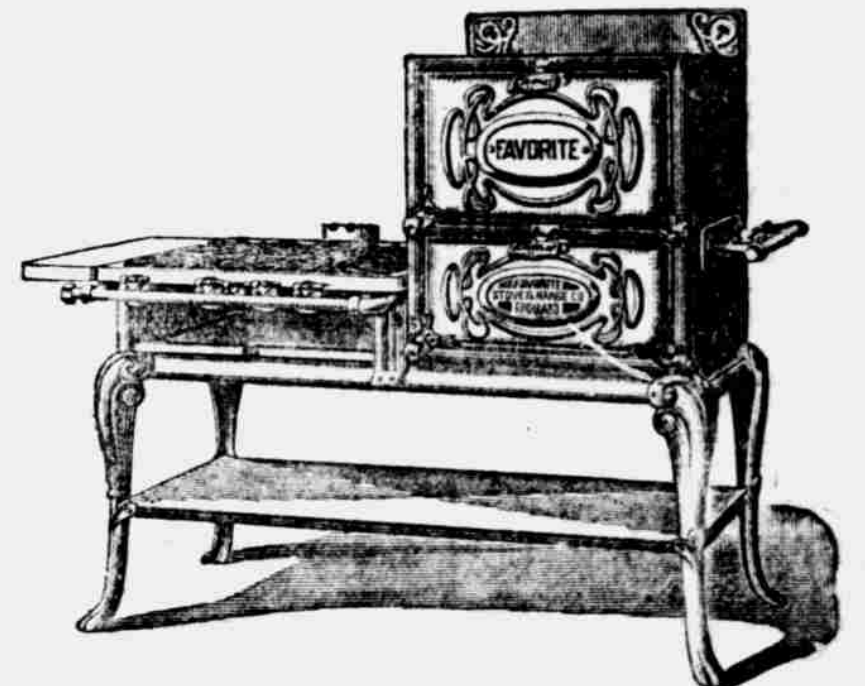

The Purdue fans who have been out watching football practice lately have renewed faith in the eleven and look for a hot contest when Purdue lines up against Wisconsin Saturday. Now that Turner has located the main fault every effort will be made to drill the set of backs together until they have become accustomed to one another's style. A number of shifts are being made in consequence, and the coach will leave no stone unturned to win the last two games of the season.

The next thing of interest on the athletic calendar at Wabash college will be the election of a captain to lead the football forces of the "Little Giants" during the 1908 season. It is likely that there will be but two candidates for this honor, namely Hess and Gipe.

The University of Pennsylvania football players, with Trainer Murphy and coaches, arrived in Detroit Wednesday and left at once for Lakeside, near Mt. Clemens, where they will stay until Saturday morning, when they will go to Ann Arbor to meet the University of Michigan eleven.

Princeton Wednesday afternoon had its last open practice in preparing for the game with Yale on Saturday. Every member of the varsity team got in to the scrimmage with the scrubs. The work was considered fair, though the men seemed a bit slow.

At Emeryville Sam Hildreth again saw one of his horses break a California record. On Monday his Meelick clipped the record and Wednesday Vell, which he recently purchased, smashed the mile and twenty-yard record by three-fifths of a second.

If the plans of Prof. W. J. Corboy, athletic director at Marquette university, are carried out there will be a game between the Marquette and Notre Dame football teams at Athletic park Thanksgiving day.

Hendricks of Chicago has signed a contract to manage the Grand Rapids team of the Central league. McKean of Cleveland was another baseball man to attach his name to a contract, signing to pilot the club at Ft. Wayne.

Jack Johnson signed articles to fight Philadelphia Jack O'Brien at the latter's home this month.

Yale's cross-country runners proved to be fitter of foot than those of Harvard in the annual meet.

The Yale eleven Wednesday afternoon had its last heavy practice before the game with Princeton Saturday.
